'LEADERSHIP INSTITUTION'

- 2001 Association of American Colleges & Universities

USC is one of the nation's premier schools. Just look at several national honors it received recently.

USC was named the "College of the Year" by the 2000 edition of the Time/Princeton Review College Guide because of the remarkable bonds it has forged with the local community.

"More institutions might do well to emulate USC's enlightened self-interest," said the guide's editors. "For not only has the 'hood' dramatically improved, but so has the university."

The editors said USC has one of the most ambitious social-outreach programs of any university in the nation and cited the school's model of service learning (applying academic theory to real-life situations through public service). They also pointed out that USC's undergraduate applications have nearly doubled over the last few years and it is enrolling the most academically accomplished freshman classes in its history.

Troy also was selected as one of America's nine "hottest schools" by the 2001 edition of the Newsweek/Kaplan College Guide because it lives up to its reputation as a top-notch institution of higher education.

"Just as East Coast students go for New York and NYU, the West Coast is gravitating to USC in Los Angeles," according to the guide. "USC has morphed from a jock school to a serious contender for top students."

Students quoted in the guide said that what attracted them to the university was Los Angeles' ethnic diversity, the offer of scholarships, the small classroom sizes and USC's standing in academe.

Also in 2001, the Association of American Colleges and Universities picked USC as one of 16 "Leadership Institutions" for providing stimulating educational experiences both inside and outside of the classroom.

USC was cited for emphasizing a campus culture featuring new learning techniques, curriculum and organizational structure and for demonstrating a strong commitment to liberal arts education relevant to the contemporary world.

The organization said USC not only linked liberal arts and pre-professional study, but offered students the opportunity to learn by doing through off-campus work in community projects and internships. Also, USC was lauded for stressing critical thinking, effective communication and contributing to a diverse society.

USC Football

PRODUCES CLASSROOM STARS

USC's two most recent graduation rates for football are the highest in USC history!

The 2001 official NCAA graduation rate for Trojan football players was 82%, an all-time high (topping the previous USC highs of 80% in 2000 and 75% in 1996). That rate compared to 73% for the general USC student body ... and it was about 30 percentage points higher than the national football average for Division I schools.

Not only are Trojan footballers graduating, but they are starring in the classroom as well.

For example, 10 members of last season's team had a cumulative grade point average of better than 3.00 and 16 surpassed 3.00 for the 2000-2001 academic year (including punter Mike MacGillivray, who had a 4.00 GPA).

One Trojan made the Pac-10 All-Academic first team last season and four others were honorable mention picks.

USC promises its student-athletes that if they apply themselves, they will graduate. Statistics like these are proof that their hard work is paying off.

The University OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The University of Southern California is a private research institution of international distinction. Founded in 1880, it enrolls about 29,000 students annually on two campuses, the 155-acre University Park Campus in Exposition Park and the 45-acre Health Sciences Campus, four miles to the northeast of downtown Los Angeles.

USC is a unique and distinguished university with a proud tradition of achievement and unheralded success in all areas of study:

- USC is a member of the Association of American Universities, a select group of 63 public and private universities in the U.S. and Canada that, together, do about two-thirds of all federally funded research and development.

- USC has 53 faculty members who are members of the National Academy. Membership in the prestigious academy, created by Congress, is by election only and is based on distinguished and continuing achievements.

- The University is the home of 16 professional schools, in addition to the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School. These schools train specialists in fields ranging from medicine and law to architecture, theater, education and business.

Athletic EXCELLENCE

Since 1926, when the track and field team won USC's first national championship, USC has dominated the world of intercollegiate athletics. In fact, USC arguably could stake claim as the "Collegiate Athletic Program of the 20th Century."

Trojan men's teams are No. 1 in the nation in NCAA championships with 70 – far more than any other university. USC's women are also a force with 16 national team titles, all since 1976.

In fact, from 1959-60 to 1984-85, USC put together an amazing streak: in each of those 26 years, at least one Trojan team won a national championship!

USC has produced 332 Olympians – more than any other university – including 104 gold medalists.

USC has won the National Collegiate All-Sports Championship – an annual ranking by USA Today (formerly conducted by the Knoxville Journal) of the nation's top athletic programs – six times since its inception in 1971.

Academic EXCELLENCE

USC is as proud of its student-athletes' accomplishments in the classroom as on the playing field. After all, the Trojans are not only third in the nation in the number of national team championships (78 by the men and 16 by the women), but rank sixth in the number of NCAA postgraduate scholarship recipients (48). Also, USC has had 26 first-team Academic All-Americans.

Other phenomenal Trojan student-athletes include 8 winners of the prestigious NCAA Today's Top Six scholar award, 12 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes, 6 recipients of the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, 3 Rhodes Scholars, a Luce Scholar and 2 USC valedictorians.

PLAYERS

In 17 of the last 25 seasons, USC has had more players on National Football League rosters than any other college in the country. This year alone, 38 Trojans grace the rosters of 20 of the NFL's 31 teams.

DRAFT

Nearly 400 Trojans have been drafted into the NFL, with many more making rosters as free agents. Since the first USC player was drafted in 1940, 60 Trojans have been first round selections – most recently Keyshawn Johnson, the No. 1 pick in the 1996 draft, Darrell Russell, the No. 2 selection in 1997, Chris Claiborne, the No. 9 pick in 1999, and R.Jay Soward, the No. 29 pick in 2000.

SUPER BOWL

Eighty-two Trojans have played in the Super Bowl. USC has been represented by a player in all but two of the 35 games. In Super Bowl XI alone, nine Trojans played in the game. Two Trojans, Lynn Swann in Super Bowl X and Marcus Allen in Super Bowl XVIII, were named the game's MVP.

COACHES

USC provides the NFL with some of its best coaches. Among former Trojan players and coaches now serving as NFL head coaches are Seattle's Mike Holmgren, San Diego's Mike Riley, Tennessee's Jeff Fisher, Miami's Dave Wannstedt, San Francisco's Steve Mariucci and the New York Giants' Jim Fassel. About two dozen Trojans were on NFL coaching staffs last year.

HALL OF FAME

Twelve Trojans have been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Among the recent inductees are O.J. Simpson, Willie Wood, Al Davis, Anthony Munoz, Ronnie Lott, Lynn Swann and Ron Yary.

PRO BOWL

Trojan alums are among the brightest stars in the NFL. The annual showcase of the league's top talent, the NFC-AFC Pro Bowl, has had 188 Trojan participants.

Famous Alumni
AND THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES

USC and the city of Los Angeles have served as the training grounds for many of this country's great leaders and innovators. Los Angeles is the "Gateway to the World," a city that speaks more than 100 languages and offers opportunities galore.

USC lies in the heart of everything Los Angeles has to offer, enabling the university to provide one of the most essential and exciting undergraduate educations in the nation. Just two miles from downtown, USC is close to an abundance of major museums, music halls, theaters, historic sites and buildings, world class restaurants, clubs and shopping. Here, a person could swim in the Pacific, snow ski in Big Bear and visit the desert all in the same day.

USC is the largest private employer in Los Angeles and many of its staff live in the immediate neighborhood. The 10-square-block area north of campus is an ethnically diverse neighborhood that is home to about 6,000 students, faculty and staff. South and adjacent to campus is Exposition Park, containing museums, a beautiful rose garden, the Imax Theater and the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum and the Sports Arena.

USC Athletic Department Mission Statement

To recruit and develop student-athletes who will perform successfully in the classroom and compete at the championship level in every sport, in compliance with the letter and spirit of all applicable rules and under an administrative structure managed in an open and fiscally sound manner, supporting equitable opportunity for all students and staff, and committed to the highest standards of ethical conduct. Decision-making in the Athletic Department will follow 4 basic principles: (1) promoting the well-being of student participants; (2) attaining and maintaining competitive excellence; (3) administering clearly, openly and responsibly; and (4) supporting the overall goals of the USC community.

In a more specific context, the goals for USC Athletics include the following: (1) to compete successfully in every sport, striving to be in the Top 10 nationally, with the ultimate goal of winning national championships; (2) to graduate every student-athlete who completes athletics eligibility at USC; (3) to provide an environment conducive to positive growth and development of student-athletes and Athletic Department staff; (4) to provide adequate financial support within the department to ensure continuing development of the sports programs without university subsidization; and (5) to comply fully with all NCAA and Pac-10 regulations.

Note to the media: In editorial references to athletic teams of the University of Southern California, the following are preferred: USC, Southern California, So. California, Troy and Trojans for men's or women's teams, and Women of Troy for women's teams. PLEASE do not use Southern Cal (it's like calling San Francisco "Frisco" or North Carolina "North Car."). The usage of "Southern Cal" on licensed apparel and merchandise is limited in scope and necessary to protect federal trademark rights.

Trojan Football

2001 FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

It's a time of change for the USC football program in 2001.

And, in this case, it appears change is good.

A new head coach. A new staff. Some new players. A new attitude.

Under first-year head coach Pete Carroll–who in his first few months on the job already has assembled a proven coaching staff, recruited a Top 10 class, conducted a productive spring practice and established a sense of camaraderie among his players that has the Trojans feeling confident and optimistic–many believe the Trojans now are headed in the right direction.

"My expectations are to play good football from the word go," said Carroll, the former head coach of the New England Patriots and New York Jets. "I'm confident about our abilities and our willingness to meet challenges. But I'm cautiously optimistic until we get on the field and find out. That's where the talking stops and the pads are strapped on."

Already, signs of Carroll's impact at turning the program around and building a solid foundation have been spotted. For instance, the Trojans have posted impressive numbers in the off-season weight room program and in the classroom. They have quickly embraced Carroll's "team-first" mentality. And, to a man, they are excited about the opportunity to be tutored by one of the nation's finest coaching staffs.

"It is obvious to me that our players have worked hard and that they understand that it's all about 'team,'" said Carroll, who has 26 years of NFL and college experience. "Their sights are set high on doing something special and restoring USC's winning tradition. And I know we have a great, proven staff. So, now, we'll see how good we are. We'll see if this team comes together like I think it will."

USC welcomes back starters at 16 positions (8 on offense and 6 on defense, plus both kickers) from a squad which last season was 5-7 overall and tied for eighth place in the Pac-10 at 2-6 for Troy's first-ever last place conference finish. Although the Trojans began the year 3-0 while rising to No. 8 in the nation and later in the season beat crosstown foe UCLA for the second year in a row, 5 consecutive mid-season losses did them in.

In all, 74 squadmen return from 2000, including 45 who saw playing time (41 were lettermen and 30 were on the season-ending 2-deep). Some 20 Trojans have started at least once in their career.

Joining them will be a pair of newcomers who enrolled at USC this past spring and participated in spring drills, plus 17 new scholarship players (10 were prep and junior college All-Americans) who begin this fall.

These won't be the only fresh faces around Troy, as most of the coaching staff is new.

"I've been able to assemble what I feel is a dream-team staff," said Carroll, who will serve as the team's defensive coordinator. "Our new coaches left very good jobs to come here. We're all here to do something special. The key, of course, was getting Norm Chow. He is arguably the best offensive coordinator in the history of college football, certainly in terms of championships and wins and people he has coached. He is not only a great attraction for us in recruiting and a great asset as a coach, but he allows me to do what I want to do, which is to focus on the defense."

On the field, the 2001 Trojans will be asked to focus on one thing: the football.

"Our overall philosophy is very simple," said Carroll, who signed a 5-year contract when he replaced the fired Paul Hackett. "It's all about the football. When we're on offense, we've got to hold onto it and control it. And when we're on defense, we've got to go get it. It's really as simple as that. We started talking about it in our first team meeting."

That would be a turnaround from 2000, when USC finished next to last in the nation in turnover margin. The Trojans lost the ball 36 times and had only 17 takeaways.

USC's offense features 3 of the country's premier skill position players: tailback Sultan McCullough, quarterback Carson Palmer and wide receiver Kareem Kelly. McCullough, the fastest Trojan footballer ever (10.17 in the 100 meters), ran for 1,163 yards and 6 touchdowns in 2000. It was the most yards by a Trojan since 1990. He had 7 games with 100-plus yards. Palmer is already fifth on USC's all-time passing and total offense lists, and is on pace to break the school's career completions, passing yardage and total offense yardage records. Last year, his completions (228) and yardage (2,914) were the second most in USC history, but he also tied a school season mark with 18 interceptions. Kelly, who has caught a pass in all 23 games he has played at USC, is already ninth on Troy's career reception list and is on target to eclipse that record (and the receiving yardage mark). He led USC in receptions (55) and receiving yardage (796 yards) in 2000.

Three offensive line starters from 2000–guards Zach Wilson and Faaesea Mailo and center Lenny Vandermade–are back. Wilson is a 2-year starter, Mailo will slide down from tackle in 2001 and Vandermade won Freshman All-American first team honors last fall.

Starters also return at fullback (Charlie Landrigan) and at the other wide receiver spot, where Marcell Allmond and Keary Colbert shared time. Last year, Allmond averaged 15.2 yards per catch before breaking his leg in mid-season and Colbert was second on USC in receptions with 33 as just a freshman.

Several other key offensive performers return, including tailback Malaefou MacKenzie (765 rushing yards and 37 catches in his career), wide receiver Steve Stevenson (21 career receptions) and fullback Chad Pierson (133 rushing yards and 147 receiving yards in 2000).

Among USC's offensive losses were 4-year starting tight end Antoine Harris (61 career catches, 7 TDs), 3-year starting tackle

Brent McCaffrey, 2000 starting guard Trevor Roberts, quarterback Mike Van Raaphorst (ninth on Troy's career passing list with 15 starts and owner of USC's game passing yardage record), tailback Petros Papadakis (a short-yardage specialist with 621 career yards and 16 scores), wide receiver Matt Nickels (32 catches in 2000) and center Eric Denmon (17 career starts).

USC was hit harder with losses on defense, primarily in the front 7. But the entire starting secondary is back, led by returning tackle leader Troy Polamalu at strong safety (83 tackles and 2 interceptions last fall) and 2-year starting cornerback Kris Richard (6 interceptions and 77 tackles in his career), who was also the Trojans' top punt returner last season. The other secondary spots feature returning co-starters: Darrell Rideaux (also a track sprinter) and Chris Cash (2 picks in 2000) at corner and Frank Strong (USC's top kickoff returner in 2000) and DeShaun Hill (2 interceptions in 2000) at free safety.

The other returning starters on defense are Kori Dickerson (32 tackles in 2000), who played linebacker last season but has been moved to tight end now, and co-starters at a tackle spot in Ryan Nielsen (76 career tackles) and Bernard Riley.

Other top defensive players back are end Lonnie Ford (16 tackles for losses and 15 starts in his career), linebackers Aaron Graham (26 tackles with 4 starts last year) and Chris Prosser (2 starts in 2000) and cornerbacks Kevin Arbet (4 career starts) and Antuan Simmons, who sat out last fall with a serious illness but previously had 175 tackles, 7 interceptions and 6 blocked kicks as a 3-year starter.

On defense, USC lost 2 premier linebackers in 3-year starter Zeke Moreno (285 tackles, 33 for losses, 5 picks, 4 TDs in his career), Troy's tackle leader the past 2 seasons, and 2-year starter Markus Steele (152 tackles, 29 for losses in his career), plus 3-year starting tackle Ennis Davis (146 tackles, 36 for losses, 15 sacks in his career). All 3 were NFL draft picks in 2001. Also gone from last year's starting defense are ends Sultan Abdul-Malik (22.5 career sacks), a 3-year starter, and Matt Childers, a 2-year starter. Other top defenders lost are safety Ifeanyi Ohalete (168 tackles and 5 interceptions in 21 career starts) and end-tackle Shamsud-Din Abdul-Shaheed (74 tackles in 14 career starts).

Mike MacGillivray (39.4 career average) is back for his fourth year as the punter. Two of last season's placekickers–David Newbury (15-of-29 in career field goals) and John Wall (5 short field goals without a miss and 9-of-14 on PATs in 2000)–return in 2001 (although Wall might miss the season with a knee injury). They took turns at the job last year, as did the graduated David Bell, primarily USC's kickoff man the past 4 years but who will long be remembered for his game-winning field goal with 9 seconds to go at UCLA last fall.

USC's 11-game schedule is challenging, featuring 7 teams that played in bowls last season and 5 that were ranked in AP's final Top 15. Troy opens its 2001 slate at home on Sept. 1 against San Jose State; also visiting the Coliseum are last year's No. 4 Oregon State, No. 9 Kansas State, Stanford, Arizona State and UCLA. On the road, USC goes to No. 3 Washington, No. 7 Oregon, No. 15 Notre Dame, Arizona and California.

"I'm not going to make any bold predictions," said Carroll, "except to say we'll be very competitive and very aggressive.

"We're in the process of putting this team together. We'll be good. The strength of this club will come from its team attitude and willingness to play together and to play hard. That will give us the best chance to reach our potential. I've already seen that in the good work ethic this group has developed in the off-season. The players took to our approach and made sacrifices for the team."

CARSON PALMER – QB

OFFENSE

Starters return at 8 positions on offense in 2001: tailback Sultan McCullough, quarterback Carson Palmer, wide receiver Kareem Kelly, guards Zach Wilson and converted tackle Faaesea Mailo, center Lenny Vandermade and fullback Charlie Landrigan, plus co-starters Marcell Allmond and Keary Colbert at wide receiver. Four others who started at least once in 2000–tailback Malaefou MacKenzie, wide receiver Steve Stevenson, fullback Chad Pierson and tight end Scott Huber–also are back. USC's top passer, plus its top 2 rushers and pass catchers, from 2000 return. Troy will try to repeat its offensive production from last fall in terms of yardage–USC led the Pac-10 in total offense (415.9, its highest output since 1989) and was 23rd nationally in passing offense (262.3)–but it must dramatically cut down on its turnovers (a nation-high 36, its most since 1977).

USC's offensive strengths should be at quarterback and its production, speed and depth at the running back and wide receiver spots. However, a starting tight end must emerge, as well as several starters and some depth on the line.

"Offensively, we want to control the ball with the passing game, while still being balanced," said Carroll. "That's what Norm Chow has been a master of. It's an offense that is designed around precision, which means the system has to be quarterback-friendly. It is set up so the quarterback really can be successful. Our goal is to complete 63 percent of our passes.

"With this offense, we can attract highly-skilled quarterbacks, receivers and running backs, and spread the field so we can use their talents. When we put all the ingredients together, we can have an extraordinarily effective offense. When we spread the defense out with our formations, it also will open up the running game. Draws and traps and counters should allow our running backs to split the defense and get in the secondary in a hurry with nobody around them. I think our runners are well-suited for that style.

"We want to bring out the best of what we have on offense and that's some special quality athletes. We have a number of skill players who have proven to be productive. Now, we must build up the offense around their special talents. Our plan is to expand the offense to highlight a wide-open attack."

Chow, who was the offensive coordinator at Micronpc.com Bowl champ North Carolina State last season, spent the previous 27 years at BYU, where he coached 6 of the NCAA's top 12 career passing efficiency leaders and was involved with squads that hold 11 of the top 30 single season passing yardage totals in NCAA history. During his tenure, BYU played in 22 bowls and won the 1984 national championship. He'll be joined by offensive line coach Keith Uperesa, who had an impressive track record at Idaho State and Snow Junior College, running backs coach Wayne Moses, who has coached Pac-10 running backs the past 11 years, wide receivers coach Kirby Wilson, who has 13 years of college and NFL experience, and tight ends coach Lane Kiffin, the son of longtime pro and collegiate coach Monte Kiffin.

QUARTERBACKS

USC has one of the nation's best signalcallers in 2001 in junior Carson Palmer (228-of-415, 54.9%, 2,914 yards, 16 TDs, 18 interceptions in 2000). He already ranks fifth on Troy's career passing list (397 completions). He is also fifth on USC's all-time total offense chart (5,050 yards). His 5,159 career passing yards is the most by a Trojan at the end of his sophomore year. He is on pace to break Rob Johnson's school career records for completions (676) and passing yardage (8,472), plus Rodney Peete's USC career total offense yardage mark (8,640). With 20 career starts under his belt, he has completed at least 60.0% of his passes 9 times (including 4 contests at 70.0%-plus). After missing the last 9 games of 1999 with an injury, in 2000 he showed signs of brilliance (his completions and yardage were the second most in USC history) and rustiness (he tied the school interception mark). Look for him to thrive now in Chow's offense.

However, no other quarterback on the Trojan roster has ever thrown a pass in college. Redshirt freshman Matt Cassel could be Palmer's backup in 2001. The other returning quarterbacks are walk-ons: sophomore Richie Wessman and redshirt freshman Matt Harris.

This fall, 2 promising QBs–prep All-Americans Billy Hart (Mission Viejo High in Mission Viejo, Calif.) and Matt Leinart (Mater Dei High in Santa Ana, Calif.)–will compete immediately for backup duty.

RUNNING BACKS

Troy returns a 1,000-yard runner in 2001 and he's a good one: speedy junior tailback Sultan McCullough (227 carries, 1,163 yards, 5.1 average, 6 TDs in 2000, plus 9 catches, 2.8 average). And he should only get better. His rushing total last fall was the most at USC since 1990. He hit the 100-yard rushing barrier 7 times in 2000 (the most by a Trojan since 1989), including 4 games in a row. That was good enough to earn him All-Pac-10 second team acclaim in 2000. The 1999 Pac-10 champion in the 100-meter dash, he is the fastest player ever to wear a Trojan football uniform (10.17 in the 100 meters).

Giving the Trojans a 1-2 punch at tailback is powerful and experienced senior Malaefou MacKenzie (41 carries, 284 yards, 6.9 average in 2000, plus 27 catches, 9.2 average), a threat running and receiving. He was second on the Trojans in rushing last season and his 27 receptions were the most by a USC running back since 1996. In his career (which includes 4 starts), he has 765 rushing yards and 37 receptions.

None of Troy's other tailbacks has seen the field yet in a cardinal-and-gold uniform: senior walk-on Mark Gomez, junior Miguel Fletcher, who also sprints for the Trojan tracksters (with a best of 10.36 in the 100 meters), sophomore walk-on Brien McMullen, and redshirt freshman Chris Howard, who is coming off 2000 knee surgery.

Junior Justin Fargas, a highly-acclaimed prep All-American tailback in 1997 who spent the past 3 years at Michigan (where he suffered a serious broken leg in 1998), enrolled at USC this past spring but must sit out the 2001 season after transferring. Coming aboard this fall will be freshmen Darryl Poston (Edison High in Huntington Beach, Calif.), a prep All-American, and David Kirtman (Mercer Island High in Mercer Island, Wash.).

Senior Charlie Landrigan (8 carries, 34 yards, 4.2 average in 2000, plus 8 catches, 5.9 average), an outstanding blocker, returns as the starting fullback. He'll be pushed for time by junior Chad Pierson (31 carries, 133 yards, 4.3 average, 1 TD in 2000, plus 10 catches, 14.7 average, 2 TDs), a 1-game starter last fall who proved to be just as effective a runner and receiver as a blocker (he lined up at tailback at times in 2000). Senior Sunny Byrd, who redshirted last fall after transferring from a junior college, and sophomore walk-on Jeffery Hill also are available.

WIDE RECEIVERS

USC's wide receiver corps in 2001 has a nice blend of experienced, speedy veterans and talented newcomers.

Kareem Kelly (55 catches, 14.5 average, 4 TDs in 2000), an acrobatic, fleet junior, headlines the group. He already is ninth on Troy's all-time pass catching chart with 109 grabs. He is within sight of Johnnie Morton's school record for receptions (201) and receiving yardage (3,201). He has a reception in all 23 games he has played as a Trojan. Last fall, he topped the Trojans in receptions and receiving yardage (796). He also sprints for USC's track squad (his 5.67 clocking in the 50-meter dash is an American collegiate and world junior record).

Last year's co-starters at the other wideout spot also return in junior Marcell Allmond (16 catches, 15.2 average in 2000) and sophomore Keary Colbert (33 catches, 14.5 average, 3 TDs in 2000). Allmond, who doubles as a hurdler and decathlete on the Trojan track team, was off to a good start last fall before breaking his leg in the fifth game and sitting out the rest of the way. Colbert took over for him and ended up second on the team in receptions (the second most ever by a USC freshman).

Also in the mix are junior Steve Stevenson (15 catches, team-high 18.9 average, 2 TDs in 2000), who has 21 catches and 3 starts in his career, and soph Sandy Fletcher, plus a trio of walk-ons (senior Ryan Kaiser, sophomore D. Hale and redshirt freshman Forrest Mozart).

USC could have one of the more interesting stories in college football in 23-year-old freshman Frank Candela, who joined the Trojans this past spring. He spent the past 4 years playing minor league baseball after a fine prep gridiron career. He will compete for time at wide receiver and likely serve as USC's primary kickoff and punt returner.

Figuring in this fall will be freshmen William Buchanon (Oceanside High in Oceanside, Calif.), a prep All-American who is the son of ex-NFL star cornerback Willie Buchanon, and David Boler (Charter Oak High in Covina, Calif.).

TIGHT ENDS

USC has quite a challenge in finding a replacement in 2001 for dependable 4-year starting tight end Antoine Harris, who had 61 catches and 7 scores in his career. The 8 candidates for the job have just 12 catches and limited offensive playing time to their names.

The likely starter came from an unlikely spot: defense. Rangy senior Kori Dickerson (32 tackles, 2 for losses, 1 deflection, 1 forced fumble in 2000) was last season's starting strongside linebacker. He was moved to tight end this past spring and was impressive (if injuries hit the linebacking corps, he could move back there). He doubles as a 6-8 high jumper for the USC track team.

There also are a pair of juniors in Doyal Butler (4 catches, 13.0 average in 2000) and Scott Huber (1 start last fall but no receptions) and a pair of sophomores in Alex Holmes (7 catches, 7.6 average in 2000), a Freshman All-American second teamer last year, and Chad Cook, who missed last season with a knee injury, plus redshirt freshman Gregg Guenther Jr., who was sidelined in 2000 with a back injury.

Arriving this fall will be freshman Kolomona Kapanui (The Kamehameha Schools in Honolulu, Hi.)

OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

Three-fifths of USC's starters on the offensive line are back in 2001 and each is an outstanding player. But the rest of the unit is relatively inexperienced, which is a concern since Troy must fine a pair of tackles and develop some reliable depth along the line.

Manning the guard spots will be senior Faaesea Mailo, who started at tackle last season but has 6 starts earlier in his career at left guard, and junior Zach Wilson, a 2-year starter on the right side. Both tip the scales at more than 300 pounds. Mailo, the only senior lineman, will fill the left guard spot held by Trevor Roberts last fall. He also has been used in the past as a short-yardage fullback, a la Refrigerator Perry, and proved to be a devastating blocker.

Sophomore Lenny Vandermade returns as the center after earning Freshman All-American first team honors last year (he also started some at guard in 2000).

Seven players will fight it out for the tackle jobs vacated by 3-year starter Brent McCaffrey on the left and Mailo on the right: junior Phillip Eaves, who redshirted last year, sophomores Norm Katnik (he worked mainly at center in 2000), Jacob Rogers (he missed last spring's practice while recovering from shoulder surgery), Eric Torres (he saw limited time in 2000), Nate Steinbacher (he also was a shotputter for the USC track team) and walk-on Justin Brown (a spring transfer from Fresno State), and redshirt freshman Joe McGuire. Of that group, only Rogers has seen significant line action in the past.

Junior Derek Graf, who has seen brief action in just 1 game in his career (his father, Allan, played on the Trojan line), and redshirt frosh Travis Watkins (also a Trojan shotputter) and walk-on Spencer Torgan are looking to earn backup duty at the guard positions. Redshirt freshman A.J. Single, a converted linebacker, will contend for the backup center role.

DEFENSE

Six positions have starters returning from 2000: free safety (Troy Polamalu), both cornerback spots (Kris Richard on one side and co-starters Darrell Rideaux and Chris Cash at the other), strong safety (co-starters Frank Strong and DeShaun Hill) and a defensive tackle (co-starters Ryan Nielsen and Bernard Riley), plus a linebacker (although Kori Dickerson has moved to tight end). Five others who have started at least once in their Trojan tenure also are back in defensive end Lonnie Ford, linebackers Aaron Graham and Chris Prosser and cornerbacks Antuan Simmons and Kevin Arbet. Five of Troy's top 10 tacklers from last fall return, as do its 2000 co-interception leaders. Although USC's total defense figure (343.0) in 2000 was a slight improvement from the previous season, the Trojans will have to be more opportunistic on defense in 2001. Their 17 takeaways last fall were USC's fewest since at least 1952 (that was quite a turnaround from 1999 when the Trojans led the nation with 39 takeaways). Troy managed only 7 interceptions in 2000, its lowest total since 1957, after getting 21 the year before.

The Trojans are loaded in the secondary, but must virtually rebuild its front 7. They'll rely on Carroll, whose background primarily has been on the defensive side of the ball, to mold this unit into a feared presence as the defensive coordinator. Assisting him will be fourth-year defensive line coach Ed Orgeron, regarded as one of the nation's best tutors at his position (he'll also serve as Troy's recruiting coordinator), secondary coach and assistant head coach DeWayne Walker, who spent the past 3 years with the NFL's Patriots after 10 years in the college ranks (he was Carroll's first hire at USC), and linebackers coach Nick Holt, who arrived from Louisville.

"I've always coached a very aggressive, attacking style of defense," said Carroll. "It starts up front with how we attack the line of scrimmage with our defensive linemen. But we'll make our opponents contend with all of our defenders, because they'll all be part of our blitz package. They'll all pressure. We'll mix man-to-man with zone-blitz pressure. We'll keep people off balance and force the kinds of errors that allow us to change the game with turnovers.

"We'll have a pro-style defense. It will be an attacking, up-the-field approach for our front 7 and an aggressive, bump-and-run style of play in the secondary. We'll run a 4-3 scheme, but with 3-4 personnel."

DEFENSIVE LINEMEN

The situation on the USC defensive line in 2001 is not as dire as it might appear. Although starters are gone at 3 positions–tackle Ennis Davis (who had 146 tackles, including 36 for losses with 15 sacks, as a 3-year starter) and ends Sultan Abdul-Malik (a 3-year starter who had 22.5 career sacks) and Matt Childers (a 2-year starter)–USC has plenty of quality bodies to fill in.

Last year, senior Ryan Nielsen (25 tackles, 3 for losses, 4 deflections, 1 forced fumble in 2000) and junior Bernard Riley (20 tackles, 3 for losses, 1 fumble recovery, 1 blocked kick in 2000) shared a tackle spot. This season, look for Nielsen–a 2-year starter–and Riley to be side by side at tackle.

One end spot will be a pseudo-linebacker, giving USC's 4-3 look a 3-4 feel. Senior Lonnie Ford (16 tackles, 6 for loss, 4 sacks, 2 deflections, 1 forced fumble in 2000), who has 16 tackles for losses and 15 starts in his career, seems an ideal candidate for that job.

The other end could be soph Omar Nazel, who saw brief action in 5 games last season without making a stop.

Others competing for time at end will be senior Bobby DeMars, junior Anthony Daye, who has played briefly in just 1 game in his career, and redshirt freshmen Nathan Goodson, Jamaal Williams (he missed last season with a broken leg) and walk-on Jay Bottom.

Reinforcements will arrive this fall with junior college transfer Daniel Pryor (Compton College in Compton, Calif.), a junior end, plus 4 prep All-American freshmen: ends Shaun Cody (Los Altos High in Hacienda Heights, Calif.), who was USA Today's national Defensive Player of the Year, Raymond Tago (Poly High in Long Beach, Calif.) and Jason Wardlow (Upland High in Upland, Calif.), plus tackle Mike Patterson (Los Alamitos High in Los Alamitos, Calif.).

LINEBACKERS

Of any area on the USC team, the linebacking corps faces the biggest challenge in 2001. After all, Troy must replace all 3 starters, including a pair of elite linebackers: 3-year starter Zeke Moreno, who posted 285 tackles (33 for losses), 5 picks and 4 touchdowns in his career while topping the Trojans in stops the past 2 seasons, and 2-year starter Markus Steele, who made 152 tackles (29 for losses) in his career. Last year's starter on the strong side (Kori Dickerson) has moved to tight end.

Looking to fill in at middle linebacker for Moreno are juniors Aaron Graham (26 tackles, 2 for losses, 1 sack, 2 deflections, 1 forced fumble in 2000), who started there for USC's final 4 games last fall when Moreno moved to the weakside for an injured Steele, and redshirt freshmen Lee Webb, a converted fullback, and walk-on Aaron Orndorff.

Steele's weakside spot is up for grabs between senior Henry Wallace (1 tackle in 2000), and junior Mike Pollard (2 tackles in 2000).

Either sophomore Chris Prosser (7 tackles in 2000), a 2-game starter on the strong side last year, or senior John Cousins, who redshirted last season with a finger injury, will emerge as the starter at Dickerson's strong side spot.

Three frosh will arrive this fall: prep All-Americans Austin Jackson (Serra High in Gardena, Calif.), the son of ex-USC offensive tackle Melvin Jackson, and Marvin Simmons (Poly High in Long Beach, Calif.), plus Bobby Otani (St. Bonaventure High in Ventura, Calif.).

DEFENSIVE BACKS

There is an embarrassment of riches in the USC secondary in 2001 in terms of experience and depth. Eight players have started there in their careers.

Junior Troy Polamalu (83 tackles, 5 for losses, 1 sack, 2 interceptions with 1 TD, 7 deflections, 1 fumble recovery in 2000) was the team's No. 2 tackler last fall while starting all season at strong safety.

Senior Frank Strong (20 tackles, 1 interception, 4 deflections, 1 forced fumble, 1 blocked kick in 2000), who was USC's top kickoff returner last year (21.6 average on 25 runbacks), and junior DeShaun Hill (39 tackles, 3 for losses, 1 sack, 2 interceptions, 5 deflections in 2000) shared the starting free safety duty last season and could do so again this year. Strong also might be used some at tailback, the spot he played earlier in his career.

Three redshirt freshmen are also available at safety: Matt Grootegoed, who sat out last year with mononucleosis, and Jason Leach, plus walk-on Kyle Matthews (the son of ex-USC and NFL linebacking great Clay Matthews).

The corners are equally stacked. Senior Chris Cash (39 tackles, 1 sack, 2 interceptions, 7 deflections, 2 forced fumbles in 2000) and junior Darrell Rideaux (21 tackles, 4 deflections in 2000), also a sprinter for USC's track team with a best of 10.30 in the 100 meters, once again will fight it out for the spot they shared in 2000. On the other side, there's senior 2-year starter Kris Richard (19 tackles, 5 deflections in 2000), who also was Troy's top punt returner last season (7.5 average on 13 runbacks). He has 6 career picks. Backing them up will be junior Kevin Arbet (31 tackles, 1 for a loss, 2 deflections in 2000), a 4-game starter last year and the stepson of ex-USC receiver Jeff Simmons, senior Eric Reese (4 tackles in 2000) and a pair of walk-ons in junior Marcus Johnson and redshirt freshman Matt Lemos.

The wild card in the secondary is senior cornerback Antuan Simmons, a 3-year starter who sat out the 2000 campaign while battling a life-threatening illness (a benign abdominal tumor that left him hospitalized for 6 weeks). He has slowly worked his way back into shape now and was impressive in last spring's practice. He is an impact player, with 175 tackles, 7 interceptions and 6 blocked kicks in his career.

Joining this group in the fall will be freshman cornerback John Walker (Birmingham High in Van Nuys, Calif.)

SPECIAL TEAMS

Simply said, the play of USC's special teams must improve. Last fall, the Trojans missed 8 field goals and 10 PATs, had 12 kicks and punts blocks (2 blocked punts were returned for TDs), blocked only 4 kicks and punts themselves, averaged just 36.2 yards per punt (Troy's lowest mark since 1987), finished last in the Pac-10 in net punting (28.4, fifth worst in the country) and ranked ninth in the Pac-10 in kickoff returns (19.5). It's obvious this is a high-priority area in 2001.

Carroll has appointed Kennedy Pola, the former Trojan player who handled USC's running backs last fall, as the special teams coordinator.

"The performance of our special teams will be a focal point," said Carroll. "We must be efficient and effective in our special teams play. Under the direction of Kennedy Pola, we will create continued competition at every position of this unit."

The punter (Mike MacGillivray), short snapper (Joe Boskovich) and top kickoff returner (Frank Strong) and punt returner (Kris Richard) all are back, as are the part-time starting placekickers (David Newbury and John Wall). But the kickoff man and a holder will be new.

PUNTER

Senior Mike MacGillivray (39.1 average in 2000), who owns a 39.4 career punting average while holding the job the past 3 years, is a battle-tested veteran who has struggled with his consistency. An effective placement punter, about a third of his 219 career punts have pinned opponents within the 20-yard line. He is within range of breaking John Stonehouse's USC career records for punts and punt yardage.

Sophomore walk-on Tommy Huff, who has yet to take the field for Troy, will back up MacGillivray.

PLACEKICKER

USC's placekicking was an adventure in 2000 and 2 of the 3 kickers are back. Senior David Newbury (4-of-9 field goals, 9-of-12 PATs in 2000) began the year as the kicker, but he was inconsistent. He was replaced midway through the season's fifth game by sophomore John Wall (5-of-5 field goals, 9-of-14 PATs in 2000). All of his field goals were within 27 yards and his 5 missed extra points were all blocked. When he was sidelined by a groin injury and then a knee injury in the final 3 contests (he might miss the 2001 campaign while recovering from the knee injury), the now-graduated David Bell took over. Primarily USC's effective kickoff man the past 4 years (nearly 50% of his 243 career kickoffs were not returned past the 20-yard line, with 62 touchbacks), Bell will long be remembered for his game-winning field goal with 9 seconds to go at UCLA last fall (it was only the second three-pointer of his career and the first after 3 misses in 2000).

Junior walk-on Anthony Boscarini, who joined the team last spring, is available, too.

SNAPPER

Sophomore walk-on center Joe Boskovich handled the snaps on USC's placekicks last year and now also might be asked to do the punt snapping that Zeke Moreno did in 2000. Other snapping possibilities are walk-on sophomore Alex Bottom and sophomore offensive tackle Norm Katnik, plus incoming sophomore linebacker Matt Hayward (Glendale Community College in Glendale, Ariz.).

HOLDER

There will be a casting call for a new holder on the placekicks, since last year's holder (Matt Nickels) and his backup (Mike Van Raaphorst) have graduated. Senior punter Mike MacGillivray came out of spring drills as the likely holder, backed by junior wide receiver Marcell Allmond.

RETURNERS

All of USC's kickoff and punt returners from 2000 are back. They did a solid–if unspectacular–job, so who gets the call in 2001 still is up for grabs.

Senior safety Frank Strong (25 kickoff returns, 21.6 average in 2000) led the team last year in kickoff returns. Others who might give it a crack are senior tailback Malaefou MacKenzie (4 kickoff returns, 22.8 average in 2000), redshirt freshman safety Matt Grootegoed and freshman wide receiver Frank Candela.

Senior cornerback Kris Richard (13 punt returns, 7.5 average in 2000) topped Troy in punt returns last fall. Freshman wide receiver Frank Candela and junior wide receiver Kareem Kelly (6 punt returns, 3.7 average in 2000) also could give it a try.

USC HEAD COACH PETE CARROLL

HEAD COACH PETE CARROLL

Pete Carroll, who led the New England Patriots to the NFL playoffs twice in 3 years, brings big doses of experience, enthusiasm and leadership in his quest to revive the USC football program. He was named the Trojans' head football coach on Dec. 15, 2000.

Carroll, who also has coached on the college level for 10 years, has 26 years of NFL and college experience. He signed a 5-year contract with USC.

Carroll, 49, was the head coach of the NFL's New England Patriots for 3 seasons (1997-99) and New York Jets for 1 year (1994). He guided the Patriots into the playoffs in his first 2 seasons, winning the AFC Eastern Division title at 10-6 in 1997 and advancing to the second round of the playoffs, then posting a 9-7 regular season mark in 1998. His overall record in New England was 27-21 in the regular season (including 8-8 in 1999) and 1-2 in the playoffs. He owns the franchise's second-best winning percentage (54.9%).

After serving as the Jets' defensive coordinator for 4 seasons (1990-93), he became the team's head coach the following season. His 1994 Jets went 6-10. Only 3 other Jets head coaches won more games in their rookie campaign.

He spent the next 2 years (1995-96) as the defensive coordinator with the San Francisco 49ers, who won the NFC Western Division title both seasons. The 49ers were 11-5 in the 1995 regular season when they had the NFL's top-ranked defense and then went 12-4 in 1996.

Carroll began his coaching career at the college level, serving as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Pacific, for 3 years (1974-76), working with the wide receivers and secondary. He then spent a season each as an assistant in charge of the secondary at Arkansas (1977) under Lou Holtz as the Razorbacks won the 1978 Orange Bowl, at Iowa State (1978) under Earle Bruce (the Cyclones played in the 1978 Hall of Fame Bowl) and at Ohio State (1979) under Bruce. That Buckeye squad lost to USC in the 1980 Rose Bowl.

He next spent 3 seasons (1980-82) as the defensive coordinator and secondary coach at North Carolina State, then returned to Pacific in 1983 as the assistant head coach and offensive coordinator.

He entered the NFL in 1984 as the defensive backs coach of the Buffalo Bills, then held a similar position with the Minnesota Vikings for 5 seasons (1985-89). The Vikings advanced to the playoffs his last 3 years there, getting to the NFC Championship game in 1987. The 1988 team was 11-5 in the regular season and the 1989 squad won the NFC Central Division crown with a 10-6 mark. His secondary averaged 25 interceptions a season and led the NFL in passing defense in 1989.

Carroll spent the 2000 season as a consultant for pro and college teams, doing charitable work for the NFL and writing a column about pro football for CNNSI.com.

Carroll was a 2-time (1971-72) All-Pacific Coast Conference free safety at Pacific and earned his bachelor's degree in 1973 in business administration. He received his secondary teaching credential and a master's degree in physical education from Pacific in 1976.

He was a 3-sport (football, basketball and baseball) standout at Redwood High in Larkspur, Calif., earning the school's Athlete of the Year award as a senior. He played quarterback, wide receiver and defensive back. He then played football at Marin Junior College in Kentfield, Calif., in 1970.

He was born on Sept. 15, 1951 in San Francisco. He and his wife, Glena, who played volleyball at Pacific, have 3 children: sons Brennan, 22, a senior tight end at Pittsburgh (he previously played at Delaware), and Nathan, 14, and daughter Jaime, 19, a sophomore on the USC women's volleyball team which competed in the 2000 NCAA Final Four. His late father-in-law, Dean Goranson, received his master's degree from USC.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT PETE CARROLL

COACHES

Bud Grant, former Minnesota Vikings head coach: "He's got that intangible I think head coaches have to have. There's an instinct you have to have. A lot of excellent coaches can't be head coaches. We used to talk a lot. He was always interested in the whys of things, and not just in his sphere. He wanted to know: 'Why do this? Where did you get this idea? Where did you come up with that idea? You do it differently. Why?' I think that has made him a better coach. Pete is special. He's the right kind of guy. Honorable. He has a good philosophy of the game, he teaches good technical skills and he understands the abilities of his players. The thing that helps Pete the most as a head coach is his ability to see the whole picture. Some head coaches don't have that ability to be able to stand in the middle of a practice field and know everything that's going on. And he's secure enough in his knowledge and his ability to take what he learns on the practice field and use it to make the tough decisions and stand by them. Pete has all of that and more."

Paul Wiggin, Minnesota Vikings defensive line coach during Carroll's tenure: "There was something there about Pete that Bud Grant saw. The thing that was so interesting about Pete is that he always studied Bud. Pete has football genius about him. He knows how to simplify and unscramble. The thing that's neat about Pete is that, when he calls a meeting, players will look forward to going. I think Pete will be an overwhelming success. I would bet on Pete Carroll."

Jerry Burns, former Minnesota Vikings head coach: "Pete is a very, very smart guy. Very innovative. He's football-wise. His rapport with players is excellent."

George Seiffert, former San Francisco 49ers head coach: "He's got quite an energy level. In fact, we kid him about being so hyper. I've been impressed by the way his players play, the enthusiasm with which they play."

Steve Sidwell, New England Patriots defensive coordinator under Carroll: "Pete is one of the brightest defensive minds I've ever been around."

Bill Walsh, former San Francisco 49ers head coach: "Pete is one of those unique, dynamic people with great charisma who has a gift. I don't think there's anybody better."

Ed Donatell, New York Jets assistant coach under Carroll: "USC is getting a dandy coach. He'll be a phenomenal recruiter. I think the college game is probably where he belongs. He's just a unique individual. He knows what's important in life. He knows the coaches don't have to be in the offices until midnight. But if people think he's easy, they're wrong, and the players will be the first to find out."

Jack Reilly, New England Patriots quarterbacks coach under Carroll: "Pete will do a good job at USC. He's a very, very hard-working guy. He's organized. He loves what he's doing. He's like a kid in a candy store. He's smart. He'll figure things out and make whatever adjustments are necessary. He's a great scheme guy. He was one of the best defensive coordinators in the NFL. He'll help the offense, too. He has a million ideas. He knows how people attack."

Steve Gutman, New York Jets president during Carroll's tenure: "He's a good guy in a business not famous for good guys. He has achieved a rare balance of man-husband-father-coach."

Chester Caddas, Carroll's Pacific head coach: "I loved Pete as a player. He was a tremendous college player. He truly loved the game. He was intense and he was smart and he looked forward to every snap. I knew once he committed himself 100 percent to coaching, he would make a great coach. He had an idea every 30 seconds. He also had great knowledge of the technical aspects of the game, on both sides of the ball. But most importantly, the players liked him. He was honest and upbeat. Whatever Pete tells you, you can go to the bank with. I think players appreciate that. One thing Pete has always had is an ability to deal with people. I think people enjoy his enthusiasm. He's always upbeat, but he's never out of control. I don't think I've ever seen him down."

Bob Troppman, Carroll's Redwood High head coach: "Pete was born to coach. His mind was always going. Even when he was playing Pop Warner and freshman football, he was the guy in the huddle drawing plays in the dirt. He was always off someplace working out new drills. He's really an ingenious type of guy. He's always been an innovator, always a step ahead."

PLAYERS

Willie McGinest, New England Patrios defensive end under Carroll: "Pete will be a good college coach. He'll be a good guy for the job at USC. In my opinion, he's a good coach, he's approachable, you can speak to him, he's energetic, he knows how to motivate guys and he's also knowledgeable about the game. His style fits the college game, especially USC. College kids will definitely relate to him. His energy suits college guys. They'll love him. That type of enthusiasm he has will be great in the college game. He's fun to play for. He gets you fired up to play for him."

Steve Young, San Francisco 49ers quarterback under Carroll: "It's an absolutely great move for USC. If he walked into my living room and recruited me, there's no way I could turn him down."

Eric Davis, San Francisco 49ers All-Pro cornerback under Carroll: "He listens to the players. We have a voice. Everybody is not going to be happy. But, if you have a problem, you can go to him. He's a teacher. He wants to make sure that everybody not only knows what to do, but why they're doing it. That makes us better."

Lawyer Milloy, New England Patriots strong safety under Carroll: "We all believe in his system, we all believe in the type of coach he is. He's a great coach and I love playing for the guy."

Tim McDonald, San Francisco 49ers safety under Carroll: "Anyone who calls a corner blitz when there's 99 yards to go has some big kanoodles. And he's definitely got them. He's not afraid to take a chance. He also makes it fun. He tries to get a vibe for what a team needs. He's willing to do whatever it takes to get a team going."

Bart Oates, San Francisco 49ers center under Carroll: "His enthusiasm is infectious."

Marvin Washington, New York Jets defensive end under Carroll: "Pete expects hard work and we have to give it to him."

Art Monk, New York Jets end under Carroll: "His optimism and enthusiasm. I've never been around a coach like Pete. He gives energy."

Junior Bryant, San Francisco 49ers defensive tackle under Carroll: "He thinks he's a comedian in meetings. He'll always put a little smart remark in to loosen guys up. But joking aside, he's all business. He's fiery and upbeat and he has a positive attitude."

Gary Plummer, San Francisco 49ers linebacker under Carroll: "He's a diverse individual and he knows there's more to life than just football. He forges relationships with people. There are coaches out there who will leave you hanging, tell ou one thing, and if it doesn't work, you get hung out to dry in the papers. Pete Carroll isn't one of those guys."

MEDIA

Clark Judge, FOXSports.com/San Jose Mercury News: "Carroll would be the perfect fit for USC. He is from the West Coast. He was a successful defensive coordinator and experienced head coach in the NFL. He is a superb tactician. He is energetic. He is charismatic. In short, he is everything you'd want from your next college football coach. Don't you want someone coaching your team who can, first, get the talent, then, know how to use it? He proved he could win with ordinary talent and without having complete authority in New England. Carroll is a lead-pipe cinch for a head coaching position somewhere. He is young, he is enthusiastic, he is articulate, he works well with the media, he works better with his players and, most important, he does his job as proficiently as anyone in the business. Nobody will accuse Carroll of running with the pack. He quotes Jerry Garcia, splices film clips of beavers at work in with defensive highlight footage, used to surf the aisles of charter flights on cafeteria trays and, yes, spends afternoons after practice running with a football."

Dan Shaughnessy, Boston Globe: "Pete Carroll would be the perfect coach for USC. He's a guy with great family values. I would send my son to USC to play under him."

C.W. Nevius, San Francisco Chronicle: "He is the kind of guy who can take a player to unexpected heights by sheer force of enthusiasm. The Jets players loved him in his four years as defensive coordinator, which was why he was an enormously popular choice to become their head coach. He's a great guy, talkative, bright and cooperative."

Mike Lupica, Newsday: "He is a good coach. Everyone talks about how hard the Jets played for Pete Carroll. I think he's better suited to coach college than the pros. He's a good person with a good heart."

Bob Glauber, The Sporting News: "Jets owner Leon Hess made a huge mistake when he fired Carroll after only one season. Carroll's ingenious schemes and player-friendly personality would have eventually turned around the Jets."

Glenn Dickey, San Francisco Chronicle: "He's bright and personable, able to relate to players and the media. Carroll did a great job in both coaching the 49ers defense and coming up with imaginative game plans. One of his biggest assets is his flexibility. The trick, always, is to keep the offense off-balance. Carroll is a master at that."

John Crumpacker, San Francisco Examiner: "Carroll's belief is to make fun what is often taken so darn seriously, this business that masquerades as a game."

Mark Cannizzaro, New York Post: "Pete Carroll permeates his energetic lightning-rod touch among his players and coaches. But part of Carroll's style is toughness."

Jim Thomas, South Bay Daily Breeze: "The temptation was to say that Mike Garrett did indeed get it right this time. That's how impressive Carroll was in his first public appearance as USC's football coach. The charismatic Carroll wowed the toughest crowd of them all–a bunch of heard-it-all-before reporters at a coming-out press conference. He was so smooth, so intelligent and sharp, so enthusiastic and sincere, he could easily have been mistaken for the CEO of a Dot.Com company. Acting like the star graduate of a public-speaking course taught by Tony Robbins, the confident Carroll could not have done more to set the stage for a new era."

Mark Whicker, Orange County Register: "What Carroll can do at USC is create a community. There are players, coaches, staff, parents, and the modern coach gets them involved, and the grinding season becomes a joyride. Pete Carrroll will try to build a cardinal brick road for the Trojans."

ASSISTANT COACHES

NORM CHOW

Offensive Coordinator
Quarterbacks

Norm Chow, regarded as one of the premier offensive coordinators and quarterback coaches in college football, joined the USC staff in January of 2001.

He spent the 2000 season handling those duties at North Carolina State, where he helped the Wolfpack to an 8-4 season and a victory in the Micronpc.com Bowl. The NCSU passing offense was ranked 15th nationally (292.6). His quarterback, Philip Rivers, was a Freshman All-American who completed 53.7% (237-of-441) of his passes for 3,054 yards with 25 touchdowns and was 12th nationally in total offense (269.9).

Before that, the 55-year-old Chow spent the previous 27 years (1973-99) at BYU. At various times, he was the Cougars' assistant head coach, co-offensive coordinator (since 1982), quarterbacks coach, receivers coach, recruiting coordinator and graduate assistant (1973 and 1974).

He coached 6 of the NCAA's top 12 career passing efficiency leaders and was involved with squads that hold 11 of the top 30 single season passing yardage totals in NCAA history. He coached in 22 bowls at BYU and was on the staff of the Cougars' 1984 national championship team. BYU went 243-91-3 during his time in Provo.

He was named the National Assistant Coach of the Year in 1999 by the American Football Foundation and in 1993 by Athlon. He was the 1996 Division I Offensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Quarterly. In 1996, he was a finalist for the Frank Broyles Award (given to the nation's top assistant).

Among the Cougar players he coached were a number of future NFL stars, including quarterbacks Steve Young, Jim McMahon, Marc Wilson, Gifford Nielsen, Ty Detmer and Robbie Bosco, plus tight end Todd Christensen. Detmer won the 1990 Heisman Trophy and was a Davey O'Brien Trophy winner (twice), as were Young and McMahon.

Chow began his coaching career as the head coach at Waialua (Hi.) High for 3 seasons (1970-72) before going to BYU.

He was a 2-year starter and 3-year letterman at offensive guard for Utah (1965-67). In 1967, he earned All-Western Athletic Conference first team and All-American honorable mention honors. He was selected to Utah's All-Century Team.

He then played briefly with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League in 1968 before a knee injury ended his playing career.

He earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Utah in 1968, his master's in special education from Utah in 1970 and his doctorate in educational psychology from BYU in 1979.

He prepped at Punahou High in Honolulu, Hi., starring in football, basketball and baseball.

He was born on May 3, 1946. He and his wife, Diane, have 3 sons–Carter, 26, Cameron, 20, and Chandler, 15–and a daughter, Maile, 24.

NICK HOLT

Linebackers

Nick Holt, who joined the USC staff in January of 2001, has just the kind of fiery demeanor to handle the linebackers.

He was the defensive line coach at Louisville for the past 3 seasons (1998-2000). In 2000, the Cardinals were fourth nationally in rushing defense (79.9), set a school record for sacks with 50 (second in the nation) and were second nationally in turnovers with 38. Louisville appeared in a bowl game each season (the 1998 Motor City Bowl, 1999 Humanitarian Bowl and 2000 Liberty Bowl).

Holt, 38, came to Louisville after 8 seasons (1990-97) at Idaho. He was in charge of the defensive line for the first 5 years and then was the linebackers coach the final 3 seasons. He also served as the defensive coordinator for 4 of those seasons. His 1994 unit topped Division I-AA in run defense (and was fifth in 1995).

He began his coaching career in 1986 as an assistant at St. Mary's High in Stockton (Calif.). He then was a graduate assistant at UNLV in 1987 before becoming the Rebels' linebackers coach the following 2 seasons (1988-89).

He lettered 4 years (1981, 83-85) at linebacker for Pacific. He was an All-American honorable mention selection in 1985, when he also earned All-AP West Coast and All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association notice.

He earned his bachelor's degree in political economics from Pacific in 1986.

He played football and baseball at Bellarmine Prep in San Jose, Calif.

He was born Oct. 15, 1962. He and his wife, Julie (who was the head women's basketball at Nevada Reno, Pacific, Gonzaga and Idaho), have 2 sons, Nick, 8, and Ben, 4.

His maternal grandfather was Clarence "Buster" Crabbe, USC's first All-American swimmer (1931) who was a 1931 NCAA freestyle titlist and 1932 Olympic gold medalist (he won a bronze in 1928) before starring in Hollywood as Tarzan, Flash Gordon and Buck Rogers.

LANE KIFFIN

Tight Ends

Lane Kiffin, the son of longtime pro and collegiate coach Monte Kiffin, was named USC's tight ends coach in February of 2001.

Kiffin, 26, was the defensive quality control coach for the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars in 2000 (he worked with the secondary).

He began his coaching career at Fresno State, his alma mater, where for 2 seasons (1997-98) he worked with the quarterbacks, wide receivers and defensive backs.

He then was an assistant at Colorado State in 1999, working with the offensive line. The Rams played in the Liberty Bowl that season.

Kiffin was a quarterback at Fresno State for 3 seasons (1994-96).

He earned his bachelor's degree in leisure service management from Fresno State in 1998.

He prepped at Bloomington (Minn.) Jefferson High, where he played football, basketball and baseball.

He was born May 9, 1975. His wife's name is Layla.

His father, Monte, is the defensive coordinator of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. The elder Kiffin, a longtime NFL and collegiate assistant coach who served as North Carolina State's head coach in the early 1980s, has a long history with Carroll (Carroll was as assistant on Kiffin's Wolfpack staff from 1980 to 1982, and they served as assistants together with Arkansas in 1977, the Buffalo Bills in 1984, the Minnesota Vikings from 1986 to 1989 and the New York Jets in 1990).

WAYNE MOSES

Running Backs

Wayne Moses, who joined USC's staff in January of 2001, knows a fews things about running backs.

In his 23 years of collegiate coaching experience, he has worked with running backs in all but 3 of those seasons. In the past 11 years, he has tutored Pac-10 runners. Six of his pupils have had 1,000-yard rushing seasons.

He was the running backs coach at his alma mater, Washington, for the past 4 seasons (1997-2000). Washington led the Pac-10 in rushing in 2000 (16th nationally). The Huskies played in a bowl game each year (1997 Aloha Bowl, 1998 Oahu Bowl, 1999 Holiday Bowl and 2001 Rose Bowl).

He spent the 1996 season handling the running backs at California (the Golden Bears appeared in the Aloha Bowl) after 6 years (1990-95) in a similar role at UCLA. Two of his players, Karim Abdul-Jabbar and Kevin Williams, led the Pac-10 in rushing. The Bruins played in the 1991 John Hancock Bowl, 1994 Rose Bowl and 1995 Aloha Bowl.

Moses, 46, began his coaching career in 1978 at Cal State Fullerton as a graduate assistant working with the defensive backs. He then was the running backs coach at Chaffey Junior College in Rancho Cucamonga, Calif., in 1979. He went to at North Carolina State in 1980, working with the defensive backs with Pete Carroll. He then was the running backs coach at Bowling Green for 3 years (1981-83), Rutgers for 2 seasons (1984-85) and San Diego State for 3 years (1986-88). Paul Hewitt of the Aztecs led the nation in scoring in 1987. Bowling Green played in the 1982 California Bowl and San Diego State was in the 1986 Holiday Bowl. Next, he was the wide receivers coach at New Mexico in 1989 before moving to UCLA. His receiver, Terance Mathis, set NCAA career records for receptions and receiving yardage.

He was a coaching intern with the NFL's Los Angeles Raiders, Seattle Seahawks and Denver Broncos during the summers of 1990, 1993 and 1999, respectively.

He was a 4-year (1973-74, 1976-77) letterman at Washington, where he started at cornerback (intercepting 7 passes) his last 2 seasons. He played in the 1978 Rose Bowl.

He received his bachelor's degree in political science from Washington in 1977. He spent 6 months out of football when he was hired by the FBI to train as an agent.

He played football and basketball at San Dimas (Calif.) High.

He was born Jan. 11, 1955. He and his wife, Rosalind, have 2 daughters: Valerie, 19, and Kimberly, 14.

ED ORGERON

Defensive Line Recruiting Coordinator

Ed Orgeron, regarded as one of college football's premier defensive line coaches, has been USC's defensive line coach the past 3 seasons (1998-2000). He took on the added responsibility of recruiting coordinator in 2001. He joined the USC staff in January of 1998.

In 1998, Trojan defensive tackle Ennis Davis was named to the All-Pac-10 first team and USC played in the Sun Bowl.

Orgeron, 40, has 16 years of coaching experience. He was Syracuse's defensive line coach the previous 3 seasons (1995-97) and the Orangemen played in a bowl game each year (1996 Gator, 1996 Liberty and 1997 Fiesta).

He came to Syracuse from Nicholls State, where he was the linebackers coach in 1994.

Before that, he was the defensive line coach at Miami for 4 seasons (1989-92), where he coached 8 All-Americans, including NFL first rounders Cortez Kennedy, Russell Maryland and Warren Sapp. In 1988, he was a graduate assistant at Miami, working with the defensive line. During his tenure, the Hurricanes won the national championship twice (1989 and 1991), finished second in the AP poll once (1988) and third twice (1990 and 1992) while appearing in 5 New Year's Day bowls (1989 Orange, 1990 Sugar, 1991 Cotton, 1992 Orange, 1993 Sugar).

Orgeron also was a graduate assistant at Northwestern (La.) State, his alma mater, in 1984 and McNeese State in 1985, working with the defensive line at both schools, then was an assistant strength coach at Arkansas for 2 years (1986-87). The Razorbacks were in the 1987 Orange Bowl and 1987 Liberty Bowl. He worked in private business in 1993.

He was a 4-year starting defensive lineman at Northwestern State, captaining the Demons as a senior. He received his bachelor's degree in liberal arts from Northwestern State in 1984.

He starred in football, basketball and track at South Lafourche High in Galliano, La.

Born July 27, 1961, he and his wife, Kelly, have 3 sons, Tyler, 9, and 3-year-old twins Parker and Cody.

KENNEDY POLA

Special Teams Coordinator

Kennedy Pola, a former USC fullback and linebacker in the mid-1980s, became Troy's special teams coordinator in 2001 after serving as the running backs coach in 2000. He returned to his alma mater in December of 1999. In 2000, tailback Sultan McCullough ran for 1,163 yards.

Pola, 37, spent 1999 as the linebackers coach at San Diego State, working under former USC head coach Ted Tollner.

He coached the running backs at Colorado in 1997 and 1998. The 1998 Buffalo team won the Aloha Bowl.

Before that, he spent 3 years (1994 to 1996) as San Diego State's running backs coach, guiding a pair of 1,000-yard rushers (Wayne Pittman in 1994 and George Jones in 1995). Jones, who was 32 yards shy of 1,000 yards in 1996, won All-WAC first team honors in 1995 and has played in the NFL with Pittsburgh and Jacksonville. Pola also worked with the Aztecs special teams in 1996 (punter Noel Prefontaine was an All-American first teamer, placekicker Peter Holt was runnerup for the Lou Groza Award given to the nation's top kicker and return specialist Leandrew Childs was an All-WAC first team pick).

Pola was a graduate assistant coach at UCLA in 1992 and 1993, working with the secondary and special teams. The 1993 Bruins squad played in the Rose Bowl.

He began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant at Crespi High in Encino, Calif., for 3 seasons (1986-88) and then Westlake High in Westlake Village (Calif.) for 3 years (1989-91). Crespi won the 1986 CIF Division I championship and he coached prep All-American running back Russell White, who starred at California.

Pola was a 4-year letterman (1982-85) at USC, playing both fullback and linebacker. He began his Trojan career as a backup linebacker, but was moved to fullback by midseason of his freshman year. He ended up starting there the last 2 games of 1982 against UCLA and Notre Dame, as well as most of the next 3 seasons. In his career, he ran for 681 yards (he also caught 23 passes and in 1983 threw a 65-yard scoring pass against Stanford). He helped USC to a victory over Ohio State in the 1985 Rose Bowl (he also played in the 1985 Aloha Bowl).

He earned his bachelor's degree in history from USC in 1987.

He attended at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana, Calif., where he was a prep All-American in football (he also was on the basketball and track teams). He also served as the student body president.

His nephew, Troy Polamalu, is a junior safety on the USC football team. His brother, Al, played football at Penn State. Nephew Nicky Sualua has played running back in the NFL with Dallas and Cincinnati after attending Ohio State, while another nephew, Leie Sualua, was a defensive lineman at Oregon.

He was born in Pago Pago, American Samoa, on Nov. 22, 1963, the same day President John F. Kennedy was assassinated (Pola was named in his honor).

He and his wife, Diane, have 3 sons: K.C. (Kennedy Christopher), 9, Matthew Aoatoa, 7, and Raymond Trey, 3.

KEITH UPERESA

Offensive Line

Keith Uperesa, who came to USC in January of 2001 as the offensive line coach, has had success follow him throughout his coaching career.

He spent the past 2 seasons (1999-2000) as the assistant head coach, offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at Idaho State. The 1999 Bengals had one of the best offenses in school history, with a 3,000-yard passer, a 1,000-yard rusher and a team scoring average of more than 30 points. In 2000, those numbers nearly repeated (a 2,800-yard quarterback, a 900-yard runner and a 29.9 scoring average).

Uperesa, 46, spent the previous 12 seasons (1987-98) at Snow Junior College in Ephraim, Ut., including as head coach for the last 4 years (1995-98). His head coaching mark was 35-8 (he was 4-0 in bowls). His 1995 squad went 9-2, was ranked seventh nationally and won the Real Dairy Bowl. In 1996, Snow was 10-1, ranked No. 4 and won the Midwest Bowl as he was named Western States Football League Coach of the Year. Snow went 8-3 in 1997 with a No. 6 ranking and a Mineral Water Bowl victory. His 1998 team finished 8-2, was ranked fifth nationally and captured the Dixie Rotary Bowl (that squad averaged 44.5 points per game and threw 36 touchdown passes); Josh Heupel, who guided Oklahoma to the 2000 national championship, was Snow's quarterback that season.

In his first 8 seasons at Snow, he was the offensive line coach and special teams coordinator (Snow played in the 1992 Dixie Rotary Bowl). During that time, he also held a variety of duties, including sports information director, director of student support services, assistant intramural director, health and physical education department instructor and Polynesian Club advisor.

Uperesa began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at BYU, his alma mater, for 2 seasons (1985-86). The Cougars played in the 1985 Florida Citrus Bowl and 1986 Freedom Bowl.

He played at BYU for 4 seasons (1974-77), where he was an All-Western Athletic Conference offensive tackle in 1977. He played in the 1977 Hula Bowl and Blue-Gray Classic.

He earned his bachelor's degree in recreational management in 1984 and his master's in physical education administration in 1986, both from BYU.

He played in the NFL with the Denver Broncos in 1978 and the Oakland Raiders in 1979. He then worked in private business before coaching at BYU.

He prepped at Punahou High in Honolulu, Hi., where he starred in football, basketball and track.

He was born July 28, 1955. He and his wife, Kaipo, have a son, Ikaika, 20, and 2 daughters, Naupaka, 18, and Kahikole, 12.

DeWAYNE WALKER

Secondary
Associate Head Coach

Walker, who came to USC in December of 2000 as the secondary coach, also serves as Pete Carroll's associate head coach.

He has 13 years of coaching experience at the college and NFL level. He spent the past 3 seasons (1998-2000) as a defensive assistant for the Patriots, handling the secondary. He worked with Patriot Pro Bowl defensive backs Lawyer Milloy and Ty Law.

He first became acquainted with Carroll while serving a minority summer coaching internship with the San Francisco 49ers in 1996. He then had a similar internship with Carroll at the Patriots in 1997.

Walker, 40, began his coaching career at Mt. San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, Calif., for 5 seasons (1988-92). He was the secondary coach the first 4 years, then became the defensive coordinator in 1992. Mt. SAC played in the Southern California Bowl in 1988 and the Simple Green/Orange County Classic in 1992.

He moved to the Division I collegiate level next, first for a year (1993) as the defensive backs coach at Utah State, where he developed a pair of all-conference cornerbacks, Damon Smith and Donard Toomer. The Aggies beat Ball State in the Las Vegas Bowl that season.

He then spent 1994 as the secondary coach at BYU, where cornerback Pat Mitchell was an all-league pick (Walker also coached the punt returners on special teams). The Cougars beat Oklahoma in the Copper Bowl that season.

He next was the secondary coach at Oklahoma State in 1995, coaching NFL first rounder R.W. McQuarters.

He then spent 2 seasons (1996-97) as the secondary coach at California, coaching future NFL defensive backs Kato Serwanga and Marquis Smith, before moving to the NFL's Patriots. The 1996 Golden Bear squad played in the Aloha Bowl.

Walker, who starred in football at Muir High in Pasadena, Calif., was a defensive back at Pasadena City College in 1978 and 1979. He earned all-conference honors in 1979. He then started at cornerback for 2 seasons (1980-81) at Minnesota.

He earned his bachelor's degree in liberal studies in 1986 from Regents College in Albany, N.Y.

He played professionally for 3 seasons, first with the Edmonton Eskimos of the CFL in 1982, then with the USFL's Oakland Invaders in 1984 and Arizona Outlaws in 1985.

He was born Dec. 3, 1960. He and his wife, Zan, have 3 children: daughters Kesha, 20, and Kendra, 8, and son Kevan, 11.

KIRBY WILSON

Wide Receivers

Kirby Wilson, who spent the past 4 years coaching in the NFL after working 9 years in the college ranks, was named USC's wide receivers coach in January of 2001.

Wilson was the running backs coach with the Washington Redskins in 2000 after spending the previous 3 years (1997-99) handling that duty with the New England Patriots under Carroll. Pro Bowler Stephen Davis rushed for more than 1,000 yards in 2000 at Washington, as did both Curtis Martin in 1997 and Robert Edwards in 1998 at New England.

Before that, Wilson coached the running backs at Iowa State for 2 years (1995-96). Under his guidance, All-American Troy Davis led the nation in rushing both seasons.

Wilson, 40, began his coaching career in 1985 at Pasadena (Calif.) City College, where he was the wide receivers coach. He then returned to school to earn his bachelor's degree in psychology from Eastern Illinois in 1989 before resuming his coaching career.

He became the quarterbacks and wide receivers coach at Los Angeles Southwest Community College for 2 years (1989-90). The next 2 seasons (1991-92), he was at Southern Illinois where he coached the linebackers the first year and was the defensive coordinator and secondary coach in the second year.

He was Wyoming's secondary coach the next 2 seasons (1993-94) before moving to Iowa State. The 1993 Cowboys shared the Western Athletic Conference title and played in the Copper Bowl.

He was a running back and wide receiver at Pasadena CC for 2 years (1979-80), then was a wide receiver and kick returner at Illinois for 2 seasons (1981-82). The Illini played in the 1982 Liberty Bowl.

He played defensive back and kick returner in the CFL, first with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in 1983 and then with the Toronto Argonauts in 1984.

He was on the football and track teams at Dorsey High in Los Angeles.

He was born Aug. 24, 1961. He and his wife, Danielle, have 3 sons: Kris, 17, Michael, 3, and Tyler, 2.

STEVE SARKISIAN

Offensive Assistant

It took a while, but Steve Sarkisian finally made it back to USC. The one-time Trojan athlete joined the USC staff as an offensive assistant in January of 2001.

Sarkisian, 27, spent the 2000 season as the quarterbacks coach at El Camino Junior College in Torrance (Calif.). His quarterback, Robert Hodge, earned All-American honors. El Camino played in the CHIPs For Kids Bowl.

Sarkisian knows a few things about quarterbacks, as he starred at the position at the prep, collegiate and pro levels. Most recently, he was with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League for 3 seasons (1997-99). He started in 1999 and threw 16 touchdowns.

He had a record-setting 2-year (1995-96) career at BYU, where he was coached by offensive coordinator Norm Chow, now at USC. Sarkisian completed 549-of-824 passes (66.6%) for 7,755 yards and 55 TDs in his career. His 162.0 career passing efficiency rating is third on the all-time NCAA list. As a senior in 1996, he led the nation in passing efficiency (173.6, the seventh best mark ever) as the Western Athletic Conference champion Cougars went 14-1 and won the 1997 Cotton Bowl. He was the WAC Offensive Player of the Year in 1996, won All-American second team honors and played in the East-West Shrine Game and Hula Bowl. As a 1995 junior, he made the All-WAC team and led BYU to the WAC title. Against Fresno State that season, he set an NCAA game completion percentage record when he hit 31-of-34 passes (91.2%).

He came to BYU from El Camino Junior College, where he starred for 2 seasons (1993-94). He was a J.C. All-American first teamer as a 1994 sophomore and won All-Mission Conference honors in 1993 as a freshman. He also played baseball (shortstop) at El Camino in 1993.

He actually began his college career at USC, spending the fall of 1992 on the Trojan baseball team before transferring to El Camino.

He was a standout football and baseball player at West Torrance (Calif.) High.

He earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from BYU in 1997 after getting his associate's degree in general studies from El Camino in 1994. He currently is working on his master's degree in education from USC.

He was born March 8, 1974. His wife's name is Stephanie.

ROCKY SETO

Defensive Assistant

Former USC linebacker Rocky Seto is in his first year as a Trojan defensive assistant, having been appointed in January of 2001.

He spent the 2000 season as an administrative graduate assistant with the USC program. In 1999, he was a volunteer assistant, working with the defense and special teams.

Seto, 25, was a linebacker at USC for 2 seasons (1997-98). After spending 1997 as a walk-on, he earned a scholarship for the 1998 season. He was awarded USC's Black Shirt (scout team) Defensive Player of the Year Award in 1998.

He transferred to USC from Mt. San Antonio Junior College in Walnut (Calif.), where he was a fullback and defensive end in 1995 and 1996. His coach at Mt. San Antonio was ex-USC All-American offensive guard Bill Fisk.

He prepped at Arcadia (Calif.) High, where he was on the football and track teams.

He earned his bachelor's degree in exercise science from USC in 1999 after getting his associate's degree in general studies from Mt. San Antonio in 1997. He currently is working on his master's degree in public administration from USC.

Born March 12, 1976, he is single.

CHRIS CARLISLE

Strength and Conditioning Coach

Chris Carlisle is in his first year as USC's head strength and conditioning coach. He joined the Trojan program in February of 2001.

He came to USC from Tennessee, where he was the associate head strength and conditioning coach for 3 years (1998-2000). The Volunteer football team won the 1998 national title and Southeastern Conference championship.

Carlisle, 39, began his career as the head football coach and strength coach at Dodge (Neb.) High in 1985. He then spent 6 seasons (1986-91) as the offensive coordinator and strength coach at Blytheville (Ark.) High. He next was a strength and conditioning graduate assistant coach at Arkansas for 2 years (1992-93) before becoming the head football coach and strength coach at Subiaco (Ark.) Academy, a college prep school, for 3 seasons (1994-96). He spent 1997 as the offensive coordinator and strength coach at Trinity Valley Community College in Athens, Tex. (Trinity was the NJCAA national champion that season).

After playing offensive line at North Iowa Area Community College in Mason City, Ia., in 1980, hee was a 3-year (1981-83) starting offensive lineman at Chadron (Neb.) State College, earning All-Area honors.

He earned his bachelor's degree in education from Chadron State in 1985 and a master's degree in history from Arkansas in 1997.

He prepped at Mason City (Ia.) High, where he starred in football.

He was born on Aug. 7, 1962. He and his wife, Louon, have a son, Alex, 2.

MARK JACKSON

Director of Football Operations

Mark Jackson serves as USC's director of football administration. He joined the staff in January of 2001.

He was a coaching assistant with the New England Patriots for the past 3 seasons (1998-2000), including the first 2 years working for Pete Carroll. He assisted with the special teams and running backs.

He originally worked in the Patriots media relations department, serving internships in the summers of 1994 and 1995.

Jackson, 28, began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Trinity College for 2 seasons (1995-96), helping with the offensive backfield and special teams.

He played cornerback at Colby College for 4 years (1991-94).

He received his bachelor's degree in government from Colby in 1995 and his master's in public policy from Trinity in 1997.

He was on the football, basketball and track teams at Xaverian Brothers High in Westwood, Ma.

He was born Sept. 14, 1972. He and his wife, Tricia, have a newborn daughter, Grace. He ran in the 1997 Boston Marathon.

(Newcomer sketches begin after veteran bios.)

Marcell ALLMOND

Wide Receiver

Jr./Jr.

2001: The swift Allmond is hoping to rebound from a 2000 broken leg and regain his form—and his starting wide receiver spot—as a junior in 2001. He also might be the holder on placekicks. He also is a hurdler and decathlete on the USC track team.

2000: Allmond started at wide receiver (flanker) for the first half of his 2000 sophomore season before a broken left leg suffered against Arizona sidelined him for the rest of the campaign. Overall in 2000 while appearing in USC's first 5 games (he started the first 4 contests), he had 16 catches for 244 yards (15.2 avg.). He also carried the ball twice on reverses for 46 yards (23.0 avg.) and returned a kickoff 16 yards. He had a 21-yard catch against Penn State, then added 3 grabs for 18 yards versus Colorado and 4 receptions for a career-best 99 yards against San Jose State. At Oregon State, he had 5 catches for 75 yards (tying for game high and career best in receptions). He had 3 receptions for 31 yards against Arizona before breaking his leg (he did not start that game because of disciplinary reasons).

1999: Allmond started 3 games (California, UCLA and Louisiana Tech)—more than any other USC freshman wide receiver in 1999—at a wide receiver as a freshman in 1999. Overall while appearing in 11 games (all but Washington State), he caught 14 passes for 233 yards (16.6 avg.) with 2 TDs. He also returned 3 kickoffs for 51 yards (17.0 avg.) and made 3 tackles on special teams. He had a personal-best 5 receptions for 55 yards at California, 3 for 90 yards (with a 64-yard score) against Stanford, 2 for 32 yards (with a 21-yard TD, his first as a Trojan) at Arizona) and 2 for 38 yards against Oregon State. In his first catch as a Trojan, he gained 9 yards at Hawaii despite having his helmet ripped off. He also had a 9-yard grab against Arizona State. His kickoff returns (all 17-yarders) came against Stanford, Arizona State and Louisiana Tech. He missed the Washington State game because of a sprained left shoulder (suffered against Arizona State).

TRACK: Allmond, a 2-time California state prep high hurdles champion and the nation's top-ranked junior decathlete, competes in the 110-meter high hurdles and decathlon for the USC track team.

In the spring of 2001, he competed in 6 meets. In the high hurdles, he was fourth at the Willie Williams Invitational (in 14.62), third at both the USC-LSU Dual Meet (14.43) and USC-UCLA Dual Meet (14.36), fourth at the Cal State Fullerton Invitational (14.71) and eighth at the Modesto Relays (14.74); he did not finish at the Bennie Brown Invitational. He also placed fifth in the javelin (155-9) at the USC-LSU Dual Meet.

In the spring of 2000, he was second in the high hurdles in a season-best wind-aided 13.89 (he was first in his heat at 13.95) and seventh in the decathlon (6,931 points) at the Pac-10 Championships. He ran 4 other high hurdles races in 2000, placing first once (14.18 at the Carl Rossi Relays), second once (14.17 at the ASU USTCA Meet) and third twice (14.20 at USC's Centennial Invitational and 14.28 at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet). He won the decathlon at the Occidental College Invitational with a season-best 7,152 points. He also high jumped in 3 meets, getting third at the ASU USTCA Meet (in a season-best 6-6 ¾), tied for fifth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (6-3 ¼) and eighth at USC's Centennial Invitational (6-4). He also threw the shot put at the Carl Rossi Relays, placing 10th at 43-10 ¾. At the Los Angeles Indoor Meet, he was second in the 60-meter hurdles in 6.73. He qualified for the World Junior Championships in the high hurdles and decathlon and the U.S. Junior Nationals in the high hurdles (placing second in 13.96).

HIGH SCHOOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division III first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team and All-Mission League MVP pick as a senior at St. Paul High in Santa Fe Springs (Calif.). In 1998, he had 900-plus receiving yards, intercepted 5 passes and returned punts for an average of 21.9 yards (with 3 scoring punt runbacks). He scored 14 touchdowns on offense and defense. St. Paul was a 1998 CIF Division III finalist.

As a 1997 junior, he earned All-Area (first team on defense and second team on offense) and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team second team honors while catching 36 passes for 746 yards (20.7 avg.) and 7 TDs on offense and getting 2 interceptions while averaging 8.5 tackles a game on defense.

He also starred in track, winning the 1998 state high hurdles race in 13.83 and posting bests of 6-10 in the high jump and 37.40 in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles as a junior. In the decathlon, he won the 1996 Junior Olympics title and, as a 17-year-old, was leading the 1998 Junior National championship (for ages 19 and under) after 8 events, but sprained his ankle (ending his chance to qualify for the World Junior meet). At the 1999 Arcadia Invitational, he won the 300-meter intermediate hurdles (37.40), was second in the 110-meter high hurdles and was seventh in the high jump. He then placed first in the high hurdles (13.94) and second in the long jump (23-10 1/4) in the prep portion of the 1999 Mt. SAC Relays. He won the high hurdles (in a wind-aided 13.79) and intermediate hurdles (37.89) at the 1999 CIF Division III Championships, then at the CIF Masters meet was first in the highs (wind-aided 13.68) and second in the intermediates (37.58). He defended his high hurdles title at the 1999 state meet (13.54) and was sixth in the intermediate hurdles (37.60, after going 37.48 in the prelims). In the summer of 1999, he was second in the decathlon (7,097 points, the first California to eclipse 7,000 points) at the USATF Junior Nationals (qualifying for the Pan Am Junior Games) and then set a National Junior Olympics record (7,377 points) in winning at that meet (he was fourth in the Junior Olympics high hurdles in 1999 at 13.94).

He also played basketball at St. Paul.

MARCELL ALLMOND ON: His improvement: "I'm able to read defenses better. I can get off the ball better. I know my plays better. I'm not Kareem Kelly fast, so there is more emphasis on hard work and technique."

The difference between high school and college: "I came in here blind. But I found out right away that college defensive backs are not slow. They are either one step ahead or no more than one step behind...But they have to backpedal and then turn, and I just have to run."

Track: "Track helps keep you in great football shape. It gets you much faster and you learn more technique. Some guys might be faster than me on the football field, but I might be in better shape and have better technique."

The decathlon: "I want to make the Olympic team in 2004. But it all depends on how football goes."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC quarterback Carson Palmer: "You can tell that Marcell wants the ball and you can tell that he wants to play."

USC wide receiver Kareem Kelly: "Marcell Allmond takes a lot of pressure off me. We know we can depend on him."

Kevin ARBET

Cornerback

5-11 • 180
Jr./Jr.

#30

2001: Arbet, an experienced junior who came to USC in 1999 as a walk-on but quickly earned a scholarship, figures to be a key backup cornerback in 2001 and could see action in extra defensive back formations.

2000: Arbet was an often-used cornerback as a sophomore in 2000, even starting 4 games (Arizona, Oregon, Stanford and Notre Dame). He was the backup to Kris Richard the rest of the time. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 31 tackles, including 1 for a loss of 1 yard, and 2 deflections. He also returned 7 kickoffs for 136 yards (19.4 avg.). He had 5 tackles against Oregon State and Oregon, 4 versus Colorado and Notre Dame, and 3 against Penn State, Stanford and Arizona State. He broke up 2 passes against San Jose State. He returned 3 kickoffs at Oregon State for 46 yards and 2 for 61 yards against San Jose State. He was also available at free safety (he was moved to that spot during 2000 spring drills).

1999: Arbet came to USC as a first-year freshman walk-on cornerback in 1999, but was so impressive in fall camp that he was given a scholarship in August, an almost unheard-of accomplishment. He served as a key backup cornerback (even starting as an extra defensive back against Hawaii and Louisiana Tech) and played on special teams. Overall, while appearing in 10 games in 1999, he made 13 tackles, 3 deflections, 1 interception and 1 fumble recovery. He had a huge game against Louisiana Tech, returning an interception 75 yards for a TD and recovering a fumble at the USC 22-yard line as Tech was threatening (he also had 7 tackles and 2 deflections in the game); for his performance, he was named the Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week. Against Stanford, he made 2 tackles. He sprained his right ankle on the opening kickoff in the Hawaii opener (he did play in the first series, then sat out the rest of the game) and missed the San Diego State and Oregon games.

HIGH SCHOOL: He won 1998 All-Northern California, All-Region, Stockton Record All-Area MVP, Stockton Athletic Hall of Fame Foundation Defensive Back of the Year, Stockton Athletic Hall of Fame Student-Athlete Award, All-San Joaquin Athletic Association MVP and team MVP honors as a senior running back and defensive back at St. Mary's High in Stockton (Calif.). As a 1998 senior, he ran for 1,526 yards, scored 27 TDs, returned a kickoff 95 yards for a score and intercepted 6 passes (2 were returned for TDs). He once rushed for 250 on 10 carries in a game and had a 99-yard TD run in another. He had 1,200 rushing yards, 13 TDs and 5 interceptions as a 1997 junior while being named to the All-San Joaquin Athletic Assocation first team. As a sophomore in 1996, he was moved up to the varsity for the final 3 games of the season and rushed for 500 yards and 4 TDs. Current Trojan Frank Strong also attended St. Mary's.

He also was on the basketball and track teams at St. Mary's.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His stepfather is Jeff Simmons, a 3-year (1980-82) letterman wide receiver at USC who led the Trojans in receiving in 1982 and whose 106 career receptions set a since-broken USC record. His cousin, Lamarr Arbet, is a sophomore defensive lineman at San Jose

State and his uncle, Darren Arbet, is the head coach of the San Jose SaberCats of the Arena Football League. His sports heroes are Michael Jordan and Muhammad Ali.

KEVIN ARBET ON: Pressure: "I'm kind of used to being thrown into the fire. I was thrown into the fire as a freshman. I think I do better under pressure. It's more of a challenge to me, I guess."

Winning a scholarship during 1999 fall camp: "I came in and just played hard. I knew I had the ability and that I could it if I was given the chance...My goal was to get a scholarship as soon as possible so that my parents wouldn't have to pay. I thought maybe it would happen at the end of the semester, because I expected to redshirt in 1999. But I'm not really surprised because I have a lot of confidence in myself. It was just a matter of time."

His stepfather, Jeff Simmons: "My dad taught me a lot about football. We used to go out and run patterns and he would teach me how to get off the line against a cornerback. At the time I wanted to be a receiver, but I actually learned a lot about being a cornerback because I always was covering my dad."

Being a Trojan: "The first time I entered the practice field here was my most thrilling moment in sports because it was when I officially became a Trojan...I went to the 1982 USC-Notre Dame game. It was my first USC game and I just fell in love with the whole tradition. I loved the setting and the crowd. The band was something I really enjoyed and still enjoy. I knew then that I wanted to go to USC someday."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: His stepfather, Jeff Simmons: "On his touchdown against Louisiana Tech, I was there in the Coliseum running every step of the way with Kevin. I'm serious, every step of the way. All my accomplishments when I was playing at USC were nothing in comparison to the thrill I received seeing Kevin scoring that touchdown. You can't imagine how I felt...We heard from some schools during Kevin's senior year, but he only had offers from three smaller schools. We knew he had a deep desire to attend USC ever since I took him to a game at the Coliseum when he was 9. So we sprang into action. (Then USC head coach) Paul Hackett was an assistant at USC in the 1970s and he recruited me out of Edison High in Fresno. So, I had access to him. I felt free to call. And I did. I told him they were making a mistake by not recruiting Kevin. Paul said, 'We don't have enough information on him.' We took care of that. We gave him films. We finally agreed that Kevin would come to USC as a walk-on, paying his own way. And, if he showed the coaching staff he had the stuff, he might get a scholarship. Well, during that first fall camp, the coaches told us Kevin was going to go on scholarship immediately. They told us, 'You know a lot more than we did.'"

Doyal BUTLER

Tight End

6-3 • 245
Jr.*/Sr.

2001: Butler, who saw some action in 2000 after transferring to USC, should be a key backup tight end as a junior in 2001.

2000: Butler, who transferred to USC in the fall of 2000 from a junior college, appeared in 10 games (all but the Colorado and Oregon State contests) as a reserve tight end as a sophomore in 2000. Overall in 2000, he caught 4 passes for 52 yards (13.0 avg.). He had 3 grabs for 46 yards against Arizona State (his other receptions was a 6-yarder against Washington State). He also returned 2 kickoffs (both against Washington State) for 16 yards (8.0 average) as an up-man.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 1999 Super Prep JUCO 100 selection as a redshirt freshman tight end at Mesa (Ariz.) Community College.

PURDUE: He spent the 1998 season redshirting as a freshman at Purdue before transferring to Mesa.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Super Prep All-Farwest, All-State, All-City and All-League honors as a senior at Sabino High in Tucson (Ariz.). He caught 26 passes for 745 yards (28.7 avg) with 13 TDs as a senior tight end and also played linebacker. Sabino was 13-1 and the state finalists in 1997.

As a junior in 1996, he was All-City and All-League while catching 11 passes for 341 yards (31.0 avg) and 5 TDs on offense and making 150 tackles with an interception on defense. Sabino went 78-7-1 in his 4 years.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC.

Sunny BYRD

Fullback

6-0 • 220

#39

2001: Byrd will compete to be a backup fullback as a senior in 2001. He missed part of 2001 spring practice with a sprained knee ligament.

2000: Byrd, who transferred to USC in the fall of 2000 from a junior college, redshirted as a junior fullback in 2000.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 1999 J.C. Athletic Bureau All-State Region IV first teamer and All-Mission Conference first teamer as a sophomore running back at El Camino Junior College in Torrance (Calif.). In 1999, he rushed for 715 yards and 8 TDs and caught 25 passes for 276 yards (11.0 avg) with 3 TDs as he was named his team's MVP.

He also started at El Camino as a 1998 redshirt freshman. He attended El Camino in 1997, but did not play football.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1996 Los Angeles Times All-South Bay/Westside Back of the Year, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay first team and All-Ocean League MVP honors as a senior at Mira Costa High in Manhattan Beach (Calif.). In 1996, he ran for 1,388 yards with 17 TDs and caught 28 passes for 506 yards (18.1 avg) with 7 scores. Mira Costa was the CIF Division IX runnerup in 1996.

He was a 1995 South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay second team and All-Ocean League first team (as a defensive back) pick as a junior. He ran for 1,203 yards with 10 TDs in 1995 and made 56 solo tackles with 1 interception.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. He likes to surf in his free time.

Frank CANDELA

Wide Receiver

5-8 • 175
Fr./Fr.

#19

2001: Candela, who spent the past 4 years playing minor league baseball, enrolled at USC in the spring of 2001. Known for his speed and quickness, he will compete for time at wide receiver and also will serve as one of Troy's primary kickoff and punt returners in 2001 as a 23-year-old freshman.

PRO BASEBALL: He originally signed with Washington to play football out of high school, but instead inked a pro baseball contract with the Milwaukee Brewers after being selected in the fifth round of the 1997 June free agent draft.

He played rookie ball with the Ogden (Ut.) Raptors in the Pioneer League in 1997 and 1998. He hit .267 with 20 hits and 10 RBI in just 25 games in his 1997 rookie year, then hit .311 with 80 hits, 72 runs, 20 RBI and 43 stolen bases in 1998.

He next played A ball with the Beloit (Wisc.) Snappers of the Midwest League in 1999 and 2000. In 1999, he hit .299 with 32 hits and 14 stolen bases in just 30 games. He then hit .274 with 66 hits, 43 runs, 19 RBI and 28 stolen bases in 2000 while bothered with a hamstring injury.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Prep Star All-East Region first team, Boston Herald All-Scholastic and Boston Globe All-Scholastic pick when he ran for 1,784 yards and scored 28 touchdowns as a 1996 senior at Peabody (Mass.) Veterans Memorial High. In his 2-year career at Peabody Veterans Memorial, he had 3,381 rushing yards and 64 TDs, and had 4 games with 200-plus rushing yards. He also was a Boston Herald and Boston Globe All-Scholastic baseball player at Veterans Memorial.

He spent his first 2 years at Revere (Mass.) High. In his 4-year prep career, he ran for 4,452 yards (11th most in eastern Massachusetts history) and 65 touchdowns.

PERSONAL: He was born in Boston, Mass., but he soon moved with his family to the Italian island of Sicily, where he lived for 7 years before returning to Boston (his parents returned to Sicily when he was 14, but Candela remained in Boston with an older brother). His nickname is "The Flash."

FRANK CANDELA ON: Football versus baseball: "I love football. I missed it. When I played baseball, I missed the physical stuff. I missed catching those balls and returning punts. The excitement of football, it's what I missed the most...I'm so happy to be back. I feel so blessed."

How he ended up at USC: "I was unfulfilled by baseball. I wanted to give football another shot. So I sent letters to a variety of Division I coaches in December of 2000. I was hoping and praying. USC called and asked me to send a tape. I sent it. I guess Coach Carroll got it as he was going out Christmas shopping. He took it with him, popped it into a VCR at a Best Buy and he liked what he saw. He called me on my cell phone and said, 'Listen, Frankie. I'm at Best Buy right now. I just watched your film and I wanted to ask you, do you want to be a Trojan?' I heard shoppers in the background cheering the tape. I told him, 'You've got my 100 percent commitment!' I am so blessed to be at USC, with so much tradition, so much history. It's unbelievable, really. To get this opportunity is really amazing. What a great story."

His nickname, "The Flash:" "They gave me the nickname my freshman year in high school and it's kind of stuck. Now, all the coaches call me that. It's a great nickname. I hope to keep it my entire lifetime."

Chris CASH

Cornerback

5-11 • 170

2001: Cash once again figures to battle Darrell Rideaux for the starting job at a cornerback position as a senior in 2001.

2000: Cash, a junior college transfer who enrolled at USC in the spring of 2000 as a junior and participated in spring drills, started 6 games at cornerback in 2000, including the final 5 (San Jose State, then California, Arizona State, Washington State, UCLA and Notre Dame). He was an often-used backup to Kris Richard and then Darrell Rideaux in the other contests. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 39 tackles (including a 1-yard sack), a team-best 2 forced fumbles (against Penn State and Oregon) and tied for the team lead in both interceptions with 2, which he returned 9 yards (against San Jose State late in the game to seal the win and at Stanford to set up a USC TD), and deflections with 7. He had 9 tackles versus San Jose State, 5 against Oregon and California, 4 versus Stanford and Arizona State and 3 against Colorado.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was named to the 1999 Prep Star JC All-American first team, J.C. Gridwire All-American honorable mention, Prep Star JUCO Super 75, Super Prep JUCO 100 and All-Mission Conference first team as a sophomore defensive back at Palomar College in San Marcos (Calif.). In 1999, he made 30-plus tackles, 2 sacks, 2 fumble recoveries and 2 interceptions (1 returned for a TD), and ran back a kickoff 99 yards for a score.

He was an All-Mission Conference first team performer at Palomar as a freshman in 1998, when he had 3 interceptions.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest and All-San Joaquin Athletic Association first team honors at Franklin High in Stockton (Calif.), where he had 22 catches for 615 yards (28.0 avg) and 12 TDs as a wide receiver on offense and 2 interceptions on defense as a senior.

As a junior in 1996, he was an All-San Joaquin Athletic Association second team pick as he made 73 tackles, 4 interceptions and 4 forced fumbles, plus caught 6 passes for 231 yards (38.5 avg) with 4 TDs. In his prep career, he scored 6 TDs on punt returns and 3 TDs on kickoff returns. He also played basketball at Franklin. Current Trojan Frank Strong also prepped at Franklin.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC.

CHRIS CASH ON: The difference from junior college to collegiate football: "This is more intense, it's faster and I have to pay more attention to detail. It's a lot harder than if I would just go out and play."

2001: Cassel likely will serve as the backup quarterback behind Carson Palmer as a redshirt freshman in 2001.

2000: Cassel redshirted as a freshman quarterback in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Tom Lemming Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team and All-L.A. City second team pick as a senior quarterback at Chatsworth (Calif.) High. He completed 137-of-261 passes (52.5%) for 2,020 yards with 14 TDs and 5 interceptions in 1999, plus ran for 252 yards on 115 carries (2.2 avg) with 11 TDs. In one game, he passed for 324 yards with 5 TDs.

As a junior in 1998, he was named to the Student Sports Junior All-American, All-L.A. City first team, Los Angeles Times All-Valley, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley second team and All-League. He hit 199-of-360 passes (55.3%) for 2,930 yards with 26 TDs and 7 interceptions as a junior and also rushed for 496 yards with 6 scores. Chatsworth won the L.A. City 3-A title in 1998.

Also a fine baseball player, he helped Chatsworth to the L.A. City title in 1999 while hitting .390 with 3 home runs and 29 RBI as a first baseman and third baseman.

PERSONAL: He has a B average (3.14 GPA) at USC. He played on the Northridge team that was a finalist at the 1994 Little League World Series. In his spare time, he likes to jet ski and play ping pong. His sports hero is Joe Montana. As part of the "Read Across America" program, he read books to local elementary school classes in 2001.

MATT CASSEL ON: The difference between high school and college football: "The players are just enormous and they can flat out move. I think the speed of the game is what most people don't understand or appreciate. Everything happenes so much faster than in high school."

Keary COLBERT

Wide Receiver

6-1 • 195
So./So.

#83

2001: Just a sophomore, the well-tested and much-improved Colbert will compete with Kareem Kelly for the starting job at a wide receiver spot in 2001.

2000: As just a true freshman in 2000, Colbert started 5 games (Arizona, Oregon, Stanford, Washington State and UCLA) at wide receiver (flanker) and was impressive. He was an often-used backup to Marcell Allmond and Matt Nickels in the other contests. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he was second on USC in receptions with 33 for 480 yards (14.5 avg.) and 3 TDs. His 33 grabs were the second most ever by a Trojan true freshman. He broke a bone in his left wrist against UCLA, but he continued to play the rest of that game (and against Notre Dame in the season finale).

He had 3 catches for 34 yards against Colorado, 2 grabs for 40 yards versus San Jose State (with a key 29-yarder in USC's game-winning scoring drive) and 2 more for 39 yards at Oregon State. He then had 6 receptions for a game-high 113 yards (both career bests) at Arizona while starting, joining Kareem Kelly and R. Jay Soward as the only Trojan true freshmen with 100-plus receiving yards. He added 4 catches for 46 yards against Oregon, then a 13-yarder at Stanford and an 8-yarder against California. He had 6 receptions for 75 yards at Arizona State, getting his first career TD (an 18-yarder) and making a key 19-yard catch to set up USC's winning TD in overtime. He then had 5 grabs for 85 yards (with a 21-yard TD) against Washington State, 2 catches for 19 yards (with a 12-yard TD) at UCLA and an 8-yarder against Notre Dame.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, All-CIF Division IV first team and Los Angeles Times All-Valley second team honors as a senior at Hueneme High in Oxnard (Calif.). He caught 25 passes for 600 yards (24.0 avg) and 10 TDs as a wide receiver on offense, had 10 tackles for losses, 5 sacks and 6 forced fumbles as a safety on defense, and returned a punt 70 yards for a score. In one game, all 3 of his catches went for touchdowns averaging 62.0 yards.

As a 1998 junior, he made All-CIF Division IV first team, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura County second team and All-League Offensive MVP. He caught 40 passes for 920 yards (23.0 avg) with 14 TDs as a junior and had 5 tackles for a loss, 4 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 2 blocked punts.

He also ran track at Hueneme, with a best of 10.8 in the 100 meters and 21.8 in the 200 meters.

PERSONAL: In his spare time, he enjoys listening to music, watching movies and going to church.

KEARY COLBERT ON: Choosing USC: "One of my reasons for coming here was watching Kareem Kelly have so much success as a freshman. I figured that I could have the same success."

His jersey number: "When I was in high school, I wore No. 3 because of (ex-Trojan All-American wide receiver) Keyshawn Johnson. I wanted to come here and wear it, but Carson Palmer wears it. I'm thinking about sticking with No. 83 now. I think I'm making it look pretty good."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC fullback Charlie Landrigan: "He adjusted to the offense well. He went out there and made big plays when he had to. He didn't play like a freshman. He has a great attitude and he works hard."

2001: Cook, who will return to the field in 2001 as a sophomore after an injury knocked him out of the 2000 season, will look to get into the tight end mix.

1999: Cook redshirted as a freshman tight end in 1999, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 1998 USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Northwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, The Oregonian All-State 4-A first team (as a tight end) and second team (as a linebacker) and All-Metro 4-A League first team (on offense and defense) as a senior at Jesuit High in Portland (Ore.). He missed the last half of his 1998 senior season with a torn knee ligament (he played in just 6 games), but still caught 23 passes for 392 yards (17.0 avg.) and 4 TDs (2 scores went 60-plus yards) on offense and had 3 interceptions on defense as an outside linebacker. Jesuit went 12-1 and was a state 4-A semifinalist.

He was an All-State honorable mention and All-Metro 4-A League first team (on offense and defense) selection as a 1997 junior as he had 26 receptions for 362 yards (13.9 avg.) with 2 TDs and saw limited time as a sophomore in 1996 because of a broken finger.

He also participated in track (with bests of 21-1 in the long jump, 43-0 in the triple jump and 49-0 in the shot put) at Jesuit.

PERSONAL: He's a business major at USC with a B average (3.22 GPA). He likes to golf.

2001: Cousins, who has handled the challenge of deafness to successfully compete on the football field, was impressive in 2001 spring drills and could emerge at the strongside linebacker spot as a senior in 2001 after missing the 2000 season with an injury.

2000: Cousins, a junior college transfer who enrolled at USC in the spring of 2000 as a junior and participated in spring drills, redshirted as a reserve strongside linebacker in 2000. He suffered a lacerated right middle finger prior to the 2000 opener and that slowed him the first half of the season.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 1999 Super Prep JUCO 100 pick as a linebacker in 1999 at West Los Angeles (Calif.) Junior College. As a freshman in 1998 at West Los Angeles, he won All-Western State Conference honorable mention honors as a defensive end. He also was a sprinter and javelin thrower on West Los Angeles' track team.

He spent 1997 at Fort Scott (Kan.) Junior College and St. Louis (Mo.) Junior College, but did not play football at either school.

HIGH SCHOOL: He prepped at Hazelwood East High in St. Louis (Mo.), where he was a running back, defensive end and linebacker as a senior in 1996 (his only year of prep varsity football). He gained more than 900 yards on 80 carries with 8 TDs in 1996.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. He is deaf in his left ear and hearing impaired in his right ear, where he wears a hearing aid.

JOHN COUSINS ON: Handling his deafness: "My hearing doesn't really come into effect. Players help me out and I can get signals from the sideline."

Anthony DAYE

Defensive End

#54

2001: Daye will compete for playing time as a backup defensive end as a junior in 2001.

2000: Daye did not see any action as a backup defensive end in his 2000 sophomore season.

1999: Daye, who was moved to defensive end (from linebacker) in 1999 fall camp, appeared in just the Hawaii opener as a reserve redshirt freshman in 1999. He did not make a tackle in 1999.

1998: Daye redshirted as a freshman linebacker in 1998, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Medium Schools first team, All-CIF Division VIII first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County second team and MVP of the All-Pacific Coast League honors as a senior at Laguna Hills (Calif.) High. In 1997, he made 143 tackles, 7 sacks and 3 interceptions as a linebacker (he also played fullback on offense). Laguna Hills went 14-0 in 1997 and won the CIF Division VIII title.

As a junior in 1996, he was an All-League first teamer while recording 135 tackles, 20 tackles for losses, 12 sacks, 3 forced fumbles and 3 fumble recoveries.

PERSONAL: He was born in Rocky Mount, N.C. He's a political science major at USC. His hobbies include working on his 1971 El Camino car. His sports hero is ex-Trojan and current NFL star Junior Seau "because of his unreal intensity."

Bobby DeMARS

Defensive End

6-4 • 250

2001: DeMars will push to see action at defensive end as a senior in 2001.

2000: DeMars was a backup at defensive tackle to Ennis Davis and then at defensive end behind Shamsud-Din Abdul-Shaheed as a junior in 2000. He saw action in only 2 games (UCLA and Notre Dame), but did not make a tackle. He was sidelined for 5 mid-season games (Oregon, Stanford, California, Arizona State and Washington State) with a sprained left knee.

1999: DeMars was a reserve defensive lineman (playing both end and tackle) as a sophomore in 1999. He appeared only in Hawaii and Oregon State games. Overall in 1999, he made 1 tackle.

1998: DeMars served as a reserve defensive lineman, playing both end and tackle as a redshirt freshman in 1998. Overall while appearing in 4 games (San Diego State, Oregon State, Washington and Stanford) in 1998, he made 1 tackle (versus Oregon State). He missed the UCLA and Notre Dame games with a groin injury. He was switched from linebacker in 1998 spring drills.

1997: DeMars redshirted as a freshman linebacker in 1997, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1996 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura County first team, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team, All-Marmonte League first team and team MVP as a senior at Westlake High in Westlake Village (Calif.). He made 142 tackles (75 solo) with 9 sacks, 2 interceptions, 3 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 6 deflections as a middle linebacker and defensive end in 1996. Westlake went 10-3 in 1996 and advanced to the CIF semifinals for the second consecutive year.

As a 1995 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior second team, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura County second team, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley second team, All-Marmonte League first team and team Defensive MVP while recording 130 tackles, 3 sacks, 4 forced fumbles, 1 fumble recovery, 1 interception and 3 deflections. He also played tight end. Current Trojans Joe Boskovich and Kyle Matthews also prepped at Westlake.

DeMars spent his 1994 sophomore season playing linebacker at El Camino Real High in Woodland Hills (Calif.).

He also was on Westlake's track team, setting the school record in the shot put and discus throw. He was a 3-time (1994-96) Westlake track MVP.

Kori DICKERSON

Tight End

6-4 • 235

2001: The athletic and quick Dickerson, who started in 2000 at strongside linebacker, was moved to tight end in 2001 spring drills and is the leading candidate to start there as a senior in 2001. He also could move back to defense if needed. He also is a high jumper for the USC track team.

2000: Dickerson, a defensive end the previous 3 years, was moved to linebacker during 2000 spring drills and started 10 games (all but Washington State and Notre Dame) on the strong side as a junior in 2000. He also starred on special teams. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 32 tackles, including 2 for losses of 2 yards, 1 deflection and 1 forced fumble (versus Oregon). He had 6 tackles against Arizona, 5 at UCLA, 4 versus Notre Dame, and 3 against California and Arizona State. Because of his jumping ability (he is a high jumper for the Trojans), he also was used as a wide receiver on a Hail Mary pass against Oregon (it fell incomplete). He was USC's Special Teams Player of the Year.

1999: Dickerson played often in 1999 as the backup to Lonnie Ford at defensive end. He even started against Oregon State. Overall in 1999 while appearing in all 12 games, he made 14 tackles. He had 4 tackles versus Oregon State and 2 each against Hawaii and Arizona. A fine athlete, he also high jumped for the USC track team in the spring of 1999.

1998: Dickerson backed up Sultan Abdul-Malik at defensive end as a redshirt freshman in 1998. Overall while appearing in all 13 games in 1998, he made 10 tackles, including 3 for losses of 19 yards (with 2 sacks for minus 17 yards), and broke up 1 pass. He had 3 stops against both Purdue and Washington State.

1997: Dickerson redshirted as a freshman defensive end in 1997, his first year at USC.

TRACK: Dickerson is a high jumper for the USC track team. In the spring of 2001, he competed in 2 meets, placing sixth at the Long Beach Relays (in 6-0 ¾) and then second at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (in 6-8, equalling his career best).

In the spring of 2000, he competed in 4 meets, winning the Long Beach Relays (in a season-best 6-6 ¾), then placing fourth at the Trojan Invitational (6-2), tied for sixth at USC's Centennial Invitational (6-4) and third at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (6-5).

In the spring of 1999, he high jumped a personal-best 6-8 while placing third in the UCLA dual meet. He jumped 2 other times, going 6-7 for second place at the Carl Rossi Relays and 6-4 at the Trojan Invitational.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1996 honors included Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-L.A. City 4-A (as a defensive lineman) and All-Southern Pacific League first team as a senior at Washington High in Los Angeles (Calif.). On defense in 1996, he made 125 tackles, 16 sacks, 5 forced fumbles and 2 interceptions, while on offense as a tight end he had 12 catches for 252 yards (21.0 avg.).

As a 1995 junior, he made All-Southern Pacific League first team. He also was on Washington's track team.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC.

His sports hero is Ken Griffey Jr. He has 2 daughters, Ajia, 5, and Angel, 2.

KORI DICKERSON ON: Playing linebacker in 2000 after being a defensive end: "It wasn't really a big transition technique-wise. The biggest difference was going from a three-point stance to a two-point stance. It definitely had its advantages, though. It gave me more chances to run to the ball and get in on plays. Playing defensive end, you have to stop the run and also pass rush. Linebacker is three dimensional in that you have to do those things, plus drop back into pass coverage. That was my biggest adjustment...I played linebacker in high school. It gave me the ability to do what I do best, and that's run to the ball."

Track versus football: "Participating in track helps you work on your competitive edge. I strive on competition and track is the ultimate form of competition. But football is all about heart. When I was being recruited, someone asked me, 'How big is yor heart?' If you love playing a sport, you have to give it your all. I try to do that in football."

Fatherhood: "It is an ongoing process. You learn things about your kids every day. Being a father definitely has its rewards. I know that everything I do is for them. I want to be successful for them...The biggest thing is the time issue. I'm at school and football practice a lot. But it's just like having a job in the real world. When you get home, you can't just sit around. I always have energy for my kids. Sometimes I want to relax, but you can't just say you're tired. You have to make time. Parents have so much effect on their kids and I just want to be the best dad I can be...I can't party all night or hang out all night. The whole philosophy of taking care of a child and putting yourself second makes you grow up. It helps for football, too. I want to be the best I can be to provide for my children... I became a father at a young age. It happened. I don't regret it. The biggest thing is growing up without a father figure, like I did. Having kids, I always want them to have the opportunity that I never had...People look at me and go, 'I couldn't be in that predicament.'...I'm going to do everything I can for them. I'll be at every recital and, if they're playing sports, I'll be at every game...It's a good balance. I focus on being a dad. I'm going to be there 100 percent...When Ajia was 2, she learned to sing the USC fight song. She'd sing it at home after seeing me on television."

His political ambitions: "I'm very interested in politics and global affairs. I try to follow world affairs as much as I can keep up with what's going on. It concerns me because our country controls the destiny of so many other countries...Growing up, I never like politics. But now that I know the inside scoop, I like how the diplomats work."

His personality: "I'm a Sagittarius and am pretty outgoing, but I am also a perfectionist and a workaholic. I combined those traits so that I may seem outgoing and spontaneous on the field, but I still try to keep everything with a professional demeanor. I try to get along with every one of my teammates."

The sports he played as a youngster: "When I was younger, I was in the Boys Club of America. It cost $5 to play a sport. I ran track and played baseball, football and basketball. We even did a kind of gymnastics. We called it 'flipping.' We did backflips on the mats. I used to flip off walls and trash cans. I also liked to dive into the pool off the high dive. I could do one-and-a-halfs and backflips from that height."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC defensive end Lonnie Ford: "I see football and college and how it consumes my time. And he has two kids? It just amazes me how he balances his time. I think he's really happy in his life. You can just tell he has a good head on his shoulders."

Phillip EAVES

Offensive Tackle

6-6 • 315
Jr.*/Sr.

#67

2001: Eaves will compete for time at a backup right offensive tackle as a junior in 2001.

2000: Eaves, a junior college transfer who enrolled at USC in the spring of 2000 as a junior and participated in spring practice, redshirted as a reserve right offensive tackle in 2000.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was named a 1999 Prep Star JUCO Super 75, Super Prep JUCO 100 and All-Mission Conference as a sophomore offensive tackle at Riverside (Calif.) City College. He also started as a 1998 freshman at Riverside.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 All-CIF Division VII pick at Sultana High in Hesperia (Calif.), where he started at offensive tackle as a junior and senior (1995-96). He captained Sultana's team in 1996. His 1995 season was his first year playing football. He also played basketball at Sultana.

PERSONAL: He is an international relations major at USC. He spent part of 1997 in the Army at Fort Jackson, S.C.

PHILLIP EAVES ON: His Army experience: "I didn't get a scholarship out of high school and I just kind of panicked, so I joined the Army. Basic training was different. It was hot and humid. It's not like I could wake up and smell rose. The drill sergeants were pretty bad the first couple weeks, but after that they were people, too...After things starting calming down, when I had time to think, I thought, 'What did I get myself into?' I made the decision real hastily. I didn't want to live my life thinking what could I have done. So I asked for and was granted a general discharge...The Army just wasn't football and it wasn't school, and in my heart that's what I wanted to do. Actually, I'm still fond of the military. I like the discipline and structure. I try to apply what I learned in there to football and school."

Justin FARGAS

Tailback

6-1 • 195
Jr.*/Sr.

#17

2001: Fargas, who spent the past 3 years at Michigan, transferred to USC in the spring of 2001 as a tailback, but will have to sit out the 2001 season because of transfer rules (he will be a senior with the 2002 Trojans). Early in the spring of 2001, he had ligament surgery to straighten his right big toe (a residual effect from a broken leg he suffered at Michigan).

MICHIGAN: Fargas spent 3 seasons (1998-2000) at Michigan, first as a running back before switching to safety in the middle of the 2000 season.

As a 1998 freshman, he ran for 277 yards with 1 TD on 77 carries (3.6 avg.) while appearing in Michigan's first 10 games before suffering a season-ending broken right leg in the fourth quarter versus Wisconsin. He led Michigan in kickoff returns in 1998 with 16 for 311 yards (19.4 avg.), and he also caught 1 pass for 5 yards and made 1 tackle that season. He had a team season-best 120 rushing yards on 31 carries at Northwestern. He started once (against Indiana). He was named one of the Top 10 Freshmen in the country by Sports Illustrated.

He redshirted the 1999 season while rehabilitating from 3 surgeries to repair his broken leg (2 titanium rods and 12 screws were implanted in his leg in the first surgery, then 4 months later—when the leg wasn't healing properly—doctors were forced to re-break the leg and insert 2 metal plates, then the third surgery was to fix tendons in his right big toe). As a sophomore in 2000, he began the year as a backup running back and gained 85 yards on 18 carries (4.7 avg.), then asked to move to safety after 4 games (making 10 tackles and forcing a fumble). He also returned 7 kickoffs for 124 yards (17.7 avg.) in 2000. Current Trojan Tommy Huff also attended Michigan.

HIGH SCHOOL: He ran for 6,357 yards and 82 TDs on 668 carries (9.5 avg.), all school records, in his 3-year (1995-97) career at Notre Dame High in Sherman Oaks (Calif.). As a senior, he was regarded as the nation's top prep running back. He was named a 1997 Parade All-American, USA Today All-USA first team, Super Prep National 50, The Sporting News Top 100, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team, Prep Star All-American, ESPN/National Recruiting Advisor All-American second team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star Western Region Offensive MVP, Prep Star All-Western Region Super 30, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous), Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division III Offensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Valley MVP, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley MVP and All-Mission League MVP. In 1997, he rushed for 2,818 yards and 35 TDs on a school-record 313 carries (9.0 avg.). In one game, he ran for 404 yards with 6 TDs. For the second consecutive year, Notre Dame was the CIF Division III runnerup in 1997.

As a junior in 1996, he gained 2,970 yards (then the third most in California history) with 38 TDs on 281 carries (10.6 avg.) while earning USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Student Sports Junior All-American, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division III Offensive

Co-MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Valley MVP, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley MVP and All-Mission League MVP honors. He also caught 22 passes for 284 yards (12.9 avg.) with 4 scores in 1996. On one touchdown run, he somersaulted over a pile, landed on his feet and ran 40 yards to the end zone. Notre Dame was the CIF Division III runnerup in 1996.

As a 1995 sophomore fullback, he rushed for 569 yards and 9 TDs on 74 carries (7.7 avg.). He also played defensive back all 3 years at Notre Dame.

He also ran track at Notre Dame, winning the state 100 meters crown in 1997 (his best in the 100 was 10.47).

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His father, Antonio Fargas, is an actor who has appeared in television (including as Huggy Bear on "Starsky and Hutch") and film ("Shaft," "Pretty Baby," "The Gambler" and "Car Wash," among others).

JUSTIN FARGAS ON: Coming to USC: "I want to show that I'm still a quality back. This is my last chance."

Miguel FLETCHER

Tailback

5-11 • 195
Jr.*/Sr.

#40

2001: The fast Fletcher, who also sprints for the USC track team, will be a backup tailback as a junior in 2001.

2000: Fletcher did not see any action as a reserve tailback in his 2000 sophomore season.

1999: As a reserve redshirt freshman in 1999, Fletcher was moved to cornerback from tailback prior to 1999 spring practice and then switched back to tailback in the middle of the 1999 season. His only action came at the end of the Louisiana Tech game, but he did not carry the ball. He also sprinted for the USC track team in the spring of 1999.

TRACK: Fletcher is a sprinter on USC's track team.

In the spring of 2001, he ran the 100 meters 5 times, placing first at the Trojan Invitational (10.47), third at both the Willie Williams Invitational (10.56) and the USC-LSU Dual Meet (in a career-best 10.31), sixth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.60) and a non-advancing seventh in a heat at the Pac-10 Meet (11.07). He also ran the 200 meters 4 times, getting second at both the Trojan Invitational (21.27) and Willie Williams Invitational (21.36), fourth at the USC-LSU Dual Meet (21.53) and fifth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (21.87). He was first in his heat in the 50-meter dash at the Los Angeles Indoor Invitational (5.83). He also ran the second leg on USC's 400-meter relay team which was first at the Trojan Invitational (40.29) and the USC-LSU Dual Meet (39.39) and the leadoff leg on the winning squads at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (39.98) and the Pac-10 Meet (39.74).

In the spring of 2000, he ran the 100 meters 3 times, getting fifth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.61), fourth in a heat of the USTCA Invitational in Austin, Tex. (10.62) and 11th at the ASU USTCA Meet (11.02). He also ran the 200 meters in 5 meets, going 21.06 for third in a heat at the USTCA Invitational, 21.29 for fifth at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet, 21.52 for fifth at the USC Centennial Invitational, 21.67 for ninth at the ASU USTCA Meet and 21.96 for seventh in a heat at the Pac-10 Meet. He also ran a leg 3 times on the 400-meter relay squad which won the Long Beach Relays (40.13) and Trojan Invitational (40.08) and placed second at the Pac-10 Meet (39.93).

In his first race as a Trojan in the spring of 1999, he posted a season-best 10.40 while placing second in the 100 meters in the Trojan Invitational. He also ran 5 other 100s, finishing third once (in a wind-aided 10.39 at the UNLV Invitational) and fourth 3 times. He ran the 200 meters once, going 22.20 at the LSU Collegiate Series meet. He was the leadoff runner on USC's Pac-10 champion 400-meter relay team and its second-place NCAA meet unit, as well as the victorious quartet at the Trojan Invitational. In the summer of 1999, he placed eighth in the 100 (10.48) at the USATF Junior Nationals (he was second in his qualifying heat at 10.46).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1997 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest and All-Del Rey League pick as a senior at Alemany High in Mission Hills (Calif.). In 1997, he ran for 896 yards (5.4 avg.) and 8 TDs and caught 10 passes for 150 yards (15.0 avg.) on offense and also played cornerback on defense.

As a 1996 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State second team and All-Del Rey League second team while rushing for 1,222 yards (8.1 avg.) with 8 TDs. In his 3-year career, he ran for 3,350 yards (6.8 avg.) with 30 TDs.

He was a 3-year All-American (1996-98) in track at Alemany, placing second in the 1997 and 1998 state 100 meters and the 1998 state 200 meters. He posted prep bests of 10.36 in the 100 and 20.94 in the 200. In the CIF Southern Section Division III meets, he won the 100 twice (1996 and 1998) and the 200 for 3 straight years (1996-98). He was named the 1998 Los Angeles Times Valley/Ventura Boys' Track Athlete of the Year. He won the 100 and 200 in the 1996 Junior Olympics.

PERSONAL: He was born in Thibodaux, La. He's majoring in sociology and communication at USC. His sports hero is Michael Jordan. His father, Ned, was on the football and track teams at Cal State Northridge.

2001: Fletcher, an athletic sophomore, will try to work his way into the wide receiver mix in 2001. He also has played for the USC basketball team.

2000: Fletcher was a reserve wide receiver and key special teamer as a redshirt freshman in 2000. He did not catch a pass on offense, but did make 4 tackles on special teams (2 versus Arizona State) while appearing in all 12 games in 2000, plus he scored USC's first touchdown of the season when he returned a blocked punt 6 yards in the Penn State opener and he recovered a fumbled kickoff against California (which led to a USC field goal).

1999: Fletcher redshirted as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. He began the year as a safety, but was moved to wide receiver in mid-season. He was named USC's Black Shirt (scout team) Offensive Player of the Year.

BASKETBALL: After his 1999 football season, Fletcher joined the 2000 USC men's basketball team. He was on the team from mid-December to mid-January, then stopped playing to concentrate on his academics. As a backup point guard, he appeared briefly in 4 games and averaged 1.0 points, 0.5 rebounds and 0.2 assists.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was All-Area, All-Bay League first team and team MVP while playing safety and wide receiver as a 1998 senior at Inglewood (Calif.) High. He had 67 tackles and 6 interceptions on defense in 1998, while on offense he scored 12 TDs and averaged 150 all-purpose yards.

He also started as a 1997 junior (earning All-Bay League second team) and 1996 sophomore.

He also starred in basketball, winning 1999 All-CIF Division II first team, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay first team, Bay League Co-MVP, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention and team MPV honors as a 1999 senior guard. He averaged 19.0 points, 7.0 rebounds and 3.0 steals as a senior. Inglewood was 30-5. He was a 3-year starter and earned All-Bay League second team honors as a junior.

He also sprinted for Inglewood's track team.

SANDY FLETCHER ON: Not deciding on what school to attend or what sport to play until June of 1999: "I wanted to see what the basketball season had in store...It was very difficult. It took me a while to decide what I really wanted to do. There was a lot of pressure. After high school, you want to choose a path that you can live with. It was my decision. When it comes down to it, it's my life...Then I started getting down on myself. I know that's the wrong attitude to take, but you start questioning yourself. All the other kids around me were going big-time. At first I was real bitter. But people have worse problems. You can have a lot worse problems than trying to decise what sport you want to play...When I decided, I felt more comfortable instead of worrying. I was able to sleep better knowing that I was going to be in school come fall."

Lonnie FORD

Defensive End

6-3 • 260

2001: Look for Lonnie Ford to thrive as a senior in 2001. He is the likely candidate to start at a position perfectly suited to his talents, the defensive end spot that combines linebacking qualities.

2000: As a junior in 2000, Ford started 2 games (Oregon and Stanford) at defensive end and served as Sultan Abdul-Malik's often-used backup in the others. He missed the San Jose State contest after suffering a back sprain versus Colorado. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 11 games, he had 16 tackles, including 6 for losses of 48 yards (including 4 sacks for minus 40 yards), plus 2 deflections and a forced fumble (against Arizona). He had 5 tackles against Oregon. Both of his stops versus Arizona were for losses (with a sack), plus he deflected a pass and forced a fumble.

1999: As a sophomore in 1999, Ford was switched to defense (from tight end) prior to 1999 spring drills, first working at linebacker and then defensive end, and the move paid off in a big way. He started all but 1 game (versus Oregon State) at defensive end in 1999. Overall while appearing in all 12 games in 1999, he had 25 tackles, including 10 for losses of 52 yards (including a co-team high 5 sacks for minus 27 yards) and forced 2 fumbles (against Hawaii, which led to a USC TD, and San Diego State). He had 3 tackles each against Hawaii (2 were sacks), California, Arizona State and UCLA (2 were sacks), and 2 stops against San Diego State, Oregon and Notre Dame.

1998: Ford was the backup to Antoine Harris at tight end as a redshirt freshman in 1998, although he did start twice (Oregon State and Florida State) when Harris was bothered by an ankle sprain. Overall in 1998 while appearing in all 13 games, he caught 2 passes for 14 yards (7.0 avg.) with 1 TD (a 2-yarder at Washington State, the first TD of his career). He also had a 12-yard grab against San Diego State. He sprained his ankle at Stanford, which forced him out of most of that game. He missed 1998 spring practice while recovering from mononucleosis.

1997: Ford served as a reserve tight end and special teams player as a first-year freshman in 1997. He appeared in 3 of USC's first 5 games (all but Florida State and Washington State), but he broke his clavicle at Arizona State and was sidelined the remainder of 1997. The injury occurred on his only catch of 1997, a 5-yarder. Because of the early-season injury, he was allowed to redshirt.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Prep Star Best in the West, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF San Diego Section first team (on defense), San Diego Union-Tribune All-San Diego County first team (and All-Academic team) and All-Eastern League Defensive MVP as a senior at Morse High in San Diego (Calif.). He had 31 catches for 342 yards (11.0 avg.) with 4 TDs as a tight end on offense in 1996 and 100-plus tackles with 19 sacks and 5 forced fumbles on defense as an end. Morse was a 1996 CIF San Diego Section Division I finalist.

As a 1995 junior, he made the All-CIF San Diego Section first team and San Diego Union-Tribune All-San Diego County first team while making 38 receptions for 396 yards (10.4 avg.) with 2 TDs on offense and 83 tackles on defense.

As a 1994 sophomore, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore Super 25 while Morse won the CIF San Diego Section championship. Current Trojan Chris Prosser also attended Morse.

He also played basketball at Morse, averaging 10.5 points as a senior, and was on Morse's CIF-San Diego Section champion track team, with bests as a senior of 53-1 in the shot put (he was sixth in the CIF-San Diego Section meet) and 158-0 in the discus. He was named the 1997 San Diego Union-Tribune Male Athlete of the Year.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC.

LONNIE FORD ON: Moving from tight end to defensive end: "I wanted to play defense when I first got here, but in our situation, we needed a tight end...After the 1998 season, I decided, 'This isn't me. I don't like this position.' So, although I was nervous to ask, I told the coaches I'd like to play defensive end. They said, 'Goodness gracious, why didn't you say so?'...I knew my pass rush would be fine, but I wondered about the running game. I thought teams would come at me since I was a new guy."

Getting injured in 1997: "I went through a lot of problems after the injury. I was depressed because I wanted to play, but I got to redshirt. Still, my main thing was sitting out a year. It hurt to be on the sidelines."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC defensive line coach Ed Orgeron: "From Day One, he came out and was one of our top pass rushers. The first day he came out, he exploded out of his stance and we were were excited to have him there. He has the tools to become an excellent player."

Nathan GOODSON

Defensive End

6-5 • 265
Fr.*/So.

#95

2001: Goodson will compete for playing time at a defensive end spot as a redshirt freshman in 2001. He also can slide over and play tackle. He missed most of 2001 spring drills while recovering from a broken jaw.

2000: Goodson redshirted as a freshman defensive end in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1999 honors included Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Medium Schools first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division VIII Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Inland Empire Lineman of the Year, Riverside Press Enterprise All-Riverside County first team and All-Sunkist League MVP as a senior at Temescal Canyon High in Lake Elsinore (Calif.). He had 100-plus tackles, 28 tackles for losses, 18 sacks (including 7 in one game, with 6 in a single quarter) and 7 forced fumbles as a senior.

He earned All-CIF Division VIII honors as a 1998 junior when he had 137 tackles, 31 tackles for losses, 18 sacks, 6 forced fumbles, 4 fumble recoveries (3 for TDs) and 1 interception. He also was on the basketball, track and wrestling teams at Temescal Canyon.

PERSONAL: His nickname is "Mad Stork." His grandfather attended USC. In his spare time, he likes to surf and go target shooting. His sports hero is former Trojan baseball star Mark McGwire.

NATHAN GOODSON ON: His youth: "Growing up, I played every sport possible except football...My father died during my freshman year in high school. He was very, very competitive. Everything we did, there was always a bet on it. His death was a total shock. He was always there and then he was gone, and I didn't care about sports any more. I didn't care about anything. A week later, I had a long talk with my (Temescal Canyon football) Coach (Bob) Burt, who recently had lost his father, and I started playing football. He took the place of my dad for a long time because I needed one. We have the same personality. I'm really aggressive and really temperamental. We used to butt heads all the time, because I'm stubborn like him."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Temescal Canyon coach Bob Burt, the one-time Cal State Northridge head coach: "He's very intense. His motor is always running. His intensity is the kind of thing that is infectious to the other players. He would fit in the top 10 college players I've had in his ability to intimidate and take over a game."

Derek GRAF

Offensive Guard

6-4 • 285
Jr.*/Sr.

#73

2001: Graf, whose father played at USC in the early 1970s, will compete for backup duty at left offensive guard as a juniorin 2001. He's also available to play tackle and center.

2000: Graf did not see any action as a reserve offensive guard and tackle in his 2000 sophomore season. He was slowed in 2000 fall drills by a sprained ankle.

1999: Graf saw brief action only in the Hawaii opener as a reserve offensive tackle as a redshirt freshman in 1999. He was slowed after mid-season by a lower back strain.

1998: Graf redshirted as a freshman offensive tackle in 1989, his first year at USC. He was bothered by a sprained knee throughout the year.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region and All-Marmonte League first team honors as an offensive lineman at Agoura (Calif.) High. He had an 85% blocking grade as a 1997 senior. Agoura sent 7-4 in 1997.

A 2-year starter, Agoura led the league in rushing both seasons. He also played nose guard on defense. He also played basketball at Agoura.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His father, Allan, lettered 3 years (1970-72) at offensive guard at USC, playing on Troy's 1972 national championship team and then appearing in the 1973 College All-Star Game (he is now a stunt coordinator and second unit director in the movie industry).

Aaron GRAHAM

Linebacker

2001: Graham, who proved himself in 2000, is the likely candidate to start at middle linebacker as a junior in 2001.

2000: Graham began his 2000 sophomore season as the backup middle linebacker behind Zeke Moreno and a key special teams player. But when Moreno moved to weakside linebacker (for an injured Markus Steele) for USC's final 4 contests, Graham started in the middle and made quite an impact. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 26 tackles, including 2 for losses of 5 yards (with a 2-yard sack), plus 2 deflections and a forced fumble (against Washington State). At Arizona State in his first career start, he had 9 tackles (with a sack), then added 7 stops with a forced fumble against Washington State, 3 tackles and a deflection at UCLA and 4 stops versus Notre Dame.

1999: Graham appeared in 11 games (all but the Hawaii opener) as a reserve linebacker and special teams player as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. Overall in 1999, he made 4 tackles and recovered a fumble (at Oregon). He made 2 tackles against Oregon State.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1998 USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-Area Defensive MVP and All-Southeast Yosemite League Defensive MVP as a senior at Bakersfield (Calif.) High. In 1998, he posted 132 tackles, 18 tackles for losses, 2 sacks, 1 interception, 2 deflections, 1 fumble recovery and 1 forced fumble.

As a 1997 junior, he was selected to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass second team, All-Area and All-Southeast Yosemite League Linebacker MVP. He made 134 tackles, including 21 for losses and 2 for sacks, plus recovered a fumble and forced 3 others. Bakersfield was 22-5 (posting 11 shutout wins) and twice was the section runnerup in his last 2 seasons there.

He also wrestled at Bakersfield, where he ranked first in California and fifth in the U.S. in the prep heavyweight division. He was the 1998 CIF champion at 215 pounds and placed fourth in the state meet.

PERSONAL: He's an economics major at USC.

2001: Grootegoed will push for playing time as a backup strong saety as a redshirt freshman in 2001. He might also return kickoffs.

2000: Grootegoed, a reserve safety, appeared briefly on special teams in the Penn State opener (he did not make a tackle), but then came down with mononucleosis and was sidelined for the rest of his 2000 freshman season. Because of the early illness, he was allowed to redshirt in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 1999 USA Today All-USA first team, Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Reebok ESPN All-American, The Sporting News Top 101, Prep Star Top 100 Dream Team, Tom Lemming Top 100, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I Co-Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Times Glenn Davis Award (as the top Southern California prep football player), Los Angeles Times All-Orange County first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County Defensive MVP and All-Serra League MVP as a senior at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He made 138 tackles, 6 interceptions (2 were returned for TDs), 7 tackles for losses and 2 forced fumbles as a free safety and ran for 945 yards on 116 carries (8.1 avg) with 14 TDs as a running back (he also played some quarterback early in the season, completing 21-of-41 passes, 51.2%, for 300-plus yards) in 1999. Mater Dei was the CIF Division I co-champion.

As a junior in 1998, he made Student Sports Junior All-American, Cal-Hi All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County Back of the Year and Orange County Register All-Orange County Defensive MVP. He rushed for more than 1,600 yards with 21 TDs on offense and made 130 tackles, 6 forced fumbles and 3 interceptions on defense in 1998. In the 1998 CIF Division I championship game, which Mater Dei won, he earned Offensive and Defensive Player of the Game honors (he ran for 244 yards, with a 7.4 average, and 2 TDs).

As a 1997 sophomore, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore first team. He played in 4 CIF championship games in his career, winning 3 of them. Current Trojans Lenny Vandermade and Matt Leinart also went to at Mater Dei.

PERSONAL: In his spare time, he likes to fish.

MATT GROOTEGOED ON: Redshirting because of illness in 2000: "It was really frustrating. I wanted to be playign football, not standing on the sideline watching it."

Gregg GUENTHER JR.

Tight End

Fr.*/So.

#44

2001: Guenther, USC's tallest player at 6-8, will work to be in the tight end mix as a redshirt freshman in 2001.

2000: Guenther appeared as a reserve tight end in the Penn State opener (he did not catch a pass) but then suffered a herniated disk in his back and had surgery, which sidelined him for the rest of his 2000 freshman season. Because of the early injury, he was allowed to redshirt in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Tom Lemming All-West, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team and Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention selection as a senior at Taft High in Woodland Hills (Calif.) while playing offensive line, tight end and defensive end. Despite missing 4 games in 1999 with a dislocated shoulder, he had 6 catches for 56 yards (9.3 avg) with a TD on offense and 40 tackles, 7 sacks and 1 interception (for a TD) on defense.

He also played basketball (earning All-L.A. City and All-League MVP honors) and baseball at Taft.

He spent 1998 at Crespi High in Encino (Calif.).

PERSONAL: He has a B- average (2.76 GPA) at USC. His sports hero is NFL star tight end Tony Gonzalez.

DeShaun HILL

Safety

5-11 • 200
Jr.*/Sr.

2001: The capable Hill, who saw starting time at free safety in 2000, could emerge as the starter at that spot in 2001 as a junior.

2000: When starting free safety Ifeanyi Ohalete suffered a season-ending ankle injury, Hill started 5 mid-season games (Oregon, Stanford, California, Arizona State and Washington State) there as a sophomore in 2000. He began the year as an often-used backup to Troy Polamalu at strong safety. He suffered a neck stinger against Washington State and was slowed for USC's final 2 contests. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 39 tackles, including 3 for losses of 15 yards (with an 11-yard sack), plus 5 deflections and tied for the team lead in interceptions with 2 (against Arizona to set up a USC touchdown and at the goal line at Stanford), which he returned 12 yards. Against Arizona, he had a game-high 9 tackles (2 for losses, with a sack), plus an interception. He had 7 stops versus Oregon and Arizona State, 4 at Stanford (with an interception and 3 deflections), and 3 against San Jose State and Notre Dame.

1999: Hill, who transferred to USC in the fall of 1999 from a junior college, appeared as a reserve safety and special teams player in 3 of USC's first 4 games (Hawaii, San Diego State and Oregon State) as a 1999 sophomore. But he was bothered by a back sprain that sidelined him the rest of the season and he was allowed to redshirt. Overall in 1999, he made 2 tackles.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He made the 1998 All-Mission Conference Northern Division second team as a freshman at Long Beach (Calif.) City College. In 1998, he had 68 tackles (second on the team), including 48 solo, plus 8 deflections and 1 forced fumble. He once had 16 tackles and 5 deflections in a game. Long Beach City was 10-1 in 1998 and ranked third in the state and sixth nationally. Current Trojan Brien McMullen also attended Long Beach City College.

HIGH SCHOOL: He prepped at Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High. He missed his 1997 senior season (Long Beach Poly was the CIF Division I champion that year) because of a broken leg. He was a part-time starting defensive back as a 1996 junior. Current Trojans Kareem Kelly, Mike Pollard, Darrell Rideaux, Brien McMullen, Marvin Simmons and Raymond Tago also prepped at Long Beach Poly.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC.

DeSHAUN HILL ON: His football idol, ex-Trojan All-American safety Mark Carrier: "I love Mark Carrier. He is just so smart. It's like he knows what is going to be run before they run it. I don't know how he does it, but my goal is to be just like him."

Long Beach Poly's football tradition: "It's a great tradition going on there. Before I was even born, the system was set. It was well known that players who come out of Poly are talented and well coached."

His Pop Warner team: "The name of the team was the Poly Trojans. They put me on defense and I found out right away that I could play. That's pretty much how it happened. I was just out there having fun."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Long Beach City College head coach Larry Reisbig: "Once I saw him play, I knew we had something special. Here is a kid with great speed, quickness and intelligence. He played free safety for us but he's quick enough and fast enough to play corner."

Alex HOLMES

Tight End

6-2 • 275
So./So.

#81

2001: Just a sophomore, the sure-handed Holmes should see plenty of playing time as a backup tight end job in 2001.

2000: Holmes saw significant action as a sure-handed backup tight end to Antoine Harris as a freshman in 2000, his first year at USC. Overall, he caught 7 passes for 53 yards (7.6 avg.), plus returned a kickoff for 6 yards as an up-man (against Washington State) and threw an incomplete pass on a trick play at UCLA. His 7 receptions came in 7 different games: Penn State (1 yard), San Jose State (15 yards), Arizona (6 yards), California (13 yards), Arizona State (5 yards), Washington State (6 yards) and Notre Dame (7 yards). He made the 2000 The Sporting News Freshman All-American second team.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected as a 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, The Sporting News Top 101, Prep Star Top 100 Dream Team, Tom Lemming Top 100, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team pick despite not playing football in 1999 at Harvard-Westlake High in North Hollywood (Calif.). He was not eligible to compete in athletics in 1999 because he had to repeat his freshman year of high school at La Jolla (Calif.) High after missing 13 weeks of school while suffering complications following sinus surgery.

As a 1998 junior tight end and inside linebacker at Harvard-Westlake, he was a Student Sports Junior All-American, All-CIF Division VII first team, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team and All-League MVP. He caught 46 passes for 990 yards (21.5 avg) and 8 TDs (including a 90-yarder), ran for 200 yards on 28 carries (7.1 avg) with 4 TDs and hit 6-of-8 passes (75.0%) with 4 TDs on offense and made 130 tackles, 23 tackles for losses, 9 sacks, 3 fumble recoveries and an interception (returned for a 65-yard TD) on defense.

As a 1997 sophomore at Harvard-Westlake, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore first team as he had 38 receptions for 739 yards (19.4 avg).

He also played basketball and was on the track team at Harvard-Westlake. He scored over 1,300 points on the SAT exam and 3 times placed first on a national Latin exam while at Harvard-Westlake, one of the nation's top prep schools. Current Trojan Spencer Torgan also prepped at Harvard-Westlake.

PERSONAL: He's a business major at USC with a B-average (2.87 GPA). His father, Mike, lettered at defensive end at Michigan in 1974 and 1975. His workout partner is NFL Hall of Fame running back Eric Dickerson (he says Dickerson is his sports hero and says his favorite sports moment was watching Dickerson get enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame). He volunteers with the Special Olympics.

ALEX HOLMES ON: Playing tight end: "I love playing tight end because I just love catching the ball and running people over."

Studying Latin and Greek in high school: "I took Latin and classical Greek courses in high school. I love the classical languages. They're very interesting languages to study. My mother is full-blooded Greek, there's the connection."

Chris HOWARD

Tailback

5-11 • 195
Fr.*/So.

#24

2001: Howard, who sat out the 2000 season with a knee injury, will battle to get into the tailback mix as a redshirt freshman in 2001. He missed most of 2001 spring practice while recuperating from the injury.

2000: Howard redshirted as a freshman tailback in 2000, his first year at USC. He had surgery early in the season to remove torn cartilage from his left knee and was sidelined the rest of the year.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Prep Star Top 100 Dream Team, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, All-L.A. City first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay/ Westside first team, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay and All-Marine League MVP as a senior at Banning High in Wilmington (Calif.). He rushed for 1,698 yards on 221 carries (7.7 avg) with 19 TDs (he averaged 178.2 yards a game) and caught 15 passes for 201 yards as a running back, returned 2 kickoff for scores, and made 37 tackles, 1 sack, 4 interceptions and 1 forced fumble as a defensive back (he did all this despite missing 4 games with ankle and knee injuries). In one game, he ran for 241 yards and 4 TDs on 22 carries (11.0 avg). Banning won the L.A. City Invitational title in 1999.

As a 1998 junior, he was named a Student Sports Junior All-American, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-L.A. City first team, Los Angeles Times All-Central City Back of the Year, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay MVP and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team. He ran for a school-record 2,679 yards on 341 carries (7.9 avg) with 34 TDs and had 12 games with 100-plus rushing yards (4 games were for 200-plus yards) in 1998. In one game, he had 350 rushing yards and 3 TDs on 35 carries and in another he ran for 226 yards on only 11 carries. He also caught 40 passes for 535 yards (13.4 avg) with 2 scores in 1998 and returned 4 kickoffs for TDs. Banning made it to the L.A. City finals that year. Current Trojan Faaesea Mailo also went to Banning.

PERSONAL: He was born in Jackson, Miss.

Scott HUBER

Tight End

6-2 • 240
Jr.*/Sr.

2001: Huber will battle to be in the tight end mix as a junior in 2001.

2000: Huber served as a backup tight end to Antoine Harris as a sophomore in 2000. He appeared briefly in 6 games, but did not catch a pass. He even started the Arizona game for an injured Harris. In 2000 spring practice, he was converted from tight end to strongside linebacker, but moved back to offense in 2000 fall drills.

1999: Huber served as a backup to Antoine Harris at tight end and was on some special teams as a redshirt freshman in 1999. He saw action in 11 games (all but the California game) in 1999. His only catch of 1999 was a 2-yarder against San Diego State.

1998: Huber redshirted as a freshman tight end in 1998, his first year at USC. He was sidelined all season with a hip fracture that occurred in fall drills.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 1997 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West second team, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division II first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay/Westside first team, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay first team and All-Bay League Lineman of the Year as a senior tight end and defensive end at Peninsula High in Rolling Hills (Calif.). In 1997, he caught 15 passes for 315 yards (21.0 avg.) and 3 TDs on offense and had 77 tackles, 25 tackles for losses, 16 sacks, 6 deflections and 3 forced fumbles on defense. Peninsula went 14-0 in 1997 and won the CIF Division II championship.

As a junior in 1996, he made the Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State second team, Los Angeles Times All-South Bay first team and South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay second team while catching 3 passes and getting 11 sacks. He also started as a sophomore. In his career, he recorded 40 sacks.

PERSONAL: He's a communication major at USC with a B-average (2.91 GPA). He was a 1999 and 2000 Pac-10 All-Academic honorable mention selection. His mother attended USC.

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Peninsula High coach Gary Kimbrell: "Scott is a great blocking tight end, but he also has great hands and the ability to run after the catch. He was our go-to receiver when we threw the ball. We mostly ran the ball and we ran it right behind Scott."

Norm KATNIK

Offensive Tackle

6-4 • 275
So.*/Jr.

2001: Katnik, a sophomore who has worked at every position on the offensive line, is in contention for the starting right offensive tackle spot in 2001. He also is available as a long snapper.

2000: Katnik was a reserve center as a redshirt freshman in 2000 (he was also available at guard, tackle and tight end). He also was a backup long snapper on punts behind Zeke Moreno. He appeared briefly in 2 games (as a snapper against San Jose State and at tight end versus Arizona). He made 1 tackle (versus San Jose State) in 2000.

1999: Katnik redshirted as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. He began the season as an offensive tackle, was moved to tight end in fall camp, then to offensive center by mid-season.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was picked to the 1998 Super Prep All-Farwest and All-Century League first team as a senior at Foothill High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He played on both the offensive and defensive lines.

He also played baseball at Foothill.

PERSONAL: His father, Norman, was a 2-year starting center at Arizona (1978-79), while his uncle, John Katnik, started at center for USC in 1986 and 1987. He was born in Tucson, Ariz. He likes to play golf. His sports hero is ex-USC All-American and current NFL star offensive tackle Tony Boselli.

Kareem KELLY

Wide Receiver

6-0 • 190

CAREER: With 109 career receptions, Kelly is ninth on USC's all-time pass catching list (it's the most receptions by a Trojan at the end of his sophomore season). His 1,698 career receiving yards is also the most by a Trojan at the end of his soph campaign. He is on pace to break Johnnie Morton's USC career reception (201) and receiving yardage (3,201) records. He has caught a pass in every game he has played in since he arrived at USC (23; he sat out the 2000 Arizona game with an injury) and has 7 100-yard receiving games in his career.

2001: Kelly, a speedy, acrobatic junior with a record-setting past and a bright future, returns for his third season as a starting wide receiver. He might also return punts. He also sprints for the USC track team.

2000: Kelly started at wide receiver as a sophomore in 2000. He started 8 times (Penn State, Colorado, San Jose State, Oregon State, Stanford, Arizona State, UCLA and Notre Dame) at split end and once (California) at flanker. He missed the Arizona game after spraining his ankle and straining his quad at Oregon State. He was the much-used backup in the other 2 games (Oregon and Washington State). Overall in 2000 while appearing in 11 games, he led USC in receptions (55) and yardage (796 yards) for a 14.5 average with 4 TDs. He also carried the ball 5 times on reverses for 8 yards (1.6 avg.) and returned 6 punts for 22 yards (3.7 avg.). His 55 catches in 2000 is tied for 10th on USC's season list and is the most ever by a USC sophomore.

Kelly had 2 catches for 15 yards against Penn State, then a career-best 10 catches for 145 yards (both game highs) against Colorado. Against San Jose State, he had a game-high 7 catches for 106 yards (including a 61-yard TD). He had 1 for 11 yards at Oregon State before suffering a strained right quad which sidelined him for the Arizona contest. He returned for the Oregon game and had 3 grabs for 45 yards. He had a team-best 4 catches for 51 yards at Stanford, then a game-high 5 catches for 42 yards against California (he also had 2 carries for 8 yards) and 6 receptions for a game-high 85 yards at Arizona State. He had a game-high 7 catches for 114 yards (with a 34-yard TD) against Washington State, then a game-high 6 catches for 91 yards (with a 39-yard TD) at UCLA and 4 catches for a game-best 91 yards (with a 59-yard TD) against Notre Dame.

1999: In 1999, Kelly had the best season that any Pac-10 freshman wide receiver ever had. As the often-used backup to Windrell Hayes (he even started the Oregon State and Arizona games when Hayes was injured), he appeared in all 12 games in 1999 and caught 54 passes (second on USC) for a team-best 902 yards (team-high 16.7 avg.) with 4 TDs. He set Pac-10 and USC freshman records for most catches (54, 11th on USC's single season chart) and receiving yards (902, the most by a Trojan since Keyshawn Johnson had 1,434 in 1995). He was third in the Pac-10 in receiving yards (75.2). He was the only Trojan with a catch in every game in 1999. He had 4 outings with 100 receiving yards (104 at Hawaii, 100 at Arizona, 129 against Stanford and 170 at California). He was named the 1999 Pac-10 Freshman of the Year and to the 1999 The Sporting News Freshman All-

American second team. He also returned 5 punts for 14 yards (2.8 avg.) and ran 2 reverses for 17 yards (8.5 avg.).

He began his USC career impressively, catching 5 passes for a game-best 104 yards at Hawaii. Against San Diego State, he had 6 catches for 98 yards (both game highs), including a 13-yard TD in the fourth quarter (the game's decisive points) as he outleaped an Aztec defender (who ripped off his helmet on the tackle). He had 5 catches for 87 yards at Oregon, 3 receptions for 56 yards against Oregon State, and then 6 catches for 100 yards at Arizona. At Notre Dame, he hauled in a spectacular 58-yard pass to set up a score. He caught 8 passes for 129 yards (both game bests) against Stanford, then had 9 catches for 170 yards (both career and game bests) with a 72-yard TD (a USC 1999 long reception) at California. He had 6 catches for 51 yards against Arizona State, added a 10-yard reception at Washington State, had 3 grabs for 32 yards (with touchdowns of 22 and 5 yards) against UCLA and 1 for 7 yards versus Louisiana Tech.

TRACK: Kelly, a 3-time California state prep sprint champion, sprints for the USC track team.

In the spring of 2001, he competed in a pair of March meets before spring football practice began. He won his heat in the 100 meters (10.53) at the Trojan Invitational. He also anchored USC's victorious 400-meter relay squads at the Trojan Invitational (40.29) and the USC-LSU Dual Meet (39.39). He did not return to the track squad after spring football drills because of a slight hamstring strain.

In the spring of 2000, he competed in February and March before having to sit out because of eligibility reasons. In his Trojan sprinting debut, he clocked a world junior record and American collegiate record 5.67 to place second in the 50-meter dash in the Los Angeles Indoor Invitational (it was tied for the ninth fastest time in the world in 2000). He then won a heat in the 100 meters at the Trojan Invitational in 10.33 and was fifth in the 100 meters at the ASU USTCA Invitational in 10.57. He also anchored the victorious 400-meter relay teams at the Trojan Invitational (clocking a 40.08) and USC's Centennial Invitational (39.18). He qualified for the World Junior Championships in the 100 and 200.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, ESPN Top 100, The Sporting News 101 Prime Prospects, Rivalnet Top 100, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous selection), Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team as a senior at Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High. In 1998, he had 50 receptions for 1,096 yards (21.9 avg.) and 17 TDs. He had one game with 8 catches for 181 yards and 3 TDs. Long Beach Poly was a CIF Division I finalist.

As a 1997 junior, he made All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division I first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram second team and All-League while catching 43 passes for 560 yards (13.0 avg.) and 9 TDs. Long Beach Poly was the CIF Division I champion. In his 3-year career, his team went 36-5. Current Trojans DeShaun Hill, Mike Pollard, Darrell Rideaux, Brien McMullen, Marvin Simmons and Raymond Tago also prepped at Long Beach Poly.

He also starred on Long Beach Poly's track team, which won the 1997 and 1998 state titles. As a junior, he was the 1998 state 200-meter champion in a meet-record 20.76 and a member of the state winning 400-meter relay squad. As a senior at the 1999 Arcadia Invitational, he was first in the 200 meters (21.27). At the 1999 CIF Division I meet, he was second in the 100 (10.54) and 200 (21.04), and ran on the winning 400-meter relay quartet. At the 1999 CIF Masters meet, he won the 100 (wind-aided 10.30, tied for 12th in the world on the under-20 windy list in 1999) and 200 (wind-aided 20.61, fourth fastest under-20 windy mark in the world in 1999) and ran a leg on Poly's state record-setting victorious 400-meter relay team (40.14). He was the 1999 state champion in the 100 (10.47 wind-aided) and 200 (20.76 wind-aided), and ran a leg on the state meet record-setting 400-meter relay squad (40.33). His best times are 10.28 in the 100 meters (the top time in the state in 1998) and 20.53 in the 200.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. His sports hero is Muhammad Ali. His cousin is ex-USC safety (1995-98) Rashard Cook.

KAREEM KELLY ON: His ability: "If I'm on top of my game, I don't see any way a defensive back can stop me. I'm not a one-dimensional player. I have speed, soft hands and I play physical...I don't think anyone in the country can catch me from behind...When people sleep on me, that's my opportunity to open up my arsenal...I want to work hard and be considered one of the best receivers ever to play at USC. I feel I'm a difference maker...I want to show everyone who Kareem Kelly is. He's a guy who comes to work with a lunch pail ready to compete on every down...If you're on the defensive side of the ball, I don't have too much love for you."

His philosophy: "You can't take any plays off, and you have to work hard and give it all you've got while staying focused and humble. Just be a complete football player."

Being compared to former Trojan star receivers Lynn Swann and Keyshawn Johnson: "I don't think I should be compared to them. They're on a higher pedestal...Keyshawn has been my inspiration. I really look up to him. He overcame a lot of obstacles. There were people out there doubting him, but he overcame things...I don't really play like Keyshawn, but watching him has taught me that I need to sharpen my routes and learn to read defenses. And I need to improve my hands. If I do those things, I will help the team win and also attain my goal of winning the Biletnikoff Award someday...I want to be the best in whatever I do. I want to be the best receiver in the country. I want to be the best receiver to come out of USC. I want to reach the same level as Keyshawn and Randy Moss."

His speed: "I was always faster than the other guys, even when I was little. My friends who knew me would place bets on me and I'd race the older guys. I'd be about 10 and would beat guys who were 13 or 14. That's when I knew that I was blessed with speed."

Running track: "It helps you with your confidence. On the track it's just you by yourself. If you take that attitude to the football field, as far as the confidence level, it's going to be boosted because you feel no one out there can see you. That's the approach I bring to the football field and it has helped me physically and mentally."

The tatoo of Bob Marley on his left arm: "It means I'm a soldier."

Basketball: "Basketball was my first love. Lots of kids have 'hoop dreams' growing up and I was one of them. I played the off-guard spot and I could shoot really well. I was dunking in the eighth grade, even though I was only 5-8. After a while, though, my coaches convinced me to start running track."

Why he chose USC: "I came to USC because of the great academic reputation and the great athletic tradition. I also saw the chance to play early and I liked the kind of offense we run here. Also, I wanted to play close to home and USC is a program on the rise."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC tailback Chad Morton: "He's going to be one of the game's greats. That's the Biletnikoff Award winner right there."

USC cornerback Darrell Rideaux, his prep teammate: "He's competitive on the field and in the classroom. On the field, he's got this macho, flashy athletic appearance. But he's got a sensitive side. He makes people feel comfortable...He's got good hands and he's physical. We battle all the time...He has confidence, and it oozes. You can't miss it."

Steve Bisheff, Orange County Register: "Kareem Kelly catches the ball with more flair than anyone at USC since Lynn Swann. Keyshawn Johnson? Sure, he was a great college receiver. But he was more physical, exuding power and strength. Kelly, like Swann, is about finesse and acrobatic, ballet-like moves. Kareem is R. Jay Soward, with even more speed and a better attitude...Neither Swann nor Johnson could run as fast as Kelly. Few can...He is the playmaker at USC. He is the home run hitter. He is Ken Griffey Jr. in a helmet and shoulder pads."

Karen Crouse, Los Angeles Daily News: "Kareem Kelly has more tools than a carpenter. Before he's through, he could add on another wing to Heritage Hall. He has height, heart, great hands, a gazelle's gait and as many gears as a Ferrari...He's just naturally equipped for success...He is an astute student of the game. On the field, the only thing churning faster than his legs is his mind."

Long Beach Poly track coach Don Norford: "His gait is so smooth and relaxed that you really can't judge how fast Kareem is. It's like when a cheetah attacks the gazelle. The gazelle doesn't realize how fast the cheetah is until it's right into him. With Kareem, a cornerback thinks he has an angle on him, then he shifts into another gear. And Kareem has about three or four more gears he can use."

Charlie LANDRIGAN

Fullback

2001: The rugged Landrigan returns as the starting fullback as a senior in 2001. He missed part of 2001 spring drills with a lacerated knee.

2000: Landrigan started at fullback as a junior in 2000 and did a solid job, particularly as a blocker. He started 11 games (all but Arizona State). Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he ran for 34 yards on 8 carries (4.2 avg.) and caught 8 passes for 47 yards (5.9 avg.). He also made 1 tackle (versus Penn State). He had 10 yards on 2 rushes and caught 2 passes for 9 yards against Washington State, then had 7 rushing yards on 2 carries and 21 receiving yards on 3 catches at UCLA. He caught an 11-yard pass against Colorado. He received USC's Bob Chandler Award (top underclassman athlete/student/leader).

1999: Landrigan proved to be a pleasant surprise, as he started at fullback for USC's last 9 games of 1999 (all but the Hawaii, San Diego State and Oregon contests) as a sophomore. He was Brennan Ochs' backup in the other games. He also played on special teams. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 11 contests (he did not play against San Diego State), he did not carry the ball, but caught 11 passes for 64 yards (5.8 avg.). He caught 3 passes against both Oregon State (23 yards) and Notre Dame (27 yards).

1997: Landrigan redshirted as a freshman fullback in 1997, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-South Coast League Defensive MVP as a senior at Capistrano Valley High in Mission Viejo (Calif.). In 1996, he made 124 tackles (including 10 for losses, with 4 sacks), 2 fumble recoveries, 1 forced fumble and 3 pass deflections. Capistrano Valley head coach Dave Brown was a 3-year (1970-72) letterman center at USC and played on Troy's 1972 national championship team. Current Trojan Malaefou MacKenzie also prepped at Capistrano Valley.

PERSONAL: He's a political science major at USC. He was born in Ottumwa, Ia., and grew up in Austin, Minn. (he moved to California during his junior high years). His father played quarterback at a small college in North Dakota. He likes to play golf. As part of the "Read Across America" program, he read books to local elementary school classes in 2001.

CHARLIE LANDRIGAN ON: Playing fullback: "In order to be a good fullback, you have to commit yourself to blocking. You have to come out with your chinstrap buckled tight or you'll get blown up...Fullback is a lot like linebacker, which I played in high school, in that there are a lot of collisions going on. The fullback is the linebacker of the offense. It's been a while since I've played linebacker, but I've always had that defensive mentality...I'm not known for my running ability. A lot of fullbacks try to be tailbacks out there. But you must realize you are a blocker first...If there is one thing you could say I excel at, it is blocking. I understand my role here. I don't consider myself to be a 'tough' player, although some have described me as being tough. At my size, I'm am able to use leverage on my blocks against bigger opponents. I have a good sense for football. I've played a lot of years and I play with my eyes. I see what is going on...I'm not intimidated by a linebacker. I went against (former Trojans) Zeke Moreno and Chris Claiborne in practice, so I'm not going in there thinking that a linebacker is going to blow me up."

His political aspirations: "I try to keep up with the political scene, but it is difficult during football season. I do read the paper every morning and, down the line, I may run for political office...My grandfather was the County Commissioner in Pembina County, North Dakota, which is in the Red River Valley in the northwest corner of the state. I remember going to his house and seeing the Republican elephant everywhere. Someday, I might run for office myself...I definitely would like to be a Senator and, who knows, maybe even President...I really admire Ronald Reagan. I even have a picture of him in my room at home. And I read a book on Richard Nixon last year...I lean a little bit to the right politically...I love Washington D.C. We took a family vacation there when I was in the eighth grade and I would love to go back there someday...I ran for a lot of things in high school. I was my class president. Then I ran for school president my senior year and lost out to my ex-girlfriend. I had actually run just to spite her, but things didn't work out!"

His personality: "I'm really a pretty boring person. I'm pretty basic."

His favorite music: "I'm a big fan of Frank Sinatra's music. My mother always used to play him and I'd try to switch the channel to some modern music. Before I knew it, I started to really like it. My favorite song is 'Summer Wind.' When I'm in a personal mood, I'll listen to it. The ballads he sings are fun to sing along with."

Basketball: "I always wanted to play basketball for the Iowa Hawkeyes, which was my team growing up. But by my freshman year of high school, I realized that I wasn't that good of a basketball player and that football was my future."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC offensive tackle Brent McCaffrey: "Charlie is one of the better players on the offensive unit. He definitely sets the tone from the start of the game. He goes in there and, bam, he hits a defensive end and that guy's head snaps back. By the end of the game, you see guys with their heads on a swivel looking for No. 28. They don't want to take him on. Or, if they do, they're more careful with him. Every time we go out there, somehow, some way, Charlie finds his way onto the team highlight film and it's always for a devastating block."

Former USC linebacker Zeke Moreno: "He's unique. He's not one of those 250-pound fullbacks. But he's a hammer. You're either a hammer or a nail in this game and he's putting the pain on someone else."

2001: Leach will push for backup duty at strong safety as a redshirt freshman in 2001.

2000: Leach redshirted as a freshman safety in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Division I first team and Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley first team pick as a senior defensive back at Bishop Amat High in La Puente (Calif.). He had 75 tackles, 5 tackles for losses, 9 sacks, 2 forced fumbles and 5 interceptions in 1999, as well as 13 punt returns for 150 yards (11.5 avg) with a TD and 11 kickoff returns for 250 yards (22.7 avg) with a TD. As a 1998 junior, he posted 70 tackles, 6 tackles for losses, 5 interceptions, 4 fumble recoveries and 2 forced fumbles.

As a 1997 sophomore, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore first team.

He also ran track at Bishop Amat, with a best of 10.9 in the 100 meters.

CAREER: MacGillivray has a 39.4-yard punting average in his 3-year career. With 219 punts for 8,618 yards, he is within range of breaking John Stonehouse's USC career records for punts (259) and punt yardage (10,578). He is especially effective as a placement punter, as 74 of his career boots have pinned opponents within the 20-yard line. And 25 of his punts have traveled 50-plus yards.

2001: MacGillivray returns for his fourth season as USC's punter as a senior in 2001. He also will serve as the holder on all placekicks.

2000: MacGillivray averaged 39.1 yards on 58 punts as USC's punter for his third season as a junior in 2000. Some 17 of his 58 punts pinned opponents within the 20. He had 5 of his punts blocked (2 for TDs).

He averaged 46.3 yards punting (but had 1 blocked for a safety) versus Penn State, then averaged 48.0 yards on his 2 punts against Colorado (with another blocked), 40.0 yards on his 4 punts versus San Jose State (but had another blocked for a TD), 40.3 yards on his 6 punts at Oregon State (2 pinned OSU within the 20) and 37.0 yards on 7 punts against Arizona (with 3 pinning the Wildcats within the 20). He averaged 37.7 yards on his 6 punts against Oregon (with 3 pinning the Ducks within the 20), then averaged 37.7 yards on his 7 punts (with a 59-yarder) at Stanford, 41.8 yards on his 6 punts (with a season-long 63-yarder) against California and 38.8 yards on 5 punts at Arizona State (with 2 pinning ASU within the 20). He averaged 38.0 yards on 7 punts versus Washington State (2 pinned WSU within the 20), but he had another punt blocked for a TD. His only punt at UCLA went 31 yards, then he averaged 34.8 yards on 4 punts versus Notre Dame, with 2 pinning the Irish within the 20 (but he had 2 others blocked).

1999: MacGillivray averaged 41.4 yards (fourth in the Pac-10) on 74 punts as USC's punter for his second season as a sophomore in 1999. Some 23 of his 74 punts pinned opponents within the 20 and 14 boots traveled 50-plus yards (including 5 at Arizona and 3 at California), with a long of 66 yards at Arizona. At Hawaii, he averaged 35.5 yards on his 2 punts (the first one traveled 59 yards to pin the Rainbows within the 20-yard line). One of his 4 punts against San Diego State kept the Aztecs within the 20. At Oregon, he averaged 35.5 yards on 6 punts (2 were within the 20). Against Oregon State, 1 of his 6 punts kept the Beavers within the 20. He had a huge day at Arizona, averaging a career-high 50.6 yards on 8 punts (with a 66-yarder to equal a personal long and 4 others over 50 yards) and pinning the Wildcats within the 20-yard line 6 times (twice inside the 5) to earn Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week honors. At Notre Dame, he averaged 35.4 yards on his 5 punts. Against Stanford, he averaged 43.2 yards on 5 punts (2 pinned the Cardinal within the 20-yard line). He averaged 42.6 yards punting at California (his 11 punts and 469 yards were both career highs), with a trio of 50-plus-yarders (including a long of 57 yards) and 3 that pinned Cal within the 20. He averaged 44.1 yards on 9 punts (with a pair of 56-yarders and a pair within the 20-yard line) against Arizona State. At Washington State, he averaged 40.7 yards on 7 punts (with a 54- and 51-yarder and 1 within the 20). He averaged 44.7 on 7 punts (with a 53-yarder) against UCLA and 3 pinned the Bruins within the 20. Against Louisiana Tech, he averaged 41.3 yards on 4 punts (with 1 pinning the Bulldogs inside the 20).

1998: MacGillivray was USC's punter as just a redshirt freshman and did a solid job. He averaged 37.7 yards per punt, as his 87 punts traveled 3,284 yards (USC records for most punts and punt yardage in a season). He was especially effective on coffin corner boots (34 of his 87 punts pinned opponents within the 20). He had 8 punts travel 50-plus yards (including 3 each against Purdue and Florida State), with a long of 66 yards against TCU in the Sun Bowl.

In the opener, 5 of his 7 punts pinned Purdue within the 20 and 3 traveled 50-plus yards (including a 56-yarder). He averaged 38.4 yards on 8 punts against Oregon State (5 kept the Beavers within the 20, including 2 inside the 10, and another was fumbled away to USC). He averaged 44.6 on his 8 punts at Florida State, with 3 boots going 50-plus yards. Against Arizona State, 3 of his 9 punts pinned the Sun Devils within the 20, while 4 of his 6 punts against California pinned the Bears within the 20-yard line. He placed 3 of his 9 punts within the 20 at Washington State. He averaged 39.3 yards on his 7 punts (with a 55-yarder) against Washington, while 3 of his 6 punts at Stanford kept the Cardinal inside the 20. Against Notre Dame, 4 of his 8 punts pinned the Irish within the 20. He had his best showing against TCU in the Sun Bowl, as he averaged 45.8 yards on his 6 boots, including a season-long 66-yarder, and 2 of his punts pinned the Horned Frogs inside the 20.

1997: MacGillivray redshirted as a freshman punter and placekicker in 1997, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made 1996 Student Sports All-American, National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I, Los Angeles Times All-Los Angeles first team, and All-Del Rey League first team as a senior at Loyola High in Los Angeles (Calif.). In 1996, he hit 14-of-17 field goals (with a long of 52 yards), 33-of-37 PATs, put 98% of his kickoffs into the end zone and averaged 43.3 yards on 43 punts (with a long of 65 yards). He kicked a game-winning 26-yard field goal (his third of the game) in the second overtime of the 1996 CIF Division I semifinals. He also played linebacker.

As a 1995 junior, he handled kickoff duties only. Loyola was the CIF Division I runnerup in 1995 and 1996 (going 23-5 overall). MacGillivray was coached at Loyola by ex-USC tailback Steve Grady.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC with a B- average (2.95 GPA). His personal kicking and punting coaches are brothers John and Paul Stonehouse, Loyola alums who punted at USC (1992-95, where he set several school records) and Stanford (1989-92), respectively. His real first name is Duncan. He was born in Dallas, Tex. In his spare time, he likes playing the guitar, listening to music and working on cars.

MIKE MacGILLIVRAY ON: His senior year: "I haven't worked this hard ever. It is one year, and the last thing you want is to finish and have regrets about how you did. I want to go out really well."

Contact: "I liked playing linebacker in high school. I love making tackles and I love hitting. I like coming down on a punt and making a big hit. It is ever sweeter when the ball carrier looks up and sees it is the punter that hit him. I just like to make tackles and be involved in the game."

One of his punting coaches, ex-Trojan John Stonehouse: "The way he talked about USC and how great it was to play for the Trojans made an impact on me. I collected all the films on him that I could. We have similar body types and I wanted to adopt to his style."

Malaefou MacKENZIE

CAREER: In his career, MacKenzie has 765 rushing yards while starting 4 times.

2001: The hard-running MacKenzie, a threat both running and catching the ball, joins with Sultan McCullough to give USC a potent 1-2 punch at tailback as a senior in 2001. He might also return kickoffs.

2000: MacKenzie served as the backup to Sultan McCullough at tailback as a junior in 2000. He played often in passing situations. He even started started the California and Notre Dame games. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he ran for 284 yards (second on the team) on 41 carries (6.9 avg.), caught 27 passes for 249 yards (9.2 avg.) and returned 4 kickoffs for 91 yards (22.8 avg.). His 27 receptions were the most by a Trojan running back since Rodney Sermons had 39 in 1996. He also made a tackle and forced a fumble on special teams (both at Oregon State).

He ran for 28 yards on 9 tries at Oregon State, then had 47 rushing yards on 3 tries (including a 34-yarder) and caught 2 passes for 10 yards against Oregon. He had a career-long and USC season-long 69-yard non-scoring run the only time he ran the ball (he also caught a 10-yard pass) at Stanford; that long run won him USC's Jack Oakie "Rise and Shine" Award. He had 28 yards on 7 carries (plus 3 catches for 14 yards) as the starter against California. At UCLA, he came up with some big runs (51 yards on 4 carries) and catches (57 yards on 5 grabs), plus had a 29-yard kickoff return, then ran for 18 yards on 5 carries and caught 3 passes for 44 yards versus Notre Dame.

1999: MacKenzie was a backup tailback as a sophomore in 1999. He appeared in 8 games, missing the San Diego State, Oregon, Oregon State and Arizona contests with a pulled left hamstring suffered in practice prior to the SDSU game. Overall in 1999, he gained 121 yards (third on USC) on 25 carries (4.8 avg.) and scored 3 TDs, and also caught 5 passes for 40 yards (8.0 avg.). He also made 1 tackle (versus Louisiana Tech). In the Hawaii opener, he scored short TDs while rushing for 25 yards on 8 carries. He had 71 yards on 8 tries against Louisiana Tech. He caught 3 passes for 21 yards against Arizona State. He was limited in 1999 spring drills while recuperating from a 1998 knee injury.

1998: MacKenzie tore a left knee ligament in the Purdue opener and had season-ending surgery as a sophomore tailback in 1998. He gained 28 yards on 7 carries (4.0 avg.) in that Purdue game. Because of the early-season injury, he redshirted the 1998 season and sat out 1999 spring drills.

1997: MacKenzie proved his precocious nature as a first-year freshman tailback in 1997. He started twice (against Arizona State and Oregon) to become just the third true freshman to start at tailback for USC (Scott Lockwood did so twice in 1987 and Charles White once in 1976). He served as a backup there the rest of the season and also played on some special teams. Overall while appearing in 9 games in 1997 (he missed the Stanford game with a bruised left shoulder and did not play against UCLA), he gained 332 yards (second on USC) on 96 carries (3.5 avg.) and ran for 3 TDs. He also caught 5 passes for 22 yards (4.4 avg.), returned a short kickoff 7 yards (at Notre Dame) and made a tackle on special teams (versus UNLV). He did all this while nagged much of the season with a sore foot arch and then a bruised shoulder.

After rushing for just 24 yards on 17 carries in USC's first 3 games, he came of age against UNLV when starter LaVale Woods went down early in the game with an injury and MacKenzie finished with 104 yards and 2 TDs on 19 tries to become only the fifth USC first-year freshman to eclipse the century mark in rushing (the others were Delon Washington once in 1994, Ryan Knight twice in 1984, Michael Harper once in 1979 and Charles White 4 times in 1976). Then, in his first start, he gained 35 yards on 10 tries (a second-quarter shoulder injury slowed him the rest of the game). He led USC with 69 rushing yards on a career-high 20 carries off the bench at Notre Dame, then added 40 yards on 9 carries while starting versus Oregon. He came off the bench at Washington to get 20 yards on 9 carries. He did not play against Stanford because of a shoulder injury, but returned off the bench at Oregon State to gain 40 yards on 12 carries. He didn't see action against UCLA. Earlier in the season, MacKenzie scored his first USC touchdown against Washington State.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Schutt Sports All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Prep Star Best in the West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I, and Orange County Register All-Orange County first team as a senior at Capistrano Valley High in Mission Viejo (Calif.). In 1996, he ran for 1,488 yards on 181 carries (8.2 avg.) with 17 TDs (including a 97-yarder). Against eventual prep national champion Mater Dei High, he rushed for 213 yards. Capistrano Valley was a CIF Division I quarterfinalist in 1996.

A 3-year starter, he earned Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County second team and All-League honors as a 1995 junior and Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore Super 25 and All-League notice as a 1994 sophomore. Capistrano Valley head coach Dave Brown was a 3-year (1970-72) letterman center at USC and played on Troy's 1972 national championship team.

MacKenzie clocked 10.9 in the 100 meters for Capistrano Valley's track team. Current Trojan Charlie Landrigan also prepped at Capistrano Valley.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His first name, Malaefou, means "new-found land" or "a kind of paradise" in Samoan. He lived in Apia, Western Samoa until he was 9 years old. He played rugby as a youngster in Western Samoa. His personal trainer was ex-USC lineman Marv Marinovich (1959, 1961-62), the father of former USC quarterback Todd Marinovich (1989-90).

MALAEFOU MacKENZIE ON: The competition at tailback: "Of course, we'd all like to be the guy. We all want the ball as much as possible. But more than that, we want to help the team win in any way we can."

His running style: "I like to do both, run inside or outside, depending on the situation. If it's a third down and short yardage, I'll try and run over somebody. Whatever makes the opponent look bad."

His 1998 torn knee ligament injury: "I just wanted to make a hard cut, go upfield, get some yardage. I thought I could break it because I saw a little seam. I guess I planted too hard and my leg gave way. It was just a freak accident...I broke down because I had never had an injury of that magnitude. My parents were like, 'Keep your head up. Keep your faith and the Lord will take care of you.'...Six weeks afterwards, I felt like a baby, to tell you the truth. I felt like I couldn't walk. My mind wouldn't function with my leg. I'd try to step, but it'd just give way...It was a really tough mentally, kind of a helpless feeling...It was really frustrating for me, but I tried to be patient. I didn't know if I would play football again, or even walk again. I had a lot of faith in God that he had a plan for me, whether it was rehabbing and coming back to football or not...Now, I thank the Lord every day for my health. I'm a lot stronger now in the mental stuff and the details of the game. I've learned a lot more about running, finding the opening and following blockers and that's the difference...I don't even think about the knee injury when I cut now."

Playing most of 1997 with nagging injuries: "It set me back mentally to have all the little nagging injuries. As a result, my confidence went down. I guess it wasn't meant to be my year."

College versus high school football: "In college, the hole is going to close in a fraction of a second. In high school, it's going to stay open for a few seconds. I just have to adjust to it, because it's a different running style. Everything you do in college has to be up the field, because everyone is faster and stronger...I'm learning to stay low when I hit the hole and just explode through the hole."

Rugby versus football: "I never knew what football was until I came to the United States. I used to think it was a wussy sport, compared to rugby. I'd tease my brother when he had it on TV. But I found out football is not a wussy sport. Both are physical, but I think rugby is more physical because there are no pads. But in football, people are bigger and stronger."

His late brother, Hornell, who had Down Syndrome and died of a heart ailment at the age of 17 (when Malaefou was 10): "I wear a shirt with his picture and name on it. I used to wear it under my jersey, but now I only wear it before and after games. I don't want to ruin it. I carry a cross with his name on it and I play in his memory. He was a good kid, always so caring and loving. Always...Everything I do on the football field is for him. When I get ready for a game, I'll always tell myself, 'This is for you, brother.'"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Capistrano Valley High coach Dave Brown: "His cousin told me that he'd look at my 1972 national championship ring and say, 'I'm going to get one of those some day.'"

His father, Vernon: "He is obsessed with running and lifting weights. I told the USC strength coaches to try to get him to let up a little. When he was at home, I tried to tell him that he was overtraining. He was staying up until 1 or 2 in the morning. Everyone would be asleep, and he'd be pushing weights in the garage, out on the road doing wind sprints, tying a tire around him and dragging it. It was too much. You have to do a lot more than the average guys to make it, but I thought he was obsessed. I was worried, no doubt. I told the weight coaches at USC, 'I'd appreciate it if you can corral him.'"

Faaesea MAILO

2001: Mailo will slide from the starting right offensive tackle job back to left guard, where he played earlier in his career, and will start there as a senior in 2001.

2000: After spending his 2 previous seasons on the left side of the offensive line, Mailo started all of 2000 at right offensive tackle as a junior. He also once again was used at fullback in short yardage (goal line) situations, a la William "Refrigerator" Perry, and proved to be a devastating blocker (he did not carry the ball).

1999: Mailo returned from a 2-year Mormon mission in Sapporo, Japan (on the island of Hokkaido, Japan's northern-most prefect) and picked up where he left off in 1996 with the Trojans (per NCAA rule, he was not charged with any lost years of eligibility while on his mission). He started 5 games (Oregon State, Arizona, Notre Dame, Stanford and Louisiana Tech) at left offensive guard in 1999 and served as the backup to Donta Kendrick in the others. He also played on special teams. And he lined up at fullback in short yardage (goal line) situations (the Trojans converted all but one try in that formation). He missed the California game with a bruised lower right leg suffered in the Stanford contest.

1997: Mailo was not with the Trojans in 1997 because he left USC to go on a 2-year Mormon mission in Japan after the 1996 season.

1996: As just a first-year freshman, Mailo started 3 times in 1996 (at left offensive guard at Houston and at left offensive tackle versus Stanford and Notre Dame). He also appeared in 5 other games (Illinois, Oregon State, Washington State, Washington and UCLA) as a reserve and on special teams. He missed the California and Arizona games (he suited up for the Arizona State contest, but didn't see action) after being sidelined in the Houston game with a hairline fracture in his right shoulder.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected to the 1995 Super Prep All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Bluechip Best of the West, Super Prep All-Farwest, Bluechip All-Western and Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 teams as a senior at Kahuku (Hi.) High.

He spent his 1994 junior season at Banning High in Wilmington (Calif.), earning Los Angeles Times All-South Bay second team honors. Current Trojan Chris Howard also prepped at Banning.

He was at Kahuku for his 1992 freshman and 1993 sophomore seasons. Although he was born in Torrance (Calif.), he moved to Hawaii when he was 1-year-old and lived there for all but the 1 year he spent at Banning living with his aunt.

At Kahuku, he also participated on the sumo club, where he won the Hawaii state sumo championship. In June of 1996, he went to Japan to train with pro sumo wrestlers and then competed against high school and collegiate wrestlers.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC. In Samoan, Faaesea's name means, "Someone who does things differently." His father, James, played football at Hawaii. His brother, Anipati, is a junior linebacker at Hawaii. Another brother, Fulutusi, is a sophomore linebacker at Montana State. His sports hero is ex-Trojan star and former NFL All-Pro offensive tackle Anthony Munoz. He is fluent in Japanese.

FAAESEA MAILO ON: His ability: "I think I run pretty well and my quickness is an advantage. My leg drive is what gets me going. That's where I get my strength from...I am a very aggressive player and I won't take anything from anybody on the field. I enjoy running people over."

Lining up as a blocking fullback in short yardage situations: "I like to line up in the backfield and get myself some of that momentum. I get to run downhill on a linebacker...I tell the coaches to give me the ball and I promise I won't go down and I won't fumble it. Who knows? Someday, maybe. It's every lineman's dream to pick up the ball and score a touchdown, but not as a running back. That's not why I'm there."

Sumo wrestling: "Basically, sumo is the same thing as playing offensive tackle. In sumo, you're trying to push or shove a guy out of a 15-foot circle, and you can use your hands. It teaches you balance, too. When we're run-blocking in football, it's basically the same as a charge at a sumo opponent. It's a leg strength sport...The top sumo guys in Japan make Michael Jordan money. People in Japan told me I could do well over there, with training. They said I had good quickness, power, enthusiasm and the fighting spirit of sumo."

Going on his Mormon mission: "We were out 12 hours a day six days a week talking to people. When just about every door is a rejection, it's pretty tough. It is a very humbling experience. But you learn you can't get down. You have to get back up. If there were rejections, you have to suck it up and do it again...I matured immensely while on the mission. Meeting new people all the time helped me mentally. I met a lot of good people and the experience helped me focus better on what I'm doing...We were treated very well by the Japanese people. Oh, I had a couple of doors slammed in my face, but for the most part it was a pleasant experience...One time, this little old lady looked at me, screamed and slammed the door. We decided to just leave a pamphlet in her mailbox...Sometimes you'd knock on a hundred doors and everyone slams it in your face. But maybe by the end of the day, you meet one person who says, 'All right, come on in,' and it makes it all worthwhile...In two years, we converted two people. That was a great feeling. It was like, 'Yeah, we got one.' What made it great was that I did something to make a person happier. I changed a life for the better. It's just that good feeling you get when you help someone. Take that feeling and times it by 100. That's what it was like...No way was it a waste of time. We did a lot of good in the cities and learned a lot and grew a lot. I learned a lot about people and a lot about myself. I learned how people should be treated and how to treat others. I learned a lot about others. I learned a lot about God...Every day on my mission, I always stopped some kind of crowd. I would be walking down the street and you would see everyone just stop in their tracks. They must have throught I was a sumo wrestler...I cherish my religion. It is a very big part of my life. I talked to many football players about leaving college to go on a mission and they all said they have no regrets. They all have said it was very good for them...It was an experience. It was such a big impact on my life. I am a lot more mature and a lot more focused. I have my priorities straight and I have a better sense of where I want to go in life."

The difficulty when taking his USC team portrait: "The team dress jacket they had just wouldn't fit. My arms were too big and every time I tried to put the jacket on, the arms would start to rip. If you look at the team photos, you'll see I'm the only one with a windbreaker on."

His dream job: "I've always wanted to work for the FBI. I don't mean working undercover. I know I couldn't do that. But I am majoring in international relations and I do speak Japanese pretty fluently, so I thought it would be cool to make money by speaking Japanese, maybe working in an embassy or something."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC tailback Chad Morton: "He made my job so much easier. It was so much fun. He knocks their heads back. If I stayed right behind him, I knew it was going to be a touchdown."

Former USC tailback Petros Papadakis: "When he lined up at fullback, it was hard to see past him. He has a big butt. It's huge!"

His father, James: "He was anxious to get back to USC from his mission. Hokkaido has weather that's somewhat similar to Siberia and Faaesea was freezing there."

John Jacques, Kahuku High's sumo wrestling coach: "This is a young kid with a lot of great natural athletic ability and natural strength, and good discipline. All the sumo people in Japan were really impressed with his strength and focus."

Sultan McCULLOUGH

Tailback

Jr.*/Sr.

CAREER: McCullough's 1,576 career yards puts him 25th on USC's career rushing list. He has 7 100-yard rushing games in his career.

2000: McCullough started at tailback as a sophomore in 2000 and had an outstanding season. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he ran for a team-high 1,163 yards on 227 carries (5.1 avg.) with 6 TDs and caught 9 passes for 25 yards (2.8 avg.). He started 10 games (he was slated to start the California game but hurt his ankle on the opening kickoff and didn't come in until the second series, and then came in early in the Notre Dame contest). His 1,163 rushing yards in 2000 tied him for 16th on USC's season rushing chart and was the 22nd time that a Trojan has eclipsed the 1,000-yard mark. It is the most rushing yards at USC since Mazio Royster's 1,168 in 1990. He reached the 1,000-yard plateau quicker (9 games) than any Trojan since Marcus Allen did so in his 1981 Heisman Trophy season (5 games). He had 7 100-yard games in 2000 (and in his career), including 4 in a row (128 versus Penn State and 136 versus San Jose State earlier in the year, then the 4-game string of 152 against Oregon, 130 at Stanford, 122 versus California and a career-high 176 at Arizona State, and then 105 at UCLA). It was the first time that a Trojan had 4 consecutive 100-yard outings since Ricky Ervins had 5 straight in 1989. His 7 100-yard outings were the most by a Trojan in a season since Ervins had 9 in 1989. He had long runs of 59, 51, 46, 39, 35 and 32 yards in 2000. He was named to the 2000 All-Pac-10 second team (the first Trojan tailback to win first or second team honors since 1989), plus The Sporting News All-Pac-10 first team and Football News All-Pac-10 first team. He also took a handoff on a kickoff against California and returned it 7 yards.

In his first-ever career start, he ran for 128 yards on 29 carries (both career highs) against Penn State (he also caught 3 passes for 16 yards) to gain Kickoff Classic MVP honors. Against Colorado, he ran for a team-best 91 yards on 28 carries and had a 5-yard TD run. He had 21 carries for a then-career-best 136 yards, both game highs, against San Jose State. At Oregon State, he had a team-best 33 yards on 10 carries before leaving early in the second half with a knee injury. He had just 32 yards on 13 tries against Arizona. Against Oregon, he ran for a then-career-best and game-high 152 yards on 23 carries and raced a personal-best 59 yards for a TD. He had a game-high 130 yards on just 11 carries at Stanford and scored on a 39-yard burst (he also had a 46-yard non-scoring jaunt). He had a game-best 122 yards on 15 carries, with a 32-yard TD, off the bench against California. At Arizona State, he ran for a career-best and game-high 176 yards on 23 carries (he had 103 yards by halftime) and had a 51-yard TD burst to open the game's scoring (it was the most rushing yards by a Trojan since Shawn Walters had 234 at Stanford in 1994 and put him over the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the season). He had 44 yards on 18 carries against Washington State. He ran for a game-high 105 yards on 26 carries with a 6-yard TD at UCLA. He had just 14 yards on 10 tries off the bench against Notre Dame.

1999: McCullough was USC's No. 2 rusher as a back up to Chad Morton at tailback as a redshirt freshman in 1999. Overall in 1999 while appearing in all 12 games, he ran for 413 yards on 90 carries (4.6 avg.) with a TD. He also caught a 6-yard pass (at California). He won USC's Jack Oakie "Rise and Shine" Award for the longest run of the season (48 yards against UCLA). He missed the last half of 1999 spring practice because of academic issues. He also sprinted for the USC track team in the spring of 1999.

At Hawaii, he ran for then-career-best 83 yards on 17 carries (with a 5-yard TD). He then gained 10 yards on 3 carries against San Diego State. His only carry at Oregon was for a 3-yard loss. He then had 17 yards on 4 rushes against Oregon State, 15 yards on 5 tries at Arizona, 13 yards on 6 carries at Notre Dame, 47 yards on 6 carries against Stanford, 37 yards on 7 rushes at California (he also caught a 6-yard pass), 8 yards on 2 carries against Arizona State and 38 yards on 10 carries at Washington State. He ran for 69 yards on 8 tries (with a USC season-long 48-yard pickup) against UCLA. Against Louisiana Tech, he had 79 yards on a then-career-best and a game-high 21 carries.

In the spring of 2001, he did not compete until after spring football drills. In his first meet of the season, he won the 100 meters at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.28) and anchored the victorious 400-meter relay team (39.98). Then, at the Pac-10 Meet, he was second in the 100 meters (10.33, after running 10.27 in the heats) and anchored USC's winning 400-meter relay squad (39.74).

In the spring of 2000, he placed eighth in the 100 meters at the NCAA Championships in 10.38 (he equalled his career-best 10.17 while running fourth in the semifinals and ran a 10.26 for fourth in his heat). He won the 100 in the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.25) and in a heat at the Trojan Invitational (10.26), was second at USC's Centennial Invitational (10.22) and third at the ASU USTCA Meet (10.53). He won the 200 meters at the ASU USTCA Meet in 20.89. He strained his groin while running the 200 in the USC-UCLA Dual Meet and missed the Pac-10 Meet. He also ran a leg on the 400-meter relay squad (usually the second leg) which finished first at the Long Beach Relays (40.13), Trojan Invitational (40.08), USC's Centennial Invitational (season-best 39.18) and USC-UCLA Dual Meet (39.47), was second at the USTCA Invitational in Austin, Tex. (39.59) and was fifth at the NCAA Meet (39.54, after going 39.47 for fourth in a heat). He qualified for the U.S. Olympic Trials 100, but did not compete.

In the spring of 1999, in his first race as a Trojan (on March 6), he set a USC freshman record and Cromwell Field record by winning the 100 meters in 10.17 in the Trojan Invitational. It was the fifth fastest time in Trojan history and the fastest ever by a USC runner before May (it was also the fastest ever by a Trojan footballer). It was also the fastest time recorded by a junior-level (under 20) sprinter in the world in 1999. He then won the 100 meters at the 1999 Pac-10 Championships in 10.18, tied for the fifth fastest winning time at the Pac-10 meet. He went 10.17 again in winning a 100 heat at the NCAA meet, but strained his left hamstring in the semifinals. He also ran the second leg on USC's Pac-10 champion 400-meter relay team and its second-place NCAA meet unit, and anchored the quartet to second place at the Texas Relays.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1997 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA second team, The Sporting News Top

100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous), Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division III first team, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley Back of the Year and All-Pacific League Offensive MVP as a senior at Muir High in Pasadena (Calif.). In 1997, he rushed for 2,145 yards and 27 touchdowns on 215 carries (10.0 avg.). In one outing, he had 317 yards and 5 scores on just 9 carries (35.2 avg.).

As a junior in 1996, he made Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State second team, All-CIF Division III first team, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley first team, Pasadena Star News All-West Valley first team and All-Pacific League Offensive MVP. He ran for 2,100 yards and 35 TDs on 305 carries (6.9 avg.) and also caught 10 passes for 160 yards (16.0 avg.), plus made 19 tackles as a defensive back. Muir made it to the CIF Division III finals.

As a 1995 sophomore, he gained 631 yards with 6 TDs while being named All-Pacific League.

He also ran track at Muir, advancing to the finals in the 100 meters at the 1997 California state meet (he was favored to win, but a pulled hamstring prevented him from running). His best prep times were 10.41 in the 100 meters (10.24 wind-aided for the best time in the state and second fastest in the nation in 1997), 20.61 in the 200 meters (tops in the nation in 1997) and 45.8 in the 400 meters. He also anchored the nation's fastest 400-meter relay (40.2) and 1600-meter relay (1:08.2) squads in 1997. He twice was named a track All-American. Muir won 2 national and state track titles during his career.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. Sultan's brother, Saladin, was a tailback at Oregon in 1996 and 1997 who has played in the XFL and NFL. His late father, Bruce, ran track at San Jose State in the 1960s. His mother, Mabel, played basketball on the 1959 state championship team at Booker T. Washington High in Texarkana, Ark. One of his sports heroes is ex-USC Heisman Trophy winner and former NFL star Marcus Allen.

SULTAN McCULLOUGH ON: The advantage of speed: "Speed is what I was blessed with...I think I can run a 10 flat (in the 100)...It's hard to stop somebody when he's always at full-go and full-motion. It's hard to tackle him if he's always going hard because you don't know when he's gonna cut or slip or slide or run you over. It's just hard to stop speed...But I don't use my speed yet like I should. I have speed, but I don't have quickness. I'm still learning about the tailback position...I'm so fast that I'm reading holes as I'm running. But I've learned that I should just go and let the offensive line make the holes. I need to attack...People in football at first thought of me as a sprinter. Early on, I never got a chance to show them any different. I'm getting that chance now."

Football versus track: "It's not my fault that I'm fast. People think I'm a track guy playing football. I want to get that off people's minds. I want to be a strong football player...'m not a sprinter playing football. I'm a football player who also runs track. I know the quickest way to the end zone is through the defense. I can take the punishment. I've been doing it all my life...Football is my main sport. I'm just gathering confidence in myself running track and improving my speed...It's hard doing both sports, but I don't want to limit myself. Whatever you do, you try and open doors. You don't know what's going to pay off for you...I originally ran track at USC to make a name for myself while I was waiting my turn in football...The thing about track is you can do it all yourself, you don't need blockers or anybody else...I think I could be the best in the work in the 100, the world's fastest human. But I have to think of my future. You could get up at dawn every day for months, getting ready for the one big race, and then you pull something and you're not right that day, and it's over...But I want to be a professional football player, not a professional track runner. But I don't want to look too far into the future. Anything can happen. I have to stay focused and keep praying...During the spring, switching back and forth is tough. One day you're running up high with your knees up and the next you're running down low and taking hits. It's different...People don't realize that if you run track, you have to be tough. If you're not tough, you'll quit. When a person running with you challenges you, you'll either be a winner or a quitter. Track is 90 percent mental. It prepares you for anything in life. And that's how it is on the football field, too. If you want to win, you'll do anything to win. So for me, the two go hand in hand...I like being bigger than those other little sprinters, intimidating them."

His philosophy: "When I'm out there, I have to make a play. There are a lot of plays out there that should be touchdowns and big catches."

His determination: "People always tell me what I can't do and I want to prove I can do anything I set my mind to...I want to be the next star, the next running back, the next go-to guy...It's my dream to be the next Marcus or the next O.J. or the next Deion, where I walk around and everyone knows me. I want to walk through a door and have everybody say, 'That's Sultan McCullough.' I want it so I can go to certain places because of who I am. But I don't want to be in the limelight. I want to stay low-key."

His toughness: "People who don't know me want to see how tough I can be. They say, 'He has so much speed but he doesn't have enough toughness to carry the rock.' That's just talk. They don't know me and what's inside me. You can't judge a book by it's cover."

His dedication: "I don't party. I just sit at home. I have such a big family that when I go home, it's like a big party anyway. To be at the top in sports, you have to really prepare yourself. You can't just go out and eat chili fries and drink soda. It requires constant discipline."

His athletic family: "It's kind of cool to come from an athletic family. There was lots of competition growing up. All my brothers played sports. It's good to have the talent, but I know I have to use it right. I need to use it to my advantage because you never know when it won't be there."

His brother, Saladin: "He's a much, much better back than me. It's a proven fact. If I can do it, Saladin can do it twice as well. If I get 100 yards, it means he would have gained 200 yards...If I do something good, it's showing everyone how good he is...We both have speed, but he has that God's gift. He's a pure running back."

The difference between high school and college football: "I discovered that high school football isn't college football. I learned that I wasn't big enough to break tackles in college. And if you're going to make it in college, you at least have to break that first tackle...So I got into weight training in a big way."

His first name: "Growing up, I didn't know what my name meant. I asked my mom and she told me it meant 'King.' I thought I was kind of special. I thought I couldn't die. I thought I could endure pain. Then I got beat up a few times and found out that wasn't true."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Oregon head coach Mike Bellotti: "There's no question that the speed factor with Sultan McCullough is scary. You have to play great defense, you have to cancel gaps and you have to take the proper leverage angles. Your pursuit has to be almost perfect. If you leave a seam open, he can hit that seam and be gone."

Saladin McCullough, his brother: "It's scary what he's going to be. He's a home run hitter every time he touches the ball."

USC head track coach Ron Allice: "He's such an amazing athlete. He will do very, very well in football, because he's not only quick, but he's tough. Can you imagine a sweep where he takes the pitch and turns the corner? Watch out."

USC assistant track coach John Henry Johnson: "Sultan is a fiery competitor. He is definitely a game-day guy. He has this knack, this talent. The things he doesn't do right in practice all week long he somehow manages to do right on race day. Some athletes are flat on the day of competition. They get insecure. Sultan is the exact opposite."

Joe McGUIRE

Fr.*/So.

2001: Just a redshirt freshman, McGuire will contend for the starting left offensive tackle job in 2001.

2000: McGuire redshirted as a freshman offensive tackle in 2000, his first year at USC. He suffered a herniated disk in his back in practice prior to the Colorado game and was slowed the rest of the season.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1999 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Parade All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, The Sporting News Top 101, Super Prep National 50, Prep Star Top 100 Dream Team, Tom Lemming Top 100, Prep Star Western Super 30, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County Lineman of the Year, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-Serra League Defensive MVP honors as a senior two-way lineman at Servite High in Anaheim (Calif.).

As a 1998 junior, he was a Student Sports Junior All-American, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division VI first team and Orange County Register All-Orange County first team. Servite was a CIF Division VI semifinalist in 1998. He did not allow a sack in 1998 and 1999.

He also played basketball at Servite.

JOE McGUIRE ON: His ability: "The main thing that I bring is my size, strength and my quickness to get outside and help the running game."

Why he chose USC: "The main reason I decided to attend USC was because of its great offensive linemen tradition. I consider it an honor to be able to come and play at USC and walk in the footsteps of past guys like Anthony Munoz and Tony Boselli. Those are two guys that I most admire because of their size, ability and what they accomplished."

On not allowing a sack in high school: "My teammates would always bring up the fact that I hadn't allowed a sack, but I didn't focus or dwell on that. My main job then and from now on is to protect the quarterback and keep him upright and off of his back."

Omar NAZEL

Defensive End

So.*/Jr.

2001: As a sophomore in 2001, the rangy Nazel has emerged as a likely starter at defensive end.

2000: Nazel was a reserve defensive end as a redshirt freshman in 2000. He saw brief action in 5 games (San Jose State and then the final 4 contests against Arizona State, Washington State, UCLA and Notre Dame). He did not make a tackle in 2000.

1999: Nazel redshirted as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. He began the year as a linebacker, but was moved to defensive end. He was slowed by a mid-season concussion.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made the 1998 USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, Oakland Tribune All-Oakland MVP and San Francisco Examiner All-Metro first team as a senior at Skyline High in Oakland (Calif.). In 1998, he made 86 tackles, 16 sacks, 2 interceptions (including 1 for a touchdown) and 1 block.

As a 1997 junior, he was picked to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass second team while he had 63 tackles, 16 sacks, 10 tackles for losses, 4 fumble recoveries, 4 forced fumbles and 4 blocked punts.

He also played basketball at Skyline and was a 1998 Student Sports Grid-Hoops All-West selection.

PERSONAL: He's a psychology major at USC. His sports hero is Michael Jordan.

David NEWBURY

5-9 • 175

2001: Newbury has lots of experience as USC's placekicker, but the senior will be in a battle in 2001 to regain the job he lost in 2000 because he was plagued by inconsistency.

2000: Although Newbury spent 1999 as USC's placekicker, he had to battle John Wall and David Bell for the job in 2000 fall drills. He spent the first half of his 2000 junior season handling that duty before faltering and being replaced by Wall in the middle of the Arizona game. Overall in 2000 while appearing in USC's first 5 games, he hit 4-of-9 field goals and 9-of-12 PATs. He did not see any action in USC's final 7 outings.

He hit all 3 attempts (47, 27 and 44 yards) against Penn State to tie a Kickoff Classic game record. After missing a pair of field goals earlier in the Colorado game, he nailed a game-winning 24-yarder with 13 seconds to play (it was the latest in a game that a Trojan kicked a game-winnign field goal since Don Shafer did so at the gun at Baylor in 1986); for his performance, he was named the Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week. After he missed a pair of field goals and had a PAT kick blocked against in the first half of the Arizona game, he lost his job for the rest of the 2000 season.

1999: Newbury, who transferred to USC from a junior college, had an up-and-down season as USC's kicker as a sophomore in 1999. Overall in 1999, he hit 11-of-20 field goals, with a long of 48 yards, and was 40-of-42 on PATs.

He had an impressive collegiate debut at Hawaii, as he nailed both of his field goals (a 48-yarder for USC's first points and then a 34-yarder at the first half gun) and all 8 of his PATs. He hit 1-of-2 field goals (a 26-yarder) and all 3 PATs against San Diego State. He struggled at Oregon, hitting his first field goal (29 yards), but then missing his next 3 (including 2 in overtime), but bounced back somewhat against Oregon State, hitting a 38-yarder on his only field goal attempt and 4-of-5 PATs. He then nailed a 40-yard field goal on his only attempt and was 3-of-3 on PATs at Arizona, hit a 29-yard field goal and all 3 PATs at Notre Dame, and made a 31-yard field goal (he missed 2 others) plus all 4 PAT kicks against Stanford. He made his only PAT kick at California, hit a 29-yard field goal versus Arizona State, then connected on a 34-yard field goal and all 4 of his PATs at Washington State. He hit a 22-yard field goal to open the scoring against UCLA. Against Louisiana Tech, he hit all 4 PATs, but missed a field goal before David Bell subbed for him in the third quarter.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He was a 1998 Super Prep JUCO 100 and Southwest JC Conference second team pick as a freshman at Navarro Junior College in Corsicana (Tex.). In 1998, he made 26-of-27 PATs and hit 7-of-12 field goals, 3 of which were game-winners. His longest field goal, a 42-yarder, was the game-winner against Kilgore JC. Navarro went 7-4 in 1998, advanced to the Region XIV final and had a final national ranking of No. 15.

HIGH SCHOOL: He prepped at Corsicana (Tex.) High, where he was a 2-time All-District 23 placekicker. He also played soccer at Corsicana, twice being named the District MVP.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. He likes to fish. His father, Gerry, played professional soccer in England.

DAVID NEWBURY ON: Placekicking: "It's 1.25 seconds. You could be a hero or a goat that quickly."

Rebounding from an inconsistent 2000 season: "It's now or never. I have no one else to prove it to but myself. The kicks will come. You have to forget about the 2000 season. You can't remember the bad things. Things that you can remember are the kicks against Colorado and Penn State...All I can do is go to practice, wait for my shot and then produce. I know I can do it. I've proven I can do it. But I have to prove it on a week-in, week-out basis. No more of this 'Kick three field goals one game, then make one in the next four games."

Missing kicks: "Every miss hurt so bad. I think that it was actually better for me to take a step back and say, 'You know what? It was too much.' I was trying to hit every ball like it was a game winner...In 1999, I felt like I never got into a rhythm. I was always trying out a new stance, I was always experiementing...What a difference one year makes just in maturity and how you react to problems, how you react to getting slapped in the face. If I missed a field goal in 1999, I would really dwell on that kick. I was just trying to correct things during the game and experiment with things. In 2000, I tried to do the exact same thing every day. My main thing was just be confident and take one kick at a time...The 1999 Oregon game (he missed 3 field goals, including 2 in overtime) is going to be in my head the rest of my life and in my heart. The way I felt after the game, I'll never forget. But I'm glad it's there because I don't want to be there again. I'll do whatever it takes to never have our team in that situation...When I missed kicks, I would get nasty, anonymous e-mails from fans. I responded. I wrote them back. I didn't lash out, I just wrote, 'I really feel sorry for you, that you would actually take the time to make someone else feel bad about something they already feel bad about.' I mean, nobody feels worse about missing kicks than I do. That really hurts. It's one thing for fans to boo and say things, but to write something down in e-mail, you know it's premeditated. I can't believe someone would do that...People ask, 'Doesn't it kill you to hear the crowd boo?' But you know, you can't please everybody...The only person I really listen to besides my parents and coaches is God...When I was replaced, a lot of things became clearer for me. Football had consumed so much of my life, my academics, my spiritual life, my relationship with God. It really took a toll on me. It was more than just going out there and kicking it. It was like a life or death thing for me...It made me a much stronger person...You're only as good as your last kick. That's what people always remember you by."

Getting recruiting rejections: "I'll never forget that feeling you get when someone tells you you're not good enough...It really hurts because you start to doubt yourself...Florida wrote me a letter which read, 'You have neither the talent nor the raw athletic ability to compete in our conference. Our conference recruits the best and you're not the best.' When they found out I had a verbal commitment to USC they called me back and apologized. They tried to get me to take a trip there but I said, 'No thanks, USC has been loyal to me, so I'll be loyal to them.' I saved that letter, though. I'd give anything to play Florida sometime in a bowl game, kick the winning field goal and hand Steve Spurrier that letter. All that did was really, really motivate me."

Turning from soccer to football: "Soccer was everything to me. But growing up in East-Central Texas is just like that movie 'Varsity Blues.' Everyone looks up to the football players. Ever since I was little I went to varsity football games. Those guys were like demi-gods. Everyone would rally around them. The last person in town would turn the lights out on the way to the road football games. Most of my friends played football, so I gave it a try...In soccer, if you miss a shot, you know you'll have other shots. But with kicking, you have to be perfect every time. You don't know if you'll have the chance to kick again."

His father: "My dad is from London, England. When he first came over to the U.S., he lived in Indiana. Well, the first football game he ever saw was the 1978 Cotton Bowl between Notre Dame and Houston. His company in Indiana had a wager with a company in Houston over the game. Joe Montana pulled out the victory in the end and my dad was the one who had to go down to Houston to collect the winnings. He met my mom there and later they moved to Corsicana, where I was born...My dad was a huge fan of Notre Dame until now. He used to hate USC. But now he's been completely turned around. Things are different when you have your son on the team."

Ryan NIELSEN

2001: Nielsen, the veteran on USC's defensive line, will start for his third season at defensive tackle as a senior in 2001. He also is able to play end.

2000: After starting all of 1999, Nielsen was a part-time starter at defensive tackle as a junior in 2000. He started 5 games (Penn State, Colorado, San Jose State and Oregon State to open the season and then the Notre Dame season finale) and was Bernard Riley's often-used backup in the other contests. A back sprain in practice prior to the Arizona game hampered him for the rest of the season. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 25 tackles, including 3 for losses of 8 yards, plus 4 deflections and a forced fumble (against Arizona, which USC returned for a TD). He had 5 tackles (2 for losses) at Oregon State (along with the forced fumble and 2 deflections), 4 at Stanford and Arizona State, and 3 against Colorado and Notre Dame. He had surgery to repair a torn right biceps tendon and an abdominal hernia after 2000 spring practice.

1999: Nielsen started at defensive tackle as a sophomore in 1999 and did a commendable job. He started all but the Stanford game (he backed up Aaron Williams in that one). Overall in 1999 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 39 tackles, including 6 for losses of 28 yards (with 3 sacks for minus 20 yards), 3 deflections and 1 fumble recovery (against San Diego State). He had 9 tackles at Oregon, 5 against Stanford and Arizona State, and 3 versus Hawaii, San Diego State, Arizona, California and Washington State. He was a 1999 All-Pac-10 honorable mention pick and was USC's Defensive Lineman of the Year.

1998: Nielsen was a backup defensive end and tackle as a redshirt freshman in 1998. He even started the Purdue opener at end. Overall in 1998 while appearing in 10 games (all but San Diego State, Florida State and Notre Dame), he made 12 tackles (including 1 for a loss). He posted 5 tackles against TCU in the Sun Bowl and 2 stops each against Purdue and California.

1997: Nielsen redshirted as a freshman defensive end in 1997, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Division III, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura County first team Defensive MVP, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team and All-Marmonte League as a senior at Royal High in Simi Valley (Calif.). He had 129 tackles (79 solo), 19 sacks, 7 forced fumbles and 2 interceptions as a defensive end in 1996 and 34 catches for 356 yards (10.5 avg.) with 4 TDs as a tight end.

As a 1995 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior second team, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura County first team, Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley second team and All-Marmonte League.

A 3-year starter, he was an All-Marmonte League choice as a 1994 sophomore.

He also played basketball (earning 1997 Student Sports Grid-Hoops All-American honorable mention, 1996 All-Marmonte League MVP and 1995 All-Marmonte League as a center) and baseball at Royal.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. He likes to fish in his free time. His sports hero is Bo Jackson.

RYAN NIELSEN ON: His philosophy: "My approach is to go out there and play as hard as I can and make the most of my time when I'm on the field and while I'm at USC."

Being underrated: "I really try not to look at it like that. I just go out there and try to do my job. If media come talk to me, that's fine. If not, that doesn't bother me."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Former USC defensive tackle Ennis Davis: "I'm impressed with his knowledge of the game and his work ethic. I'm impressed with the way he's come back from all he's been through. He's our brain on the field."

Carson PALMER

Quarterback

Jr.*/Sr.

CAREER: Palmer ranks fifth on USC's career passing list, with 397 completions. He is also fifth on Troy's all-time total offense chart (5,050 yards). His 5,159 career passing yards is the most by a Trojan at the end of his sophomore year. He is on pace to break Rob Johnson's USC career records for completions (676) and passing yards (8,472), as well as Rodney Peete's school career total offense yardage mark (8,640). He has completed at least 60.0% of his passes in 9 games in his career (including 4 games with 70.0%-plus). He has started 20 games in his career.

2001: The experienced, strong-armed Palmer could have a breakthrough year as a junior in 2001 in USC's revamped offense and, while starting for his third season, he could prove to be one of the nation's premier quarterbacks.

2000: Palmer returned as USC's starting quarterback as a sophomore in 2000 after an injury knocked him out of the lineup early in 1999. Although he struggled somewhat in 2000, he often exhibited his outstanding potential. He completed 228-of-415 passes (54.9%) for 2,914 yards and 16 TDs with 18 interceptions. His 228 completions in 2000 put him second on USC's season passing list and his 2,919 yards of total offense was second on the Trojan season total offense list. He ranked 24th nationally in total offense (243.3, second in Pac-10). His 18 interceptions in 2000 tied a USC season mark. His 2,914 yards and 16 TDs in 2000 were the most by a Trojan sophomore. His completions (228), attempts (415) and yardage (2,914) in 2000 were the second most in USC history. With 5 rushing yards on 63 carries (0.1 avg.) with 2 TDs, he was the first fulltime USC quarterback since Reggie Perry in 1991 to finish a season with positive rushing yards.

In his first game after an 11-month layoff, he was 10-of-20 passing for 87 yards (with an interception) against Penn State. He bounced back from that shaky debut by hitting 25-of-30 passes (83.3%) for 275 yards and a TD (3 of his passes were dropped) against Colorado (on USC's game-winning drive—a 9-play, 72-yard drive that began with 1:14 on the clock and culminated with a game-winning field goal with 13 seconds to play—he was 6-of-6 for 68 yards). Then, for the second game in a row (and the first time since Rodney Peete did it in 1987 against Arizona and UCLA), he led USC on another late game-winning scoring drive: this time against San Jose State, he brought Troy back from a 12-point deficit midway through the fourth quarter by guiding the Trojans to 22 unanswered points (overall, he hit 22-of-38 passes for a then-career-high 338 yards with 2 TDs, including 10-of-12 for 148 yards and a TD in the fourth quarter; he had 6 passes dropped. At Oregon State, he was 19-of-38 for 282 yards and 2 TDs, but threw a career-high 3 interceptions. He was 26-of-50 (a career-best in attempts) for 321 yards and a TD against Arizona, but for the second week in a row he threw a career-high 3 interceptions. He hit 15-of-35 passes for 194 yards with a TD and an interception against Oregon and also ran for 31 yards on 5 tries (with a then-career-long 28-yard scramble). At Stanford, he was 15-of-30 for 190 yards (with 2 interceptions) and also ran for a 1-yard TD. He was 19-of-39 for 202 yards and a TD against California, but threw 2 picks and was sacked 7 times. He was 22-of-37 for 279 yards with 2 TDs (and 2 picks) at Arizona State. Against Washington State, he was 12-of-26 for 145 yards and an interception in the first half and was replaced by Mike Van Raaphorst in the second half. He had career highs in passing yards (350) and TD passes (4) in the dramatic win at UCLA while completing 26-of-37 passes (he also gained 31 yards on 5 rushes, including key 35- and 16-yard scrambles, with the 35-yarder being a career long); for his performance, he was named the Pac-10 Offensive Player of the Week and USC's Player of the Game versus UCLA. He was 17-of-35 for 251 yards with 2 TDs and 2 picks against Notre Dame and also led USC in rushing with 22 yards (with a TD) on 10 attempts (the first time a quarterback led Troy in rushing since Peete did so against Michigan State in the 1988 Rose Bowl).

He was a near-perfect 14-of-16 (87.5%) for 167 yards and a 32-yard TD pass at Hawaii (he was never sacked) and also ran 9 yards for a score on a bootleg in just over 2 quarters of action. He played the whole game against San Diego State, where he was 16-of-24 for 188 yards and 2 TDs, but threw a pair of interceptions. At Oregon, he completed 9-of-13 passes for 135 yards (with a pick) before getting injured.

1998: Just a first-year freshman, Palmer showed his precociousness with an impressive showing at quarterback. After sharing playing time with starter Mike Van Raaphorst in USC's first 8 games, Palmer took over the starting job against Washington to become only the second true freshman to start at quarterback for USC (along with Rob Johnson, who started once in 1991) and continued as the starter against Stanford, UCLA, Notre Dame and TCU in the Sun Bowl. Overall while appearing in all 13 games in 1998, Palmer was 130-of-235 (55.3%) for 1,755 yards and 7 TDs with 6 interceptions. His 130 completions ranks 17th on USC's season passing chart. He also carried the ball 47 times for –116 yards (-2.5 avg.) with a TD.

In the Purdue opener, he appeared on 3 series in the second half and led USC to 17 points while going 3-of-6 for 79 yards. The pattern held true against San Diego State, as he was 5-of-8 for 50 yards and 1 score (the first of his career) seeing action in 3 second-half series. Against Oregon State, he hit just 1-of-7 throws for 6 yards playing in 5 series in the second and third quarters. He struggled at Florida State (2-of-10 for 18 yards) while playing all but the first series of the second half. In the Arizona State game, he came off the bench late in the third quarter to guide Troy on a TD drive and spark USC's comeback (he was 4-of-7 for 69 yards and a TD overall in 3 series). He played just 2 series in the third quarter against California, hitting 1-of-2 passes for 9 yards. He was 8-of-16 for 143 yards and a TD while leading USC to 28 unanswered points at Washington State when he came in midway through the second quarter when Van Raaphorst became ill. At Oregon, he was 10-of-19 for 179 yards as he saw action in most of the second quarter, the end of the third quarter and all of the final quarter. He played the entire Washington game, hitting 18-of-31 passes for 279 yards (all then-career highs) and a TD to become only USC's second true freshman starting quarterback. At Stanford, he went 19-of-26 (a then-career-best for completions; 2 passes were dropped, including 1 in the end zone) for 203 yards and a TD while going the whole way. He was 28-of-43 (both career bests; he since upped his career high in attempts) for 252 yards and a TD (but he threw 2 interceptions) while going the whole way at UCLA. He was 14-of-32 for 188 yards against Notre Dame and he ran for his first career touchdown (a 2-yarder to put USC on the board and give Troy its decisive points) while playing the entire game. Against TCU in the Sun Bowl, he completed17-of-28 passes for a then-career-best 280 yards and 1 TD, but was sacked 6 times.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1997 Super Prep National 50, The Sporting News Top 100, Super Prep All-American, Prep Star Dream Team, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region Super 30, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous), Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division V Offensive Co-MVP, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-Seaview League Offensive MVP honors as a senior at Santa Margarita High in Rancho Santa Margarita (Calif.). In 1997, he completed 136-of-216 passes (63.0%) for 2,685 yards, 31 TDs and just 4 interceptions, plus ran for 290 yards and 3 scores. He did all this despite missing 2 earlier-season games with a foot injury. Santa Margarita went 14-0 in 1997 and won its second consecutive CIF Division V championship; in that title game, Palmer threw for a school-record 419 yards with 5 TDs and ran for another TD. Earlier in 1997, he threw for 356 yards in a game and had 5 TD tosses in less than 2 quarters of action in another contest.

As a junior in 1996, he made the Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State second team, All-Seaview League first team and team Offensive MVP while completing 58.0% of his passes for 2,089 yards, 25 TDs and 5 interceptions. Santa Margarita went 13-1 in 1996 and was the 1996 CIF Division V champ. In his career, he set 23 school records while going 261-of-435 (60.0%) for 4,692 yards and 55 TDs with just 10 interceptions. He also ran for 565 yards (including 150 yards in a game) with 10 scores in his career. Current Trojan Anthony Boscarini also prepped at Santa Margarita.

Palmer also played basketball at Santa Margarita (he averaged 8.0 points and 8.0 rebounds as a 1998 senior) and was named to the 1998 Student Sports Grid-Hoops All-American second team. Santa Margarita went 32-2 in 1998 and won the 1998 CIF and State Division II titles.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. As part of the "Read Across America" program, he read books to local elementary school classes in 1999, 2000 and 2001. His personal quarterback coach was Bob Johnson, the father of ex-USC (1991-94) and current NFL star signalcaller Rob Johnson. He was born in Fresno, Calif. He says the funniest thing that happened to him in a game was when he twice "lined up to take a snap from the left guard." His most thrilling moment in sports was winning the 1998 state high school basketball title.

CARSON PALMER ON: Being coached by new offensive coordinator Norm Chow: "I really didn't know much about coach Chow until the first day he got here. When I saw his bio, I was like, 'Wow!' I had no idea. I thought, 'I can't wait to work with this guy.'"...He has no ego. And he's old-school. When I say he's old-school, I mean he dresses old-school, too! His shorts are up over his belly button and his shirt is tucked into his shorts."

The new offense in 2001: "We are running a lot of routes that are completely different now. I had never thrown a comeback or a hook-and-go off a five-step drop before. Coach Chow wants to throw it all game. And I love that...The key to it is taking what the defense gives you. That's what coach Chow tells me. I had been greedy, trying to throw the long ball when there's a guy 5 or 6 yards in front of me who's open. He told me I just have to be more patient."

His hype: "I haven't done anything yet. I haven't won any big games. I don't even think I've played well...You just have to block it out and not worry about it too much. There are a lot of people on magazine covers, so it really doesn't mean a whole lot. What matters is who's on the magazine covers at the end of the season...I guess that's one of the things about playing quarterback. The quarterback gets most of the recognition."

His struggles in 2000: "I was shocked when I would look at the stats and see all those interceptions...It was all new to me. My first couple of years, I hadn't been behind in a game...A couple times, I tried to make plays when there was nothing there. I'd get frustrated and try to make a play."

Returning from his 1999 injury: "Playing football is like riding a bike. You never really forget...I felt clumsy at times with my footwork and sitting in the pocket. And I had to get used to having defensive linemen flying at me again...I felt like a rookie, clumsy and goofy. I hadn't felt like that in a long time...The entire time I was out I was itchy. The hardest part was watching games, especially the losses. I realized that if I kept thinking about it, it would always put me in a bad mood. I thought about it for a while, but it's time to move on...It made me think I couldn't take football for granted. You really can't take anything for granted. I used to come to practice and go through the motions. I don't do that anymore. I look forward to practices. I enjoy every rep, every snap that I get. Before, I wouldn't go as hard as I could. Now I try to be perfect every chance I get...Sitting on the sidelines all that time made me understand that you have to use every day in practice to get better...I never thought I'd ever say this, but I really don't want to see practice end...I even enjoy the wind sprints now...It might have been the best thing to happen to me. It taught me a lot about myself and about this game...By sitting out all that time, when I had football taken away from me, I learned something. I learned that football means everything to me. I learned I missed every practice, every drill. I missed hurting from working my hardest...I've learned so much. Everybody said when it happened that it would make me a better person, and it's true...I am never going to complain again about practice or work or anything. I think I've grown up a lot...When I got hurt, it gave me a new perspective. I take every snap like it's my last."

His 1999 injury: "I was so excited about the 1999 season. I had worked hard and I couldn't wait to see what would happen. Then, in one instant, it was gone...One second changed my life...I see the hit all the time. It's going to be with me always. I'm going to replay the hit when I work out or run. It's real good motivation...Next time I'll run out of bounds...I couldn't believe what happened...I lost 15 or 20 pounds. I watched my right shoulder atrophy. I saw the muscle disappear. I couldn't do anything and I wasn't hungry and that first day (early February) I was able to throw the ball again, I felt so weak."

His 1998 performance: "I never expected to be starting. I just hoped to contribute...Not a lot of people do start at quarterback as a freshman. I'm thankful I got the chance...My goal was to come in and play. I didn't want to redshirt. I didn't think I would start. The playbook was so overwhelming. I didn't think I would get it down in one year...I didn't know what to expect. I was kind of overwhelmed by everything. I was hoping I'd make the travel team, or maybe redshirt. I didn't know what was going on. I was probably guessing on 20 percent of the plays...Everything was going a million miles an hour, trying to learn the offense and stuff."

His on-field composure: "I just don't have a bad temper. I'm pretty easygoing about everything...I'm just concentrating on the plays and what's going on, so I don't get that nervous. I'd always been the youngest guy on the team ever since fifth grade because I weighed more than everybody else, and I had to go up to the higher division. So maybe that's where it comes from."

Improving: "I still have a long, long, long way to go. I've learned a ton, but there's twice I need to learn in the next couple of years...It's not technique as much as it is mental. You've got to know what the defense is doing. I think that's where I've come along the most, reading coverages, picking out where the corners aren't as good as the opposite ones, and deciding where to go with the ball...You can always get quicker and faster, work harder on your dropback, accuracy on your deep ball. But the main thing is to get those footsteps down...Now, I'm smarter, quicker and read defenses better. From my freshman year, everything has improved. There's no comparison."

Being a leader: "You can be a leader at any age as long as guys have your respect. If you get the job done, people will look up to you to be a leader."

Choosing USC: "It probably started when I was in the ninth grade and some of my friends' parents would take us to USC football games. I just fell in love with everything about their football games and the tradition. I always imagined myself running out of the Coliseum tunnel toward the field."

His future: "I'm not setting myself up for the NFL. I'm not trying to do anything special to go to the NFL, but if it happens, it happens. If that's where God wants me to go, it's going to happen. But I also want to work in business, maybe work in health insurance."

His bi-coastal family during his prep years (his father took a job in Connecticut prior to his junior year in high school, while the rest of the family stayed in California so he could continue at Santa Margarita): "I felt real guilty because I was putting them through this for me. My dad only got to see his family one-and-a-half days a week. But it kept me aligned, kept me focused, because I knew all the sacrifices my family was going through."

His cooking ability: "I don't cook anything unless I can pop it into the microwave. I don't even have pots or pans. Mostly, I eat at a catering truck by my place!"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Justin Simon, FOXSports.com: "If given the weird-science project of building a prototypical quarterback, the specifications would be easy. He'd be tall and big. He'd have a cannon for an arm. He'd have the scrambling ability to elude pressure. He'd have a square jaw with chiseled good looks. He'd have natural leadership abilities and an ease with people. Basically, he'd be Carson Palmer."

J.A. Adande, Los Angeles Times: "Palmer just has 'it.'"

Shana Newell, El Paso Times: "Rarely has a Trojan quarterback demonstrated as much promise as Carson Palmer. He could become USC's biggest name yet."

Former USC tailback Chad Morton: "He's very calm. He doesn't get too excited, too emotional. He's going to be a great leader for this team. Looking at him, you have all this confidence in him. He has a great attitude."

Former USC tailback Petros Papadakis: "Someday I can tell my kids that Carson Palmer handed me the ball once...He's got the gift. He knows he still has a lot to prove, but Carson has that innate ability to lead guys."

USC tailback Malaefou MacKenzie: "He has an aura. He's a playmaker on the field. He can make plays happen because of his physical attributes. He's a great person and a great leader."

USC tight end Scott Huber: "Carson is a person who projects a great aura. There's a presence about him. He doesn't talk a lot, but people follow him. He's always looked up to. He's as good as he's made out to be."

USC wide receiver Kareem Kelly: "I knew he was good from watching him in high school. But I had no idea he was this good...He's the nucleus of the team. We need Carson. He's a playmaker...He just adds so much to the offense. It's a totally different team when he's in...On the first day of (2000) spring practice, you could tell right away how bad he wanted to be back because usually he would just be walking to practice, but now he was sprinting out there."

Former USC wide receiver Matt Nickels, Palmer's prep teammate: "In high school, the whole varsity would watch his freshman games and just stand around in awe. I knew this guy was going to be big-time some day."

Former USC safety David Gibson: "In 1998, he was a wide-eyed freshman who got by a lot of the time just because he has such a strong arm. But now he understands the offense and knows exactly where to go with the pass...He has, by far, the strongest arm I've played against. And it's just not how hard he throws, either. It's his accuracy and touch, too. He can put the ball anywhere. You can have a receiver covered, but he's going to find a way to get the ball to him."

Former USC wide receiver Windrell Hayes: "He's matured a lot. He has always had the arm. Ability was never a question with Carson. It was just picking up the offense. As far as recognizing coverages, that's where he's made progress."

Former USC All-American quarterback Paul McDonald, now USC's radio analyst: "He's so far ahead of the learning curve, it's scary."

Former USC wide receiver Billy Miller: "I knew he was the guy the first time he came into the huddle. Just the fact that he has field presence. You feel a little something different. There's a confidence that comes over the team...He has a big responsibility. He's labeled now as the star of the team. That's a heavy burden to carry. He has to understand what he's about to go through. He'll be expected to carry the Trojans to the promised land every year. But he has to understand that when things go wrong, and things go wrong for everybody, to hang in there. He has to realize who his real friends are and don't feed too much into the hype. He'll be all-everything, people will expect him to complete 100 percent of his passes and lead the nation in passing and he has to show leadership at a young age."

Former USC quarterbacks coach Ken O'Brien: "He is such a talented young man, with the potential to be as great as anyone I've seen."

Former Oregon defensive lineman Saul Patu: "He has a confidence about himself. It even stirs up the crowd."

UCLA head coach Bob Toledo: "He's a rising star."

UCLA tailback DeShaun Foster, a high school rival: "In high school, you're not prepared for quarterbacks like him. Carson's arm was unbelievable and it was so accurate."

Former UCLA cornerback Julius Williams, another prep rival: "If a receiver has a little bit of room and the defensive back is not covering him completely, Carson is going to throw the ball right there and there's no way the defensive back is going to get the ball."

Santa Margarita High coach Jim Hartigan: "Carson has the size of Troy Aikman and the arm strength of John Elway. He's got the super quick release of Dan Marino and the ability to put zip on the ball or touch depending on what the situation calls for. He is extremely calm and poised and he always makes the right decisions. He thrives on pressure. The bigger the game, the better he performs."

Tustin High coach Myron Miller: "He stood back there and it was like he had a cannon for an arm and every ball was perfect."

His father, Bill: "The first comment anybody made to us, since he was a quarterback in the ninth grade, was how much poise he had. Don't misread him. He's very competitive. He doesn't like to lose. He's always been easygoing. What's going on inside is probably different...When he was young, if he threw an interception, he wouldn't get upset. He'd come right back and throw a touchdown."

Chad PIERSON

6-0 • 245
Jr.*./Sr.

#34

2001: Pierson, a fullback who not only blocks well but is a threat to run and catch the ball effectively, will battle for key playing time as a junior in 2001. He missed some of 2001 spring drills with a herniated disk in his back.

2000: Pierson was the often-employed backup to Charlie Landrigan at fullback as a sophomore in 2000 and proved to be equally adept at blocking, running and catching. He even started the Arizona State game. At times, he ran out of the tailback spot. He also played on special teams. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 11 games, he ran for 133 yards on 31 carries (4.3 avg.) with 1 TD, caught 10 passes for 147 yards (14.7 avg.) with 2 TDs, returned a short kickoff 11 yards and made a tackle. He suffered a left calf strain suffered prior to the Colorado contest and was slowed for that game, then missed the San Jose State contest while recovering.

He had 16 yards on 2 carries and another 28 yards on 2 catches against Penn State. He caught 2 passes for 33 yards (including a 1-yard TD grab) at Oregon State. He had a 22-yard reception at Stanford, then added 2 grabs for 29 yards (including a 19-yard TD) against California. At Arizona State, he started and—despite coming into the game with only 15 rushing yards on 4 carries in his career—had his best-ever outing with 72 yards and a TD (a game-winning 2-yarder in the second overtime) on 16 tries while running out of the tailback and fullback spots (he also caught 2 passes for 29 yards). He then ran for 36 yards on 5 carries (and had a 6-yard catch) against Washington State and added 6 yards on 5 rushes at UCLA.

1999: Pierson was a reserve fullback and special teams player as a redshirt freshman in 1999. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 6 games (Hawaii, Notre Dame, Stanford, California, Arizona State and Washington State), he had 1 carry for minus 1 yard (at California), 2 catches for 16 yards (8.0 avg.)—a 5-yarder at Notre Dame and an 11-yarder at Washington State—and 1 kickoff return for 2 yards (at Washington State). He sprained his left ankle in the Hawaii opener and missed the next 3 games. He then suffered a concussion at Washington State and was sidelined for USC's final 2 contests.

HIGH SCHOOL: He rushed for more than 1,000 yards as a 1997 senior at Oxnard (Calif.) High (and he blocked for a 2,000-yard tailback). His 1997 honors included All-CIF Division III first team, Los Angeles Times All-Ventura County MVP, Ventura County Star Ventura County MVP and All-Channel League Offensive MVP.

He ran for 721 yards on 90 carries (8.0 avg.) with 7 TDs as a 1996 junior. Current Trojans Jacob Rogers and Bobby Otani also attended Oxnard.

He also starred in baseball at Oxnard, hitting over .400 as an outfielder.

PERSONAL: He's majoring in public policy and management at USC. He was born in Cheyenne, Wyo. His sports hero is NFL star Mike Alstott.

CHAD PIERSON ON: Playing football as a youngster: "My first year of football, when I was 8, after the season I went to my dad and I said that I didn't want to play this game again. I just didn't like it. I preferred to play soccer. But my dad told me that I had to play. He told me that this is what I was going to be able to do. I'm just really glad now that my dad made me stick with football."

His football idol, Mike Alstott: "He does both of the things that I would like to do, play fullback and maybe become a running threat at tailback. I just try to do the things that he can do and build myself to look the way he looks."

Troy POLAMALU

Jr./Jr.

2001: The rugged, heady Polamalu returns for his second season as the starting strong safety as a junior in 2001.

2000: As just a sophomore, Polamalu started all 12 games of 2000 at strong safety and made an impressive impact. Overall in 2000, he was second on the Trojans in tackles with 83 (including 5 for losses of 10 yards, with a 4-yard sack), plus he tied for the team lead in both interceptions with 2 (1 returned for a TD in the Penn State opener) and deflections with 7, and had a fumble recovery which he returned 19 yards (against Colorado to set up a TD and Oregon). He was a 2000 All-Pac-10 honorable mention pick.

He had a 43-yard scoring interception return to go along with 2 tackles in the Penn State opener. He made 5 stops and returned a fumble 19 yards to set up a USC TD against Colorado. He added 4 tackles with a deflection versus San Jose State, another 5 stops (with a sack) at Oregon State and 1 tackle against Arizona. He had a game-high and then-personal-best 13 tackles (2 for losses) and intercepted a pass against Oregon, then had 11 tackles at Stanford and 5 (1 for a loss) against California. He had a team-high and career-best 14 tackles at Arizona State, then had 7 tackles and a deflection against Washington State and 2 more stops at UCLA. His 14 tackles (1 for a loss) tied for a game high and career best against Notre Dame.

1999: Polamalu was an often-used backup safety and linebacker, as well as a special teams player, as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 8 games, he made 12 tackles, including 2 sacks for minus 28 yards, forced 2 fumbles (at Hawaii and Oregon), broke up a pass and blocked a punt (against Louisiana Tech). He had 4 tackles (with a sack) each at Hawaii and Oregon. He missed the Stanford, California, Arizona State and Washington State contests after suffering a concussion in practice prior to the Stanford game.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to 1998 Super Prep All-Northwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and All-Far West League second team as a senior at Douglas High in Winston (Ore.). He played in only 4 games of the 1998 season because of injuries (bruised kidney, sprained shoulder and torn back muscles), but still rushed for 671 yards and 9 touchdowns, plus had 3 interceptions.

As a 1997 junior, he rushed for 22 TDs and 1,040 yards, had 310 receiving yards and made 65 tackles and 8 interceptions. He was All-State and All-Far West League Offensive MVP as Douglas went 9-1.

He ran for 1,003 yards, had 340 receiving yards and scored 20 TDs (plus picked off 6 passes) as a 1996 sophomore while making the All-Far West League first team as a running back and second team as a defensive back.

He added 430 rushing yards, 5 scores and 2 interceptions as a freshman in 1995 and was named to the All-Far West League second team. In his career at Douglas, he averaged 6 touchdowns a season.

He also played baseball (he was an All-State centerfielder) and basketball (twice making All-League first team) at Douglas.

PERSONAL: He's a general studies major at USC. His uncle is former USC fullback Kennedy Pola (1982-85), now the Trojans' special teams coordinator. Another uncle, Al Pola, played football at Penn State. A cousin, Nicky Sualua, was a running back with the Cincinnati Bengals and the Dallas Cowboys who attended Ohio State. Another cousin, Leie Sualua, was a defensive lineman at Oregon. Another cousin, Joe Polamalu, played for Oregon State in 1987 and 1988. His full name is Troy Polamalu Aumua. He was born in Garden Grove, Calif. His hobbies are wood working and making furniture.

TROY POLAMALU ON: Playing safety: "The thing I like about the safety position is the freedom. You can see more of the field and have more room to react and make plays...I always dreamed of coming to USC and playing running back. I guess, though, that I am more suited to playing safety."

His playing philosophy: "Go out there and give it everything you've got. I have developed the Samoan mentality—you have to be a gentleman everywhere but on the field. On the field, play like it is a game of life. Give everything you have...The way that I feel is that if you go out and half-speed things and play things safe, you can end up getting hurt. So I always try to lay myself out on the line and sacrifice my body for the team."

His daily ritual of staying after practice to work on his technique and conditioning: "There are so many things you can do to get better. A lot of people take things for granted. They just want to get through practice. I just want to do whatever I can to become the best...I believe that God has blessed me with a gift, an ability, and that it's something I need to keep working on. I never walk away when I can still push myself and try to improve...Sometimes I burn myself out during practice and I know that's not good. But I believe that you get everything you work for, so I always want to work hard."

His uncle, USC assistant coach Kennedy Pola: "Having him out on the field is just like having another coach. I know that if he were coaching me he would be pushing me harder. So thank God he's not the secondary coach! But I'm happy to have him here and around. It's made it so much easier on me to have somebody to talk to and someone to help me out...There's absolutely nothing I don't like about having him on the coaching staff. He helps me out so much, just being there to talk to him. I'd hate to see what it would be like without him. Plus, I can hit him up for money whenever I need it! Just kidding...When he was coaching at Colorado, I wanted to go there. Then he went to Washington, but I didn't want to go there because it rains so much. I think he gave (then USC head) coach Hackett a call and said, 'Check out my nephew.' So I came down here on a trip and fell in love with it. At that time, Kennedy was down coaching at San Diego State and he was telling me, 'I'll be there with you one of these days.' And here he is."

How football teaches life lessons: "Say it is first and goal, we're playing Notre Dame and we're down by 2 points. Someone needs to make a big play. That's a tough situation in football. If I was actually able to make a play in that sort of situation, I can tell myself in life, when my back is to the wall, I can pull myself up because I've been in a similar situation. I think that is what God is trying to tell me, that he is trying to teach me lessons through the game of football rather than in life. That's why I take football so seriously."

Wanting to be a teacher: "I love working with children. I want to be a teacher. I want children to look up to me. I want to be a good role model...Being an athlete, you are automatically a role model. But this will end one day, so I've always wanted to become a teacher. I've always dreamed about kids saying, 'Mom, Dad, guess who our teacher is? It's Troy Polamalu!"

Jr.*/Sr.

2001: Pollard, after a fine showing in 2001 spring practice, will contend for the starting weakside linebacker job as a junior in 2001. He also can play in the middle.

2000: Pollard was a reserve middle linebacker and played on special teams as a sophomore in 2000. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 7 games (Penn State and Oregon and then the final 5 contests, California, Arizona State, Wahsington State, UCLA and Notre Dame), he made 2 tackles.

1998: Pollard served as the backup to Chris Claiborne at middle linebacker as a freshman in 1998. Overall in 1998 while appearing in 10 games (all but Purdue, Washington and UCLA), he had 8 tackles, including 2 for losses of 10 yards (with a 7-yard sack), plus he forced a fumble (against San Diego State). He had 2 tackles at Florida State and Washington State. Originally a 1997 signee, he entered USC in the spring of 1998 as a first-year freshman after improving his test scores at a junior college.

JUNIOR COLLEGE: He actually signed with USC in 1997, but did not qualify academically, so he elected to attend Cypress (Calif.) College that season as a part-time student (he didn't play football there).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1996 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star Best in the West, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team and All-Moore League Defensive MVP as a senior at Poly High in Long Beach (Calif.). In 1996, he made 125 tackles, 7 sacks, 5 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 4 pass deflections. His best outing in 1996 was 19 solo tackles and 6 tackles for a loss in a single game.

As a 1995 junior, he only played in 2 games (getting 25 tackles, with 7 tackles for losses) before tearing ligaments in his right knee and having surgery. He had 76 tackles and 5 sacks as a 1994 sophomore. During his 3-year career, Poly went 31-7 (including 12-1 in 1995) and twice advanced to the CIF Division I semifinals. He also played baseball at Poly. Current Trojans Kareem Kelly, Darrell Rideaux, DeShaun Hill, Brien McMullen, Marvin Simmons and Raymond Tago also prepped at Poly.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC.

MIKE POLLARD ON: His style: "I like to take lanes and make plays behind the line. I like to use my speed and instincts to get into the backfield before the play develops."

Chris Claiborne, USC's former Butkus Award winning linebacker who he backed up in 1998: "I want to follow in his footsteps. You never know what's going to happen. Only time will tell, and I have time on my side...I am getting more comfortable and confident. I want to prove to people I am worthy of succeeding Chris. He is the perfect person to pattern the football aspect of my life after. He is open to criticism and, mentally, he is just awesome. Maybe someday I'll be even better than him."

Sitting out the 1997 season: "That was tough. I felt totally out of sync...I didn't even go around USC. I watched the games, but I didn't feel like I belonged...It kind of hurt. Nobody talked about me, and when they did, all they would mention was the academic problems...God puts you in certain situations to challenge you. If you handle things right, you become a better person...The experience really matured me. I am so appreciative of where I am now. Like they say, you never know how good you have it until you lose it."

2001: The promising Prosser is in the running to start at strongside linebacker as a sophomore in 2001.

2000: Prosser spent most of his 2000 redshirt freshman season backing up Kori Dickerson at strongside linebacker and playing on special teams, but he did start 2 late-season games (Washington State and Notre Dame). Overall in 2000 while appearing in 9 games (all but Penn State, Colorado and Oregon State), he made 7 tackles. He had 3 tackles against Notre Dame and 2 at Arizona State.

1999: Prosser redshirted as a freshman linebacker in 1999, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made the 1998 Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 second team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, All-CIF San Diego Section first team as a senior at Morse High in San Diego (Calif.). In 1998, he had 104 tackles, 27 tackles for losses, 18 sacks, 6 forced fumbles and 2 blocked punts.

As a 1997 junior, he was named All-County and All-League while posting 85 tackles and 20 sacks. Morse made it to the CIF San Diego Section championship game in his 1996 sophomore season. Current Trojan Lonnie Ford also prepped at Morse.

2001: Reese will battle for backup duty at cornerback as a senior in 2001.

2000: Reese was a reserve cornerback and special teams player as a junior in 2000. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 9 games (all but Oregon State, UCLA and Notre Dame), he made 4 tackles and returned 1 kickoff for 11 yards (against Colorado). He had 2 tackles versus Oregon.

1999: Reese was a reserve cornerback as a sophomore in 1999. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 6 games (Hawaii, San Diego State, Oregon, Notre Dame, UCLA and Louisiana Tech), he made 4 tackles, including a 6-yard sack. He had 3 tackles (with the sack) at Hawaii. He missed the Oregon State and Arizona games with a sprained ankle suffered in practice.

1998: Reese was a reserve cornerback as a 1998 redshirt freshman, but did not see any action. He was moved from tailback in 1998 fall drills.

1997: Reese redshirted as a freshman tailback in 1997, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1996 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Small Schools first team, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division X, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team, and All-El Camino Real League MVP as a senior at St. Anthony High in Long Beach (Calif.). He rushed for 2,047 yards on 226 carries (9.1 avg.) with 33 TDs in 1996, plus caught 4 passes for 82 yards (20.5 avg.). He had a pair of 200-yard rushing games in 1996 (229 and 219 yards). He once scored 6 TDs in a game.

As a 1995 junior, he ran for 744 yards (10.0 avg.) with 12 TDs, plus caught 22 passes for 480 yards (21.8 avg.) with 4 TDs.

He ran for 1,072 yards and 25 TDs as a 1994 sophomore. St. Anthony went 22-8 in his 3-year career. He also ran track at St. Anthony, with bests of 10.75 in the 100 meters (he was the 1996 CIF Division X champ) and 21.9 in the 200 meters.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC. He was married during USC's bye week in the 1999 season; his wife's name is Rebecca. They have a 2-year-old daughter. His sports heroes are Barry Sanders and Emmitt Smith.

ERIC REESE ON: Why he was moved from tailback to cornerback: "I got my chance at running back, but I did some things wrong. I think I worried about things too much which caused me to be timid."

The difference between high school and college football: "The speed. It's a lot faster out here than in high school. Everybody runs pretty well. And the hitting is a lot harder, too."

Kris RICHARD

2001: Richard, the veteran of USC's secondary, is back for his third season as a starting cornerback as a senior in 2001. He also might return punts once again.

2000: Richard returned for his second season as a starting cornerback as a junior in 2000, but was slowed much of the first half of the 2000 season with a right knee sprain and dislocated kneecap suffered against Colorado. Because of the lingering injury, he was never quite himself throughout the season (after leading USC in interceptions in 1999, he had none in 2000). Still, he started 8 games (all but San Jose State, Oregon, Stanford and Notre Dame) in 2000. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 contests, he made 19 tackles and 5 deflections. He also led USC in punt returns with 13 for 98 yards (7.5 avg.).

He broke up 2 passes against Penn State (he also returned 2 punts for 35 yards, including a 24-yarder), then had 2 stops and a deflection against Colorado before leaving with the knee injury. He had another 2 tackles against California, then added 6 stops (with 2 deflections) at Arizona State and 3 tackles versus both Washington State and UCLA.

1999: Richard earned the starting right cornerback job as a sophomore in 1999 and was a pleasant surprise. Overall in 1999 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 44 tackles, a team-high 6 interceptions which he returned 63 yards (10.5 avg.) with 2 run back for TDs (against San Diego State and Washington State), 9 deflections, 2 forced fumbles (at Hawaii and Notre Dame) and 1 fumble recovery (at Hawaii). He started 11 games (all but the San Diego State contest, where he came in off the bench). He was tied for 17th nationally in interceptions (0.5, fourth in the Pac-10).

At Hawaii, he had 3 tackles, 1 interception and forced a fumble which he recovered. He intercepted a pair of passes (returning the first 51 yards for a TD) and made 2 tackles against San Diego State. He made 5 stops at Oregon, then had 7 tackles and 3 pass breakups (with an interception which he returned 12 yards) against Oregon State. He made 2 tackles at Arizona, 1 (and forced a fumble) at Notre Dame, 4 versus Stanford, 1 at California and 4 against Arizona State. At Washington State, he returned an interception 6 yards for a TD (he also had 4 stops). He had 3 tackles with a deflection against UCLA. Against Louisiana Tech, he tied for the team lead in tackles with 8 and had an interception at the USC 1-yard line.

1998: Richard was a backup to Daylon McCutcheon at cornerback in 1998 as a redshirt freshman and also played on special teams. Overall in 1998 while appearing in 11 games (all but Arizona State and Stanford), he made 14 tackles (including 3 at Washington State). He also returned a kickoff 20 yards versus Washington. He missed the Stanford game with a bruised shoulder.

1997: Richard redshirted as a freshman cornerback in 1997, his first year at USC, while recuperating from a pre-season hamstring pull. He had surgery after the season to remove scar tissue from his upper hamstring and lower back.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made 1996 Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay second team, and All-Mission League first team (as a quarterback) as a senior at Serra High in Gardena (Calif.). As a quarterback in 1996, he completed 92-of-171 passes (53.8%) for 1,369 yards and 10 TDs, plus ran for 900 yards with 7 TDs (he also played some at wide receiver). He added 69 tackles, 6 interceptions and 2 forced fumbles as a cornerback. He once scored 4 TDs in a game.

As a junior in 1995, he was All-Mission League second team while passing for 372 yards and 6 TDs and running for 264 yards (23.0 avg.) as a quarterback (in 4 games), making 42 tackles and 6 deflections on defense, and also punting and returning punts (including a 79-yarder for a TD).

He played briefly as a 1994 sophomore, getting 7 tackles and 2 deflections. Current Trojan Austin Jackson also prepped at Serra.

He also ran track at Serra, with bests of 10.5 in the 100 meters and 21.4 in the 200 meters, and was on Serra's 1996 state championship 400-meter relay team. He was Serra's student body president.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. Richard's nickname is "Hurricane." His father (Kenneth) is a USC alumnus, while his mother (Patricia) graduated from UCLA.

KRIS RICHARD ON: His goals: "I expected to compete on this level and I expect to compete on the next level. I am working hard to take my game to the next level. Football is my only hobby and I am serious about what it takes to get to be the kind of player that I want to be...Deion Sanders is untouchable. I want to take my game to his level. He does it all. He plays on special teams, defense and he has style. All my life I have been a multi-dimensional player...I'm very happy with my life. I mean, I get to play the game I love for thousands of people, and I get to do this at a great university. It is a dream come true."

Improving: "I'm young and I have a long ways to go. Right now, I'm just working hard and trying to improve...The work in the weight room is paying off. I need to get stronger to take on physical receivers. I also work hard studying film of opponents. I consider myself a student of the game."

His ability: "I can run with the speed receivers and get physical with the big receivers."

His philosophy: "I've never been a guy who has to prove anything for anyone else. Everything I prove out there, I prove for myself. No one beats me but me. I'm concentrating on being one of the best cornerbacks. I never look over my shoulder, because you can't go forward looking back...Humility is a trait that I value. Every time I step on the field, I'm grateful. That humbles me because there was a time when I couldn't step onto the field...My parents always told me to be a leader. And don't fake it. Let it be natural. Know your place. If it's not your time, then be an Indian. The worst thing that can happen to a team is too many chiefs, not enough Indians."

Playing sparingly in 1998: "It was tough, but I used it as a learning year. I've never been a guy who likes to sit on the bench and watch a game. I want to play...It's hard to admit, but I wasn't ready to play in 1998. I didn't prepare myself correctly over the summer. I don't think I was mentally prepared to uphold that challenge then."

Wearing No. 42, once worn by Ronnie Lott: "After the 1997 season (when he wore No. 13), (then USC head) Coach Robinson asked me how I felt about my future at USC. He asked me if I could be the kind of player who could wear and uphold No. 42. I jumped at the chance...It's big shoes to fill by wearing that number. I try to get as much 'juice' from the jersey as I can. I feel confident in myself, though. I wouldn't be wearing that number if the coaches didn't believe I had the ability to uphold that tradition."

Having played quarterback in high school: "Playing quarterback helps me understand the timing of the offense and the way a quarterback approaches the offense. You aren't supposed to guess, but I count in my head and you can usually expect the ball to be thrown in three to five seconds. Counting keeps me focused. It's just a habit I've developed."

Being tutored in football by his relatives: "My father and uncle both played defensive back in junior college and they both helped mold me. I think the football sense and knowledge of the game I have is the result of watching games with my father and uncle. They were always there for me. They both are very technical and love the game of football. They would always give me pointers and help me out. We are all very close."

The USC-UCLA rivalry between his parents: "Growing up, my dad would sit on one side of the room and my mom would sit on the other side of the room...I remember a lot of trash talking and they'd separate the room. They'd gesture back and forth across the room. Whenever my dad would hear the USC fight song, he'd give her the victory sign...I always wanted USC to win, but my mom was always a UCLA fan until I came to USC. Now she has converted...Actually, growing up I was a huge Notre Dame fan, but I never told anyone. Our house was actually divided three ways."

His "Hurricane" nickname, given to him by ex-Arizona State tailback J.R. Redmond in high school: "He said I was like a natural disaster when I played, so he nicknamed me 'Hurricane.'"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC cornerback Antuan Simmons: "Kris always makes the play. I try to be like him in how I finish. He is fast and it's easy for him to run with guys. He's good with the small, quick receivers because of that."

Darrell RIDEAUX

2001: The super-quick Rideaux once again figures to battle Chris Cash for the starting job at a cornerback position as a junior in 2001. He also sprints for the USC track team.

2000: Rideaux was a part-time starting cornerback and was on special teams as a sophomore in 2000. He started 6 of USC's first 7 games in 2000 (Penn State, Colorado, San Jose State, Oregon State, Oregon and Stanford) before spraining his left ankle against Stanford and missing the next 2 contests. He returned as the often-used backup to Chris Cash for USC's final 3 games. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 10 games, he had 21 tackles and 4 deflections. He had 5 tackles against Oregon, 3 stops and 2 deflections versus both Penn State and San Jose State, and 2 tackles each against Oregon State, Arizona and Stanford.

1999: Rideaux made an immediate impact as a freshman cornerback in 1999, his first year at USC. He served as a backup cornerback behind Antuan Simmons and a key special teams player. He even started USC's last 2 games (UCLA and Louisiana Tech) when Simmons was injured. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 10 games, he had 31 tackles and 5 deflections. He 9 tackles at Washington State, 6 against UCLA, 5 versus Arizona State, 4 against Louisiana Tech and 3 at Arizona. He missed the Hawaii and San Diego State games with a back sprain. He was named to the 1999 The Sporting News Freshman All-American second team.

In the spring of 2001, he ran the 100 meters in 5 meets, finishing second 3 times (10.58 at the Trojan Invitational, 10.37 at the Willie Williams Invitational and a career-best 10.27 at the USC-LSU Dual Meet), plus third at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (10.44) and seventh at the Pac-10 Meet (10.59, after going 10.49 in the heats). He also ran the leadoff leg on USC's 400-meter relay team which was victorious at the Trojan Invitational (40.29) and the USC-LSU Dual Meet (39.39) and the third leg on USC's winning squads at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet (39.98) and the Pac-10 Meet (39.74). He won his heat in the 50-meter dash at the Los Angeles Indoor Invitational in 5.78 (the 13th fastest time in the world in 2001 and the sixth fastest in the U.S.).

In the spring of 2000, he ran the 100 meters 6 times, finishing second twice (10.52 in a heat of the Trojan Invitational and 10.45 wind-aided in a heat of the Pac-10 Meet), third twice (season-best 10.37 at USC's Centennial Invitational and 10.48 at the USC-UCLA Dual Meet), fifth once (10.37 wind-aided in the Pac-10 final) and seventh once (10.73 at the ASU USTCA Meet). He also ran the leadoff leg on the 400-meter relay squad which finished first at the Long Beach Relays (40.13), Trojan Invitational (40.08), USC's Centennial Invitational (season-best 39.18) and USC-UCLA Dual Meet (39.47), was second at the USTCA Invitational in Austin, Tex. (39.59) and the Pac-10 Meet (39.93), and was fifth at the NCAA Meet (39.54, after going 39.47 for fourth in a heat).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected to the 1998 USA Today All-USA first team, Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Student Sports All-American, Rivalnet All-American first team, Super Prep National 50, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, ESPN Top 100, The Sporting News 101 Prime Prospects, Rivalnet Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team (for the third consecutive year), Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team as a senior at Long Beach (Calif.) Poly High. In 1998, he had 44 tackles (37 solo), 2 interceptions, 11 deflections, 1 blocked punt and 1 blocked field goal. Long Beach Poly was a CIF Division I finalist.

As a 1997 junior, he made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I MVP, Los Angeles Times All-South Coast/Southeast first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team while getting 45 tackles, 4 interceptions and 4 blocks. Long Beach Poly won the CIF Division I championship.

He was on the All-CIF Division I first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team as a 1996 sophomore. In one game as a soph, he intercepted 4 passes, blocked 2 kicks, caused and recovered a fumble and had 11 tackles. A 4-year starter at Poly (the first in school history), he had 14 interceptions and 18 blocks in his career.

He also starred on Long Beach Poly's track team, which won the 1997 and 1998 state titles. He was the 1998 state 100-meter champion with a best of 10.30 (he was third in 1997) and ran a leg on the 1998 state champ 400-meter relay team. He has run the 200 meters in 21.03. He won the 60-meter dash (6.77) at the 1999 National Scholastic Indoor Championships. At the 1999 Arcadia Invitational, he was first in the 100 meters (10.65). At the 1999 CIF Division I meet, he won the 100 (10.49), was third in the 200 (21.26) and ran on the winning 400-meter relay quartet. At the 1999 CIF Masters meet, he was second in the 100 (wind-aided 10.30) and 200 (wind-aided 20.73) and ran a leg on Poly's state record-setting victorious 400-meter relay team (40.14). At the 1999 state meet, he was second in the 100 (10.49 wind-aided, after going 10.47 wind-aided in the heats) and fourth in the 200 (21.30 wind-aided, after going 21.28 wind-aided in the heats), and ran a leg on the state meet record-setting 400-meter relay squad (40.33). Current Trojans DeShaun Hill, Kareem Kelly, Mike Pollard, Brien McMullen, Marvin Simmons and Raymond Tago also prepped at Long Beach Poly.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC.

DARRELL RIDEAUX ON: Football versus track: "Before every season, I entertain thoughts about dedicating myself to just one sport. But I always seem to come full circle and conclude that I am a two-sport athlete and I can't have one without the other...But it's a hard adjustment to reprogram my body to go forward after 6 months of backpedaling."

Bernard RILEY

Jr./Jr.

2001: After starting most of 2000 at a defensive tackle spot, Riley figures to start there again as a junior in 2001.

2000: Riley was a part-time starter at defensive tackle as a sophomore in 2000. He started 7 games in 2000 (Arizona, Oregon, Stanford, California, Arizona State, Washington State and UCLA) and was Ryan Nielsen's often-used backup in the other contests. He also was a backup long snapper. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 11 games (he missed the Oregon State outing after spraining his left ankle against San Jose State), he had 20 tackles, including 3 for losses of 5 yards, plus he recovered a fumble (against Arizona) and blocked a field goal (against Colorado). He made 5 tackles against Notre Dame, 3 versus California and 2 against Penn State, Colorado (with the blocked field goal), Arizona (with the fumble recovery), Oregon and UCLA.

1999: Riley backed up Ryan Nielsen at defensive tackle and was used primarily in short yardage situations as a freshman in 1999, his first year at USC. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 11 games (all but the Louisiana Tech contest), he made 5 tackles. He had 2 stops each against California and Arizona State.

HIGH SCHOOL: He made the 1998 USA Today All-USA first team, Parade All-American, Super Prep All-American, Student Sports All-American, Super Prep National 50, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, ESPN Top 100, The Sporting News 101 Prime Prospects, Rivalnet Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team (unanimous selection), Orange County Register Fab 15 first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 first team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County Lineman MVP, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team first team, Orange County Player of the Year and All-Sunset League Defensive MVP as a senior at Los Alamitos (Calif.) High. In 1998, he had 114 tackles (49 solo), 29 tackles for losses, 9 sacks and 5 deflections despite playing with a broken finger and separated shoulder. He also played linebacker and fullback. Los Alamitos went 12-1 and was a CIF Division I semifinalist.

As a 1997 junior, he was picked to the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team and Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team second team while making 107 tackles (57 solo), 19 tackles for losses, 9 sacks and 4 deflections. He also rushed for 7 touchdowns as a fullback in goal line situations.

During his 1996 sophomore season, he once had 4 interceptions in a game. Current Trojan Mike Patterson also prepped at Los Alamitos.

PERSONAL: He's an education major at USC. He and 3 of his Trojan teammates—Steve Stevenson, Malcolm Wooldridge and Kyle Matthews—received national attention for coming to the aid of a USC student who fell out of her apartment window on Sept. 1, 2000 and became impaled on the spikes of a security fence. His sports hero is NFL star defensive lineman John Randle.

BERNARD RILEY ON: Helping rescue the USC student who fell out her window and became impaled: "We rushed out, saw her and went over to hold her up by her shoulders so the bars wouldn't go further into her. She was screaming right into my face, and I'm trying to tell her everything was all right. But I didn't know how much more I could take. We had had a long practice that day and I didn't know how much longer I could hold out. It was just instinct, the same things you use in football. You see something happen and you react."

Jacob ROGERS

6-6 • 290
So.*/Jr.

#77

2001: Rogers, who gained valuable experience as a backup in 2000, is in contention for key playing time at the left offensive tackle spot in 2001. He missed 2001 spring practice while recovering from 2000 shoulder surgery.

2000: Rogers backed up Brent McCaffrey at left offensive tackle as a redshirt freshman in 2000 and saw considerable action in all 12 games at that spot and on special teams. He was moved from tight end to offensive tackle in 2000 spring drills. After the season, he had surgery to repair a separating right shoulder. He had arthroscopic surgery to remove cartilage from his right hip and right shoulder following 2000 spring practice.

1999: Rogers redshirted as a freshman tight end in 1999, his first year at USC. He also was available as a punter. He had surgery on a dislocating left shoulder late in the season. To get a jump on his college career, he entered USC in the spring of 1999 and participated in spring drills.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the West first team, Orange Country Register Fab 15 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100 and Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention as a senior at Oxnard (Calif.) High. In 1998, he had 39 receptions for 412 yards (10.6 avg.) and 4 TDs, despite missing the last 4 games of the season with a separated shoulder. He also played defensive end, linebacker and punter (he averaged more than 40 yards per punt).

As a 1997 junior, he caught 17 passes for 201 yards (11.8 avg.) and 5 TDs. In his career, he had 62 catches for 712 yards (11.5 avg.). He played quarterback as a 1995 freshman.

He also played basketball at Oxnard, averaging 10 rebounds a game. Current Trojans Chad Pierson and Bobby Otani also prepped at Oxnard.

PERSONAL: He's majoring in public policy and management at USC.

Antuan SIMMONS

Cornerback

5-10 • 195

CAREER: In his 3-year career, Simmons has blocked 6 kicks (4 field goals, 1 PAT and 1 punt) and intercepted 7 passes.

2001: Simmons could be the comeback story in college football in 2001. The senior, who has a proven record as a 3-year starting cornerback, appears to have bounced back from a serious illness in 2000 and has worked his way back into the playing rotation in 2001.

2000: Simmons battled a life-threatening illness in 2000, but he overcame the adversity. He missed 2000 spring practice while recovering from back surgery. During followup from the back surgery, doctors discovered a benign abdominal tumor in May which required 2 surgeries; he was hospitalized for 6 weeks (coming close to death 3 times and losing 40 pounds). He redshirted the 2000 season while recuperating (he had additional surgery in November for a hernia).

1999: Simmons started for his third season at left cornerback as a junior in 1999. Overall in 1999 while starting USC's first 10 games, he made 49 tackles (fifth on USC), including 6 for losses of 22 yards (with 2 sacks for minus 9 yards), 10 deflections, 2 fumble recoveries (against Arizona, which he returned for a 44-yard TD, and Stanford), 1 forced fumble (versus Stanford), 3 interceptions (2 against Stanford, which led to a USC field goal and TD, and 1 at California) which he returned 44 yards (14.7 avg.) and 3 blocked kicks (a field goal and PAT at Notre Dame and a field goal against Arizona State). He was a 1999 Football News All-American honorable mention pick. He had surgery for a herniated disk in his lower back prior to the UCLA game, though, and missed USC's last 2 games (UCLA and Louisiana Tech) of 1999.

He had a team-best 5 tackles (including a sack) at Hawaii (along with a deflection). He added 4 stops and 2 deflections against San Diego State, then 6 tackles each versus Oregon and Oregon State. At Arizona, he had 5 stops and returned a fumble 44 yards for a TD. He had 9 tackles at Notre Dame (1 for a loss) and blocked 2 kicks (a field goal and PAT). Against Stanford, he intercepted 2 passes (leading to a USC field goal and touchdown) and recovered a fumble which he forced to go along with his 3 tackles. He had 3 stops (1 for a loss) and an interception in the end zone at California. Against Arizona State, he had 2 tackles (with a 7-yard sack), a deflection and a blocked field goal. He made 6 stops (1 for a loss) and broke up a pass at Washington State despite hampered by the back injury.

1998: Simmons played a dramatic role for USC at cornerback and on special teams as a 1998 sophomore. He started 5 games (California, Oregon, Washington, Stanford and UCLA) and was Ken Haslip's often-used backup in the others (he also came in during extra defensive back situations). Overall in 1998 while appearing in all 13 games, he made 55 tackles, including 2 for losses of 7 yards (with 2 sacks for minus 5 yards), plus he had 3 interceptions which he returned 119 yards (39.7 avg.) with 2 TDs, broke up 14 passes, forced a fumble and blocked 3 kicks. He was named to the 1998 All-Pac-10 second team and 3 times was the Pac-10's Player of the Week. He was moved to cornerback in 1998 after starting at rover linebacker and then strong safety in 1997. After the season, he had surgery to remove torn cartilage from his left ankle.

Against Purdue, he was all over the field, tying for the team lead in tackles (9), blocking a field goal, intercepting a pass and forcing a fumble that USC recovered and converted to a TD (he was named Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week for his performance). He then had 2 tackles against San Diego State, 4 (2 for losses) against Oregon State and 3 at Florida State. Against Arizona State, he blocked a fourth quarter punt which Ifeanyi Ohalete ran back 14 yards for the decisive TD (Simmons was named Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week). He added 9 stops against California, 2 at Washington State and 6 at Oregon. He was spectacular against Washington, earning his second Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week honors in 1998 with 8 tackles, 6 deflections and 2 interceptions (he returned both for fourth-quarter TDs of 29 and 90 yards to tie a Pac-10 and USC game record for most scoring picks). He made 6 tackles and blocked a field goal at Stanford. He had 1 stop at UCLA and 2 versus Notre Dame and TCU in the Sun Bowl.

1997: Simmons made quite an impact as just a first-year freshman in 1997. After backing up David Gibson at the rover linebacker spot in the Florida State opener, he started USC's last 10 games of 1997, the first 5 at rover linebacker and then the last 5 at strong safety. He was named to the 1997 Sporting News Freshman All-American first team. Overall while appearing in all 11 games in 1997, he made 71 tackles (fourth on USC), including 8 for losses of 43 yards (with 4 sacks for minus 32 yards), plus had 1 interception (at Arizona State) which he ran back for 38 yards, 3 deflections, 1 fumble recovery (against UNLV) and 1 forced fumble (at Arizona State). He led the Trojans in tackles in 3 games (Washington State, UNLV and Stanford).

He had 4 stops against Florida State, a game-high 11 tackles (1 for a loss) versus Washington State, 3 stops (with a sack) and a deflection at California, a team-high 8 tackles (including a 13-yard sack), a fumble recovery and a deflection versus UNLV, 8 tackles (2 for losses, with a sack), a forced fumble and an interception (which he returned 38 yards) at Arizona State, 7 tackles (1 for a loss) at Notre Dame, 5 stops versus Oregon, 8 tackles (with a sack) at Washington, a team-high 9 tackles against Stanford, and then 4 stops against both Oregon State and UCLA (1 for a loss).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1996 Prep Star All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Prep Star Best in the West, and Sacramento Bee All-Area as a senior at Valley High in Sacramento (Calif.). As a quarterback in 1996, he passed for 1,150 yards and ran for 450 yards with 22 TDs. He once ran for a 94-yard score. In another game, he ran for 3 TDs and passed for 2 more.

As a 1995 junior, he made Cal-Hi Sports All-State Junior second team, Sacramento Bee All-Area, All-Metro and All-League as he rushed for 884 yards and 8 TDs on offense and posted 33 tackles and 5 interceptions on defense.

He also ran track at Valley, with a best of 10.5 in the 100 meters.

PERSONAL: He's a sociology major at USC. He was born in Memphis, Tenn. His sports idol is Deion Sanders. He has a 6-year-old daughter, Terisha.

ANTUAN SIMMONS ON: His battle with an abdominal tumor: "I didn't feel sick, so I wasn't really stressed at all...I wasn't scared of the actual surgery. It hurt more that I couldn't play in 2000. I just wanted to get the tumor out and go on with my life...I was only supposed to be in the hospital four or five days. I ended up being there six weeks. I almost passed away a few times....First, after the surgery, I couldn't digest any food. I had a blockage in my intestine. Then I developed a big blood clot in my stomach. Then my lungs filled up with fluid. Then a lot of fluid gathered around my heart. When I laid on my back, I couldn't breathe...That's when it became a nightmare. I never knew I could feel like that...There were times in that hospital when I didn't know what was going on, when I was too weak to even turn around in bed. The first surgery took a lot of hours, but I was okay afterward. But after the second surgery, I was wiped out. I kept asking for medicine to put me asleep, because I didn't want to be awake...I didn't want to have all that time to look at the ceiling and think...It was so hard not to cry. I guess I didn't really realized how bad things were until the doctor came in and told me I almost passed, that I came close two or three times after the second surgery...Then there was the first time I saw the incision on my stomach. I saw that, with all those staples in it, and then I saw how bloated my stomach was, that was tough...I was like, 'Look at me.' My chest was sunk in, my jaw was sunk in. I had a big scar on my stomach...But the toughest times were in the mornings, when I'd be alone, just lying there. And that's all I had to do, just lay there. And wonder...I have a little daughter, so I was always thinking how I had to get back to her. I knew I couldn't leave my little girl...I'd been in the hospital so long, I was almost scared to leave. I didn't know if I was ready...When I got home, I didn't want to be seen. My family and friends came around and it lifted my spirits...I had so much going for me. I had everything in the palm of my hand. And just like that, it was all gone...If I had never injured my back (which led to the discovery of his tumor), I probably would already be in the NFL, but the doctors told me my cancer probably would have turned malignant. It makes you feel very fortunate...I have so many things to be thankful for. God has a funny way of working things out...I got a lot of support from my family and friends on the team. I also got a lot of support from USC. The Trojan Family feels real now. People came out of the woodwork, people I don't even know, to see me and to help my mom...I started rehabbing in January and all I can remember is that I threw up a lot. My energy, it just wasn't there. I kept asking myself, 'Why the hell did I choose this sport? Why did it have to be something as difficult as football?' But I love the game. I love to play it. So I just kept on chipping away...I learned you can't take anything for granted. You don't live life like you're invincible. You slow down. I think I'm more sensitive to other people now, to their feelings. You pay more attention to the people around you. And I don't complain about the little things like I used to. You know, the nagging little football injuries and stuff. I guess what I went through made me appreciate what I have...I'm going to make sure I get my degree. I tell the younger guys, 'Go to class and get your degree.' They don't believe it's me talking. I wasn't that way before. I was just football, forget class. Class wasn't one of my main priorities...I actually look forward to practices now. I wasn't supposed to be out in spring football practice so soon, but the doctors saw I was progressing on my conditioning faster than they thought, so they gave me the okay...At first, I didn't really want to participate in the tackling drills. My first time, one of the DBs in front of me got run over. On my first turn, it wasn't one of the best tackles I ever made. But I gave the runner a pop and got him to the ground...I'll probably be nervous about proving myself again. I know my teammates will be watching me and comparing me to how I was then with how I am now...But I'll be back!"

Switching from safety to cornerback in 1998: "My experience at safety did help me out on the corner—reading offenses, knowing what to expect in certain formations...Actually, it was harder playing safety. It's harder to guard a receiver because he can go in and out, unlike at corner where you can use the sideline. So working as a safety was a big help...I feel I'm on my way to being a really good corner. It takes a lot mentally, and repetition...Physically, I can play with anybody but mental lapses have hurt me. I guess I get complacent and start daydreaming...It's little things, like making mental mistakes here and there. I have to tighten up my game...Coach (Dennis) Thurman always tells us a cornerback has to have the shortest memory on the field. If you think about a play that you got beat on, you'll get beat again. Every play is a new play...I'd rather they throw my way. I like to compete. They're making my highlight film is the way I like to look at it."

His goal: "Hopefully I can win the Thorpe Award (given to the nation's top defensive back). I want to be one of the candidates for the Thorpe Award before I leave USC. It takes so much to have it happen. Your team has to win. The more your team wins, the more 'pub' you get. I'm going to work hard to get better and make it happen."

Blocking kicks: "You never know when a blocker is going to blow an assignment, so you've got to come hard every time. I see guys pointing at me saying, 'There's No. 6.' But if they're going to focus on trying to block me, that's going to open things for other guys."

Playing rover linebacker in 1997: "I played close to the line and ended up squaring off against tight ends, offensive linemen and fullbacks. I could usually use my athleticism to beat the block and I like mixing it up with the bigger guys. But if an offensive lineman got a hold of me, it was pretty much over."

Choosing USC: "I knew if I came to USC that I would have to compete every day for my position. If a person has to compete, that's going to make them better. If something is given to somebody, they're not going to work as hard to keep it."

His future plans: "It would be nice to play in the NFL, but so much has to happen between now and then. I would like to give it a shot, but I realize that there is more to life than football...I'd like to work with underprivileged kids. So many kids don't have a lot of opportunities and access that others do. I would like to be able to change some of that. I feel like I can do something."

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC head coach Pete Carroll: "We're stunned he was even out at spring practice, let alone improving so rapidly. He really jumped right back into it. He was hitting the heck out of people and making plays...He's well ahead of where we thought he would be. We didn't think he would do much of anything in the spring."

His mother, Faye Simmons: "I'm amazed and I thank God. I knew he could recover and play football again, but I didn't think he could get back so fast. What we went through was scary, very scary. We almost lost him...If he hadn't gone for that follow-up exam on his back, we never would have found out about the tumor. God works in mysterious ways...After the surgery, it was so hard to see him that way. I still think about it all the time and cry. I told him I was not leaving L.A. to go home to Sacramento until we were leaving together. And I didn't."

Steve Bisheff, Orange County Register: "No one who knew him could believe this. Not after seeing him lay in that ICU hospital bed for six agonizing weeks, his once-muscular body emaciated, only the small, purring machine next to him allowing him to breathe. Not after they had to remove two softball-sized tumors from his stomach, then perform another major surgery to control his internal bleeding. Not after hearing that doctor tell him he came perilously close to dying not once, but two or three times. And yet, here he was, just a few short months later, his No. 6 jersey suddenly back in the middle of all the whirling action on USC's football practice field during spring drills. Antuan Simmons knocking down passes. Antuan Simmons knocking down ballcarriers. Antuan Simmons knocking down death...Forget about that phony network TV show. Antuan Simmons is the ultimate survivor."

USC cornerback Kris Richard: "Antuan intimidates receivers. You can see it on their faces that they don't want to go against him. The defense has the edge if a receiver can't get off the line...I definitely look up to him. He's a leader of the secondary. He motivates guys, pulls guys to the side and kind of gives his own teaching session. His experience is valuable."

Former USC wide receiver R. Jay Soward: "He surprised me a lot. He came out the first day of practice and talked to me a little. I had to say, 'I'll show him. Little boy, welcome to the big leagues.' And I ran right by him. But he came back and didn't back off."

A.J. SINGLE

Center

6-2 • 265
Fr.*/So.

#53

2001: Single was moved from linebacker to center in 2001 spring drills and will push for backup duty there as a redshirt freshman in 2001.

2000: Single redshirted as a freshman linebacker and defensive end in 2000, his first year at USC. He was hampered by a left knee sprain suffered in 2000 fall drills.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1999 honors included Super Prep All-American, Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tom Lemming All-West, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF San Diego first team, San Diego Scholar-Athlete of the Year and All-Metro League Defensive MVP as a senior linebacker and tight end at Bonita Vista High in Chula Vista (Calif.). He had 85 tackles, 22 tackles for losses, a school-record 15 sacks, 6 forced fumbles and 4 fumble recoveries in 1999.

As a 1998 junior, he made All-County and All-Metro League, notching 110 tackles and 13 sacks and catching 4 TDs.

He had 10 sacks as a 1997 sophomore.

He also played basketball at Bonita Vista.

PERSONAL: His initials stand for Alexander James. He was born in Evanston, Ill. His father, Doug, lettered in football at Stanford in 1971 and 1972 (the 1971 team won the Rose Bowl), then was Stanford's offensive line coach for 3 years (1976-78) before serving as athletic director at Northwestern and SMU.

Nate STEINBACHER

Offensive Tackle

6-5 • 300
So.*/Jr.

#71

2001: Steinbacher will compete for time at the left offensive tackle spot as a sophomore in 2001. He missed some of 2001 spring practice with an ankle sprain. He also is a shot putter for USC's track team.

2000: Steinbacher was a backup right offensive tackle behind Faaesea Mailo and backup right offensive guard behind Zach Wilson, as well as a special teams players, as a redshirt freshman in 2000. He appeared briefly in 2 games (California and Arizona State) in 2000.

1999: Steinbacher redshirted as a freshman offensive tackle in 1999, his first year at USC.

TRACK: Steinbacher is a shot putter for the USC track team. In the spring of 2001, he competed in 2 meets, placing eighth at the Long Beach Relays (in a personal-best 44-8 ¼) and ninth at the Carl Rossi Relays (38-10 ½).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-Sunset League first team as a senior at Esperanza High in Anaheim (Calif.). He was a 2-year starter on the offensive line.

As a 1995 freshman, he attended Costa Mesa (Calif.) High and was on the varsity golf team.

PERSONAL: His sports hero is ex-USC All-American and NFL star offensive tackle Tony Boselli.

Steve STEVENSON

Wide Receiver

Jr./Jr.

2001: Stevenson, a reliable and experienced junior wide receiver, will battle for key playing time in 2001.

2000: Stevenson was an often-used backup to Kareem Kelly at wide receiver (split end), as well as a special teams player, as a sophomore in 2000. He even started 2 games (California and Washington State). Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he caught 15 passes for 283 yards (team-high 18.9 avg.) with 2 TDs. He also returned 3 kickoffs for 43 yards (14.3 avg.), picked up a blocked punt and ran it 3 yards for a TD (at Arizona State) and made 3 tackles.

His only reception against San Jose State (a 28-yarder) proved crucial in USC's game-winning scoring drive (he also returned a pair of kickoffs for 31 yards). He had a career-high 4 catches for 49 yards against Arizona, then a 10-yard grab at Stanford and 2 catches for 18 yards versus California. Against Washington State, he equalled his career best in catches (4) for a career-high 77 yards, including getting his first Trojan TD grab (a 30-yarder). He then had 2 catches for 70 yards at UCLA, with a career-long 57-yard TD, and 1 reception for 31 yards against Notre Dame.

1999: Stevenson was an often-used reserve freshman wide receiver in 1999, his first year at USC. He appeared in 11 games in 1999 (all but the San Diego State contest, which he missed because of a strained left big toe suffered in practice) and even started at Oregon, becoming the first freshman since Johnnie Morton in 1990 and the first true freshman since Randy Tanner in 1984 to start for USC at wide receiver. Overall in 1999, he had 6 catches for 85 yards (14.2 avg.) and returned 1 kickoff for 13 yards (at Hawaii). He had 2 receptions for a then-career-high 51 yards at Oregon. He threw a key block to spring Kareem Kelly for a 72-yard TD catch at California.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named a 1998 Super Prep All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, ESPN Top 100, Rivalnet Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West first team, Orange County Register Fab 15 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division VII Offensive MVP, Los Angeles Times All-San Gabriel Valley, San Gabriel Valley Tribune All-Valley MVP and All-Miramonte League MVP as a senior at Charter Oak High in Covina (Calif.). In 1998, he had 35 receptions for 758 yards (21.7 avg.) and 10 TDs as a wide receiver, 743 yards on 100 carries (7.4 avg.) with 14 TDs as a running back and 89 tackles, 3 sacks, 6 interceptions, 5 deflections and 1 blocked punt on defense. He also returned 10 kickoffs for 300 yards (30.0 avg.) with 1 TD and 11 punts for 119 yards (10.8 avg.). He scored 16 touchdowns during Charter Oak's playoff run to the CIF Division VII championship.

As a 1997 junior, he made the All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division VI first team, San Gabriel Valley Tribune All-Valley and All-Miramonte League first team while catching 62 passes for 1,429 yards (23.0 avg.) and 12 scores on offense and 47 tackles, 4 interceptions and 5 deflections on defense.

He had 11 catches for 296 yards (26.9 avg.) and 5 scores as a 1996 sophomore, plus 24 tackles, 5 interceptions, 1 deflection on defense and 5 kickoff returns for 135 yards (27.0 avg.) and 1 TD while earning All-Miramonte League first team honors. In his career, he blocked 14 kicks, scored touchdowns of 80-plus yards 5 times, once scored 6 TDs in a game, and averaged 35.0 yards on kickoff returns and 15.0 yards on punt returns. He set school game, season and career records for most receptions, receiving yards, receiving touchdowns and blocked kicks. Current Trojan David Boler also prepped at Charter Oak.

He also was on Charter Oak's track team, where he competed in the 100 meters (10.9 best), long jump and triple jump, and basketball team (earning All-League at forward).

PERSONAL: He's majoring in social science education at USC. He and 3 of his Trojan teammates—Bernard Riley, Malcolm Wooldridge and Kyle Matthews—received national attention for coming to the aid of a USC student who fell out of her apartment window on Sept. 1, 2000 and became impaled on the spikes of a security fence.

STEVE STEVENSON ON: Being a leader: "I want to be called out so I can go out there and prove I can perform. I want that challenge. It's something I like, being a leader. That is my best quality. I'm a leader vocally, emotionally, whatever way at the time to show what I can do."

Helping rescue the USC student who fell out her window and became impaled: "It didn't look real. We all kind of went into shock. But we reacted and just did what anybody would do."

Playing right away as a freshman: "I wouldn't call it pressure. I would call it a challenge."

Frank STRONG

Sr./Sr.

CAREER: With 540 career yards in kickoff returns, Strong is 14th on USC's all-time list.

2001: Strong could be a rare 2-way player as a senior in 2001. He could re-assume the starting free safety job he held during some of 2000 and he also might see action at tailback, the position he played earlier in his career (he was moved there towards the end of 2001 spring drills). He also might return kickoffs once again.

2000: Strong spent most of his 2000 junior season backing up Ifeanyi Ohalete and then DeShaun Hill at free safety, but he ended up starting USC's final 2 games at that spot (UCLA and Notre Dame). He also made an impact on special teams. Overall in 2000 while appearing in all 12 games, he had 20 tackles, 4 deflections, 1 interception (at Arizona State) which he returned 67 yards, 1 forced fumble (against California, which USC recovered to set up a field goal) and 1 blocked punt (against Penn State, which USC returned for a TD). He also led USC in kickoff returns with 25 for 540 yards (21.6 avg.) and returned 6 punts for 79 yards (13.2 avg.).

He had 6 tackles at UCLA (tied for the team high), 3 at Arizona State (plus the interception, the first of his career) and 2 against Oregon and Notre Dame. Against Penn State, he was involved in USC's first TD of the season when he blocked a punt which Sandy Fletcher returned for a score 2:15 into the game. He returned 5 kickoffs against California for 85 yards, 4 against both Notre Dame (122 yards) and Oregon (94 yards), and 3 at UCLA for 72 yards.

1999: Strong began his 1999 sophomore season as a reserve tailback and saw some action there and on special teams, but he was moved to free safety prior to the mid-season Stanford game and saw time there as the backup to Ifeanyi Ohalete. Overall in 1999 while appearing in 9 games (all but the San Diego State, California and Louisiana Tech contests), he had 7 carries for 27 yards (3.9 avg.) and 3 catches for 34 yards (11.3 avg.) on offense and 1 tackle on defense (versus UCLA). He ran for 25 yards on 6 tries at Hawaii and had 2 catches for 22 yards at Oregon State. He missed the San Diego State game with a bruised right thigh suffered in practice.

1998: Strong, who spent most of his 1998 freshman season as a reserve tailback, became just the fourth USC first-year freshman to start at tailback (Charles White, Scott Lockwood and Malaefou MacKenzie were the others) when he did so for an injured Chad Morton against California. He also played on special teams. Overall in 1998 while appearing in 11 games (all but Washington and UCLA), he ran for 193 yards on 37 carries (5.2 avg.) and caught 3 passes for 22 yards (7.3 avg.). He had a game-best 82 rushing yards at Florida State, including a 73-yard burst to set up USC's TD (he won USC's Jack Oakie "Rise and Shine" Award for the longest run of the year), and added 45 yards on 12 tries against California. However, he lost 3 fumbles in 1998, which caused his playing time to decrease. He also made 1 tackle (against Purdue).

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1997 honors included Prep Star All-American, ESPN/National Recruiting Advisor All-American third team, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team and All-San Joaquin Athletic Association MVP as a senior at Franklin High in Stockton (Calif.). He ran for 1,460 yards and 39 TDs on offense and had 100-plus tackles and 4 interceptions (2 returned for TDs) as a linebacker on defense. He also was the punter and placekicker and returned kickoffs (including 6 for scores). Franklin went 10-0 in 1997. He also played basketball. Current Trojan Chris Cash also prepped at Franklin.

He attended St. Mary's High in Stockton before that. As a 1996 junior at St. Mary's, he was named a Student Sports Junior All-American, Cal-Hi Sports Junior All-State first team, All-Area and All-League as he ran for 1,600 yards with 22 TDs and caught 17 passes for 457 yards (26.9 avg.) and 7 TDs. Current Trojan Kevin Arbet also prepped at St. Mary's.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His sports hero is Jackie Robinson.

FRANK STRONG ON: Confidence: "It's not actually convincing the coaches, it's convincing myself that I can play with these high-level athletes. I think it has boosted my confidence to be out there and play with the big boys because it's a big jump from high school to college."

Eric TORRES

Offensive Tackle

So.*/Jr.

#66

2001: Torres will contend for starting time at the left offensive tackle spot as a sophomore in 2001. He also can slide over to play guard.

2000: Torres backed up Lenny Vandermade and then Trevor Roberts left offensive guard, and was on special teams, as a redshirt freshman in 2000. He appeared in 11 games in 2000 (all but Penn State).

1999: Torres redshirted as a freshman offensive tackle in 1999, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was selected to the 1998 Super Prep All-Farwest, Orange County Register Fab 15 third team, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention and All-Mission League teams as a senior at Bishop Montgomery High in Torrance (Calif.). He played offensive line, tight end (5 catches for 100-plus yards), linebacker and defensive end. Current Trojan Henry Wallace also prepped at Bishop Montgomery.

He also played basketball at Bishop Montgomery, once scoring 18 points in a game.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC. His sports hero is ex-USC offensive tackle and NFL Hall of Famer Anthony Munoz. He enjoys playing pool.

Kenechi UDEZE

Defensive Tackle

Fr.*/So.

#94

2001: Udeze will compete for playing time at a defensive tackle spot as a redshirt freshman in 2001.

2000: Udeze redshirted as a freshman defensive tackle in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: His 1999 honors included Super Prep All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Orange County Register Fab 15 honorable mention, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Las Vegas Sun Super 11 honorable mention, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Small Schools first team, All-CIF Division XI first team, Los Angeles Times All-Central City first team and All-Camino Real League Defensive MVP as a senior two-way lineman at Verbum Dei High in Los Angeles (Calif.). He made 88 tackles, 24 tackles for losses, 13 sacks, 2 forced fumbles and 3 blocked kicks in 1999.

As a 1998 junior, he posted 79 tackles and 14 sacks on defense and did not allow a sack on offense.

He also was a shot putter on Verbum Dei's track team, with a best of 56-7.

PERSONAL: His nickname, "BKU," stands for Big Kenechi Udeze. His sports heroes are NFL star defensive linemen Warren Sapp and Michael Strahan.

Lenny VANDERMADE

Center

So.*/Jr.

2001: Just a sophomore, Vandermade returns as the starting center in 2001 and is one of the nation's top young offensive linemen.

2000: As just a redshirt freshman in 2000, Vandermade did an exceptional job while starting all season, the first 5 games at left offensive guard (for an injured Trevor Roberts) and then the final 7 contests at center (for an injured Eric Denmon). He was named to the 2000 Freshman All-American first teams by The Sporting News and Football News.

1999: Vandermade redshirted as a freshman offensive lineman in 1999, his first year at USC. He began the year as a center, but by mid-season he was backing up Zach Wilson at right offensive guard (he never got into a game).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1998 Super Prep All-American, USA Today All-USA honorable mention, Prep Star Dream Team Top 100, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention, Orange County Register Fab 15 second team, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, Cal-Hi Sports All-State first team, All-CIF Southern Section first team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County, Orange County Register All-Orange County first team and All-South Coast League first team as a senior at Mater Dei High in Santa Ana (Calif.). He did not allow a sack in 1998 as a left offensive tackle. On defense, he had 26 tackles with 2 sacks. Mater Dei went 13-1, won the CIF Division I championship and was ranked No. 2 nationally by USA Today.

As a 1997 junior, he was Cal-Hi Sports All-State Underclass first team, All-CIF Southern Section second team, All-CIF Division I first team, Los Angeles Times All-Orange County first team, Orange County Register All-Orange County second team and All-South Coast League first team.

He made the Cal-Hi Sports All-State Sophomore first team and All-South Coast League second team as a 1996 sophomore as Mater Dei went 14-0, won the CIF Division I title and was named national champion by USA Today. He earned at least a 90% blocking grade in all of his games as a junior and senior. He also posted 78 career tackles (7 were sacks). A 3-year starter, Mater Dei went 40-2 during that time. Current Trojans Matt Grootegoed and Matt Leinart also prepped at Mater Dei.

PERSONAL: He's an international relations major at USC. His sports hero is NFL star wide receiver Jerry Rice.

LENNY VANDERMADE ON: His first action as a Trojan (starting versus Penn State in 2000): "I was just drawing blanks. I didn't know what was going on. I remember not being able to catch my breath and that things were just flying around. But once I got settled in, then it was just football. I just played the game and it was just another game."

Redshirting: "I'm very happy that I had the redshirt year. You always want to play, but I needed to get stronger and learn the offense better. I know the offense, but I didn't have a feel for it. Now, I have a feel for it and I know what everyone is doing."

College versus high school football: "College players are a whole lot faster and everyone is bigger, too. Technique becomes that much more important. I consider myself more of a technician, but you also have to have a little bit of attitude out there."

John WALL

Placekicker

5-8 • 175
So./So.

2001: Wall, who got some valuable placekicking action as a freshman in 2000, could compete for the job again as a sophomore in 2001 if he fully recuperates from a knee injury he suffered late in 2000.

2000: After being beaten out for the placekicking job in 2000 fall drills by David Newbury and then expecting to redshirt, Wall took over for a struggling Newbury in the middle of USC's fifth game of 2000 (Arizona). Overall in 2000 while appearing in 5 games (Arizona, Oregon, Stanford, California and Arizona State), he nailed all 5 of his field goals (all within 27 yards), but was 9-of-14 on PATs (the 5 misses were blocked). However, he sat out USC's final 3 contests with injuries: he missed the Washington State and UCLA games with a groin injury and the Notre Dame contest with a torn right knee ligament suffered during the week.

In his debut against Arizona, he assumed the placekicking duties in the second half from Newbury and nailed a 27-yard field goal on his first kick as a Trojan (he had a PAT kick blocked). He hit his only field goal attempt (a 25-yarder) and both PATs against Oregon, then made a 22-yard field goal (but had 2 of his 3 PATs blocked) at Stanford and a 25-yard field goal (1 of is 2 PATs was blocked) against California. He hit a 23-yard field goal in the first overtime at Arizona State and made 5-of-6 PATs (the last one was blocked).

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Prep Star All-American, Student Sports All-State second team, All-Los Angeles City first team, Los Angeles Times All-Valley second team and Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team pick as a senior placekicker at Birmingham High in Van Nuys (Calif.). He hit 8-of-12 field goals (with a long of 51 yards) and 15-of-15 PATs in 1999, and averaged 42.3 yards as a punter.

As a 1998 junior, he was named to the Student Sports Junior All-American, All-Los Angeles City first team and Los Angeles Daily News All-Valley first team while connecting on 15-of-23 field goals (long of 53 yards) and averaging 34.0 yards per punt.

He made 4-of-5 field goals as a 1997 sophomore. In his career, he was 27-of-40 on field goals (hitting 6-of-7 from 50-plus yards) and 89-of-90 on PATs. In one game, he kicked field goals of 53, 51 and 50 yards. Current Trojan John Walker also prepped at Birmingham.

He also was a goalkeeper on Birmingham's soccer team, earning All-League MVP honors as a junior and recording 29 shutouts in his career. He was a member of the U.S. Youth National Under-17 Team and competed several times overseas.

PERSONAL: He knows sign language and volunteers with deaf and hearing impaired youth programs.

JOHN WALL ON: His mental approach to kicking: "I visualize everything before, the motions and everything. Right before I go out there, I clear my mind of everything. I talk with my close friends on the team and just do something to relax...I think I handle pressure pretty well."

Playing as a true freshman: "I was speechless. I was kind of shocked. I didn't think it would happen then. I had redshirting in my mind. I was just excited. I didn't think my time would come that soon."

Kicking in college versus high school: "It's not that big of an adjustment. Getting elevation on your kicks is the biggest adjustment. The way you angle your leg, the way you approach the ball is all different...When it comes to kicking, I'm not really nervous. It's just bigger scenery in college. That's the only difference."

His demeanor: "Everyone says I'm quiet around the team. But then all of a sudden I'll have an outburtst. All of a sudden a quiet kid comes out of nowhere...Before games, people think I'm crazy. Some of the guys look at me funny...I always joke around a lot. When I'm not at practice, I'm a totally different person."

Playing goalkeeper in soccer, despite being just 5-8: "When I used to tell people I was a goalie, they would say, 'Yeah, right.' It's not the normal size, but I can jump. A lot of people don't think I play football either. They say, 'No, you're too small.'"

WHAT OTHERS SAY: USC kicker David Newbury: "He has a little something, a cocky attitude. But you have to if you're a kicker. John's confident. He goes out there with the attitude that he's going to bury the kick...I'm his biggest supporter. He'll be okay. He has a really good head."

2001: Wallace will push for playing time as a backup weakside linebacker as a senior in 2001.

2000: Wallace was a reserve weakside linebacker and played on special teams as a junior in 2000. Overall in 2000 while appearing in 10 games (all but Arizona and Arizona State), he made 1 tackle (versus Penn State).

1999: Wallace served as a backup linebacker and key special teamer as a sophomore in 1999. Overall in 1999 while appearing in all 12 games, he made 8 tackles (including 2 against Hawaii and Oregon State).

1998: Wallace was a reserve linebacker and special teams player as a redshirt freshman in 1998. Overall in 1998 while appearing in all 13 games, he made 2 tackles and, as the up-man on the kickoff return team, returned 1 short kickoff 9 yards (against Purdue). He was moved from fullback in 1998 fall drills.

1997: Wallace redshirted as a freshman fullback in 1997, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1996 Prep Star All-Pac-10 Region, South Bay Daily Breeze All-South Bay second team and All-Mission League first team choice as a senior at Bishop Montgomery High in Torrance (Calif.). In 1996, he ran for 1,110 yards on 192 carries (5.8 avg.) with 7 TDs. He once ran for 250 yards in a game.

He also started as a 1995 junior. Current Trojan Eric Torres also prepped at Bishop Montgomery.

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. His hobby is drawing. His sports idol is Michael Jordan.

2000: Watkins redshirted as a freshman offensive guard and center in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Prep Star All-American, Super Prep All-Farwest, Tacoma News Tribune Western 100, All-CIF San Diego first team, All-County, All-Conference and All-Grossmont South League pick as a senior two-way lineman at Helix High in La Mesa (Calif.).

As a 1998 junior, he made All-CIF San Diego first team, All-County and All-Grossmont South League. Helix was the CIF San Diego Section champion in 1998.

He also was a shot putter and discus thrower on the Helix track team, with bests of 59-11 and 172-0, respectively.

TRACK: Watkins is a shot putter for the USC track team. He redshirted in the spring of 2001.

PERSONAL: His sports hero is Jackie Robinson.

Lee WEBB

Linebacker

#35

2001: Webb, a redshirt freshman, was switched from fullback to middle linebacker in 2001 spring drills and did well enough that he will compete for backup duty there.

2000: Webb redshirted as a freshman fullback in 2000, his first year at USC.

HIGH SCHOOL: He earned 1999 Prep Star All-Western, All-L.A. City first team, Los Angeles Times All-Central City Lineman of the Year and All-League honors as a senior at Crenshaw High in Los Angeles (Calif.). In 1999, he ran for more than 1,100 yards with 20 TDs as a fullback and also played defensive line and linebacker. In one game, he ran for more than 200 yards.

As a 1998 junior, he earned All-League notice when he made 136 tackles, 45 tackles for losses and 19 sacks.

Jamaal WILLIAMS

Defensive End

6-4 • 270
Fr.*/So.

#97

2000: Williams redshirted as a freshman defensive end in 2000, his first year at USC. He suffered a broken right leg in 2000 fall drills which slowed him throughout 2000.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was a 1999 Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western, Tom Lemming All-West, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best in the West honorable mention and All-City pick as a senior defensive lineman at St. Augustine High in San Diego (Calif.). He broke his right leg in the first game of 1999 (only his second season playing football) and missed the rest of the year.

He also played basketball at St. Augustine, but after his senior hoop season he broke his right leg again in a pickup game.

PERSONAL: He's majoring in African American studies at USC. His sports hero is Shaquille O'Neal.

Zach WILSON

Offensive Guard

6-5 • 300
Jr.*/Sr.

#69

2001: The reliable Wilson returns for his third season as the starting right offensive guard as a junior in 2001.

2000: As just a sophomore in 2000, Wilson started for his second season at right offensive guard and did a solid job. After the season, he had arthroscopic surgery to remove torn cartilage in his left knee.

1999: Wilson began his 1999 redshirt freshman season as the backup to Jason Grain at right offensive guard and as a special teams performer, but when Grain suffered a season-ending knee injury, Wilson started there for USC's final 7 games. He did well enough to earn 1999 The Sporting News Freshman All-American second team honors. He appeared in all 12 games in 1999. He made 1 tackle (against Arizona State).

1998: Wilson redshirted as a freshman offensive guard in 1998, his first year at USC. He was named USC's Black Shirt (scout team) Offensive Player of the Year.

HIGH SCHOOL: He was named to the 1997 Prep Star All-American, ESPN/National Recruiting Advisor All-American second team, Super Prep All-Farwest, Prep Star All-Western Region, Long Beach Press-Telegram Best of the Rest, Cal-Hi Sports All-State second team, Cal-Hi Sports All-State Medium Schools first team, All-CIF Division VIII first team, Los Angeles Times All-Southeast, Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team second team and All-Suburban League (offense and defense) as a senior at Mayfair High in Lakewood (Calif.). A 2-way lineman, he had 40-plus tackles, 5 sacks, 1 fumble recovery and 1 deflection on defense in 1997. Mayfair went 7-3 in 1997.

As a junior in 1996, he earned Long Beach Press-Telegram Dream Team honorable mention and All-Suburban League (offense and defense) honors and posted 57 tackles (42 solo), 24 tackles for losses, 4 sacks, 3 forced fumbles and 2 fumble recoveries on defense. He had an 87% blocking grade in 1996. Mayfair was 10-1 in 1996.

He started for 3 years (Mayfair went 8-2 in 1995). He posted 111 tackles and 16.5 sacks in his career. On offense during his career, Mayfair ran behind him 23 times on fourth down and converted 22 times.

He also wrestled at Mayfair, twice winning the league championship, and was on the track team (shot put and discus).

PERSONAL: He's a public policy and management major at USC. He was born in Little Rock, Ark.

WHAT OTHERS SAY: Mayfair High coach Mike Fitch: "USC has found a real diamond in Zach. He could be the next Tony Boselli. He has really impressed everyone with his speed. He is very coachable. He has improved every year and he is only going to get better and stronger."

Tiebreaker Procedure

Here is the NCAA tiebreaker system, which first was put in effect for all post-season games in the 1995 season:

1. At the conclusion of a tie game, the team captains will meet at the center of the field for a coin toss. The winning captain has 2 options: a.) offense/defense or b.) choose the end of the field the first overtime period will be played. The choice may not be deferred.
2. Each overtime period consists of an offensive series by each team. A team continues on offense until it scores, loses the ball on downs, or loses possession of the ball (fumble, intercepted pass, etc.). All series begin on a 25-yard line.
3. If a team loses the ball due to a fumble, etc., the ball continues in play until the end of that down. Team B may score (the game is over) or if Team A gets the ball back during the down, it may score. If there is no score, that series is concluded. Once a series is concluded, the defensive team begins its series, or if that series was the second of that overtime period, the period is over.
4. If the teams remain tied at the end of the first overtime period, a second period is played. The loser of the overtime coin toss has first choice as outlined in No. 1 above. Thereafter, the teams alternate first choice for as many periods as needed to determine a winner.
5. Each team is allowed 1 timeout for each extra period. No unused timeout from the regular game may be carried over to an extra period, nor may an unused timeout from an extra period be carried over to a succeeding extra period.
6. Although the 25-second clock operates during overtime, the game clock does not run.

2000 GAME SUMMARIES

GAME 1 – August 27, East Rutherford, New Jersey
Kickoff Classic XVIII
USC 29, Penn State 5
Att: 78,902

USC	14	9	0	6	–	29
Penn State	3	0	2	0	–	5

No. 15 USC opened up its 2000 season impressively by using a dominating defensive performance and an effective running attack to rout No. 22 Penn State, 29-5, in Kickoff Classic XVIII in front of a game-record crowd of 78,902 in sold-out Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, N.J., and a live ABC-TV national audience.

It was Penn State's worst season-opening loss since 1983 (a 38-point defeat by Nebraska). And the margin could have been bigger, but USC squandered several scoring opportunities.

The USC defense thoroughly throttled the Nittany Lions, not allowing a touchdown and never letting Penn State inside the 20-yard line (PSU got into Trojan territory just 4 times in 12 possessions). Penn State converted just 2 of 14 third downs, had the ball only 22:50 (including less than 8 minutes in the second half), had only 10 first downs and averaged only 2.7 yards per play. The Nittany Lions gained just 142 total yards (the second lowest output in the Joe Paterno era), including only 6 yards on the ground (a low in Paterno's time). It was the fewest rushing yards USC allowed since Oregon had -10 yards in 1989. TB Eric McCoo, who had 700-plus rushing yards in 1999, had -1 yard on 8 carries. PSU's longest run was 11 yards. QB Rashard Casey, a 63% passer in 1999 who had 290 rushing yards then, hit just 29.2% of his passes (7-of-24, including 0-7 in the second half) and also had -20 yards on 5 carries.

The Trojans scored touchdowns on offense, defense and special teams. S Frank Strong blocked a punt on Penn State's opening drive and WR Sandy Fletcher ran it back 6 yards for a TD 2:15 into the game. Later in the first quarter, TB Petros Papadakis capped a 73-yard drive with a 2-yard scoring run.

Then, late in the second quarter (there was a constant rain during that quarter), S Troy Polamalu intercepted a Casey pass and returned it 43 yards for a TD. Next, PK David Newbury nailed a 47-yard field goal as the half expired to put USC up 23-3. PSU had –19 rushing yards in the first half.

USC's only scoring in the second half came on a pair of Newbury field goals (27 and 44 yards), giving him a share of the Kickoff Classic game record with 3 field goals.

TB Sultan McCullough, the game's MVP, ran for 128 yards on 29 carries, both career bests, while making his first-ever start. QB Carson Palmer, who missed USC's last 9 games of 1999 with a broken collarbone, was a bit rusty as he hit 10-of-20 passes for 87 yards.

Both of Penn State's scores came after Trojan miscues: a 37-yard field goal by Ryan Primanti early in the first quarter following a Palmer interception and a third quarter safety on a block of P Mike MacGillivray's punt from the end zone.

LB Zeke Moreno led USC with 6 tackles, including 3 for losses. Five of PK David Bell's 6 kickoffs were touchbacks.

The teams combined for just 393 total yards (251 by USC), the fewest in Kickoff Classic history.

GAME 2 – September 9, Los Angeles Coliseum
USC 17, Colorado 14
Att: 65,153

Colorado	0	7	7	0	–	14
USC	0	7	7	3	–	17

PK David Newbury, who had missed a pair of field goals earlier in the game, nailed a 24-yarder with 13 seconds to play to give No. 11 USC a thrilling 17-14 home opening victory over Colorado before 65,153 fans in the Coliseum and an ABC-TV regional audience, extending Troy's winning streak to 5.

It was the first meeting between USC (coming off a bye) and Colorado since 1964.

Newbury's game-winner (the latest in a game that a Trojan kicked a game-winning field goal since Don Shafer did so at the gun at Baylor in 1986) culminated a 9-play, 72-yard drive that began with 1:14 left on the clock after Buffalo PK Mark Mariscal missed a 40-yard field goal. USC QB Carson Palmer, who was an astonishing 25-of-30 for 275 yards on the day (3 of his passes were dropped), was 6-of-6 for 68 yards on that winning drive. Newbury was named Pac-10 Special Teams Player of the Week for his performance.

USC got on the board first, as Palmer hit former walk-on WR Matt Nickels with an 8-yard scoring pass late in the second quarter. But CU responded on the ensuing possession, driving 80 yards in 12 plays, capped by an 11-yard TD pass from QB Zac Colvin to WR Javon Green with 4 seconds to go in the half.

USC DE Matt Childers stripped Colvin on the opening possession of the second half, S Troy Polamalu recovered on the CU 21-yard line, and 3 plays later TB Sultan McCullough—who rushed for 91 yards on 28 carries in the game—ran 5 yards up the middle for a touchdown. But the Buffaloes struck back late in the third quarter on a 36-yard TD pass from QB Bobby Pesavento to TE Daniel Graham to tie the score.

USC blew scoring chances on its first 2 possessions of the game after WR Kareem Kelly—who caught a career-high 10 passes for 145 yards overall—couldn't hold onto a 17-yard TD pass and Colorado FS Robbie Robinson intercepted the ball in the end zone and then Newbury missed a 30-yard field goal.

Defensively, LB Markus Steele and S Ifeanyi Ohalete had a game-best 9 tackles each (Steele had 2 sacks), LB Zeke Moreno added 7 stops, DT Ennis Davis had 5 tackles (with 2 sacks) and DT Bernard Riley blocked a first quarter field goal attempt. USC had 6 sacks overall.

For Colorado, true freshman TB Marcus Houston had a game-high 150 yards on 25 carries (becoming the first Buffalo to open a season with back-to-back 100-yard games), Green caught 6 passes for 64 yards, Colvin was 13-of-21 for 150 yards and Pesavento was 3-of-5 for 54 yards.

The Trojans averaged 6.3 yards per play and outgained the Buffaloes, 433 to 368.

The game began with a dramatic flyover by 4 Navy jets.

USC 34, San Jose State 24
Att: 56,545

San Jose State	10	14	0	0	–	24
USC	0	12	0	22	–	34

For the second game in a row, No. 9 USC parlayed some late heroics into a victory, this time overcoming a 12-point deficit midway through the fourth quarter and scoring 22 unanswered points to beat San Jose State, 34-24, before 56,545 fans in the Coliseum and a live FOX Sports West Net 2 audience.

It was USC's 500th game in the Coliseum.

The Trojans, coming off their second bye of the young season, were sloppy throughout, losing 4 fumbles (first on the opening kickoff, then into the end zone for a touchback and twice while driving toward the red zone), dropping 6 passes (including a likely 81-yard TD bomb), missing 2 PATs, and having a punt blocked for a score.

But when Spartan PK Nick Gilliam missed a 35-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter that would have put SJSU up 27-12, the Trojans came alive behind the passing of QB Carson Palmer (22-of-38 for a career-high 338 yards with 2 TDs overall, including 10-of-12 for 148 yards in the fourth quarter), the running of TB Petros Papadakis (52 yards and a career-best 3 TDs on a career-high 15 carries overall) and some stingy defense (allowing SJSU just 27 yards in the fourth quarter).

First, USC drove 80 yards for a TD, an 8-yard Palmer pass to TE Antoine Harris with 8:07 to play, to pull within 24-19. On its next possession, USC threatened by getting to the Spartan 25 before TB Sultan McCullough (who had 21 carries for a career-best 136 yards, both game highs) fumbled the ball away. But Troy's defense held and the Trojans drove 67 yards to go ahead 27-24 on a 5-yard Papadakis run with 2:34 left. After CB Chris Cash intercepted a pass by QB Marcus Arroyo, Papadakis' 3-yard run sealed the win with 57 second to go.

San Jose State jumped on USC early, as WR Casey LeBlanc blocked a punt by P Mike MacGillivray and TB Jarmar Julien ran it 10 yards for a TD on Troy's opening possession. Gilliam added a 35-yard field goal later in the first quarter.

But USC responded with an 87-yard drive on the ensuing series, capped by Papadakis' 1-yard scoring run. On USC's next series, Palmer hit WR Kareem Kelly—who had a game-high 7 catches for 106 yards—on a 61-yard scoring bomb to put the Trojans up 12-10 (Troy missed its first 2 conversions).

But SJSU scored on its final 2 possessions of the first half, on 1- and 14-yard runs by TB Deonce Whitaker (the second following a Palmer lost fumble), to take a 24-12 lead. Whitaker, who entered the game as the nation's No. 3 rusher (averaging 182.7 yards a game), was limited to 49 yards on 13 carries and sat out most of the second half with an injury.

USC dominated the statistics, getting more first downs (29-17), total yards (572-366), plays (84-70) and possession time (32:48-27:12).

Arroyo was 20-of-41 for 256 yards for SJSU, including 6 catches for 121 yards by WR Rashied Davis.

Defensively, USC LB Markus Steele had a game-high 12 tackles (4 for losses) and Cash added 9 stops.

GAME 4 – September 30, Corvallis, Oregon
Oregon State 31, USC 21
Att: 33,775

USC	7	7	0	7	–	21
Oregon State	14	0	0	17	–	31

Behind the running of TB Ken Simonton and an opportunistic defense that forced 4 turnovers, Oregon State ended 33 years of frustration when it upset No. 8 USC, 31-21, before a noisy sold-out crowd of 33,775 in Corvallis and a live FOX Sports Net West 2 local TV audience in the Pac-10 opener for both schools.

The loss snapped USC's Pac-10 record 26-game winning streak over the Beavers (OSU's last win over Troy was in 1967). And it was Troy's first defeat after a modest 6-game winning streak.

Simonton, Oregon State career rushing and scoring leader who entered the game as the nation's No. 5 rusher (158.3), ran for 234 yards (the second most ever against USC and the second most by a Beaver) on 37 carries (tied for the third most ever against Troy) and scored 3 times. And the Beaver defense, which was ranked in the national Top 20 in every category, picked off 3 passes by QB Carson Palmer, recovered a fumble (on the USC 6), and limited the Trojans to 63 rushing yards and 4-of-14 on third down conversions.

USC squandered several scoring opportunities, including missing a field goal (after a touchdown was erased because of a penalty) at the start of the second half and throwing an interception at the OSU 9 late in the fourth quarter.

Oregon State jumped off to a 14-0 lead in the first quarter on a 15-yard TD pass from QB Jonathan Smith to SE Chad Johnson (after picking off a Palmer pass) and then on a 20-yard Simonton TD burst.

But USC tied it up quickly as Palmer hit WR Matt Nickels on a 12-yard TD pass and then LB Zeke Moreno scooped up a fumble and raced 80 yards for a score early in the second quarter.

After a scoreless third quarter, OSU took a 10-point lead midway through the fourth quarter on a 2-yard Simonton TD run (after USC's fumble near the goal line) and a 41-yard field goal by PK Ryan Cesca. Despite throwing interceptions on its next 2 drives, USC pulled within 24-21 with 2:16 to play on a 1-yard Palmer TD pass to FB Chad Pierson (following a botched OSU punt attempt). But USC couldn't recover the ensuing onside kick and Simonton soon ran 36 yards for the final score.

Oregon State ran off 14 more plays (82-62) and had 7 more first downs (23-16) than USC. The Beavers were particularly dominant in the first half, outgaining Troy 276-150.

Palmer was 19-of-38 for 282 yards. USC played most of the second half without TB Sultan McCullough (33 yards on 10 carries), who slightly sprained his knee on the opening drive of the half. Moreno had a game-high 11 tackles, including 3 for losses (2 were sacks), while DT Matt Childers added 8 tackles (2 for losses). USC had 5 sacks.

The win gave Oregon State its first 4-0 start since 1957.

GAME 5 – October 4, Los Angeles Coliseum
Arizona 31, USC 15
Att: 49,342

Arizona	21	0	7	3	–	31
USC	0	6	3	6	–	15

No. 18 USC—stymied on offense by a stingy Arizona defense that forced 5 turnovers and the victim on defense of several big plays—spotted the Wildcats a 21-0 first quarter lead before falling 31-15 in front of 49,342 fans at the Coliseum and an ABC-TV regional audience.

The loss dropped the Trojans to 0-2 in the conference play for the first time since 1971.

Arizona scored on the game's third play, a 75-yard bomb from QB Ortege Jenkins to WR Bobby Wade (the longest of each player's career and the longest allowed by Troy since a 90-yard UCLA TD in 1992). Jenkins then ran for a 1-yard score in the middle of the opening quarter and true freshman TB Clarence Farmer raced 80 yards for a TD late in the quarter.

Following an interception by S DeShaun Hill, the Trojans got on the board late in the half on a 1-yard TD run by TB Petros Papadakis, the first TD allowed by the Wildcats in 10 quarters.

On the opening drive of the second half, true freshman PK John Wall—in his first kick as a Trojan after replacing an ineffective David Newbury—nailed a 27-yard field goal.

But after Arizona recovered a fumble by QB Carson Palmer deep in USC territory on Troy's next possession, Jenkins ran for a 4-yard TD. Palmer, who was 26-of-50 (a career high in attempts) for 321 yards, threw 3 second-half interceptions and the second set up a 29-yard field goal by PK Sean Keel in the middle of the fourth quarter.

USC scored late in the game on Palmer's 7-yard toss to WR Matt Nickels.

USC actually had more first downs (18-10), plays (77-57) and total yards (331-253) than Arizona, but the Wildcat defense—which entered the game ranked in the Top 20 in 4 defensive categories (scoring defense at 9.0, rushing defense at 75.3, turnover margin at +1.8 and total defense at 288.0—held the Trojan offense in check when it mattered (USC ran for just 10 yards and converted only 7-of-17 third downs).

Nickels and true freshman WR Keary Colbert had career bests in receptions and yardage, as Nickels caught a game-high 7 passes for 72 yards and Colbert had 6 receptions for a game-high 113 yards (joining R. Jay Soward and Kareem Kelly as the only Trojan true freshmen with 100-plus receiving yards).

For UA, Jenkins was 6-of-12 for 110 yards, Farmer ran for a game-best 134 yards on 22 carries and Wade had 4 catches for 102 yards.

USC's defense, which had 3 sacks and limited Arizona to 3-of-14 on third down conversions, was led by Hill's 9 tackles and LB Zeke Moreno's 8 stops.

GAME 6 – October 14, Los Angeles Coliseum
Oregon 28, USC 17
Att: 54,031

Oregon	7	7	7	7	–	28
USC	7	0	3	7	–	17

No. 9 Oregon—led by QB Joey Harrington's 4 TD passes—beat USC, 28-17, before 54,031 fans in the Coliseum and an ABC-TV regional audience. Troy's third straight loss of 2000 and its third in a row to the Ducks (who won in the Coliseum for the first time since 1994).

It was the first time since 1957 that the Trojans were 0-3 in conference play.

Unlike the previous 3 outings when they fell behind early, the Trojans scored on the game's opening possession as TB Sultan McCullough raced 59 yards for a TD. It was the longest run of his career and helped him rush for a career-best and game-high 152 yards on 23 carries (his third 100-yard game of the season and his career).

But Oregon struck back on its first possession, driving 79 yards in 13 plays as TB Maurice Morris ran for an 8-yard score with a shovel pass from Harrington.

The Ducks opened up a 21-7 lead on a Harrington's 23-yard pass to FB Josh Line early in the second quarter and his 13-yard toss to TE LaCorey Collins early in the third half after the Trojans fumbled away a punt return deep in their territory.

But Troy came right back on the ensuing series, going 60 yards on 13 plays as PK John Wall nailed a 25-yard field goal (USC had first-and-goal at the 8, but had to settle for the 3-pointer). The Trojans scored again the next time they had the ball, capping an 80-yard drive with a 7-yard TD pass from QB Carson Palmer to TE Antoine Harris to pull within 21-17 early in the fourth quarter. But USC couldn't get past midfield on its final 3 possessions and Oregon sealed the game with Harrington's 18-yard TD pass to TE Justin Peelle with 1:10 to go after Troy turned the ball over on downs at its 25-yard line.

Palmer was 15-of-35 for 194 yards with an interception and Harris caught 4 passes for a career-best 73 yards.

For UO, Harrington was a career-best 28-of-42 for a career-high 382 yards (his 4 TD passes tied a USC opponents record and were the most against USC since Notre Dame's Steve Beurlein threw 4 in 1986), Morris ran for 85 yards on 32 tries and caught 6 passes for another 27 yards and FL Keenan Howry had 8 receptions for 126 yards (both game and personal bests).

USC S Troy Polamalu had a game-high 13 tackles (2 for losses) and intercepted a pass, while LB Markus Steele added 9 stops (3 for losses).

Oregon had the statistical edge, getting more total yards (499-423), first downs (25-18), plays (83-69) and possession time (32:49-27:11).

GAME 7 – October 21, Palo Alto, California
Stanford 32, USC 30
Att: 50,125

USC	0	8	13	9	–	30
Stanford	7	7	6	12	–	32

Backup QB Chris Lewis threw a 20-yard TD pass to FL Jamien McCullum on fourth-and-goal as time expired to give Stanford a stunning 32-30 win over USC as the Trojans couldn't hold a 10-point lead with less than 5:30 to play before 50,125 fans in Palo Alto and an ABC-TV regional audience.

The loss, USC's fourth consecutive, gave the Trojans their first-ever 0-4 conference record.

Lewis came in for the Cardinal's final 6 plays when starting QB Randy Fasani was injured on a run to the Trojan 25-yard line with less than a minute to go.

Although Stanford held the ball nearly twice as long as USC (39:29-20:31), ran off 37 more plays (96-59), had 9 more first downs (26-17) and converted 13-of-23 third downs (and 3-of-4 fourth downs), the Cardinal managed only 1 more yard of total offense (421-420).

Stanford opened up a 14-0 lead late in the first half behind a pair of short TD runs by RB Kerry Carter. But Troy pulled back to within 14-8 at halftime on a 2-yard TD run by TB Petros Papadakis and a safety when P Mike Biselli was tackled in the end zone.

Carter score on another short run on the opening series of the second half, but USC then scored 22 unanswered points to go up by 10 points midway through the fourth quarter. First, TB Sultan McCullough burst 39 yards for a TD on USC's first drive of the second half. Then, Papadakis had another 2-yard scoring run a minute later, just 3 plays after CB Chris Cash intercepted a Fasani pass. PK John Wall hit a 22-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter, then QB Carson Palmer ran 1-yard on a naked bootleg on USC's next possession to go up 30-20 with 8:16 to play.

But Stanford came back, driving 78 yards in 11 plays, capped by Carter's 20-yard fourth down scoring run with 5:22 to go. When USC went 3-and-out on its ensuing possession, the Cardinal took 13 plays to drive 50 yards in the final 3:42 for the victory.

Carter—who had a career-high 123 yards on 20 carries—tied a USC opponent record with his 4 TDs and WR DeRonnie Pitts's career-best 13 catches (for 176 yards) tied another Trojan opponent mark. Fasani, who had missed the previous 3 games with a knee injury, was 18-of-36 for 196 yards in his return.

McCullough had a game-high 130 yards on just 11 rushes (his fourth 100-yard outing of the season), while Palmer was 15-of-30 for 190 yards. LB Zeke Moreno posted a game-best 12 tackles and S Troy Polamalu added 11 stops.

GAME 8 – October 28, Los Angeles Coliseum
California 28, USC 16
Att: 54,393

California	7	7	8	6	–	28
USC	6	10	0	0	–	16

Despite a significant advantage in offensive statistics, USC dropped its fifth consecutive game of the season, this one to California, 28-16, before a Homecoming crowd of 54,393 in the Coliseum and a regional FOX Sports Net syndication TV audience.

It was Cal's third win in a row over USC (for the first time since 1948-50).

Troy, off to its worst-ever conference start (0-5), had more total yards (320-213), plays (78-51), first downs (22-11) and possession time (33:14-26:46) than Cal, but couldn't capitalize. Cal's 51 plays were the fewest by a Trojan opponent since 1990 (when Washington had 50).

The Bears scored just 4 plays into the game on a 44-yard pass from QB Kyle Boller to WR Phillip Pipersburg. But the Trojans scored on their first possession by driving 82 yards on 9 plays, as QB Carson Palmer threw a 19-yard TD pass to FB Chad Pierson.

After Palmer fumbled away the ball on the USC 7-yard line while being sacked early in the second quarter, Cal TB Joseph Echema went 1 yard for a TD. But the Trojans took a 16-14 lead into halftime on a 32-yard scoring run by TB Sultan McCullough with just over 2 minutes to go and then, after recovering a Cal fumble on the ensuing kickoff, PK John Wall nailed a 25-yard field goal.

However, USC couldn't generate much offense in the second half (only 55 total yards and 6 first downs) and only crossed midfield on 1 series in the half (just to the Cal 45). The Bears went ahead for good late in the third quarter on a 12-yard Boller pass to WR Derek Swafford. Then, after USC had to punt early in the final quarter on its following possession, CB Jemeel Powell returned the punt 83 yards for a TD (he also intercepted a Palmer pass later in the quarter).

Troy was also hampered by penalties (a season-high 11 for 101 yards), turnovers (2 interceptions, 1 fumble), sacks (7) and blocked kicks (a PAT and a field goal).

McCullough had his third 100-yard rushing game in a row (a game-high 122 yards on 15 carries). Palmer was 19-of-32 for 202 yards and WR Kareem Kelly caught a game-best 5 passes for 42 yards.

Boller hit 7-of-12 passes for 131 yards and TB Joe Igber rushed for 80 yards on 28 tries.

LB Zeke Moreno led USC with 8 tackles and LB Markus Steele added 7 (2 for losses, with a sack).

GAME 9 – November 4, Tempe, Arizona
USC 44, Arizona State 38 (2 Overtimes)
Att: 49,865

USC	7	14	14	0	9	–	44
Arizona State	3	0	10	22	3	–	38

It took double overtime to do it, but USC—which at one point had a 29-point second half lead—snapped its 5-game losing streak with a dramatic 44-38 win over Arizona State before 49,865 fans in Tempe and a FOX Sports Net West local audience.

It was the Trojans' first win in 6 Pac-10 games in 2000, their first win in Tempe since 1992 and their highest scoring output of the season. It also was an NCAA record third consecutive overtime game for the Sun Devils (and second double overtime loss in a row).

After the teams exchanged field goals in the first overtime—a 27-yarder by ASU PK Mike Barth and then a 23-yarder by PK John Wall to make it 38-38—USC FB Chad Pierson scored on a 2-yard run on Troy's possession in the second overtime (Wall's extra point kick was blocked). On ASU's series, DE Sultan Abdul-Malik stripped the ball from QB Griffin Goodman on a second down play at the 25 and DE Matt Childers came up with the fumble to give USC the victory.

For the first three-fourths of the game, USC thoroughly dominated ASU. The Trojans got on the board first on TB Sultan McCullough's 51-yard sprint midway through the first quarter (it was the first time in 2000 that an opponent scored first on the Sun Devils). But ASU responded on its ensuing drive with a 28-yard Barth field goal.

The Trojans took a 21-3 halftime lead behind an 18-yard TD pass from QB Carson Palmer to WR Keary Colbert early in the second quarter (the 14-3 score was USC's biggest lead since the Penn State opener) and then on a 1-yard TD run by TB Petros Papadakis late in the half.

On the opening drive of the second half, USC WR Matt Dalton blocked Nick Murphy's punt and WR Steve Stevenson ran it in 3 yards for a score. Barth then hit a 45-yard field goal after USC fumbled away a punt on the next series, the first of 6 turnovers by the Trojans (including 4 fumbles). But Troy opened up a 29-point lead on the following possession as Palmer hit TE Antoine Harris for a 24-yard score to make it 35-6.

From that point, ASU scored 32 unanswered points (including 29 straight in the final 15:46 of regulation) as the Trojans turned the ball over on 5 of their next 7 possessions. First, 3 plays after a USC fumble, TB Tom Pace had a 3-yard TD run with 46 seconds to go in the third quarter (ASU had threatened on its previous possession following a USC fumble, but Troy's defense stopped the Sun Devils on fourth-and-2 at the Trojan 6). Then, when USC lost a fumble 3 plays later, ASU took just 1 play—a 45-yard Goodman to Pace pass—to score early in the fourth quarter (Goodman had relieved injured starting QB Jeff Krohn in the drive after USC took its 35-6 lead). When USC had to punt on its next possession, WR Shaun McDonald returned it 81 yards for a TD to bring the Sun Devils to within 35-27. The Trojans were forced to punt again on their next series and ASU took just 6 plays to tie the game with 4:21 left in regulation as WR Donnie O'Neal hauled in a 32-yard scoring pass from Goodman (the duo also hooked up on the conversion). Both teams threatened late in regulation, but Barth missed a 43-yard field goal attempt with 1:51 to go and then USC advanced to the ASU 34 before Palmer's pass was picked off.

USC had its highest rushing output of 2000, getting 261 yards. McCullough ran for a career-best and game-high 176 yards on 23 carries (he had 103 yards by halftime), his fourth consecutive 100-yard outing (the first time a Trojan has done that since Ricky Ervins had 5 in a row in 1989). It was the most rushing yards by a Trojan since Shawn Walters had 234 at Stanford in 1994. In the process, McCullough hit the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the season, the 22nd time a Trojan has achieved that. Pierson, who came into the game with only 15 rushing yards on 4 carries in his career, had his best-ever outing with 72 yards on 16 tries while running out of the tailback and fullback spots.

Palmer hit 22-of-37 passes for 279 yards. Colbert (75 yards) and Kelly (a game-high 85 yards) each had 6 receptions, with Colbert getting his first career TD, while WR Matt Nickels added 4 grabs for 55 yards.

Defensively, S Troy Polamalu led USC with 14 tackles, while LB Zeke Moreno had 10 and LB Aaron Graham—in his first career start (for an injured Markus Steele)—had 9 and Childers had 6. S Frank Strong returned an interception (the first of his career) 67 yards. The Trojans posted 4 sacks.

For ASU, Goodman was 13-of-21 for 164 yards in relief of Krohn, who was 17-of-33 for 150 yards. O'Neal (83 yards) and TE Todd Heap (51 yards) each had a game-best 7 catches, while WR Richard Williams had 6 for 41 yards and McDonald had 4 for 45 yards (plus 121 yards on 4 punt returns). Pace ran for 70 yards on 21carries, but ASU managed just 77 rushing yards overall.

USC had 540 total yards to ASU's 391 despite running off 8 fewer plays (90-82). USC converted 7-of-13 third downs, but was penalized 14 times for 135 yards, both season highs.

GAME 10 – November 11, Los Angeles Coliseum
Washington State 33, USC 27
Att: 40,565

Wash. State	0	12	7	14	–	33
USC	0	0	7	20	–	27

USC—hampered by turnovers, miscues, penalties, big plays and sacks—was eliminated from post-season bowl consideration as it dropped a 33-27 decision to Washington State before 40,565 fans on a chilly (56 degrees) afternoon in the Coliseum and a regional FOX Sports Net syndication audience.

The loss guaranteed USC its first-ever last-place conference finish and gave the Cougars consecutive Coliseum wins over Troy for the first time ever.

The Trojans fell behind 12-0 at halftime as FL Milton Wynn ran 25 yards for a touchdown on a reverse and then RB Jeremy Thielbahr pounced on a punt in the end zone that was blocked by MLB James Price, both in the second quarter.

USC changed quarterbacks in the second half, as Mike Van Raaphorst—in his first action in 13 games—replaced an ineffective Carson Palmer, who was 12-of-26 for 145 yards and an interception. Van Raaphorst seemingly energized the Trojans and led them to a score (a 34-yard TD pass to WR Kareem Kelly) on the opening drive of the second half.

He then drove USC to the Cougar 11 on Troy's next possession, but the Trojans couldn't convert on fourth-and-1. On WSU's ensuing play, QB Matt Kegel—making his first-ever start—hit WR Marcus Williams for an 88-yard TD (it was the longest pass against USC since a 90-yarder by UCLA in 1992 and the second longest in Cougar history). Then, early in the fourth quarter, Van Raaphorst lost the ball as he was sacked and DE D.D. Acholonu ran 35 yards with the fumble for a TD.

But USC closed to within 26-20, first when LB Zeke Moreno raced 56 yards for a TD with a fumble with 9:05 to go and then when Troy drove 95 yards on 14 plays, capped by Van Raaphorst's 30-yard scoring pass to WR Steve Stevenson with 4:28 left.

USC forced a WSU punt on the next series, but turned the ball over on downs deep in its territory, leading to TB Dave Minnich's 2-yard TD run at 1:42. USC closed the scoring on Van Raaphorst's 21-yard TD pass to WR Keary Colbert at the gun.

USC had the statistical edge, getting more total yards (470-372), first downs (29-18), total plays (95-70; USC's most plays in a game since getting 96 against Arizona State in 1988) and possession time (32:15-27:45). But the Trojans had 3 turnovers (2 led to WSU touchdowns and the other was a fumble out of the end zone as Kelly was tackled just short of the goal line in the first quarter), were penalized 13 times for 123 (same as WSU) and gave up 6 sacks.

Van Raaphorst was 17-of-28 for 234 yards with the 3 TDs (tying a career best) and Kelly caught a game-high 7 passes for a team-best 114 yards. For WSU, Kegel (the cousin of ex-Cougar star QB Ryan Leaf) was 12-of-32 for 242 yards, Minnich ran for a game-best 88 yards on 20 carries and Williams had 4 grabs for a game-leading 126 yards. Moreno led USC with 8 tackles.

The attendance was USC's lowest at home since the 1987 Washington State contest.

GAME 11 – November 18, Pasadena, California
USC 38, UCLA 35
Att: 80,227

USC	7	14	7	10	–	38
UCLA	14	7	7	7	–	35

David Bell, who began the season as USC's third string placekicker, nailed a 36-yard field goal with 9 seconds to play to give the Trojans a dramatic 38-35 win over UCLA in a game that featured 6 lead changes before a soldout Rose Bowl crowd of 80,227 and a live FOX Sports Net West 2 local audience.

It was USC's first win over the Bruins in Pasadena since 1990 and Troy's first back-to-back victories over UCLA since 1987-88.

It was only the second field goal in 6 career attempts for Bell, USC's kickoff man for 4 seasons; he had missed 3 previous attempts in 2000, including a 24-yarder earlier in the game's fourth quarter.

USC dominated the statistics—getting more total yards (557-328), plays (82-51), first downs (29-12) and possession time (34:22-25:38)—but Troy's 2 first half fumbles and numerous untimely penalties (13 overall) kept the game close.

The Bruins got on the board 20 seconds into the game when FB Chad Pierson fumbled on the first play from scrimmage (after a pair of USC penalties on the opening kickoff spotted the ball at the 3) and SS Marques Anderson recovered it in the end zone.

But USC drove 80 yards on the ensuing series, capped by an 8-yard TD pass from QB Carson Palmer to TE Antoine Harris. However, UCLA countered on its next drive on a tricky 45-yard scoring pass from FL Freddie Mitchell to SE Brian Poli-Dixon.

USC tied it early in the second quarter on a 6-yard run by TB Sultan McCullough to culminate a 78-yard drive. After UCLA stopped a Trojan fake field goal late in the half, the Bruins went 84 yards to recapture the lead on a 4-yard pass from QB Cory Paus to FB Ed Ieremia-Stansbury. But USC quickly put together a 74-yard drive, topped by a 39-yard Palmer TD bomb to WR Kareem Kelly with 24 seconds to go in the half.

In the first half, USC had 285 total yards to UCLA's 165 (just 18 rushing), and also had a substantial edge in first downs (15-4), plays (48-20) and time (19:56-10:04).

The teams traded touchdowns on their first possessions of the second half, first a 4-yard Paus scoring pass to Mitchell (aided by a successful Bruin fake field goal) to highlight a 64-yard drive and then Palmer's 12-yard TD pass to WR Keary Colbert to conclude a 71-yard drive.

USC went up 35-28 with 3:58 to play in the game on a 57-yard Palmer TD aerial to WR Steve Stevenson, but UCLA struck right back as Paus' 1-yard run capped a 75-yard drive with 1:05 to go, setting up Bell's heroics.

USC squandered several other scoring opportunities, including losing a second quarter fumble at the UCLA 26, the failed fake field goal from the 19 late in the first half and Bell's fourth quarter missed field goal (the Trojans had the ball on the Bruin 4, but a personal foul stopped their momentum).

Palmer completed 26-of-37 passes for a career-high 350 yards (his 4 TDs were also a personal best), McCullough ran for a game-high 105 yards on 26 tries (his seventh 100-yard outing of 2000), TB Malaefou MacKenzie had a number of key runs (51 yards on 4 carries) and catches (57 yards on 5 tries), and Kelly caught a game-best 6 passes for 91 yards. LB Zeke Moreno and SS Frank Strong led USC with 6 tackles each.

Troy limited UCLA to 71 rushing yards (just 43 on 20 tries by TB DeShaun Foster). Paus was 13-of-22 for 212 yards, including 4 tosses to Mitchell for a game-high 140 yards.

GAME 12 – November 25, Los Angeles Coliseum
Notre Dame 38, USC 21
Att: 81,342

Notre Dame	7	14	7	10	–	38
USC	7	7	0	7	–	21

USC, plagued by costly turnovers and blocked punts and unable to stop Notre Dame's powerful ground attack, closed out its 2000 season by losing to the No. 11 Irish, 38-21, before 81,342 fans in the Coliseum and a live ABC-TV national audience.

The game was the final one for third-year USC head coach Paul Hackett, who was fired 2 days later. The loss also gave USC its first losing season (5-7) since 1991.

It was Notre Dame's first win in Los Angeles since 1992 and seventh consecutive victory in 2000. It also assured the school of a BCS bowl berth.

The Irish scored first, on a 1-yard run by TB Terrance Howard late in the first quarter following a partially blocked Trojan punt. But USC responded on its ensuing possession, as QB Carson Palmer ran 3 yards with a bootleg for a TD.

Notre Dame blocked USC next punt early in the second quarter to set up another score, this time on a 13-yard run by QB Matt LoVecchio. Palmer was intercepted on Troy's following possession and the Irish scored again, on a 1-yard run by TB Tony Fisher. USC closed to 21-14 the next time it got the ball, with Palmer hitting WR Kareem Kelly on a 59-yard TD bomb.

LoVecchio scored his second 1-yard TD late in the third quarter after ND intercepted another Palmer aerial, but USC countered with a 10-yard Palmer scoring toss to TE Antoine Harris early in the fourth quarter to pull within 28-21. The Irish put it out of reach on their next 2 possessions with a 39-yard field goal by PK Nick Setta and a 2-yard TD run by TB Julius Jones.

Notre Dame rushed for 246 yards–ND ran the ball on its final 24 plays (beginning late in the third quarter)–and held the ball for 35:59. The Irish did not have a turnover, tying an NCAA record for fewest in a season (8).

USC had 329 total yards, including 251 passing, but converted just 2-of-13 third downs.

Palmer was 17-of-35 passing for 251 yards and 2 TDs, but his 2 picks gave him 18 on the year to tie a USC season record. He also rushed for a team-high 22 yards, the first time a Trojan quarterback led the team in rushing since Rodney Peete did so versus Michigan State in the 1988 Rose Bowl.

Harris had a game-best 6 catches for 62 yards, while Kelly added 4 for 91 yards.

For ND, Fisher (15 carries) and Jones (20 carries) each ran for 71 yards, while Howard added 47 yards on 9 tries. LoVecchio, a true freshman who is 7-0 as a starter, hit 9-of-14 passes for 142 yards and ran for 45 yards on 11 attempts.

LB Zeke Moreno and S Troy Polamalu each had a game-best 14 tackles.

USC'S Record vs. Conference Foes

The information in this opponents' year-by-year section is, reading from left to right: (1) year; (2) date (with "Th" indicating a game played on Thanksgiving Day); (3) AP ranking going into the game, with USC's given first, and USC's opponent's given second; (4) other miscellaneous information ("N" for night game if contest began after 5:00 p.m. local time, "U" for upset if the result was considered a significant upset, time remaining in the game if a late score resulted in a win or tie, and weather conditions, with "R" indicating most of the game was played in the rain and "Sn" indicating most of the game was played in snow conditions); (5) game result (W, L or T); (6) game score, with USC's given first; (7) game site (home, away or neutral); and (8) attendance. It was compiled by Michael J. Glenn. USC appreciates his invaluable efforts.

ALL-TIME USC RECORD

The following is believed to be an accurate record of the outcome of all games of American football played by the USC varsity team. It was compiled by Michael J. Glenn. USC appreciates his invaluable efforts.

The information in this history is set forth in as brief a fashion as possible. To illustrate this, review the entries under 1989. Reading from left to right, the following information is given on the first line under the coach and captain data: (1) Date (Sept. 4); (2) Result (L-USC loss); (3) USC's Associated Press ranking going into the game (5); (4) USC's opponent (Illinois); (5) An indication that the game began after 5:00 p.m., local time (N); (6) An indication that the winning score occurred with 2:19 left in the game (2:19); (7) USC's opponent's Associated Press ranking going into the game (22); (8) Game score, with USC's point total given first (13-14); (9) An indication that the game was played at USC's home field (H); (10) Game attendance (54,622).

Other information may be noted on the line concerning the UCLA game. The "c" before the attendance figure indicates a capacity crowd. "(UCLA-13:43)" indicates that UCLA made the tying score with 13:43 left in the fourth quarter.

The line beneath the UCLA game record presents USC's regular season record, conference record, and conference finish, in that order. Next come the points scored and points given up.

Beneath this is USC's bowl game result, followed on the next line by USC's final overall record, USC's overall points scored and given up, and the season attendance total.

Other symbols: N1, N2, etc., indicate games played at a neutral site; (HC) indicates USC's Homecoming game; (U) indicates that the game result was a significant upset; (R) indicates that a major portion of the game was played in the rain; (Sn) indicates the game was played in snow conditions; and "Th" indicates a game played on Thanksgiving Day.

Records include games played by USC at site when USC was not the designated home team.

USC totals include all games played on campus, including games played at Bovard Field.

Rose Bowl totals include games played against UCLA.

Athletic Park took its name from its builder, the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Located on the northeast corner of Seventh and Alameda, it opened on Thanksgiving Day, 1891. The first major college football game played there was on Dec. 29, 1894, when Stanford defeated the University of Chicago, 28-0. Athletic Park gained national recognition when Los Angeles and Stockton of the California League played a night baseball game there on July 2, 1893. Los Angeles won, 5-2, before a crowd of 9,000. Twenty kerosene lamps and one swiveled search light were used.

Fiesta Park, located on the northwest corner of Grand and Pico, also dates from the 1890s. It was the site of what was apparently the first night college football game on Nov. 18, 1905. St. Vincent's College (now Loyola Marymount University) shut out the University of Arizona, 54-0. In 1916, a rebuilt Fiesta Park served as USC's home grounds. The following year, however, its bleachers were transported to USC to revamp Bovard Field.

At the turn of the century, Washington Park, at the corner of Washington and Grand, was primarily a baseball field. It was sometimes referred to as Chutes Park, after the adjacent amusement park. St. Vincent's College was located across the street. Washington Park was the early home of the Los Angeles Angels of the Pacific Coast League.

A larger ball park for the Angels was built in 1911. Also known as Washington Park, this structure was located at Washington and Hill.

Prager Park served as USC's home in 1903. It was located near Chutes Park.

Tournament Park, located at the southeast corner of California and Wilson in Pasadena, served as the initial home of the "East-West" game, as the Rose Bowl was originally known. The Tournament of Roses Association acquired the property in 1901, and Michigan and Stanford played there in the first Rose Bowl game on Jan. 1, 1902. After a series of other sporting activities, football returned to the New Year's Day celebration in 1915, and continued at Tournament Park through 1922.

Sportsman's Park, located at North Los Robles and Colorado, was the site of USC's first Pasadena appearance, its first Thanksgiving game, and its first varsity football game outside of Los Angeles--all in 1889 against Pasadena. The game occurred just a month before Sportsman's Park hosted the initial Tournament of Roses.

Prior to 1893, USC's campus games were played on a field adjoining Jefferson. This field might have been the site of USC's first official football game in 1888.

In early 1893, the University's then-existing athletic grounds were developed, apparently for neighborhood housing. According to the Rostrum, USC's earliest student newspaper, the students petitioned for a replacement athletic field. Eventually they were granted space on the "northwest portion of campus."

These grounds, while appropriate for practice and practice games, were not suitable for major games. As a result, most of USC's important "home" games up until 1904 were played in rented space: Athletic Park, Fiesta Park, Washington Park, and Prager Park.

In the summer of 1904, USC's football field was "upgraded." Bleachers were constructed on the south side of the field, and a small stand was placed on the north side. A "kid-proof" fence was built around the site. At the start of the season, the site was referred to as "College Campus" in a published football schedule, but by the end of the year it had become "Bovard Field."

Bovard never appears to have been a very adequate home. USC still used Fiesta Park for some of its more important games up until 1908. In 1915, USC's first Los Angeles game against California was played at the new Washington Park, which was primarily a baseball venue. The following year, USC attempted to use a revitalized Fiesta Park as its home base. In the summer of 1917, the new bleachers at Fiesta Park were transported to USC's Bovard Field. These new seats increased Bovard's capacity to about 10,000.

The "new" Bovard was quickly obsolete. Interest in USC football, under Coach Elmer "Gloomy Gus" Henderson, outpaced the limits of even the expanded Bovard. By 1920, USC was playing its more important games in Pasadena, first at Tournament Park, and then at the Tournament of Roses' new stadium in the Arroyo Seco.

USC's last on-campus varsity football game was played on Sept. 29, 1923, against Cal Tech. The following week the Trojans played their initial game at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

DRAMATIC FINISHES

Over the years, USC has been involved in many games featuring dramatic finishes at the end. Here's a sampling of some of the more famous such contests.

1931--USC 16, Notre Dame 14. Johnny Baker kicked a game-winning 33-yard field goal with 1:00 remaining. All of USC's points came in the fourth quarter. The win snapped Notre Dame's 26-game unbeaten streak and was USC's first-ever win in South Bend. Troy won the national championship.

1938--USC 7, Duke 3 (1939 Rose Bowl). Al Krueger, a second-team end, and fourth-string quarterback Doyle Nave came off the bench to connect on 4 straight passes, the last a 19-yard TD with about 40 seconds left to upset previously unbeaten, untied and unscored-upon Duke.

1939--USC 0, UCLA 0. Bobby Robertson knocked down Ned Matthews' 4-yard pass in the end zone with less than 5 minutes to play to preserve the tie for USC, sending the Trojans to the Rose Bowl.

1941--USC 13, Oregon State 7. Doug Essick caught a game-winning 6-yard pass from Ray Woods with 13 seconds to play.

1953--USC 23, Stanford 20. Sam Tsagalakis kicked a victorious 38-yard field goal with 13 seconds left.

1958--USC 15, UCLA 15. Luther Hayes returned a kickoff 74 yards for a TD and Tom Maudlin ran in for the 2-point conversion with 6:50 to play to get the Trojans a tie.

1964--USC 26, California 21. Behind 21-14 in the fourth quarter, USC scored twice late, the second time (while trailing 21-20) on a 22-yard pass from Craig Fertig to Rod Sherman with 50 seconds to culminate a 95-yard drive.

1964--USC 20, Notre Dame 17. Rod Sherman caught a 15-yard TD pass from Craig Fertig with 1:33 to play to upset unbeaten and top-ranked Notre Dame. USC was down, 17-0, at halftime.

1969--USC 26, Stanford 24. Ron Ayala kicked a game-winning 34-yard field goal with 0:00 on the clock.

1973--USC 27, Stanford 26. Chris Limahelu kicked a game-winning 34-yard field goal with 3 seconds to play.

1974--USC 18, Ohio State 17 (1975 Rose Bowl). Johnny McKay caught a 38-yard TD pass from Pat Haden with 2:03 remaining to pull USC to within a point of Ohio State. Then Shelton Diggs grabbed the subsequent 2-point conversion pass from Haden for the victory, which wrapped up a national championship for USC.

1977--USC 29, UCLA 27. Frank Jordan kicked a 38-yard field goal with 2 seconds remaining, knocking UCLA out of the Rose Bowl.

1979--USC 17, LSU 12. Kevin Williams caught a game-winning 8-yard TD pass from Paul McDonald with 32 seconds to play.

1979--USC 17, Ohio State 16 (1980 Rose Bowl). Charles White scored on a 1-yard run with 1:32 remaining. USC drove 83 yards in 8 plays on the winning drive, with White carrying 6 times for 71 yards.

1981--USC 28, Oklahoma 24. Fred Cornwell caught a 7-yard TD pass from John Mazur with 2 seconds to play to give No. 1 USC the win over No. 2 Oklahoma.

1981--USC 14, Notre Dame 7. Todd Spencer ran 26 yards for the game-winning TD with 4:52 to play.

1981--USC 22, UCLA 21. George Achica broke through the line on the final play of the game to block Norm Johnson's 46-yard field goal try, preserving the win and knocking UCLA out of the Rose Bowl.

1982--USC 17, Notre Dame 13. Michael Harper, fumbling as he dove over the goal line, scored on a controversial winning 1-yard run with 48 seconds to play. It was coach John Robinson's last game of his first tenure at USC.

1985--USC 17, UCLA 13. Rodney Peete scored the winning points on a 1-yard sneak at 1:13 to go.

1986--USC 17, Baylor 14. Don Shafer kicked a game-winning 32-yard field goal in a driving rainstorm with 0:00 on the clock.

1987--USC 12, Arizona 10. Quin Rodriguez kicked an 18-yard field goal with 1:11 remaining, his fourth three-pointer of the game.

1987--USC 17, UCLA 13. Erik Affholter made a juggling, corner-of-the-end zone 33-yard TD catch of a Rodney Peete pass with 7:59 to play in the game, bringing USC all the way back from a 13-0 third quarter deficit. The win put USC in the Rose Bowl.

1988--USC 24, Stanford 20. John Jackson caught a game-winning 10-yard TD pass from Rodney Peete with 1:19 remaining. USC trailed, 13-0, in the second quarter.

1989--USC 18, Washington State 17. Known as "The Drive," Todd Marinovich guided USC 91 yards in 18 plays (all through the air) with 3:31 remaining, culminating with a 2-yard TD pass to Ricky Ervins with 4 seconds to play. Marinovich then hit Gary Wellman for the winning 2-point conversion.

1989--USC 10, UCLA 10. A 54-yard field goal try by UCLA's Alfredo Velasco with 2 seconds to play hit the crossbar and bounced away, preserving the tie.

1989--USC 17, Michigan 10 (1990 Rose Bowl). Rose Bowl MVP Ricky Ervins ran 14 yards for the winning TD with 1:10 to play to cap a 75-yard drive.

1990--USC 35, Ohio State 26. The second half was played in heavy rain with thunder and lightning, getting so bad that officials suspended the game with 2:36 to play after USC recovered an onside kick.

1990--USC 31, California 31. Cal's Robbie Keen missed a 43-yard field goal try with 4 seconds remaining, ending the game in a tie.

1990--USC 45, UCLA 42. In the highest-scoring and perhaps most thrilling USC-UCLA game, Todd Marinovich threw a game-winning 23-yard TD pass to Johnnie Morton with 16 seconds left. The contest featured a 42-point fourth quarter (including 3 TD's in the final 3:09) with 4 lead changes. Morton also caught a 21-yard scoring TD from Marinovich with 3:09 to play to give USC a short-lived 38-35 lead, but Kevin Smith scored on a 1-yard run with 1:19 to go to put the Bruins up 42-38.

1992--USC 31, San Diego State 31. San Diego State's Andy Trakas missed 2 field goals (30 and 55 yards) in the last 0:54 to allow USC to hold onto the tie.

1992--USC 27, California 24. Down 24-13, Estrus Crayton scored twice in the final 5:45 on 2- and 1-yard runs, the second with 2:27 to play to give USC the win. Brian Williams' interception with 2:19 to go sealed Troy's victory.

1995--USC 21, Washington 21. Down 21-0 going into the fourth quarter, USC scored 3 touchdowns, the last a 2-yard pass from Brad Otton to Johnny McWilliams with 33 seconds to go (Adam Rendon's PAT tied it), thus allowing the Trojans to keep hold of the inside track in the Rose Bowl race.

1995--USC 31, Stanford 30. A week after the dramatic Washington tie, USC--behind 16-0 in the second quarter--scored with 39 seconds to play on an 8-yard Kyle Wachholtz pass to Keyshawn

Johnson, who then came in as a safety on defense and knocked down a Hail Mary pass at the goal line at the gun.

1996--USC 29, Washington State 24. Delon Washington's 17-yard TD run with 2:05 to play proved decisive and then USC had to hold off the Cougars, who got to the Trojan 11-yard line with 39 seconds to go before fumbling the ball away.

1996--USC 27, Notre Dame 20. In its first overtime win in 3 tries in 1996, Delon Washington scored on a 15-yard run with 1:50 to go in regulation and then barely edged the ball over the goal line on the ensuing 2-point conversion run to tie the game at 20-20. After Rodney Sermons caught a 5-yard TD pass from Brad Otton in the first overtime, Troy stopped the Irish, breaking USC's 13-game non-winning streak to Notre Dame.

1997--USC 20, Notre Dame 17. Adam Abrams' 37-yard field goal with 1:05 to go--4 plays after Mark Cusano ran 27 yards with an interception--gave USC its first win in South Bend since 1981.

1997--USC 24, Oregon 22. Marc Matock partially deflected Joshua Smith's 36-yard field goal try that fell just short with 8 seconds to play to preserve the win.

2000--USC 17, Colorado 14. David Newbury, who had missed a pair of field goals earlier in the game, nailed a 24-yarder with 13 seconds to play for the victory.

2000--USC 34, San Jose State 24. USC, trailing by 12 points midway through the fourth quarter, scored 22 unanswered points in the final 8:07 to win.

2000--USC 44, Arizona State 38. After Arizona State scored 29 consecutive second-half points to force overtime, Chad Pierson scored on a 2-yard run in the second overtime and then Sultan Abdul-Malik forced a Sun Devil fumble which Matt Childers recovered to seal the win.

2000--USC 38, UCLA 35. David Bell, USC's third string kicker at the start of the season, hit a game-winning 36-yard field goal with 9 seconds to play (it was only his second field goal in 6 career attempts, as he had missed 3 previous tries in 2000, including a 24-yarder earlier in the game's fourth quarter).

Of course, USC has been on the wrong end of some dramatic last-minute finishes, too. For instance, there was the 1926 Notre Dame game (Art Parisien threw a 23-yard TD pass to Butch Niemiec with 2 minutes to go for a 13-12 Irish win), the 1937 Notre Dame game (Mario Tonnelli ran 13 yards for a TD with 1:45 left in the Irish's 13-6 win), the 1944 UCLA game (Johnny Roesch scored twice in the last 2 minutes, including an 80-yard punt return with no time on the clock, and then Bob Waterfield's extra point kick hit the crossbar but rolled over, to give UCLA a 13-13 tie), the 1948 Notre Dame game (Emil Sitko ran for a 2-yard TD with 35 seconds to go and Steve Oracko hit the extra point as Notre Dame, riding a 27-game unbeaten streak, escaped with a 14-14 tie), the 1954 Notre Dame game (Jim Morse caught a 72-yard pass from Ralph Guglielmi with 5:57 to go to give Notre Dame a 23-17 victory), the 1963 Notre Dame game (Ken Ivan kicked a 33-yard field goal with 6:38 to go as Notre Dame won, 17-14), the 1965 UCLA game (Kurt Altenberg caught a 52-yard scoring bomb from Gary Beban with about 4 minutes to play as UCLA overcame a 16-6 deficit and won, 20-16), the 1967 Rose Bowl (USC's 2-point conversion pass attempt with 2:28 to play was intercepted by George Catavolos, allowing Purdue to hold onto a 14-13 win), the 1975 Stanford game (Mike Langford kicked a 37-yard field goal with no time on the clock as Stanford won, 13-10), the 1977 Alabama game (under pressure from Alabama's Wayne Hamilton, Rob Hertel's 2-point conversion pass to Mosi Tatupu with 35 seconds to play was intercepted by Barry Krauss, sealing the Tide's 21-20 victory), the 1980 UCLA game (Freeman McNeil pulled down a tipped 58-yard pass from Jay Schroeder for the game-winner at 2:07 to play for a 20-17 win), the 1982 UCLA game (Bruin Karl Morgan preserved UCLA's 20-19 win by sacking Scott Tinsley on an attempted 2-point conversion pass after USC had scored at the gun), the 1986 Notre Dame game (the Irish rallied back from a 20-9 halftime deficit, culminated by John Carney's 19-yard field goal as time expired to give Notre Dame a 38-37 win), the 1989 Illinois game (a pair of late fourth quarter Jeff George TD passes, the second to Steve Williams with 2:19 to play, gave the Illini a 14-13 win), the 1991 Stanford game (USC went ahead 21-17 with 3:37 to play only to see Steve Stenstrom hit Chris Walsh with a game-winning 12-yard TD pass with 1:11 left; USC's Cole Ford barely missed a 45-yard field goal at the gun), the 1992 UCLA game (UCLA came back from a 31-17 fourth quarter deficit to go ahead 38-31, only to see Rob Johnson score on a 1-yard sneak with 41 seconds to play, but Johnson's 2-point conversion pass to Yonnie Jackson was deflected by Bruin Nkosi Littleton), the 1993 Penn State game (Rob Johnson's 2-point conversion pass to Johnny McWilliams with 37 seconds to go fell bounced incomplete, allowing the Nittany Lions to hold on to a 21-20 win), the 1993 UCLA game (a win or tie would have put USC in the Rose Bowl, but Rob Johnson's 3-yard, third-down pass with 56 seconds to play to Tyler Cashman was intercepted in the end zone by Bruin Marvin Goodwin to preserve UCLA's 27-21 victory), the 1996 Arizona State game (after ASU tied the game at 28-28 with 1:30 to play, the teams went to double overtime with Sun Devil Courtney Jackson returning a controversial Brad Otton fumble 85 yards for a TD in the second overtime to end the game in ASU's favor, 48-35), the 1996 UCLA game (USC held a 17-point lead with less than 7 minutes to play in regulation but couldn't hold on and then, in its second double overtime game of the season, the Trojans couldn't score in the second overtime after Skip Hicks' 25-yard TD run gave the Bruins a 48-41 victory), the 1997 Washington State game (Kevin McKenzie made a one-handed grab of a 51-yard Ryan Leaf TD pass with 4:18 to play to give WSU a 28-21 win), the 1998 California game (the Bears scored 22 unanswered points in the final 19 minutes, including a decisive 3-yard TD run by Marcus Fields with 3:30 to play), the 1999 Oregon game (third string kicker Josh Frankel hit a 27-yard field goal in the third overtime to give Oregon a 33-30 win), the 1999 Notre Dame game (the Irish scored 22 unanswered points in the second half, the last when Jabari Holloway recovered a Notre Dame fumble in the end zone with 2:40 to go) and the 2000 Stanford game (backup Chris Lewis threw a 20-yard TD pass to Jamien McCullum on fourth-and-goal as time expired to give Stanford a 32-30 win).

"THE COMEBACK"

1974: USC 55, Notre Dame 24

In what is regarded as one of the most dramatic and incredible comebacks in the history of college football, the 1974 Trojans erased a 24-point deficit to beat Notre Dame, 55-24, in the Coliseum. In a December 1998 list by SPORT magazine, the game was ranked as the No. 6 top college football moment of the 20th century.

USC trailed the Irish, 24-0, late in the first half, and the Trojans' chances looked bleak because Notre Dame sported the nation's top-ranked defense. But with 10 seconds remaining before halftime, Anthony Davis scored on a 7-yard pass from Pat Haden (Troy missed the 2-point conversion) to send the Trojans into the lockerroom behind 24-6...but with a glimmer of hope.

Davis took the opening kickoff of the second half and raced 102 yards for a score, opening the floodgates as USC rallied for 35 points in the third quarter. Davis scored 2 more times that quarter, both on short runs, and Haden threw TD passes of 18 and 45 yards to Johnny McKay.

Then, before 2 minutes had elapsed in the fourth quarter, Haden hit Shelton Diggs for a 16-yard score and Charles Phillips returned an interception 58 yards for a touchdown.

In all, USC blitzed to its 55 points in under 17 minutes.

"We turned into madmen," was how Davis described the comeback.

Added receiver Johnny McKay, son of USC coach John McKay, right after the game: "I can't understand it. I'm gonna sit down tonight and have a beer and think about it. Against Notre Dame? Maybe against Kent State...but Notre Dame?"

The victory propelled USC, which then beat Ohio State in the Rose Bowl, 18-17, to the national championship.

Interestingly, that Rose Bowl win was dramatic, too. USC trailed, 17-10, with just minutes left. Then Haden teamed with McKay on a 38-yard TD pass with 2:03 to go, and followed that with a 2-point conversion toss to Diggs for the victory.

USC: AMERICA'S BOWL TEAM

USC has a remarkable record in bowl games. The Trojans have the nation's fourth highest bowl winning percentage (.641) among the 59 schools which have made at least 10 bowl appearances (behind only Oklahoma State's .692, Penn State's .667 and Georgia Tech's .655). USC is just 3 wins behind Alabama for most bowl victories, 28 to 25. Troy's 39 bowl appearances rank behind only Alabama (50), Tennessee (41) and Texas (40), and is tied with Nebraska. USC once won 9 consecutive bowl games (the 1923-30-32-33-39-40-44-45 Rose Bowls and 1924 Christmas Festival); only Florida State has won more in a row (11).

USC's overall post-season record is 25-14. The Trojans were a bowl participant each year they were eligible from 1972 to 1990.

Troy has appeared in an unprecedented 28 Rose Bowls, where it has a 20-8 mark. That's not only the most Rose Bowl wins of any team, but also the most wins by a school in a single bowl. USC has won 7 of its last 9 Rose Bowls. USC has also appeared in 9 other bowls--the Christmas Festival, Liberty Bowl, Bluebonnet Bowl, Fiesta Bowl, Aloha Bowl, Florida Citrus Bowl, Sun (John Hancock) Bowl (twice), Freedom Bowl (twice) and Cotton Bowl.

USC BOWL GAME SUMMARIES

USC 14, Penn State 3

In the first Rose Bowl game played in the present Rose Bowl stadium, USC, a substitute Western entry for California, which had declined the invitation, defeated Penn State, 14-3. USC's first touchdown was set up by Harold Galloway, who caught a pass while flat on his back at the two-yard line. Penn State arrived at the game 45 minutes late after being caught in a traffic jam, and the game concluded in moonlight as sportswriters had to strike matches to complete their stories.

USC	0	7	7	0	-- 14

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, Campbell, Baker. PAT, Hawkins (2).
Penn State--Field Goal, Palm.

1924 Christmas Festival
USC 20, Missouri 7

Played on Christmas Day in the Coliseum, USC posted one of its biggest wins in its early history, 20-7 over Missouri. The Trojans stopped the Tigers early, then dominated the latter part of the contest, with Hayden Pythian, Wallace Newman and Henry Lefebvre starring.

Missouri	0	0	0	7	-- 7

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, Lefebvre, Badgro, Pythian. PAT, Hawkins (2).
Missouri--Touchdown, Walsh. PAT, Unknown.

1932 Rose Bowl
USC 21, Tulane 12

Erny Pinckert ran for touchdowns of 25 and 30 yards to lead USC's Thundering Herd to a 21-0 halftime lead, and the Trojans held off Bernie Bierman's Tulane team in the second half for a 21-12 victory. Six USC players on that team were named All-American during their college careers.

USC	0	7	14	0	-- 21

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, Sparling, Pinckert (2). PAT, Baker (3).
Tulane--Touchdowns, Haynes, Glover.

Attendance: 75,562 Date: Jan. 1

1933 Rose Bowl
USC 35, Pittsburgh 0

Quarterback Cotton Warburton scored two touchdowns as USC wore down a lighter Pittsburgh team for a 35-0 win. Warburton, a 145-pounder who went on to become one of the Trojans' greatest backs, broke the game open in the second half.

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, Palmer, Griffith, Warburton (2), Barber. PAT, Smith (4), Lady.

Scoring: USC--Touchdown, Schindler, Krueger. PAT, Jones, Gaspar.

Attendance: 92,200 Date: Jan. 1

1944 Rose Bowl
USC 29, Washington 0

In the only Rose Bowl game which was not intersectional (because of wartime travel restrictions), USC raced past Washington, 29-0. Quarterback Jim Hardy led the Trojans, throwing three touchdown passes. Washington entered the game as a strong favorite.

Scoring: USC--Touchdowns, G. Callanan (2). G. Gray (2). PAT, Jamison (3). Safety, Planck blocked Austin's punt which was recovered in end zone by Washington.

Attendance: 68,000 Date: Jan. 1

1945 Rose Bowl
USC 25, Tennessee 0

Quarterback Jim Hardy passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third as USC defeated Tennessee, 25-0. Hardy thus in two games threw for five touchdowns and scored a sixth. Tennessee fielded a predominantly freshman team.

1974 Rose Bowl
Ohio State 42, USC 21

The 1974 game was a reverse of the 1973 contest as Ohio State, held to a 14-14 tie at halftime, exploded in the second half for a 42-21 win over USC. Freshman fullback Pete Johnson scored three touchdowns and Archie Griffin ran for 149 yards. But the Player of the Game was OSU quarterback Cornelius Greene, who completed six of eight passes for 129 yards and scrambled effectively.

Ohio State	7	7	13	15	-- 42

1975 Liberty Bowl
USC 20, Texas A&M 0

1977 Rose Bowl
USC 14, Michigan 6

After an opening game loss, USC won its 11th-straight game by grinding out a 14-6 win over Michigan. Michigan's Rob Lytle opened the scoring with a one-yard plunge, but Trojan quarterback Vince Evans got that back with a one-yard rollout. Freshman tailback Charles White, filling in for the injured Ricky Bell, rushed for 122 yards, including a seven-yard scoring jaunt that closed out the scoring for USC. John Robinson became only the second rookie coach from the Pac-8 to capture a Rose Bowl.

1979 Rose Bowl
USC 17, Michigan 10

In a tough defensive struggle, the Pac-10 ran its victory string to five in a row as USC outlasted Michigan 17-10. Trojan tailback Charles White rushed for 99 yards and scored what proved to be the decisive touchdown on a disputed three-yard plunge in the second quarter. Michigan quarterback Rick Leach almost brought the Wolverines back from a 14-point halftime deficit by completing eight of 11 second-half passes, including a 44-yard scoring bomb to Roosevelt Smith. White and Leach shared Player of the Game honors.

1980 Rose Bowl
USC 17, Ohio State 16

USC's Heisman Trophy winning tailback Charles White stole the show as he led the Trojans to a come-from-behind win in one of the most exciting games in Rose Bowl history. White, named Player of the Game for the second straight year, rushed for a Rose Bowl record 247 yards, including a one-yard touchdown dive with 1:32 remaining in the game that gave USC the win. The Trojans jumped out to an early 10-0 lead, but Ohio State came back to take a 16-10 lead in the fourth quarter. Then White took over. With 5:21 remaining in the game, the Trojans got the ball on their own 17-yard line. USC marched 83 yards in eight plays, all on the ground. On the winning drive, White carried six times for 71 yards.

1982 Fiesta Bowl
Penn State 26, USC 10

Penn State's fine defense and key Trojan miscues led to USC's first non-Rose Bowl post-season defeat, 26-10. Marcus Allen, who was held to 85 yards, fumbled away the ball on USC's first possession and the Lions' Curt Warner, who gained 145 yards, went in to score several plays later. USC's only touchdown came on a 20-yard interception by Chip Banks.

1985 Rose Bowl
USC 20, Ohio State 17

USC's defense prevailed over Ohio State's potent offense featuring Heisman Trophy runnerup Keith Byars, 20-17. Interceptions set up USC's two touchdowns and the Trojan defense also stopped two key Buckeye drives--one early in the contest that got to the four-yard line and one late in the game which ended up at the 38. For USC, Tim Green threw touchdown passes to Joe Cormier and Timmie Ware while Steve Jordan kicked two 51-yard field goals. Most of Ohio State's points were provided by Rich Spangler, who hit three field goals.

1985 Aloha Bowl
Alabama 24, USC 3

The nation's top two bowl teams (USC with the most wins and Alabama with the most appearances) faced off in balmy Honolulu. The score was tied at halftime, 3-3, but the Crimson Tide rolled in the second half to win, 24-3. USC managed only 197 total yards (just 61 rushing) and 10 first downs. On the other hand, Alabama had 317 total yards, 205 coming on the ground. Mike Shula, Al Bell, Gene Jelks, Cornelius Bennett and Jon Hand starred for the Crimson Tide.

1987 Florida Citrus Bowl
Auburn 16, USC 7

In Ted Tollner's final game as USC's head coach, his Trojan defense held down a high-powered Auburn offense (led by Brent Fullwood, the nation's top runner). But Troy's offense was ineffective and the Tigers won, 16-7, in chilly Orlando. Outside linebacker Marcus Cotton provided USC with its only score on a spectacular 24-yard scoring interception return early in the game. Two long second-quarter drives by Auburn, plus a safety late in the game, gave Auburn its only points. USC made it interesting at the end after Louis Brock blocked a Tiger punt, but the Trojans couldn't score on fourth-and-inches at the goal line. Fullwood had 152 yards rushing and one TD for Auburn, which had just 290 total yards on the day.

1988 Rose Bowl
Michigan State 20, USC 17

For just the fifth time ever, teams that had played each other earlier in the season (Michigan State had beaten USC in the 1988 season opener, 27-13) faced off in the Rose Bowl. The Spartans prevailed again, this time 20-17, breaking a six-game Big Ten losing streak in Pasadena. Despite getting more total yards (410 to 276) and first downs (21 to 11) than Michigan State, the Trojans were hurt by five turnovers, including a lost fumble on a mishandled snap on the Spartan 30 with 1:37 to play as Troy was marching downfield on an impressive drive. USC trailed 14-3 at halftime, but two touchdowns passes from quarterback Rodney Peete to split end Ken Henry eventually evened the score at 17-17 midway through the last quarter. On the next series, Michigan State moved into its winning field goal position with the help of a spectacular 36-yard jump pass from quarterback Bobby McAllister to split end Andre Rison. USC had to play Michigan State for the second time that season without star Trojan tailback Steven Webster (he sat out the opener with a sprained ankle and tore knee ligaments in the regular season finale against UCLA).

1989 Rose Bowl
Michigan 22, USC 14

In a "teacher-versus-pupil" matchup (USC coach Larry Smith served under Wolverine coach Bo Schembechler at both Miami of Ohio and Michigan), the teacher got the better of it as Michigan came back from a 14-3 halftime deficit to win 22-14. It was a disappointing way for USC to conclude its 100th anniversary of football. After falling behind 3-0 on a Mike Gillette field goal, USC charged back as quarterback Rodney Peete ran for a pair of short touchdowns (1 and 4 yards) in the second quarter. But it was all Michigan in the second half, as the Wolverines amassed 230 of their 352 total yards then. They scored 3 times on long drives, the first on a 6-yard Demetrius Brown-to-Chris Calloway aerial that capped a 67-yard drive to open the third quarter. Then Rose Bowl MVP Leroy Hoard scored twice for Michigan on 1-yard runs in the final period, coming off of 92 and 70-yard drives. Hoard had 142 yards rushing (the first time anyone broke the century rushing mark against the Trojans all year), including a key 61-yard run to set up the Wolverines' final score. USC, which managed a season-low 296 total yards, didn't help its cause with 5 turnovers, 11 penalties and numerous missed tackles. The win was only Schembechler's second in 9 tries in Pasadena.

1990 Rose Bowl
USC 17, Michigan 10

After losing the previous 2 Rose Bowls, USC beat Michigan, 17-10, in a rematch of the 1989 game. The win, in Bo Schembechler's final game as Wolverine coach, ended Michigan's national title hopes. It was a bittersweet victory for USC coach Larry Smith, who served 6 years as an assistant under Schembechler at Miami of Ohio and Michigan. Trojan tailback Ricky Ervins, the Rose Bowl MVP, scored the game-winning TD on a 14-yard run with 1:10 to play. Ervins, who lives 5 minutes from the Rose Bowl and used to park cars there on New Year's Day, ran for 126 yards on 30 carries and caught 5 passes for 44 yards. USC, which dominated the stats, pulled off a key play early in the second quarter when defensive guard Dan Owens blocked a punt. Six plays later, quarterback Todd Marinovich, who was 22-of-31 passing for 178 yards, scored on a 1-yard run. Kickers J.D. Carlson of Michigan (19 yards) and USC's Quin Rodriguez (34 yards) then matched field goals prior to halftime. Michigan tied the score on a 2-yard run then matched field goals prior to halftime. Michigan tied the score on a 2-yard run by tailback Allen Jefferson in the third quarter and the game looked like it would end deadlocked. But, with less than 6 minutes to go, Michigan was called for holding on a successful Wolverine fake punt and USC took over at its 25-yard line. Troy then went 75 yards in 11 plays for the winning score. Michigan tailback Leroy Hoard became the first player to run for 100-plus yards against USC all season (he had 108 yards on 17 carries).

1990 John Hancock Bowl

Playing in its eighth different bowl, USC lost to Michigan State, 17-16, in the John Hancock Bowl in El Paso, Tex., on New Year's Eve day. It was the 900th game in Trojan gridiron history. USC dominated the stats, getting more total yards (336-215), plays (76-52), first downs (21-12) and possession time (35:45-24:15). Troy limited the powerful Spartan rushing attack (which averaged 253.9 yards a game to rank 10th nationally) to an MSU season-low 84 yards. Big Ten rushing champ tailback Tico Duckett got just 18 yards. But Troy had 4 costly turnovers (including 2 in MSU's end zone) and converted only 5 of 14 first downs. USC scored first when quarterback Todd Marinovich hit flanker Gary Wellman with a 7-yard TD pass late in the opening quarter. Marinovich was 18-of-30 for 174 yards, but threw 3 interceptions (including 1 in the end zone) and also fumbled the ball on fourth-and-goal at the Spartan 1-yard line in the middle of the second quarter (which MSU recovered in the end zone). Michigan State marched 80 yards to a TD after that fumble recovery, with tailback Hyland Hickson scoring on an 18-yard run to tie the score at 7-7 at halftime. After placekicker Quin Rodriguez hit a 20-yard field goal on USC's opening possession of the second half (which ended on the MSU 3-yard line), the Spartans countered with a 21-yard TD pass from quarterback Dan Enos to flanker Courtney Hawkins (the first TD reception by a MSU wide receiver all year), who was the game's MVP with 6 catches for a season-high 106 yards, and a career-long 52-yard field goal by John Langeloh. Rodriguez capped USC's next series with a career-long 54-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter. Then, down 17-13, cornerback Stephon Pace intercepted an Enos pass to give USC the ball near midfield. But the Trojans could get no closer than the MSU 17 before backup quarterback Shane Foley's errant pitch stalled the drive and USC had to settle for another Rodriguez field goal, this one 43 yards with 5:54 to play. Troy, however, could never get the ball back. Tailback Mazio Royster had a game-high 125 yards on 32 carries, only the second player to break the century rushing mark against Michigan State in 1990. USC rushed for 156 yards versus an MSU defense which was ranked 17th nationally against the run (allowing just 113.2 yards a game). Trojan outside linebacker Craig Hartsuyker, who had 2 quarterback sacks and forced a fumble, was named the game's Most Valuable Lineman.

Fresno State 24, USC 7

USC, making its 35th bowl appearance, was stunned by unranked, 8-point underdog Fresno State, 24-7, in the ninth Freedom Bowl in Anaheim Stadium. It was the first meeting ever between the Trojans and Bulldogs. Fresno State dominated, particularly in the second half. FSU, with the nation's No. 1 scoring offense (40.5) and No. 2 total offense (482.9), held the ball 15-plus minutes more (37:32-22:28), had 322 more total yards (405-183), 10 more first downs (24-14) and 34 more plays (84-50). USC's 183 total yards were its fewest since getting 163 at Washington in 1990 and its 95 passing yards were its fewest since getting 74 at Oregon in 1991. The Trojans had 4 turnovers (FSU had none) and converted just 1-of-9 third downs. The first half, played in a steady rain, ended in a 7-7 tie. It was the fewest points FSU had scored in a half all season (and it was the first time the Bulldogs were shut out in the first quarter in 1992). USC tailback Deon Strother opened the scoring with a 1-yard plunge early in the second quarter, but FSU answered when fullback Lorenzo Neal ran for a 1-yard TD. While attempting to catch a pass on the last play of the half, USC flanker Curtis Conway sprained his right knee and missed the second half (it was the first time in 23 games that he didn't catch a pass). After a 43-yard field goal by placekicker Derek Mahoney in the third quarter, FSU scored twice late in the game on runs by tailbacks Anthony Daigle (2 yards) and Ron Rivers (5 yards). Rivers had a game-high 104 yards on 19 carries, while Freedom Bowl MVP Neal had 75 yards on 19 tries. Bulldog quarterback Trent Dilfer was 13-of-28 for 164 yards. Tailback Estrus Crayton, USC's game MVP, led Troy with 79 yards on 19 attempts. Defensively, safety Jason Sehorn had a game-high 10 tackles, while inside linebacker Brian Williams added 9 stops, cornerback Jerald Henry had 8, and cornerback Jason Oliver had 7 along with a blocked field goal.

USC 28, Utah 21

USC, exorcising the demons of Anaheim Stadium, scored 28 points in the first 17 minutes of the game and then held off a furious Utah second-half rally to win Freedom Bowl X, 28-21, before 43,150 fans and a national Raycom television audience. The Trojans, making their 36th bowl appearance, were playing in Anaheim Stadium for the third time in 14 games, but had yet to win there (losing in the 1992 Freedom Bowl to Fresno State and the 1993 season-opening Disneyland Pigskin Classic to North Carolina). It was the first USC-Utah meeting in 45 years. USC, a 17-point favorite, scored easily on its first 4 possessions. In the first quarter, quarterback Rob Johnson hit All-American wide receiver Johnnie Morton on TD throws of 31 and 9 yards, and tailback David Dotson dove over from 2 yards out. Then, Johnson connected with tight endJohnny McWilliams on a 5-yard scoring toss just 1:26 into the second quarter. But after that, USC's offense--hampered by an ineffective running game (the Trojans ran for just 91 yards)--stalled. Utah, playing in just its fourth bowl game, came alive after halftime, scoring on 3 of its first 5 possessions: a 59-yard TD pass from quarterback Mike McCoy to slotback Henry Lusk, a 34-yard run by fullback Jamal Anderson and a 1-yard run by tailback Keith Williams. But USC got the ball with 3:19 to play and held it until just 8 seconds remained, when McCoy's desperation pass was intercepted by cornerback John Herpin (Herpin's second pick of the game). Morton was named the game's MVP as he caught a Freedom Bowl-record 10 passes for 147 yards and the 2 scores (to tie a Freedom Bowl TD catch mark) despite playing weakened with the flu (7 of his catches for 121 yards and both TDs were in the first half). Johnson, who also had come down with a slight case of the flu, completed a Freedom Bowl-record 30 passes in 44 attempts for 345 yards and the 3 TD aerials (in the first half, he was 17-of-25 for 255 with the 3 TDs). Morton became the Pac-10's No. 2 career receiver with 201 grabs, while Johnson set USC's season pass completion percentage mark (68.6%). USC tailback Shawn Walters ran for a game-high 70 yards on 19 carries, while fullback Deon Strother added 50 rushing yards on 9 attempts and caught 6 passes for 63 yards. USC wide receiver Ken Grace, who had 4 catches for 48 yards, returned a punt 31 yards, a Freedom Bowl mark. USC generated 436 yards of total offense on 82 plays and held the ball 32:14. Utah threatened 3 times inside the USC 30-yard line in the opening half, but USC's defense held each time, including an impressive goal line stand and an interception in the end zone by cornerback Jason Sehorn. Utah came into the game averaging 484.6 total yards (fifth in the U.S.), 324.3 passing yards (seventh in the U.S.) and 30.8 points, but was limited to 350 total yards (286 through the air). McCoy, who was second nationally in total offense (330.8), was 23-of-40 for 286 yards, 1 TD and 3 interceptions (at the half, he was 10-of-20 for 81 yards with 2 picks). Lusk had 6 catches for 140 yards and the TD, while Anderson ran for 67 yards and the TD on 16 carries and caught 7 passes for 61 yards. Outside linebacker Brian Williams and safety Mike Salmon topped USC in tackles with 9 each (both had 2 for losses). USC coach John Robinson, who has led USC to at least 8 wins in each of his 8 seasons there, upped his bowl record to 5-1.

1995 Cotton Bowl
USC 55, Texas Tech 14

USC (ranked 20th by UPI, 21st by AP and 22nd by USA Today/CNN) made quite an impression in its first visit to the Mobil Cotton Bowl Classic, smashing Texas Tech, 55-14, in a record-filled performance before a sellout crowd of 70,218 and an NBC-TV national audience. It was USC's 24th bowl victory, its 37th bowl appearance (in 10 different bowls), its 17th win in the last 19 games against Southwest Conference opponents, its third win in 3 tries over Texas Tech, and coach John Robinson's sixth bowl win in 7 trips (giving Robinson at least 8 wins in each of his 9 seasons at Troy). After 59 years, it was also the last Cotton Bowl where an SWC team served as host. Texas Tech was making only its second visit to the Cotton Bowl (the first was in 1939). The game was over quickly, as it was 28-0 after the first quarter and 34-0 at halftime. USC led 48-0 before Texas Tech scored against the Trojan reserves late in the third quarter. USC set Cotton Bowl records for most points in a game, most points in a quarter (USC's most since also scoring 28 in the second quarter against California in 1978) and most touchdowns (7), while scoring its most points ever in a bowl and posting its biggest bowl victory margin (second in Cotton Bowl history). It was the most points scored against Texas Tech since Miami had 61 in 1986. Troy's first 3 scores came in a 1:16 span. After tailback Shawn Walters, 1 of 8 Texans on the Trojan roster, ran 11 yards for a TD, USC recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff and, on the next play, quarterback Rob Johnson hit fullback Terry Barnum for a 19-yard score. Three plays later, cornerback John Herpin, another Texas native, intercepted a Zebbie Lethridge pass and returned it 26 yards for a TD. Herpin, who intercepted another pass in the second quarter to set up a field goal, was named the game's Outstanding Defensive Player. USC's next 3 TDs came on aerials to wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson of 12, 22 and 86 yards (the 86-yarder was 1 yard shy of the longest pass in Cotton Bowl and USC history), the first 2 from Rob Johnson and the third from quarterback Brad Otton. Keyshawn Johnson, selected as the game's Outstanding Offensive Player, had 8 catches overall for a Cotton Bowl-record 222 yards (just 7 yards shy of the Trojan single game record). His 3 TD catches set a Cotton Bowl record and equalled a Trojan mark. Rob Johnson, who became USC's career passing yardage leader and the Pac-10 and USC recordholder for career completion percentage, was 16-of-21 for 289 yards (the second most yards in Cotton Bowl history). The other Trojan scores came on a late 2-yard Otton pass to tight end Jeff Diltz and second quarter field goals by placekicker Cole Ford of 39 and a career-best 42 yards. Ford's 7 PAT kicks was a Cotton Bowl record. Walters ran for a game-best 82 yards on 14 carries. Otton was 8-of-14 for 146 yards. USC thoroughly dominated the statistics, more than doubling Texas Tech in total yardage (578-260) and possession time (40:02-19:58) while also having more first downs (21-14) and plays (80-63). USC, which averaged 7.2 yards per play, set Cotton Bowl records for total yards, passing yards (a USC record 435) and completions (24). USC did this against a Texas Tech defense which entered the game third nationally in pass efficiency defense (88.6), 10th in scoring defense (17.4) and 22nd in total defense (311.0). The Red Raiders had held 5 foes to single digits in scoring and had given up just 47 points in their previous 5 games. Inside linebacker Jeff Kopp led USC in tackles with 7, while safety Sammy Knight added 6. Texas Tech, which punted 10 times, advanced into USC territory on just 4 of its 16 possessions.

USC 41, Northwestern 32

Behind the stellar play of wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson and quarterback Brad Otton, USC (ranked 15th by UPI and 17th by USA Today/CNN and AP) put an end to No. 3-ranked Northwestern's Cinderella season with an exciting 41-32 Rose Bowl win before a sellout crowd of 100,102 and a national ABC-TV audience. It was the 50th anniversary of the Pac-10/Big Ten agreement in the Rose Bowl. It was USC's 20th victory in its unprecedented 28th trip to Pasadena (but its first since the 1990 game) and Troy's first win over a Top 3 team since defeating Michigan in that 1990 Rose Bowl, while Northwestern--having its first winning season since 1971 (the Wildcats came in with a 10-1 record)--was playing in only its second-ever bowl (its first since winning the 1949 Rose Bowl). It also gave USC coach John Robinson a 4-0 Rose Bowl record (and 7-1 in all bowls). The Trojans jumped off to a quick start, driving 83 yards with the opening kickoff while using a no-huddle offense as running back LaVale Woods scored on a 1-yard plunge. But Northwestern answered on its first possession, as running back Darnell Autry ran 3 yards for a TD to cap a 68-yard drive. USC then scored 17 unanswered second quarter points: a scrambling 21-yard TD pass from Otton to running back Terry Barnum, a 30-yard field goal by placekicker Adam Abrams and, on Northwestern's next possession, cornerback Daylon McCutcheon's 53-yard fumble return after safety Sammy Knight knocked the ball loose from Wildcat wide receiver Brian Musso. Northwestern got a 29-yard field goal from placekicker Brian Gowins with 2 seconds to go in the half following a Trojan fumble, but Troy led 24-10 at intermission (it was USC's most first half points since scoring 34 against Texas Tech in the 1995 Cotton Bowl). The Wildcats then scored on their first 4 possessions of the second half: another Gowins field goal (this one from 28 yards), a 9-yard Autry run (after Northwestern recovered a surprise on-side kick), a 1-yard sneak by quarterback Steve Schnur (which followed a 56-yard Trojan scoring strike from Otton to Johnson), and a 2-yard Autry run early in the fourth quarter that gave Northwestern its first lead of the day, 32-31. But USC came right back, getting a 46-yard Abrams field goal (the longest by a Trojan since Quin Rodriguez hit a 54-yarder against Michigan State in the 1990 John Hancock Bowl). Safety Jesse Davis then sealed the victory for USC with an interception which led to a 5-yard TD by running back Delon Washington. Johnson, who served as a Trojan ballboy at the 1985 Rose Bowl, was named the Rose Bowl MVP, as he grabbed 12 passes (all for first downs) for a Rose Bowl record 216 yards (his 17th 100-yard outing in his career and the eighth of 1995). Otton played the entire game for the first time in the 1995 season, hitting 29-of-44 passes for 391 yards (all career highs) with 2 TDs and no interceptions; the yardage was 1 yard shy of Rob Johnson's USC record and was the third most in Rose Bowl history. Autry had his 13th consecutive 100-yard rushing game, getting 110 yards on 32 carries with the 3 TDs, while Schnur was 23-of-39 for a career-best 336 yards (including 7 completions for 145 yards to wide receiver D'Wayne Bates). Northwestern outgained USC in total yards, 475-520, and limited Troy to just 29 rushing yards (its fewest since getting 7 yards against UCLA in 1993), but the Wildcats' uncharacteristic 2 turnovers led to 14 Trojan points, proving costly to a team which was third nationally in turnover margin (1.82). The Wildcats also had a TD pass called back because of a penalty late in the game and missed 2 field goals, including a 49-yard attempt that hit the upright with 35 seconds to go. USC, on the other hand, had 11 penalties (including 9 in the second half). Trojan cornerback Brian Kelly had a game-high 11 tackles (along with 2 deflections), while Knight and linebacker Scott Fields added 7 stops each.

1998 Sun Bowl
TCU 28, USC 19

In a stunning upset, 16-point underdog TCU—which barely qualified for post-season play with a 6-5 record—used a potent option attack and a stingy run defense to beat USC, 28-19, in the 65th Norwest Sun Bowl before 46,612 fans and a national CBS-TV audience. The Horned Frogs' option offense gained 314 yards on the ground (the most against the Trojans since Notre Dame had 330 in 1992) and their defense limited Troy to a USC and Sun Bowl record low -23 rushing yards. It was TCU's first bowl win since 1957. TCU, which scored touchdowns on its first 3 possessions of the opening half on runs of 3 and 60 yards by TB Basil Mitchell and 7 yards by QB Patrick Batteaux, led 21-3 at intermission. USC's only first-half points came on a 35-yard field goal by PK Adam Abrams late in the second quarter. The Horned Frogs opened up a 25-point lead on their initial drive of the second half as Batteaux scored on a 3-yard run. USC battled back by scoring on its first 3 drives of the second half, first on a 23-yard pass from QB Carson Palmer to WR Billy Miller, then on a 1-yard run by TB Petros Papadakis and a 46-yard Abrams field goal early in the fourth quarter (Abrams was the game's Special Teams MVP). The Trojans got the ball back twice more, but those drives resulted in a loss of 30 yards as Palmer was sacked 3 times. Mitchell, the game's MVP rushed for 185 yards on 19 carries (including 114 in the first half) for a 9.7 average per carry. Batteaux added 94 yards on 28 tries while executing the option to perfection (he also completed 4-of-5 passes for 51 yards). TCU stayed mainly on the ground, as 61 of its 67 plays were runs (the most rushes against USC since Penn State had 66 in 1993). The Horned Frogs threw for only 51 yards (the fewest allowed by USC since Oregon State had 29 in 1995). TCU amassed 365 total yards, converted 10-of-16 third downs (including 7-of-9 in the first half) and held the ball 35:51. USC managed just 257 total yards and 12 first downs on only 49 plays. Troy converted just 1-of-11 third downs (that came in the first quarter). Palmer was 17-of-28 for a career-best 280 yards, but was sacked 6 times (all in the second half). WR R. Jay Soward had a game-best 6 catches for 64 yards, WR Larry Parker added 4 for 104 yards and Miller had 3 for 67 yards. LB Chris Claiborne had a game-best 13 tackles and S Grant Pearsall added 11 stops.

2001 BOWL INFORMATION

Rose Bowl Selection Procedures

The Pacific-10 Rose Bowl representative (or Fiesta Bowl representative for the 2001 season) shall be that member's team with the best record in the loss and tie columns (a tie being counted as one-half loss) in all Conference games. If, however, the lowest loss-tie totals of two or more members are identical, determination of the Rose Bowl representative shall be as follows:

a. Two-Team Tie. If the tied teams played one another, the winner of their game shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, if either team is ranked first or second inthe nation in the Associated Press or the USA Today/ESPN American Football Coaches Association which immediately follow the final regular-season game played by the Conference's members, then it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If they tied or did not play and are not so ranked, then the following formula shall be used:

(1) 4 points for a Conference win.
(2) 3 points for a non-Conference win against a Div. I-A team.
(3) 2 points for a non-Conference win against a non-Div. I-A team.
(4) 2 points for a Conference tie.
(5) 1 1/2 points for a non-Conference tie against a Div. 1-A team.
(6) 1 point for a non-Conference tie against a non-Div. 1-A team.

The team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative.

If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated.

b. Multiple Ties. When three or more teams are tied in the loss-tie column in Conference play, if one has defeated all others, that team shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If that is not the case, and one of the teams is ranked first or second in the nation by the Associated Press or the USA Today/ESPN American Football Coaches Association which immediately follow the final regular-season game played by the Conference's members, then it shall be the Rose Bowl representative. If that is not the case, a team defeated by all other tied teams shall be eliminated. If one team has not defeated the others, the point formula above shall be computed. Only the top two teams on the point system shall thereafter be considered. If a tie for the second position occurs upon application of the point formula, the second team shall be the winner of the game between the tied teams, or, if the teams did not play each other or played a tie game, the team which has not played in the Rose Bowl for the longest period of time shall be the second team. If the remaining two teams played one another, the winner shall be the representative. If they tied or did not play one another, the team with the highest point total for all games shall be the Rose Bowl representative as in paragraph "a" above. If a tie remains, the last team appearing in the Rose Bowl shall be eliminated.

NOTES: Teams ineligible to participate in the Rose Bowl shall not be included in the tie-breaking formula. Games in Alaska or Hawaii shall not be counted in the point system if they are "12th games" permitted under NCAA legislation. Participation in the NACDA Kickoff Classic or the Pigskin Classic shall not be counted in the point system.

Bowl Championship Series

The Bowl Championship Series, in its fourth year, guarantees a matchup between college football's top two teams in a true national championship game. The BCS consists of the Rose, Nokia Sugar, Tostitos Fiesta and FedEx Orange Bowls. Conferences with automatic berths are the Pac-10, Big Ten, Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big 12 and Southeastern. Any Division I-A independent team or the champion of any other Division I-A conference ranked sixth or higher in the BCS standings also will be included in the BCS. Otherwise, any Division I-A team can qualify for the at-large selection pool if it has won nine games and is ranked in the Top 12 of the BCS rankings. The BCS utilizes its own ranking system, which includes four major components: (1) media polls; (2) computer rankings; (3) strength of schedule rankings; (4) won-loss record. At the end of the regular season, the National Championship contest will match the top two teams ranked in the BCS final regular season rankings.

Pac-10 Bowl Arrangements

College football entered a new era in 1998 as the Pac-10, Big Ten and Rose Bowl become associated with the Bowl Championship Series or BCS (formerly known as the Bowl Alliance).

For the 2001 season--because the Rose Bowl is hosting the BCS National Championship Game--the Pac-10 champion will go to the Fiesta Bowl, unless it is ranked as one of the top 2 teams in the nation at the conclusion of the regular season. In that case, the Pac-10 champ would play in the National Championship Game (this season at the Rose Bowl). If so, the Fiesta Bowl will fill that berth with another team from the BCS pool. That could be a second Pac-10 team, but would not necessarily be so. The traditional opponent in the Fiesta Bowl is the Big 12 champion.

Regardless of the disposition of the Pac-10 champ, a second Pac-10 team may be selected for an at-large berth in the BCS in any given year. Pac-10 agreements with its other bowl partners provide for that occurence.

Agreements are in place with the Culligan Holiday, Wells Fargo Sun, Jeep Seattle, San Francisco Jeep and Las Vegas Bowls to place 5 other Pac-10 teams in bowls (besides the Pac-10 champ).

After the Pac-10 champion goes to the Rose Bowl (or BCS Championship Game), the Holiday Bowl receives the highest remaining team in the Pac-10 standings. If there is a tie for that position, the Holiday Bowl has the right to select from the tied teams. The opponent in the Holiday Bowl is the Big 12's No. 3 team.

The Sun Bowl then receives the highest remaining team in the Pac-10 standings. If there is a tie for that position, the Sun Bowl has the right to select from the tied teams. The Big Ten's No. 5 team will be the opponent in the Sun Bowl.

Tthe Jeep Seattle Bowl and the San Francisco Jeep Bowl will host the next highest remaining Pac-10 teams, at the discretion of the bowls. An Atlantic Coast Conference's No. 4 team will fill one opponent's slot, while the other will be filled by the Big East's No. 4 team.

Finally, a sixth Pac-10 team will play in the Las Vegas Bowl against the second pick from the Mountain West Conference.

There have been 33 matchups between the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in the Associated Press poll (20 times during the regular season, 13 times in bowls). The No. 1 team has won 20 times, the No. 2 team has won 11 times, and there have been 2 ties. USC is 2-2 in such matchups, winning both times it was No. 1 and losing both times it was No. 2. The AP poll began in 1936.

Defeating No. 1

This is a list of USC games in which a No. 1-ranked team was defeated or tied. From AP rankings. Asterisk (*) is home team. (N) is neutral site. In parentheses following winning or tying team is its rank in previous week's poll (NR is not ranked), its won-loss record entering game, and its score. Next is the defeated or tied No. 1 team, its score, and its rank in poll the following week.

WHEN USC BEAT A No. 1 TEAM:

+ Selectors:

Ann--Illustrated Football Annual (1930-60). A rating system by Williams F. Boand published in the highly-regarded fan magazine Illustrated Football Annual (1932-42) and Football News (1942-44, 1951-60). Predated national champions from 1919-29.

AP--Associated Press (1936-current). Poll of sportswriters and broadcasters which began in 1936. The award actually originated in 1924 with the awarding of the Rissman Trophy to the top-rated team in the Dickinson System. It was retired in 1930, then the Knute Rockne Trophy was awarded beginning in 1931 (again to the winner of the Dickinson System through 1935, then to the winner of the AP poll). That was retired in 1940, then the Dr. Henry L. Williams Trophy was awarded beginning in 1941. That was retired in 1947, then the Father O'Donnell Trophy was awarded beginning in 1948. That was retired in 1956 and beginning in 1957, the award was known as the AP Trophy. Since 1983, the award has been known as the Paul "Bear" Bryant Trophy.

Berry--Berryman (QPRS) (1940-current). A mathematical rating system based on a quality point rating formula developed by Clyde P. Berryman.

USC in Top 25 Rankings

Since the AP poll began in 1936, the weekly rankings have been published 848 times. USC has been ranked in the poll's Top 25 537 times (63.3% of the time). Here's the list of the 10 most frequently ranked teams:

1.	Michigan	642
2.	Notre Dame	640
3.	Ohio State	617
4.	Nebraska	576
5.	Alabama	573
6.	Oklahoma	552
7.	USC	537
8.	Texas	514
9.	Penn State	498
10.	UCLA	438

In those 832 AP polls, USC has held the No. 1 ranking 47 times. The 10 teams ranked No. 1 most often are:

1.	Notre Dame	95
2.	Oklahoma	78
3.	Ohio State	72
4.	Nebraska	62

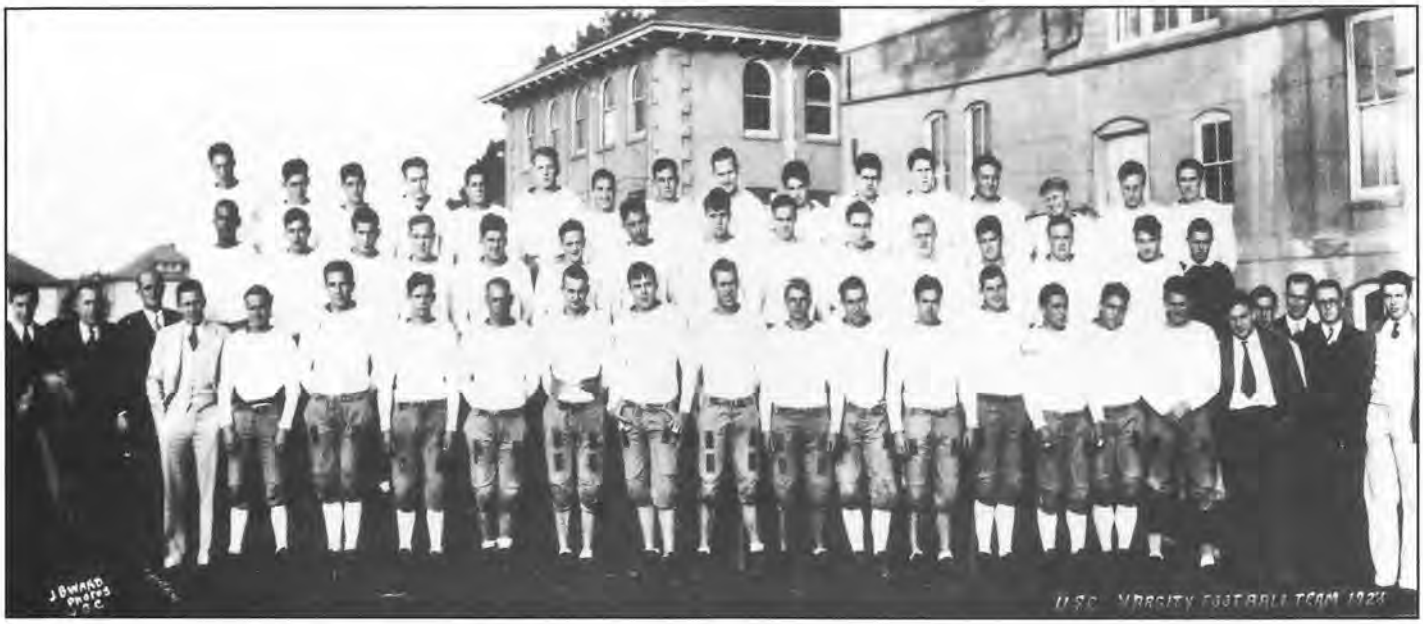
1928 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



They whip the ends, they buck the guards, the line begins to yield
And the "greatest team in history" backs slowly down the field
And finally comes the whistle as a seal to Stanford's fate,
And the "greatest team in history" goes staggering through the gate

--Excerpt from a 1928 poem about the USC-Stanford clash.

The "Thundering Herd," under Hall of Fame coach Howard Jones, galloped to the Trojans' first national championship in 1928. A swarming defense, led by tackle Jesse Hibbs and end Garrett Arbelide, gave up only 59 points all season, while an offensive backfield of Harry Edelson, Russ Saunders, Don Williams and Marshall Duffield rolled over, under, and through their opponents.

USC finished the season with nine wins and no losses, with the only blemish being a 0-0 tie with Cal as the Golden Bears continued to be a nemesis for Troy in the 1920s.

The Trojans beat Glenn "Pop" Warner's Stanford Indians, 10-0, forcing five fumbles in the process. Warner had never lost to Jones and he considered his 1928 team to be his best. But USC used a special strategy called the "quick mix" to disrupt Stanford's offense and help offset the Indians' 10-pound-per-man weight advantage. The strategy worked in what was a landmark game for the Trojans, who established themselves as the preeminent football power on the West Coast. Warner never beat Jones again.

The 1928 season also saw USC beat Notre Dame and Knute Rockne for the first time, 27-14. Williams passed for 111 yards and two touchdowns and rushed for 93 more as the Trojans clinched the national title.

1931 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

"I've waited for two years for this day — but, boy, what revenge!"

— USC's Erny Pinckert after beating the Irish.

The 1931 edition of Howard Jones' "Thundering Herd" was the team that captured the imagination of college football fans everywhere, and the hearts of the citizens of Los Angeles. More than 300,000 welcomed the Trojans home from a thrilling 16-14 victory over Notre Dame in South Bend—a victory clinched by what sportswriter Maxwell Stiles called "Johnny Baker's 10 little toes, and three BIG points."

USC trailed the Irish14-0 at the outset of the final stanza, but stormed back behind the running of Gus Shaver and the passing of Orv Mohler. Baker's 33-yard field goal with one minute remaining made the difference. The win snapped Notre Dame's 26-game unbeaten streak and was the Trojans' first victory in South Bend.

The season started inauspiciously enough with a 13-7 loss to St. Mary's. "I have no alibis to offer," said Jones afterward. But Troy then proceeded to roll over its next 10 opponents by a combined score of 356 to 39. There were six shutouts.

"(USC is) the greatest team I have ever seen," said Georgia coach Harry Mehre, after his Bulldogs were blanked, 60-0. The usually taciturn Jones agreed, calling his team "the greatest offensive machine I have ever coached."

USC capped the season with a 21-12 victory over Tulane in the Rose Bowl. Four Trojans garnered All-American acclaim: Baker, Shaver, Erny Pinckert and team captain Stan Williamson.

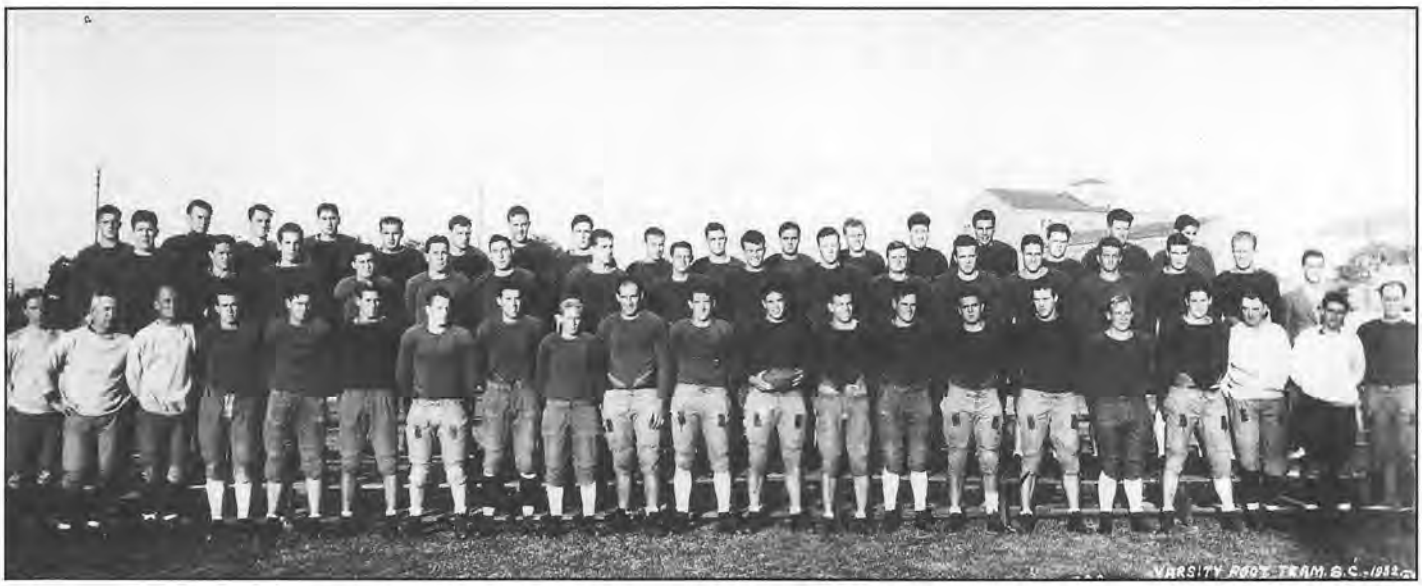
1932 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



"Fortunately, I have a strong line to start with. I have Mohler, and if anything happens to him, I have Griffith and Warburton."
— Howard Jones to famed sportswriter Grantland Rice before the 1932 season.

The Trojans breezed to their second consecutive national championship in 1932 as the Howard Jones era reached its pinnacle. But at the start of the season, future greatness was not apparent for this team. Seven regulars had graduated from the 1931 squad, including three All-Americans. By the end of the season, however, it was hailed as perhaps Jones' finest squad. In fact, some still regard this as USC's best team.

The line, one of the greatest in Trojan history, included All-Americans Tay Brown, Aaron Rosenberg and Ernie Smith. The offense, directed by Homer Griffith and featuring back Cotton Warburton and ends Ray Sparling and Ford Palmer, was potent despite losing star Orv Mohler to injury. Meanwhile, the defense shut out its first five opponents, before finally being scored upon in the fourth quarter of game six. Jones' squad allowed only 13 points all season while scoring 201. USC defeated Notre Dame 13-0 and smashed Pittsburgh 35-0 in the Rose Bowl.

The masterful 1932 season firmly placed Jones in the upper echelon of collegiate coaches. He even appeared on the cover of TIME magazine, where he was compared to the legendary Amos Alonzo Stagg and Glenn "Pop" Warner. In 1999, Athlon magazine rated the 1932 team among the greatest of the 20th century.

1962 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

"Our intention was to win today....and what does the scoreboard say?"
— John McKay after the 1963 Rose Bowl.

In 1962, John McKay led USC to its first national championship in 30 years and inaugurated one of the greatest dynasties in college football history. From 1962 to 1981, the Trojans won five national titles, played in 11 Rose Bowls, collected four Heisman Trophies and contributed dozens of All-Americans to what was already a remarkable football heritage

McKay's third team featured the talented quarterback tandem of Pete Beathard and Bill Nelsen, who combined to pass for 18 touchdowns while tossing only three interceptions. A then-school-record 11 of those touchdowns went to consensus All-American end Hal Bedsole, who also set the standard for passes caught (33) and yards receiving (827). The ground attack was run from the I-formation, led by the versatile Willie Brown at tailback and co-captain Ben Wilson at fullback. Brown led the team in rushing, interceptions, punt returns and kickoff returns, and was the second leading receiver.

The Trojan defense allowed only 92 points all season. All-American linebacker Damon Bame led a unit that had three shutouts (including a 25-0 blanking of Notre Dame) and allowed more than 10 points only twice during the regular-season.

Troy capped the year by outlasting Wisconsin, 42-37, in one of the most exciting games in Rose Bowl history. McKay was named Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association and the Football Writers Association of America.

1967 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

"Well, gentlemen, I guess I wasn't so stupid today."
—John McKay after beating UCLA, 21-20.

The 1967 Trojans relied on the running of tailback O.J. Simpson, the blocking of Outland Trophy-winning tackle Ron Yary, and a stifling defense to win USC's fifth national championship.

Simpson's weaving 64-yard touchdown run, pehaps the most famous run in college football history, was the difference in a 21-20 victory over UCLA. The showdown between the top-ranked Bruins and the No. 4-ranked Trojans remains one of the greatest games in the history of the crosstown series.

USC's only blemish on the season was a 3-0 loss in the rain and mud to Oregon State in Corvallis. The Trojans would not be shut out again for 26 years and did not lose to the Beavers again until 2000. The other key victory for Troy, a 24-7 win over Notre Dame, was USC's first win at South Bend since 1939. Linebacker Adrian Young's four interceptions (a USC record) helped to repel the Irish. The Trojans celebrated New Year's Day 1968 with a 14-3 victory over Indiana in the Rose Bowl.

The incomparable Simpson, the Heisman runner-up that year, ran for a then-NCAA-record 1,543 regular-season yards (1,709 overall) to go with 13 touchdowns. Mike Battle, Tim Rossovich, and Young led a defense which allowed only 87 points. A record five Trojans were selected in the first round of the 1968 NFL draft, with Yary going first overall.

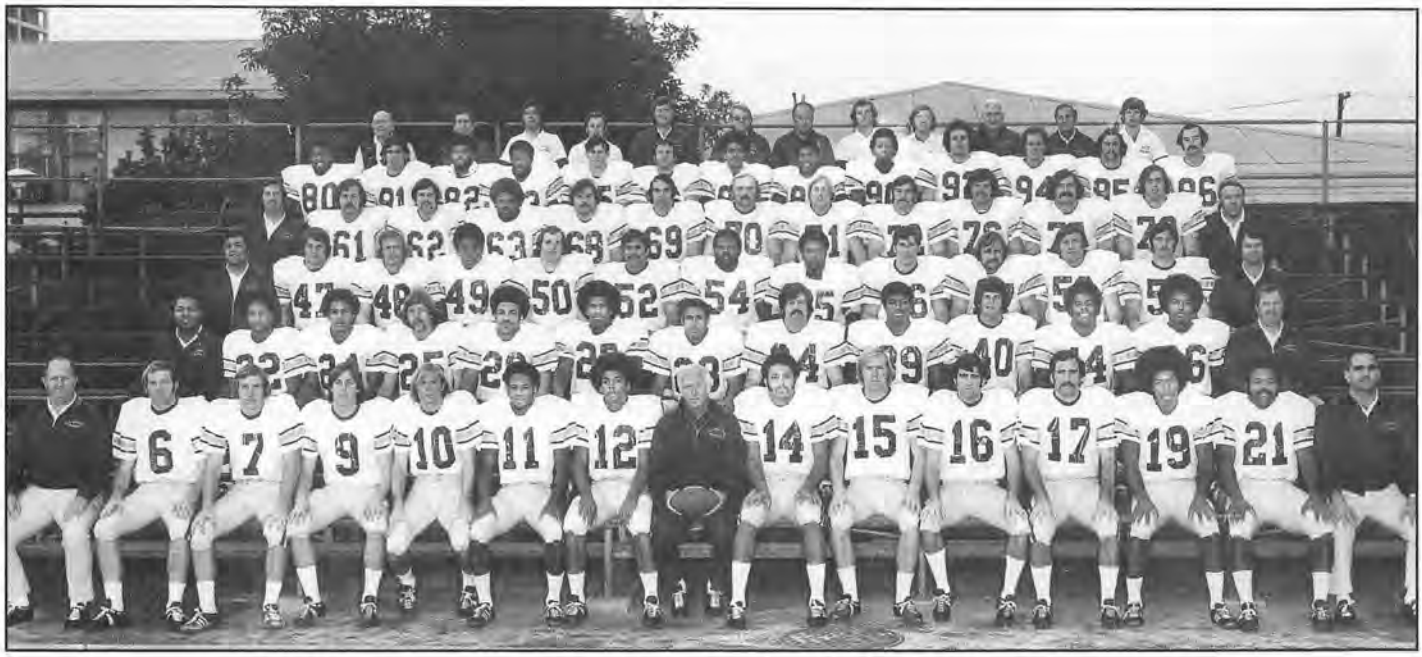
1972 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



"USC's not the number one team in the country. The Miami Dolphins are better."
-- Washington State coach Jim Sweeney.

The 1972 national champions averaged 39 points per game and never trailed in the second half. In going 12-0-0, the Trojans scored 467 points, second most in school history. The defense intercepted 28 passes, limited their opponents to 2.5 yards per rush, and never gave up a run longer than 29 yards.

The roster was a perfect blend of talent, youth, and experience. Senior Mike Rae and sophomore Pat Haden handled the quarterback duties. Sophomore Anthony Davis rushed for 1,191 yards despite not starting until the eighth game. All-American fullback Sam "Bam" Cunningham was an outstanding blocker and a tremendous leaper, especially in goal-line situations. Tight end Charles Young was equally adept blocking and receiving, while split ends Lynn Swann, Edesel Garrison and J.K. McKay were excellent pass catchers.

The defense was fast and strong. Sophomore linebacker Richard Wood burst onto the scene with 18 tackles in the season-opener on his way to garnering All-American honors. John Grant and Jeff Winans anchored the defensive line, while Artimus Parker, Charles Phillips and Charles Hinton led the secondary.

USC's smallest margin of victory was nine points (versus Stanford). The Trojans beat No. 4-ranked Arkansas 31-10, No. 18 Washington 34-7, No. 14 UCLA 24-7, No.10 Notre Dame 45-23 and No. 3 Ohio State 42-17. USC was unanimously chosen No. 1 in the final AP and UPI polls, the first team to be so honored.

The 1972 team is considered to be John McKay's finest at USC and one of the greatest college teams of all time.

"We turned into madmen."
-- Anthony Davis, after USC came back to beat Notre Dame.

The 1974 team earned John McKay his fourth national title behind the big-play heroics of All-American tailback Anthony Davis, the steady leadership of quarterback Pat Haden and the clutch play of a defense that forced the second-highest interception total in USC history.

Davis, the runner-up for the Heisman Trophy, rushed for 1,421 yards and 13 touchdowns. His three-year yardage total of 3,724 yards and 52 touchdowns was a Pac-8 record. He set an NCAA record for most kickoffs returned for TDs in a season (3) and career (6). He scored four touchdowns to lead the Trojans to an amazing 55-24 comeback win over Notre Dame in the regular season finale. In his career, Davis scored 11 touchdowns against the Fighting Irish.

Pat Haden threw 13 touchdown passes, but his biggest completions came with the Trojans trailing Ohio State 17-10 in the 1975 Rose Bowl. His 38-yard TD strike to J.K McKay with two minutes to play and his subsequent 2-point conversion to Shelton Diggs gave USC an 18-17 victory and the writers' share of the national championship.

Senior linebacker Richard Wood, Troy's only three-time All-American, led the defense. Defensive back Charles Phillips set NCAA records for most interception return yardage in a season (302), most interception return yardage in a game (181), highest average gain per interception for one game (90.5), and most touchdowns on interception returns in a season (3).

The win over Notre Dame, dubbed "The Comeback," was sparked by Davis' 102-yard kickoff return to start the second half. Trailing 24-0 late in the second quarter, the Trojans scored 55 unanswered points in just under 17 minutes to win going away.

USC had five players selected to the All-American team for the third consecutive year. A school-record 12 Trojans were selected to the All-Conference squad (since equalled by the 1989 Trojans). Fourteen players from the 1974 team were taken in the NFL draft—an all-time record also shared by the 1976 Trojan team.

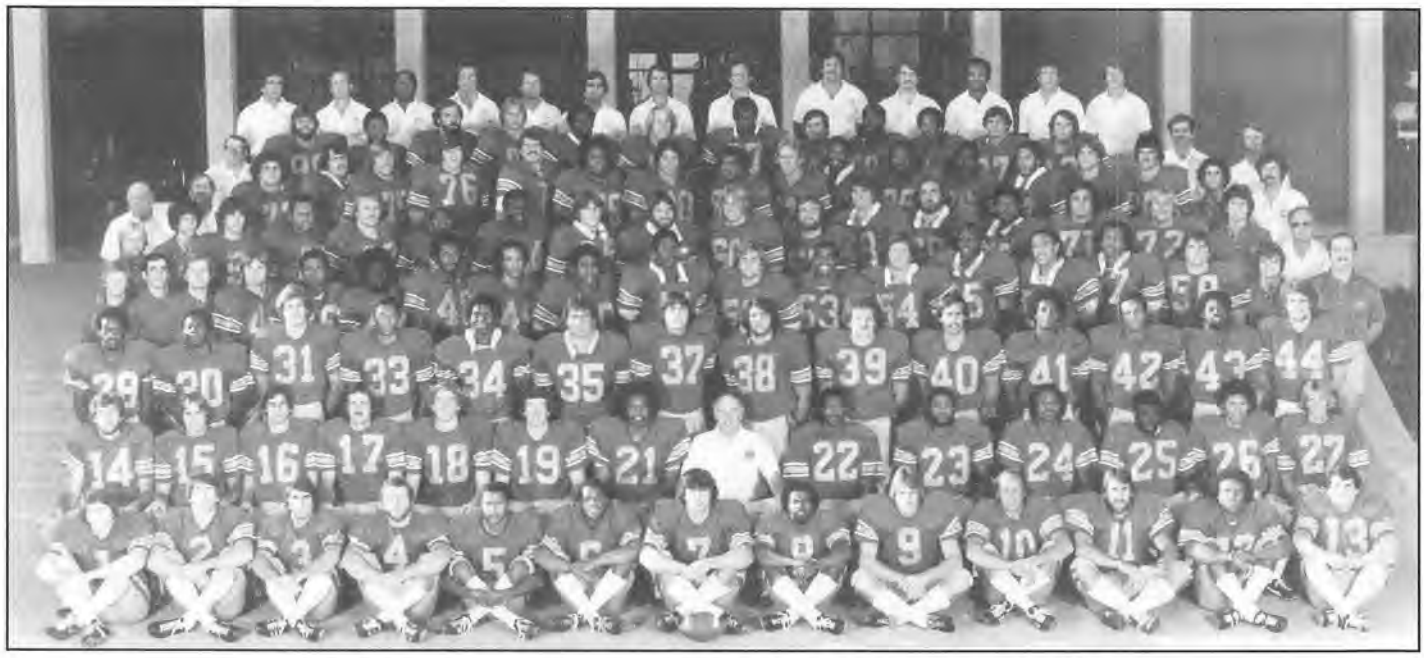
1978 NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



"I don't remember ever playing against a tailback who can run like White"
—Paul 'Bear' Bryant, after witnessing Charles White rush for 199 yards against his Alabama team.

The 1978 national champions, coached by John Robinson, were a USC team stocked with great college players and several future NFL stars.

The Trojans finished 12-1, including a solid 24-14 road victory over co-national champion Alabama, a nail-biting 27-25 win over Notre Dame, and a 17-10 victory over Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

All-American tailback Charles White rushed for 1,859 yards to become the Pac-10 career rushing leader as a junior. Freshman tailback Marcus Allen provided depth. Quarterback Paul McDonald led the conference in passing and tied a USC record with 19 touchdown passes. Fullback Lynn Cain rushed for 977 yards, the most ever by a Trojan fullback. Flanker Kevin Williams had 17 receptions, 10 of them for touchdowns. The offensive line included All-American guard Pat Howell, All-Pac-10 tackle Anthony Munoz (considered by many to be the game's greatest tackle ever) and All-Pac-10 guard Brad Budde (a four-year starter and the 1979 Lombardi Award winner). The back-ups on the line included future All-Pros Roy Foster and Keith Van Horne.

The defense featured the talented safety duo of Dennis Smith and Ronnie Lott. Linebackers Dennis Johnson (the team's tackle leader) and Riki Gray manned the middle, while Larry McGrew and Chip Banks roamed the outside. Rich Dimler, Myron Lapka and Dennis Edwards keyed the defensive line.

The Trojans' only loss was at Arizona State, 20-7. They would remain unbeaten for the next 28 games.

USC took the top spot in the coaches poll, but finished second in the writer's poll to Alabama despite beating the Crimson Tide earlier in the season.

It was Troy's eighth—and most recent—national championship.

THE TROJAN HERITAGE

(Since 1951, Mal Florence covered sports in Southern California—particularly USC football—for the Los Angeles Times. But he observed Trojan football since he watched his first game as a youngster in 1934. He then enrolled at USC during World War II, where he even played halfback sparingly in 1946. He was inducted into the USC Athletic Hall of Fame's media wing in 1995.

(In 1980, he wrote a book about USC's football history, "The Trojan Heritage." Updated excerpts appear below.)

The Trojan football tradition. It means many things:

~The teams. The Thundering Herd teams of the late 1920s and 1930s, the war babies of the mid-1940s, and the "I" formation-styled national champions of the 1960s and 1970s.

~The Rose Bowl, USC's second home.

~The coaches who have made an indelible impression on the game. Gloomy Gus Henderson bringing national recognition to USC; Howard Jones earning national respect with his Rose Bowl-winning teams and national champions; John McKay altering the concept of offensive football with his innovative "I" formation; and John Robinson achieving that awesome balance of power running and productive passing, blended with stifling defense.

~The rivalries. The one with Notre Dame that began in 1926 and has grown into the most prestigious intersectional confrontation in the country. Then there's the one with UCLA, in which the outcome not only rewards the winner with bragging rights for the city, but also usually means a Rose Bowl berth.

~The games. The 16-14 victory over Notre Dame at South Bend in 1931 and the ensuing ticker tape parade in Los Angeles for the conquering heroes. The stunning 7-3 victory over Duke in the 1939 Rose Bowl. O.J. Simpson's climactic 64-yard TD run that beat UCLA, 21-20, in 1967... and on and on.

All of this is USC football. There's nothing like it.

In 1944 Harry C. Lillie, an attorney, supplied missing information on USC's first football team in 1888, eight years after the small Methodist school was founded in 1880.

USC was undefeated in 1888 in a two-game schedule. How fitting this was for a school which has had almost unparalleled success in athletics—football, of course, and 70 men's NCAA championships, more by far than any other university.

Lillie, a 125-pound end on the first ragtag USC team, said:

"The only available opposition was a club team which carried the name of Alliance. Our first game was Nov. 14, 1888, right at the university and we won by a score of 16-0.

"In those days a touchdown scored four points, with the play which now corresponds to the conversion after touchdown adding two more points. A field goal scored five points, a safety scored two.

"The second game against Alliance was played more than two months later on Jan. 19, 1889, uptown on a vacant field bordered by Grand, Hope, Eighth and Ninth streets. The club team had improved considerably and we managed to score only a single touchdown to win, 4-0."

Frank Suffel and Henry H. Goddard were playing coaches for this first team which was literally put together by quarterback Arthur Carroll. He volunteered to make the pants for the team. Appropriately, Carroll later became a tailor in Riverside.

The growth of USC and its football program coincides with the growth of Los Angeles, which had been founded only 99 years before the cornerstone was laid at the university in 1880 in an uncultivated mustard field. At the time, Los Angeles still retained characteristics of its earlier pueblo days.

American football at the turn of the century was a combination of rugby, soccer and pure mayhem. The rules provided for a playing field of 110 yards in length, exclusive of the end zones, and games were played in 45-minute halves with a 10-minute intermission. Intentional tackling below the waist, a fundamental and coached procedure now, was judged a foul then, just like unnecessary roughness.

USC fielded another team in 1889 (without a coach) and encountered its first collegiate opponent, St. Vincent's, now known as Loyola Marymount. The Methodists or Wesleyans (the name Trojans would come later) thrashed St. Vincent's, 40-0, and then beat a Pasadena club team which featured the dreaded Flying Wedge, 26-0.

So far, so good. A pair of two-game seasons and USC was undefeated, untied and unscored upon.

Then, because of student apathy and some financial problems, USC didn't have a team in 1890.

A pattern developed in which USC, still coachless, would play a one- to four-game schedule—without much success—until 1897 when Lewis Freeman became the school's first non-playing coach. Not only did he outfit the team in sharp, new uniforms—turtle-necked shirts with "USC" inscribed on the front, knee-length pants and ankle-high shoes—he produced a winning team with a then-representative schedule.

USC, under Freeman, won five of its six games, losing only to the San Diego YMCA, 18-0. Freeman then moved on, but the Methodists continued their winning ways, recording a 5-1-1 record in 1898—losing to and being tied by Los Angeles High School.

It was during the late 1890s and the early 1900s that USC developed a rivalry with neighboring Occidental and Pomona, the early stand-ins for Notre Dame, California and Stanford.

The year 1904 marked the arrival of Harvey Holmes, the first salaried USC coach. He stayed four years, compiled a record of 19 wins, five losses and three ties and expanded USC's schedule to 10 games in 1905, including a first meeting with Stanford. USC lost that game, 16-0, as one of the West Coast's most prestigious rivalries began. The teams wouldn't meet again in football until 1918.

Major college teams do not schedule too many "breathers" today because of financial considerations. But USC wasn't thinking of the gate when it padded its 6-3-1 record in 1905 with victories over the likes of the National Guard, Whittier Reform and the Alumni.

USC continued to play football in 1908 under coach Bill Traeger. In 1909 and 1910 the team was under a coach who was to become famous in another sport.

Dean Bartlett Cromwell was called the "Maker of Champions" during his 40 years at USC—track and field champions, that is. A legendary figure in track and field, Cromwell's teams won 12 NCAA titles, including nine in a row (1935-1943).

As a football coach, Cromwell had only modest success with 3-1-2 and 7-0-1 records in 1909 and 1910 and later a three-year record of 11-7-3 when he served as USC's football coach from 1916 through 1918.

Between Cromwell's first and second terms as football coach (along with a two-year tenure by Ralph Glaze, 1914-15), USC decided to move up in class athletically.

Rugby, as played by California and Stanford, was USC's game in 1911 and a school spokesman said, "We are looking for a foothold on an athletic ladder that will carry us, we hope, to a level of competition to the proportion of our ambitious, restless, growing young institution."

The results were disastrous. USC was badly outclassed for three years (1911-13) by more experienced rugby teams. It suffered financial reverses as well.

But all was not lost in this departure from American football. The Methodist school that was founded in a mustard field got a nickname that would identify it and its students and alumni glamorously for years to come.

Nicknames were popular in the early 1900s, but the school didn't care much to be called Methodists or Wesleyans. So Owen R. Bird, a sportswriter for the Los Angeles Times, came up with a nickname that was to endure. It was Bird's belief that "owing to the terrific handicaps under which the athletes, coaches and managers of the university were laboring and against the overwhelming odds of larger and better equipped rivals, the name 'Trojan' suitably fitted the players."

When USC began playing football again in 1914, it also resumed its relationship with Occidental and Pomona. But the Trojans wanted to be known beyond the limited confines of Bovard Field so they began to schedule "big-time" foes such as St. Mary's, Oregon and California.

USC split with California in 1915, winning, 28-10, and losing 23-21. Another traditional series was inaugurated.

World War I put a damper on USC's athletic ambitions and Troy played a restricted schedule from 1917 through 1919.

USC had some outstanding players during its formative years, athletes such as Elwin Caley (whose 107-yard punt return in 1902 on a 110-yard field still stands as a school record), Hal Paulin, Arthur Hill, Roy Allan, Court Decius, Fred Kelly, Fred Teschke, Rabbit Malette, Tank Campbell, Turk Hunter, Dan McMillan and Herb Jones. But the Trojans wouldn't become nationally recognized in football until the 1920s.

Elmer C. (Gloomy Gus) Henderson has the best winning percentage, 45-7 (.865), of any coach in USC's history. More importantly, Henderson, in his six seasons at the school (1919-1924), achieved national recognition for USC and established the format for successful teams of the future. Under Henderson, USC recorded some historic firsts:

· Appearing in the Rose Bowl in 1923 and beating Penn State, 14-3.

· Winning 10 games in a season twice, along with an undefeated season in 1920.

· Moving out of Bovard Field, where a turnaway crowd would be 10,000, to play in the vast Memorial Coliseum, where crowds of 70,000 would become routine for Trojan games.

Henderson was the first USC coach to recruit aggressively and he persuaded talented Southern California athletes to stay home and attend USC rather than to pursue their education at California or Stanford.

He also was an on-the-field innovator. His spread formations were copied by coaches and some elements of his offense are used today by college teams and the NFL.

"Gloomy Gus" was a well-known cartoon character of the era and Henderson was saddled with that nickname by Los Angeles Times sportswriter, Paul Lowry, because of the way he poor-mouthed the Trojans' prospects before a game.

USC had a 4-1 record in 1919, went undefeated in 1920 and was 10-1 in 1921 and again in 1922, two seasons in which the Trojans outscored their opposition, 598 to 83.

USC had a 6-2 record in 1923 which included the first football game ever to be played in the Coliseum—a 23-7 win over Pomona on October 6—and a later Coliseum game, a 13-7 loss to Cal that attracted 72,000 fans and sent a signal to Easterners that West Coast football had really caught on.

Henderson had a 9-2 record in his last season at USC in 1924, a year that featured intersectional games with Syracuse and Missouri, both of which the Trojans won.

During his tenure at USC, Henderson recruited and developed such outstanding players as Chet Dolley, Harold Galloway, Johnny Leadingham, Charley Dean, Roy (Bullet) Baker, Gordon Campbell, Andy Toolen, Lowell Lindley, Hobo Kincaid, Indian Newman, Hobbs Adams, Hayden Phythian, Holley Adams, Norman Anderson, Otto Anderson, Johnny Hawkins, Hank Lefebvre, Eddie Leahy, Manuel Laraneta, Butter Gorrell, Jeff Cravath and Leo Calland.

Two of Henderson's sophomores on the 1924 squad, guard Brice Taylor and quarterback Mort Kaer, would later become USC's first All-Americans. Henderson is credited with recruiting Morley Drury, who would become known as the "Noblest Trojan of Them All."

Despite his record, Henderson was fired after the 1924 season, some said because he went 0-5 against California during his tenure.

College football history might have been changed radically if Notre Dame's Knute Rockne had become USC's coach following Henderson's release before the 1925 season. Such an idea came close to becoming a reality. Gwynn Wilson, the USC graduate manager in the 1920s, remembers:

"Rockne came to USC for a football seminar and we saw a lot of him. We didn't have a coach and we talked to Rock about the job. He agreed to come, subject to getting a release from Notre Dame. Mrs. Rockne had fallen in love with Southern California. We had hopes but they (Notre Dame) talked him into staying. Maybe it was better that Rock stayed there and we got Jones."

Howard Harding Jones. The Headman. Responsible for bringing national recognition to USC when the East and Midwest were considered the twin citadels of college football.

His approach to the game was straight-forward yet intricate—power football, the single wing. Opponents often said they knew where the Trojans, under Jones, were coming, but still couldn't stop them. Jones' teams became known as the Thundering Herd, running (seldom passing) roughshod over some of the nation's best teams.

Before Jones came to USC, the school had not produced an All-American or won a national championship. During his 16 years as USC's coach, Jones developed 19 All-Americans, won national championships in 1928, 1931 and 1932, had undefeated seasons in 1928, 1932 and 1939, won eight Pacific Coast Conference titles and was undefeated in five appearances in the Rose Bowl. His overall record was 121-36-13 (.750) and his teams had seven seasons in which they won nine or more games.

It was during Jones' regime, in 1926, that the USC-Notre Dame rivalry began, a rivalry now esteemed as the most prestigious intersectional series in the country.

If it had not been for the persuasiveness of a young bride in 1925, the Trojan-Irish series may never have been.

Wilson and his bride, Marion, got on the Sunset Limited train to Lincoln where Notre Dame was going to play Nebraska. Mission: a USC-Notre Dame home-and-home series. Wilson didn't get to meet with Rockne though, until after the game when they all got on a train to Chicago.

"He told me that he couldn't meet USC because Notre Dame was traveling too much," Wilson said. "I thought the whole thing was off but as Rock and I talked, Marion was with Mrs. Rockne, Bonnie, in her compartment. Marion told Bonnie how nice Southern California was and how hospitable the people were.

"Well, when Rock went back to the compartment, Bonnie talked him into the game. But if it hadn't been for Mrs. Wilson talking to Mrs. Rockne, there wouldn't have been a series."

Jones developed the prototype of the modern tailback. His tailback, called the quarterback in the Jones' system, not only carried the ball 80 or 90 percent of the time, but also passed, punted and played safety on defense.

These running backs had a regal quality to their names: Morton Kaer, Morley Drury, Russ Saunders, Marshall Duffield, Gaius (Gus) Shaver, Orville Mohler, Homer Griffith, Irvine (Cotton) Warburton, Ambrose Schindler and Grenville Lansdell.

There was the great blocking back, Erny Pinckert, and later Bob Hoffman. The linemen of the 20s and 30s were the best of their day—Brice Taylor, Jesse Hibbs, Nate Barragar, Francis Tappaan, Garrett Arbelbide, Johnny Baker, Stan Williamson, Tay Brown, Ernie Smith, Aaron Rosenberg and Harry Smith.

Jones made an immediate impact at USC. His first team in 1925 had an 11-2 record. The Trojans were 8-2 in 1926, 8-1-1 in 1927, 9-0-1 in 1928, 10-2 in 1929 and 8-2 in 1930. After a season-opening loss to St. Mary's in 1931, the Trojans didn't lose another game until Stanford beat them, 13-7, in 1933—a 27-game unbeaten streak.

Trojan old timers still argue about which team was Jones' best. Some say it was the 1929 team that destroyed Pittsburgh in the Rose Bowl, 47-14, even though USC lost two regular season games. Others contend it was the 1931 club that rebounded from a loss to St. Mary's to go undefeated the rest of the season, including the historic 16-14 upset of Notre Dame at South Bend on Johnny Baker's late field goal.

For the purists who say that the record is the only way to measure the worth of a team, it's difficult to dispute the credentials of the 1932 team, which went 10-0 and allowed its opponents to score only 13 points.

As usually happens to any coach who has a long association with a single school, Jones had some down years, from 1934 through 1937.

USC rebounded with a 9-2 record in 1938, including a 7-3 Rose Bowl victory over Duke in which fourth-string quarterback Doyle Nave came off the bench in the final minutes to throw four consecutive passes to end "Antelope" Al

Krueger, the last for the touchdown. The Blue Devils went into the Rose Bowl undefeated, untied and unscored upon.

Some insist that Jones' last great team in 1939 was his best. USC was unbeaten, but tied by Oregon and UCLA, in 10 games. The Trojans climaxed the season with Jones' final Rose Bowl victory, 14-0, over an unscored-upon Tennessee.

Jones died of a heart attack July 27,1941, at the age of 55. The Trojans would have some strong teams in the next 20 years under four coaches, but they wouldn't win another national championship until the John McKay era.

A Yale man and a former All-American at that school along with his famous brother Tad, Jones was already a competent coach when he came to USC in 1925 (he had coached at Syracuse, Yale, Ohio State, Yale again, Iowa and Duke). After a season at Duke, Jones became USC's coach. Some say he got the job on the recommendation of Rockne.

The 1928 season marked USC's first victory (27-14) over Notre Dame, after Rockne had tagged Jones with one-point defeats in 1926 and 1927.

Jones had a remarkably consistent record from 1925 through 1933, never losing more than two games in a season and establishing USC's winning tradition in the Rose Bowl.

Jones believed in and coached power football. Although his Thundering Herd teams rolled up yardage and scored as many as 492 points as early as 1929, some critics incessantly carped that USC's offense was unimaginative.

Jones added wrinkles to his offense, to be sure. He made good use of a wingback reverse and a surprise passing attack, demonstrated to near-perfection in the 1930 Rose Bowl when Russ Saunders threw three TD passes to beat Pittsburgh.

Still, it was the running game with flawless execution that was the trademark of Jones' best teams. Rules discouraged passing during Jones' heyday because a pass had to be attempted five yards behind the line of scrimmage and a team couldn't throw two incomplete passes in one series. Otherwise, it would incur a five-yard penalty in both instances.

So run the Trojans did. Drury, a workhorse in the backfield, became USC's first 1,000-yard rusher (1,163) in 1927. Amazingly, the Trojans wouldn't have another 1,000-yard runner until Mike Garrett (1,440) in 1965.

Mort Kaer, USC's first All-American tailback, gained 852 yards in 1926; Saunders had 972 in 1929; Orv Mohler and Gus Shaver accounted for 983 and 936 in 1930 and 1931, and Cotton Warburton gained 885 in 1933.

All of these backs averaged better than five yards per carry with considerably fewer attempts (excepting Drury's 223 in 1927) than the modern-day USC tailback.

Years later, Willis O. (Bill) Hunter, the USC athletic director when Jones was hired in 1925, said succinctly: "I'd have to say that all of us hitched our wagon to a star, and Howard Jones was that star. He made all of USC's later success possible."

It would not be precise to say that USC football was in limbo in the 40s and 50s. The Trojans went to the Rose Bowl five times during that time span and such players as Ralph Heywood, John Ferraro, Paul Cleary, Frank Gifford, Jim Sears, Jon Arnett and Marlin McKeever were honored as All-Americans.

There were also some fairly strong teams in this era—Jeff Cravath's war babies in the mid-40s and also his 1947 team, Jess Hill's once-beaten 1952 team and Don Clark's 1959 club.

But the Trojans had established high standards under Jones and fans of the school in the 40s and 50s thought in terms of national championships and took conference titles for granted.

Measured against the Thundering Herd days when overall only a loss or two in a season was tolerated, the 40s and 50s were a disappointing period for Trojan buffs. Sort of a waiting period. The Trojans didn't win a national championship in this span and Notre Dame took charge of its series with USC.

Succeeding Jones was Justin M. (Sam) Barry, who had been a valued assistant for Jones. Barry had close ties with Jones. He became basketball and baseball coach at Iowa on Jones' recommendation. Later, Jones brought Barry to USC to serve in the same capacity in addition to his assistant football coaching duties. Barry turned out winning baseball and basketball teams at USC and he was responsible for a major rules changes in the mid-30s—the abolition of the center jump.

Barry was under pressure in succeeding the legendary Jones and won only two of nine games with one tie in 1941.

When the dismal season ended, Barry was called into military service and President Rufus B. von KleinSmid and athletic director Bill Hunter began looking for an interim coach. The choice was Newell (Jeff) Cravath, a former Jones assistant and a defensive center for the Trojans from 1924 through 1926.

Cravath was coaching at the University of San Francisco in 1941 and his Dons had the highest scoring team on the West Coast. He had previously coached at Denver and in the junior college ranks.

He broke with the past and provided USC with a new offensive look in 1942. Howard Jones' single wing, with the quarterback carrying the ball almost every play, was put in mothballs.

The "T" formation, popularized by Stanford's Rose Bowl team in 1940, was in vogue and the Trojans were now in the "T"—with four backs, not one, handling the ball.

But USC had only moderate success in 1942, winning five and losing five with one tie.

By 1943 the country's war effort was in full gear and, because of travel restrictions, teams generally played teams in their own area. But USC football flourished during World War II because Cravath was able to recruit on his own campus. Navy and Marine training programs were set up at the school and some athletes who had played at other schools were transferred to USC. Moreover, the PCC voted to waive the peacetime regulation barring freshmen from varsity competition.

Cravath had an outstanding record during the war years, 23-6-2. His 1944 team was undefeated with two ties. USC made three straight appearances in the Rose Bowl. In 1943 USC played Washington at Pasadena in the only matchup of West Coast teams in Rose Bowl history. Jim Hardy threw three touchdown passes to tie Russ Saunders' record as USC won easily, 29-0.

USC had an even better team in 1944. With Hardy leading the way with his play-calling and passing, Troy concluded an unbeaten season by defeating Tennessee, 25-0, in the Rose Bowl. Jim Callanan scored the quickest touchdown in Rose Bowl history when he blocked a Tennessee punt and took it in with only 90 seconds elapsed in the game.

Because of service commitments, Hardy, All-American tackle John Ferraro, Gordon Gray and other stars from the 1944 team weren't available in 1945. So USC sent one of its worst teams to the Rose Bowl. The Trojans had a 7-3 regular season record, but they weren't a strong team. Alabama ended USC's string of eight Rose Bowl victories by winning, 34-14.

The war ended in 1945, and 1946 was the start of an unusual era in American college football. Servicemen who played for schools before the war, trainees who played during the war and incoming freshmen all were competing for positions now.

USC had a disappointing 6-4 record in 1946, but in 1947 the Trojans took charge of the PCC again. But the Trojans had peaked too soon. They struggled even while winning, including a 6-0 victory over UCLA that clinched the Rose Bowl bid. Then, Notre Dame, destroyed USC, 38-7, before 104,953 fans—the largest crowd ever to see a game at the Coliseum, before or since. The Trojans were humiliated again as mighty Michigan dealt USC then its worst defeat in the school's history, 49-0, in the 1948 Rose Bowl game.

USC had respectable records of 6-3-1 in 1948, including an upset 14-14 tie with unbeaten Notre Dame, and 5-3-1 in 1949. When the Trojans slipped to 2-5-2 in 1950, one of the worst records in the school's history, Cravath was asked to resign. It was his only losing season and his overall record was a creditable 54-28-8 (.644).

USC didn't have to look far for its new coach: he was right on campus.

Jesse T. Hill had become USC's track coach when Dean Cromwell retired in 1949. Hill had been one of the school's best all-around athletes. He played fullback for Howard Jones in 1928-29. He lettered three years, 1927-1929, on the track team as a broad jumper and was the first Trojan ever to better 25 feet in the event. He didn't report for baseball until his senior year at USC, but he was the league's leading hitter with a .389 average. He played major league baseball for the Yankees, Senators and Athletics and he retired with a 10-year batting average (majors and triple-A) of .306.

Like Gloomy Gus Henderson, Hill never achieved the acclaim as football coach that he deserved. He coached from 1951 through 1956 until he was promoted to athletic director and he had a 45-17-1 record, including two Rose Bowl appearances, a 7-0 win over Wisconsin in 1953 and a 20-7 loss to Ohio State in 1955. The win over Wisconsin was the first by a PCC team since the 1947 pact with the Big Ten.

It was under Hill's regime that USC coverted to a multiple offense, single wing and "T," to take advantage of the talents of Frank Gifford, who was a reserve "T" quarterback and defensive back under Cravath in 1949 and 1950.

Old Trojans still say it's a shame that Gifford was limited to only one season, his senior year in 1951, as a tailback. Otherwise, the versatile athlete who went on to become an All-Pro with the New York Giants and then gain greater fame as a television sportscaster would be mentioned in the same breath with O.J. Simpson and other famous USC tailbacks. As it was, Gifford had an outstanding 1951 season, compiling 1,144 yards in total offense, 841 by rushing.

The Trojans finished with a 7-3 record in 1951, and in 1952 Notre Dame spoiled what was otherwise a perfect USC season (10-1) by winning, 9-0. USC finished the year by beating Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl.

Hill had records of 6-3-1 in 1953, 8-4 in 1954, 6-4 in 1955 and 8-2 in 1956 before he replaced the retiring Bill Hunter as athletic director.

There were some outstanding USC players in the early 50s, including Gifford, Pat Cannamela, Lindon Crow, Elmer Wilhoite, Jim Sears, an offensive threat who made All-American in 1952 as a defensive back, Al Carmichael, Bob Van Doren, Leon Clarke, Lou Welsh, George Timberlake, Aramis Dandoy, C.R. Roberts, Marv Goux—and Jon Arneft.

Arnett was one of the most exciting runners ever to play for USC. He was USC's leading rusher in 1954 and 1955 with 601 and 672 yards on a total of only 237 carries. Arnett played only half a season in 1956 as a senior because of PCC penalties levied against athletes from USC, UCLA, California and Washington for taking payments in excess of what the conference allowed for living expenses.

Other players who were juniors in 1956 lost their eligibility for the 1957 season. C. R. Roberts, an explosive fullback, who rushed for a then-school record of 251 yards against Texas in 1956, was one of the players affected.

The scandals not only scarred the players but led to the dissolution of the Pacific Coast Conference in 1959. A new league, the Athletic Association of Western Universities (AAWU), was formed with USC, UCLA, California, Washington and later Stanford as the member schools. It wouldn't be until 1964 that all of the Northwest schools would become reunited with the Big Five in the Pacific-8, which is now the Pac-10.

It was hardly a time for a new coach to take over at USC. But Don Clark, captain of the 1947 Trojans, a star lineman with the San Francisco 49ers and an assistant under Hill, was persuaded to take the job despite the fact that the PCC had put severe restrictions on USC's recruiting the previous two years. It is understandable why the Trojans had their worst record, 1-9, in the school's history in 1957.

Clark tried to generate enthusiasm with a new "go-go-go" hurry-up offense. When he was able to recruit again—getting players like the McKeever twins, Mike and Marlin—the Trojans made a comeback. They were 4-5-1 in 1958 and 8-2 in 1959, losing to UCLA and Notre Dame in the last two games.

Then Clark walked away from the job. He went out as a winner and applied the same success formula to the family business—Prudential Overall Supply.

So USC was without a coach on the threshold of the 60s. The most ardent Trojan fan couldn't imagine that the next coach would elevate the school to the national prominence that had not been attained since the days of Howard Jones.

Intelligent. Witty. Flippant. Quick-tempered. Moody. Aloof. Charming. Introverted. John McKay is all of these things—and more. To those who knew him best, the former USC coach was and is an enigma. But his friends and detractors generally agree that he'll be remembered as one of the outstanding college coaches ever.

Not only did he restore USC to its elite status, but he also had more influence on the way offensive football is played at the college level than any other coach in his time.

It was McKay who modernized the "I" formation with the tailback standing up in the backfield some seven yards deep, with the vision to scan the defense and with the potential to strike at almost any point along the line.

When you talk about tailbacks, you're talking about USC—such glamour runners as Heisman Trophy winners Mike Garrett, O.J. Simpson, Charles White and Marcus Allen, plus Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and Ricky Bell.

McKay was innovative, but more important than that, he was a winner. He won four national championships (1962, 1967, 1972, 1974) during his 16 years at USC (1960-75). His teams won nine Pacific-8 titles and finished in the nation's top 10 on nine occasions. He had a career record of 127-40-8 (.749), putting him in the same class with Jones (.750).

The Rose Bowl became almost USC's second home during McKay's tenure. His teams made eight New Year's Day appearances in Pasadena, winning five and losing three.

There was an exciting quality about McKay's teams and some of the most memorable games in USC history were played in the 60s and 70s: The 42-37 victory over Wisconsin in the 1963 Rose Bowl. The 20-17 win over Notre Dame in 1964, the game that deprived the Irish of the national championship. The 21-20 squeaker over UCLA in 1967 with Simpson sprinting 64 yards for the clinching touchdown. A final-minute 14-12 conquest of the Bruins and 26-24 over Stanford, both in 1969, and again over Stanford in 1973, 27-26. The amazing 55-24 rout of Notre Dame in 1974 after the Trojans trailed, 24-6, at halftime. The late, 18-17 victory over Ohio State in the 1975 Rose Bowl.

USC is identified with its tailbacks but rival coaches say it was the strength and mobility of McKay's offensive lines that enabled Simpson & Company to run to daylight.

USC had more than its share of All-Americans and talented players during the McKay era: wide receivers Hal Bedsole, Lynn Swann and Bobby Chandler; tight end Charles Young; linebackers Damon Bame, Adrian Young, Charles Weaver, Jimmy Gunn, Willie Hall and Richard Wood; defensive end Tim Rossovich; offensive tackles Ron Yary, Marvin Powell, Sid Smith and Pete Adams; defensive backs Mike Battle and Artimus Parker; quarterbacks Mike Rae, Jimmy Jones and Pat Haden; and fullbacks Sam (Bam) Cunningham and Ben Wilson.

During the 40s and 50s, the USC-Notre Dame series had become one-sided, distinctly favoring the Irish. But McKay, after a tentative start, turned things around. He was shut out by the Irish his first two seasons, 1960 and 1961, and in 1966 Notre Dame embarrassed USC, 51-0, the worst defeat in Trojan history. McKay lost only once to Notre Dame the next nine seasons (two ties). When he left USC for Tampa Bay of the NFL after the 1975 season, he had established an 8-6-2 record against the Irish.

McKay played freshman football at Purdue in 1946, then transferred to Oregon the next year, where he was an All-Coast halfback. He stayed on as an assistant at Oregon, but when an opening developed on Don Clark's staff in 1959, Clark hired McKay. It was the most fortuitous decision of McKay's career. Clark resigned after the 1959 season and he recommended McKay for the USC job.

Now USC football was in the hands of a virtually unknown assistant coach and his debut was hardly auspicious. He lost his 1960 opener to Oregon State, 14-0, and struggled through a 4-6 season. Injuries, graduation losses and an inordinate number of slow-footed backs hindered the Trojans. Alumni were already grumbling about McKay when the new USC coach upset UCLA, 17-6, near the end of the season.

The record was not much better in 1961, 4-5-1, but McKay was already experimenting with the "I" formation. He moved Willie Brown, a flanker, to tailback, and Brown responded with a 93-yard touchdown run to beat SMU. Then, the following week against Iowa, USC had its first explosive offensive game under McKay. After trailing, 21-0, the Trojans rallied for 34 points. They lost in the final minute, 35-34, when McKay, not willing to settle for a tie, opted for the two-pointer and failed. He would lose other games by going for two points, but he would also win a Rose Bowl game and a share of the national championship with a successful two-point try. McKay saw no sense in ties; he played only to win.

In 1962 it all came together for McKay. He had benefited from recruiting, refined the "I" and borrowed the Arkansas defense from Frank Broyles. USC had speed on both offense and defense, two fine quarterbacks in Pete Beathard and Bill Nelsen, the versatile Willie Brown at tailback, strong Ben Wilson at fullback and wide receiver Hal Bedsole, a big man (6-5, 220), who could fly.

The 1962 team had a perfect 11-0 record to win the national championship. In its 10 regular season games, USC outscored the opposition, 219-55, and held eight opponents to seven points or less.

The best and most thrilling aspect of the season was the 1963 Rose Bowl game with Wisconsin. The Trojans built what seemed an almost insurmountable lead, 42-14. They almost lost the game when Wisconsin quarterback Ron VanderKelen completed 18 of 22 passes in the fourth quarter. 33 of 48 in the game for 401 yards, in a remarkable near-comeback. Final score: USC 42, Wisconsin 37.

The 1963 season is notable for the debut of the first of McKay's great tailbacks—Mike Garrett, a runner with speed and power who became USC's first Heisman Trophy winner in 1965. McKay said it's a shame that Garrett never got an opportunity to play in the Rose Bowl during his three seasons at USC. The Trojans had respectable records—7-3 in 1963 and again in 1964 and 7-2-1 in 1965—but losses to Washington and UCLA kept them from Pasadena.

USC just missed getting to the Rose Bowl in the mid-60s, but there was that shining moment in 1964 when the Trojans shocked Notre Dame right out of a national championship. The unbeaten Irish were on their way to a title, leading the Trojans, 17-0, at halftime. But the Trojans rallied to win, 20-17, on quarterback Craig Fertig's touchdown pass to wide receiver Rod Sherman.

USC got to the Rose Bowl in 1966, but McKay doesn't have pleasant memories of that season. The Trojans lost their final three games—UCLA, 14-7; Notre Dame, 51-0; and Purdue in the Rose Bowl, 14-13, when McKay lost another two-point gamble.

The next year, 1967, became significant for two reasons: one, a junior college transfer from San Francisco named Orenthal James Simpson was the new tailback. Two, the Trojans were on their way to three winning years in which they would have a combined 29-2-2 record, win the national championship and finish second and third in wire service rankings, and make three straight visits to the Rose Bowl.

When USC won its first national title under McKay in 1962, it was accomplished under one-platoon rules. In 1967 the two-platoon system was back and USC was even stronger. The incomparable Simpson averaged 154 yards a game rushing, including a single game high of 235 yards. McKay had one of his best defensive units, which allowed only 87 points.

And 1967 was the year that the team broke the South Bend jinx. Notre Dame hadn't lost to USC at home since 1939 but Simpson's running and a ball-hawking defense that included seven interceptions retired some old ghosts, 24-7.

There was also the showdown game with crosstown rival UCLA. The Bruins were the nation's top-ranked team at the time. The Trojans had held the No.1 position earlier, but had slipped to third the previous week after being upset by Oregon State, 3-0, on a muddy field at Corvallis. The lead changed hands four times. UCLA spurted ahead, 20-14, in the fourth quarter behind Gary Beban, the Heisman Trophy winning quarterback. Then Simpson found daylight and sprinted 64 yards to a touchdown and a national championship.

After that, even the Rose Bowl was anticlimactic. Indiana was dominated by USC, 14-3.

The next two years, USC got another nickname—the Cardiac Kids; the team won or tied 12 times with fourth-quarter comebacks.

O.J. SIMPSON'S 64-YARD WINNING TD RUN VERSUS UCLA IN 1967

USC came into the Rose Bowl against Ohio State that season with a 9-0-1 record. Despite an 80-yard touchdown run by Simpson, the Buckeyes took advantage of Trojan turnovers to win, 27-16.

The 1969 team had a 10-0-1 record, climaxing the season with a 10-3 victory over Michigan in the Rose Bowl. But the second edition of the Cardiac Kids was often maligned because they didn't win by impressive margins. The fabulous Juice was gone and the Trojans had new personalities—sophomore quarterback Jimmy Jones, tailback Clarence Davis and a defensive line known as the Wild Bunch.

Jones could misfire on eight straight passes and then become accurate in the final minutes. Davis is now known as the "forgotten" USC tailback because his career followed those of Garrett and Simpson. Davis led the Trojans in rushing in 1969 and 1970, gaining 1,351 and 972 yards.

The name, Wild Bunch, was inspired by the current movie of the same name. The group was composed of ends Jimmy Gunn and Charles Weaver, tackles Al Cowlings and Tody Smith, and middle guard Bubba Scott. Gunn and Cowlings were All-Americans in 1969. Weaver was so honored in 1970.

The Cardiac Kids were at their heart-stopping best in a 26-24 victory over Stanford. Late in the game, USC surged back behind Jones' passing and Davis' running to set up Ron Ayala's 34-yard field goal with no time remaining.

The 1969 USC-UCLA game is considered one of the most dramatic of the series. Both teams were unbeaten with 8-0-1 records. The Wild Bunch gave UCLA quarterback Dennis Dummit a beating, but UCLA took the lead, 12-7 with 5 minutes left. Then, Jones, 0 of 9 passing in the first half, began to hit his receivers. A pass interference penalty against UCLA on an apparent fourth-down incompletion gave Jones a reprieve. He fired a 32-yard touchdown pass to Sam Dickerson deep in the end zone—and USC had pulled it out, 14-12, with 1:32 to play.

USC was 6-4-1 in 1970 and matched that in 1971. Winning years in some books, but not at USC.

McKay became conscious in 1970 that he needed faster and more talented players. By 1972 he had the right blend of experience and youth. He also had one of the greatest teams in the history of college football.

This was a team without an apparent weakness. It had a 12-0 record, scored 467 points, averaged 432 yards a game, never trailed in the second half, restricted opponents to an average of only 2.5 yards per rush and didn't permit a run longer than 29 yards.

McKay had two quality quarterbacks, senior Mike Rae and sophomore Pat Haden; an outstanding sophomore tailback, Anthony Davis, who became a starter at midseason; a high diving, excellent blocking fullback, Sam (Bam) Cunningham; tight end Charles Young and offensive tackle Pete Adams, both All-Americans; skilled defensive players like tackles John Grant and Jeff Winans and Richard (Batman) Wood, a sophomore All-American linebacker who could run the 40 in 4.5 seconds, and three fine wide receivers, Lynn Swann, Edesel Garrison and Johnny McKay, the coach's son.

The Trojans breezed through their schedule until the regular-season ending game with Notre Dame at the Coliseum. The Irish made a game of it, and closed to within two points, 25-23, late in the third quarter. Then Anthony Davis returned a kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown. He had earlier scored on a 97-yard kickoff return. The momentum belonged to the Trojans and they won, 45-23. Davis scored six touchdowns against Notre Dame that day, the most ever by a Trojan.

To underscore that the team was clearly the best in the country,

USC destroyed Woody Hayes' Ohio State team, 42-17, in the Rose Bowl. Cunningham sky-dived for four touchdowns, Rae completed 18 of 25 passes for 229 yards with no interceptions and Davis slashed for 157 yards, including a 20-yard TD run that broke the game open.

The Trojans were undisputed as No.1. For the first time in collegiate history, USC got every first-place ballot in the final AP and UPI polls.

McKay had lost 12 regulars from his 1972 team when the 1973 season opened. Still, the Trojans responded with a 9-2-1 record and another appearance in the Rose Bowl (Ohio State won, 42-21).

McKay believed that he had one of the strongest teams in the country at the outset of the 1974 season. Haden and Davis were both seniors. The team was generally experienced.

The Trojans were shocked by Arkansas, 22-7, in the opener at Little Rock, and weren't impressive at times, especially at mid-season when they were tied by California, 15-15. But then they got rolling, leading to one of the most remarkable games ever played. The Trojans, apparently beaten by Notre Dame and trailing, 24-0, in the first half, rallied for 35 points in the third quarter, scored more in the fourth quarter and won, 55-24. Anthony Davis returned the second-half kickoff 102 yards for a touchdown to get the roll started, the sixth of his career, breaking the existing NCAA record.

The Trojans, with a flair for the dramatic, had not run out of comebacks. In the 1975 Rose Bowl game, USC trailed Ohio State, 17-10, with minutes left to play. Haden teamed with Johnny McKay on a 38-yard touchdown pass. Coach McKay went for the two-point conversion try. Haden threw a low, accurate pass to Shelton Diggs for an 18-17 victory. The pass was the biggest play of the year because Alabama had lost to Notre Dame on New Year's night in the Orange Bowl and USC was elevated to the No.1 spot in the final UPI poll.

SHELTON DIGGS' WINNING CONVERSION CATCH IN 1975 ROSE BOWL

In 1975, USC won its first seven games. But Troy wasn't as formidable as its record indicated—and there was something else. McKay announced before his team was to play at California in game eight that he would be leaving USC at the end of the season to coach the NFL expansion team in Tampa Bay.

McKay was in the dual role of athletic director and football coach. He had become weary of the politics of college athletics and the recruiting grind after 16 years. And there was precious little more that he could accomplish at the college level. The most compelling reason to leave USC, however, was the lifetime security of the Tampa Bay offer.

McKay's decision had an immediate adverse effect on his team, which lost four straight conference games. Although USC had a disappointing 7-4 regular season record and was out of the Rose Bowl race even before the UCLA game, McKay still went out as a winner. The Trojans played in the Liberty Bowl in Memphis and pulled off a mild upset by defeating Texas A&M, 20-0.

Howard Jones won his last national championship in 1932. John McKay won his first in 1962. That's a 30-year drought between legendary coaches. USC wouldn't have to wait that long after McKay resigned.

John Robinson, McKay's replacement, not only maintained the winning Trojan tradition, he added a new dimension to the USC football program.

Robinson went 67-14-2 (.819) in his first seven-year stint at USC (1976-1982). He won a national championship in 1978. His teams finished second in the final wire service polls twice, in 1976 and in 1979. He won three Rose Bowls (1977,1979,1980) and a Bluebonnet Bowl game (New Year's Eve, 1977).

As a tactician, he retained the best from McKay—the formation and tailback-oriented offense along with a sound defense—while establishing the quarterback as a more important figure in his offense.

McKay's best teams were balanced offensively (running and passing), but, in 1975, when USC slumped, the poor play of quarterback Vince Evans was a contributing factor. Evans was much improved under Robinson in 1976. Robinson was also responsible for the improvement of Rob Hertel in 1977. It was in 1978 and 1979 that the quarterback, Paul McDonald, really came into a position of eminence in the USC offense, rivaling that of the tailback, Charles White.

Robinson, like McKay, was a virtually unknown assistant when he was named USC's coach. He was a reserve end on Oregon's 1957 Rose Bowl team and he stayed at his alma mater for 12 years as an assistant before becoming McKay's offensive coordinator from 1972 through 1974. He left USC in 1975 to join the Oakland Raiders as an offensive assistant coach.

Robinson's first night as a head football coach was a nightmare. That was Sept. 11, 1976, when Missouri shocked Robinson's Trojans, 46-25, in the opener.

But the game was hardly a harbinger for the season. The Trojans got their act together and won their next eight games to set up another Rose Bowl-deciding game with UCLA, unbeaten and ranked No. 2 in the country under new head coach Terry Donahue. USC won, 21-14.

Ricky Bell was the latest model off the USC tailback assembly line that season. He had broken O.J. Simpson's single season rushing record the previous year, gaining 1,957 yards on 385 carries.

Bell didn't fit the mold of a typical USC tailback. Garrett, Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and, later, White, were short, stocky types. Bell, a former fullback and linebacker, was a battering, bruising runner with good speed for a big man. He gained 1,433 yards for the season to become USC's No.2 all-time leading rusher behind Anthony Davis, 3,724 to 3,689.

After the 1976 win over UCLA, USC beat Notre Dame, 17-13, the next week and then the Trojan defense completely destroyed powerful Michigan in the Rose Bowl. The Wolverines were the nation's leading scoring (39 points average) and rushing team (448 yards), but they could score only six points and rush for 217 yards as USC won, 14-6, without Bell.

Bell was knocked unconscious on USC's first series. White, who would go on to become the school's most prolific rusher, filled in with 114 yards on 32 carries. Evans completed 14 of 20 passes for 181 yards, scored a touchdown on a one-yard keeper and was named Player of the Game. Robinson became the first rookie head coach from the Pac-8 to win the Rose Bowl game in 61 years.

Bell, safety Dennis Thurman, defensive tackle Gary Jeter and offensive tackle Marvin Powell got All-American recognition. USC finished with an 11-1 record and a No. 2 national rating behind undefeated Pittsburgh.

Expectations were high for 1977. The Trojans started fast, winning their first four games and moving to the top of the rankings. Alabama snapped USC's 15-game unbeaten streak with a 21-20 victory at the Coliseum and the Trojans suddenly became an inconsistent team. They lost three of their next five games, including an embarrassing 49-19 setback to Notre Dame at South Bend, where the Irish switched from blue to green jerseys before the game to get a psychological advantage.

The Trojans were out of the Rose Bowl running by the time they met UCLA. But it was an important game for the Bruins. If they beat USC, they would get the Rose Bowl bid; a loss would send Washington to Pasadena. In one of the most exciting games of the city series, the Bruins were leading, 27-26, with only a few minutes remaining. Then, Frank Jordan kicked a 38-yard field goal with two seconds left, kicking UCLA out of the Rose Bowl, 29-27.

USC got a consolation prize, a Bluebonnet Bowl bid against Texas A&M at Houston's Astrodome. It was a wild offensive party on New Year's Eve. USC gained 620 yards rushing and passing; A&M gained 519. USC won, 47-28.

For a change, USC wasn't highly ranked in the 1978 preseason polls. Nor were the Trojans the consensus favorite to win the newly-expanded Pacific-10 with the addition of Arizona and Arizona State.

USC opened with lackluster wins over Texas Tech and Oregon. No. 1-ranked Alabama was waiting for USC in Birmingham. The Trojans, with tailback Charles White who was now a junior gaining 199 yards on 29 carries, toppled Alabama, 24-14. USC didn't let down the next week against Michigan State, the Big Ten co-champion. The Trojans buried the Spartans, 30-9. USC seemed unbeatable then, but it was walking into a trap at Tempe. Arizona State surprised USC, 20-7. The Trojans couldn't afford to lose another game if they expected to get to the Rose Bowl. They didn't.

The Trojans had the Rose Bowl bid but if they were to stay in contention for the national championship, they had to beat their old rival, Notre Dame, the following week at the Coliseum.

USC had Notre Dame reeling, leading them, 24-6, after three quarters. The Irish made a comeback to rival any in the school's illustrious history. Incredibly, Notre Dame scored three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to take a 25-24 lead with 46 seconds remaining. There was time enough for USC to make an even more amazing comeback. Jordan, who had kicked a 38-yard field goal with two seconds left to beat UCLA in 1977, booted a 37-yard field goal with two seconds remaining to shock Notre Dame, 27-25.

It was on to the Rose Bowl for USC, where the Trojans scored a 17-10 win over Michigan. USC went into the game as the nation's third-ranked team, behind unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Alabama, in both wire service polls. After Alabama beat Penn State in the Sugar Bowl, the Tide won the national championship in the AP poll and USC barely won in the UPI balloting.

If USC was overlooked in preseason ratings in 1978, they made up for it in 1979.

The Trojans seemed awesome. They were coming off a 12-1 season, a share of the national championship and White and McDonald, now seniors, represented the best one-two offensive punch in college football. Besides White and McDonald, Robinson had such skilled players as offensive tackle Anthony Munoz and guard Brad Budde, both All-American prospects; wide receiver Kevin Williams, tight ends Hoby Brenner, James Hunter and Vic Rakhshani; defensive linemen Myron Lapka, Ty Sperling and Dennis Edwards; linebackers Dennis Johnson and Larry McGrew; and two of the nation's best safeties, Ronnie Loft and Dennis Smith.

USC won its first five games, but then lost its No.1 ranking in an improbable manner. Stanford was the spoiler. The Cardinals stunned USC with 21 unanswered points in the second half and the game ended in a tie, 21-21. USC had had its letdown for the season, but it didn't falter again.

The Trojans were back in the Rose Bowl, this time against Ohio State. With 5:21 to play, the Buckeyes led, 16-10, and the Trojans were in deep trouble at their own 17-yard line. White, who was already the runaway winner in the Heisman Trophy balloting, simply ran through Ohio State. The Trojan tailback gained 71 yards of an 83-yard stay-on-the-ground assault climaxed by his diving touchdown inches away from the goal line. The successful conversion enabled USC to preserve its unbeaten record, 11-0-1. The Trojans wound up as the nation's No. 2 team in both polls.

White and McDonald had superb seasons. White was the nation's leading rusher in 1979. He wound up his regular season career with 5,598 yards—second highest total in NCAA history. McDonald set 17 NCAA, Pac-l0 and school passing records. All-American guard Brad Budde won the Lombardi Award as the nation's best lineman and linebacker Dennis Johnson also won All-American honors.

The decade of the '80s marked the emergence of still another tailback to carry on the legacy of excellence that is inherent with the USC football program.

Marcus Allen, who had served his apprenticeship as Charles White's fullback in 1979 (gaining 649 yards and scoring eight touchdowns), was now prepared to assume the demanding responsibility as tailback in the I formation. Allen was a reserve tailback in 1977 as a freshman, with only limited experience at the position considering that he was a quarterback and defensive back in high school.

Despite his inexperience at the position and a limited passing game, Allen still managed to gain 1,563 yards, and catch 30 passes. He also showed his versatility by completing the only two passes he threw, one for a 36-yard touchdown.

The Trojans, who were ineligible to play in a bowl game due to conference sanctions, finished with an 8-2-1 record, losing to Washington, the Rose Bowl representative, and narrowly to UCLA, 20-17—the Trojans' first loss to the Bruins in Robinson's five seasons as USC's coach.

Three Trojans, defensive back Ronnie Loft, offensive tackle Keith Van Horne and offensive guard Roy Foster were recognized as All-Americans.

Allen had a productive first season as USC's tailback. Still, it wasn't an indication of what he would accomplish in 1981. A more confident, skilled player now, his statistics were awesome even though he was a marked man. Allen was virtually the USC offense as he gained 2,342 yards through 11 regular season games, an NCAA mark, while averaging a record 212.9 yards per game. His record-breaking season was validated as he became the fourth Trojan tailback to win the Heisman Trophy.

Even though USC won its first four games, including a thrilling last-second 28-24 victory over Oklahoma on national TV, an upset loss to Arizona, 13-10, and a 13-3 setback to Washington in Seattle prevented the Trojans from going to the Rose Bowl. However, USC ended the regular season with a 22-21 victory over UCLA as nose guard George Achica blocked a late Bruin field goal try to preserve the win.

The Trojans didn't fare so well in the Fiesta Bowl, where they were dominated by Penn State, losing, 26-10, to finish with a 9-3 record. Allen was a unanimous All-American with Foster repeating and linebacker Chip Banks getting equal recognition.

Because of NCAA and conference sanctions, USC was ineligible to participate in any bowl games the next two seasons.

USC still had a respectable 8-3 season in 1982 despite the loss of Allen and an injury-decimated tailback corps.

It was in the week preceding the 1982 Notre Dame game that Robinson disclosed that he was leaving USC as football coach to become a senior vice president in the school's administration. He wouldn't remain at that position long, though, leaving USC soon after to become the Rams' coach.

So the theme for the Notre Dame game was "Win One for the Fat Guy," pertaining to Robinson's girth and his popularity. The Trojans did just that, 17-13, with tailback Michael Harper scoring the winning and controversial touchdown in the closing minutes. It was argued that Harper didn't have the ball when he sky-dived over a pile at the goal line.

Achica and offensive linemen Don Mosebar and Bruce Mathews were named All-Americans.

The successful Robinson, who had coached USC to three Rose Bowl wins and a national championship in 1978, was replaced by Ted Tollner, who had joined the USC staff in 1982 as offensive coordinator. However, although nobody knew it then, it wouldn't be the last time Trojan fans saw Robinson.

Tollner's first season wasn't auspicious as the Trojans slumped to a 4-6-1 record, the first losing season in 22 years. Their 27-6 loss to Notre Dame was the start of a frustrating streak—13 consecutive years without a win over the Irish. Center Tony Slaton was an All-American in 1983.

The Trojans rebounded in 1984, winning seven straight Pac-10 games and clinching the Rose Bowl bid a week before the end of the conference season with a 16-7 victory over Washington. Tollner had a defensive team featuring All-American linebackers Jack Del Rio and Duane Bickett, while a fiery JC transfer, quarterback Tim Green, who replaced injured Sean Salisbury, provided leadership on offense. The Trojans had a letdown after beating Washington, losing to UCLA and Notre Dame. But Tollner's team regrouped to beat Ohio State, 20-17, in the Rose Bowl for a 9-3 record.

Although USC was favored to repeat as conference champs in 1985, the Trojans had a 6-6 season, ultimately losing to Alabama, 24-3 in the Aloha Bowl.

The Trojans started fast in 1986, winning their first four games. Then, USC was upset by Washington State, 34-14, and lost to Arizona State, 29-20, before winning three straight conference games. But the Trojans finished on a sour note, losing to UCLA, 45-25, and Notre Dame, 38-37. Tollner was then fired, the first USC coach to be terminated since Jeff Cravath in 1950. Tollner's four-year record was 26-20-1.

Tollner was a lame duck when USC lost to Auburn, 16-7, in the Citrus Bowl that concluded a 7-5 season. Offensive guard Jeff Bregel and safety Tim McDonald, All-Americans in 1985, did so again in 1986.

gram in his seven years there, winning 70% of his games in his last four seasons. He also coached Arizona to a startling upset over No.1 ranked USC in 1980 and had beaten rival Arizona State five straight times.

The Trojans had a roller coaster season in 1987, Smith's first year as coach. Michigan State beat USC, 27-13, at East Lansing in the opener and Oregon upset USC, 34-27, at Eugene at midseason to imperil USC's Rose Bowl aspirations. But the Trojans rebounded to beat Washington, 37-23, at Seattle when a loss would have meant virtual elimination from the Rose Bowl race. The Trojans kept winning behind quarterback Rodney Peete, who was to break every meaningful USC passing record, and tailback Steven Webster, a 1,000-yard rusher.

As it has so many times in the past, the Rose Bowl deciding game paired the Trojans against the Bruins. But USC, an 8 1/2 point underdog, prevailed, 17-13, getting the winning touchdown on Peete's 33-yard pass to receiver Erik Affholter, who juggled the ball in the corner of the end zone. Peete provided the play of the game late in the first half, when he ran down UCLA's Eric Turner, who had intercepted Peete's pass and was apparently headed for a TD that would have provided UCLA with a 17-0 halftime lead.

USC was back in the Rose Bowl only to lose to Michigan State again, 20-17. Offensive lineman Dave Cadigan was selected an All American.

The 1988 campaign began in glorious fashion for the Trojans. USC was celebrating its athletic centennial and the football team did its part, starting off 10-0 and rising to No. 2 in the rankings. With its second consecutive Rose Bowl berth clinched by virtue of a 31-22 win over UCLA (Peete was hospitalized all week with the measles, but came off his sickbed to lead Troy to victory), the undefeated Trojans hosted top-ranked Notre Dame. But the Irish prevailed, 27-10, and USC couldn't recover in the Rose Bowl, falling to Michigan, 22-14, as Smith lost to his former boss, Bo Schembechler (who he served under at Miami of Ohio and Michigan).

Peete, who finished second in the Heisman voting and set a USC season and career passing records, was an All-American, along with Affholter, safeties Mark Carrier and Cleveland Colter and defensive tackle Tim Ryan.

USC's 1989 season was supposed to open in historic fashion—against Illinois in the Glasnost Bowl in Moscow of the Soviet Union, but those plans had to be scratched because of contractual difficulties with the game's organizers (the game was played in the Coliseum and the Illini won, 14-13). The Trojans then won eight of their next nine games, including a dramatic 18-17 comeback win at Washington State when freshman quarterback Todd Marinovich—whose father, Marv, captained the 1962 USC squad and whose uncle, Craig Fertig, was USC's 1964 captain—passed USC 91 yards down the field in 18 plays at game's end. Troy's only loss during that span was 28-24 at Notre Dame (USC also tied UCLA, 10-10). USC, which finished 9-2-1, made it to the Rose Bowl for the third year in a row and the third time was the charm for Smith as he beat No. 3 Michigan, 17-10, in Schembechler's last game as Wolverine coach. Tailback Ricky Ervins, who rushed for 1,395 yards in 1989, ran 14 yards for the game-winning TD with 1:10 to play to earn Rose Bowl MVP honors.

Carrier and Ryan repeated as All-Americans in 1989 (Carrier also won the Thorpe Award as the nation's top defensive back), while linebacker Junior Seau and offensive guard Mark Tucker also won All-American acclaim.

ERIK AFFHOLTER'S TD CATCH AGAINST UCLA IN 1987

JOHNNIE MORTON'S TD CATCH AGAINST UCLA IN 1990

USC's Rose Bowl streak ended in 1990, although the 8-4-1 Trojans did play in a bowl that season, narrowly losing to Michigan State (17-16) in the John Hancock Bowl. The season's highlight was the UCLA game, the highest-scoring and perhaps most thrilling game in the storied cross-town rivalry. The game, won by USC, 45-42, featured a 42-point fourth quarter with four lead changes, capped by Marinovich's 23-yard game-winning pass to Johnnie Morton with 16 seconds to go. Linebacker Scott Ross was a 1990 All-American and tailback Mazio Royster rushed for 1,168 yards.

The Hancock Bowl loss—marked by a sideline shouting match between the stern disciplinarian Smith and the free-spirited sophomore Marinovich, who soon after left for the NFL—signaled the beginning of the end for Smith's tenure at USC. Things quickly unraveled in 1991, as the Trojans were upset in their home opener by unheralded Memphis State, 24-10. Although USC upset No. 5 Penn State the following game, 21-10, Troy had a difficult year. The Trojans were 3-8, ending the season with six consecutive losses—including the first of an embarrassing eight in a row to UCLA—and no bowl trip.

Smith's 1992 season started decently. Despite a tie with San Diego State in the opener and a close 17-10 road loss to top-ranked Washington, USC regrouped to win four in a row, but then disaster struck as the Trojans lost four of their last five, including 38-37 to UCLA when a potential game-winning 2-point conversion pass with 41 seconds to go fell incomplete (Troy had a 14-point fourth quarter lead) and 24-7 to upstart Fresno State in the Freedom Bowl. USC, fielding its 100th football team, finished 6-5-1, despite featuring a pair of All-Americans in electrifying wide receiver/return specialist Curtis Conway (who set the school's career kickoff return record) and offensive tackle Tony Boselli. So, just three seasons after directing the Trojans to three straight Rose Bowls, Smith was fired...and a familiar face returned to Troy.

After a successful nine-year run coaching the Rams, in which he made the playoffs six times, and then a year off spent as a television analyst, John Robinson returned to USC in 1993 in hopes of restoring the football program's past glory.

He had an immediate impact, as his first team tied for first place in the Pac-10 (UCLA received the Rose Bowl bid because it beat the Trojans, 27-21). Like in his first stint at Troy, Robinson lost his opener (31-9 to North Carolina). He then lost three road games to Top 15-ranked teams (Penn State on a failed two-point conversion attempt at game's end, Arizona and Notre Dame), but the 8-5 Trojans did beat Washington in Seattle to end the Huskies' 17-game home winning streak and they prevailed over Utah in the Freedom Bowl, 28-21. USC almost made it to the Rose Bowl, but for an intercepted 3-yard pass in the end zone with 56 seconds to play to preserve UCLA's 27-21 victory. His team featured Morton, an All-American who set USC's career receiving record with 201 catches, plus quarterback Rob Johnson (whose 3,630 passing yards was a Trojan season record) and fearsome linebacker Willie McGinest. USC played in the new-look Coliseum, where a $15-million renovation included the removal of the running track and the lowering of the field.

The 1994 season saw the return of another familiar face to USC when one-time ballboy Keyshawn Johnson transferred from a junior college. Johnson, a big, speedy receiver, was brash, loquacious and had a magnetic personality. The Trojans began 2-2, then strung together five wins in a row. Although USC lost again to UCLA, its 10-10 tie with Notre Dame did dent a long drought to the Irish (Notre Dame had won the previous 11 games). USC made a statement in the Cotton Bowl with its 55-14 win over Texas Tech to finish 8-3-1, and Johnson also stood out in that game as he caught eight passes for 222 yards with three touchdowns (the yardage and TDs were Cotton Bowl records). Boselli, hampered by a knee injury in 1993, earned All-American honors again.

Amazingly, USC was able to play its games that year in the Coliseum even though the grand stadium was severely damaged in an earthquake in January of 1994 and had to undergo $93 million of repairs.

Robinson got his next team back to the Rose Bowl. The 1995 Trojans started off 6-0, then lost at Notre Dame and tied Washington in Seattle, 21-21 (Troy scored 21 unanswered points in the fourth quarter). Because of a better overall record than the Huskies, USC got the Rose Bowl bid where it defeated No. 3 Northwestern, 41-32, a Cinderella team making its first Pasadena visit since 1949. Johnson finished his brief USC career as the Rose Bowl MVP, grabbing 12 passes for a game-record 216 yards with a TD. His 102 catches that season were a school record and he ended up second on USC's career receiving list before becoming the No. 1 pick in the 1996 NFL draft. Tailback Delon Washington rushed for 1,109 yards for the 9-2-1 Trojans.

Although USC wound up 13th in the final 1994 AP poll and 12th in 1995, that 1995 campaign was the peak of Robinson's second stint guiding USC. He couldn't take USC any higher; in fact, his Trojans leveled out the next two years.

In 1996, Troy went 6-6, losing a pair of heartbreakers—both in two overtime periods (the NCAA instituted the tiebreaker beginning with the 1995 bowl contests). First, USC lost at Arizona State, 48-35, then fell to UCLA, 48-41, as the Bruins erased a 17-point deficit in the final 6:12 of the fourth quarter. The bright spot of the season was a 27-20 season-ending overtime win over Notre Dame in the Coliseum, breaking USC's 13-game non-winning streak to the Irish.

In 1997, for the second year in a row, USC didn't play in a bowl. However, the 6-5 Trojans did post their second straight win over Notre Dame, this time 20-17 on Adam Abrams' 37-yard field goal with 1:05 to play to give USC its first victory in South Bend since 1981. USC's 23-0 win at Oregon State was not shown on television, ending USC's streak of 111 consecutive live telecasts. Defensive tackle Darrell Russell earned All-American honors.

Robinson, whose last two teams went 1-6 against Top 25-ranked opponents, was fired after the 1997 season.

His replacement was someone familiar with USC and its tradition of success: Paul Hackett. Hackett had been an assistant under Robinson from 1976 to 1980 and was on the Trojan staff during the 1978 national championship season. He then made his mark in the NFL as a quarterbacks coach and offensive coordinator with four teams, including the 1984 Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers. In his career, he had tutored the likes Joe Montana, Marcus Allen, Jerry Rice, Tony Dorsett, Charles White, Herschel Walker and Danny White.

Hackett got off to a good start, winning his 1998 opener (27-17 over Purdue) to become the first Trojan head coach to win his debut since Jess Hill in 1951. USC went 8-5, shut out Notre Dame, 10-0 (the Irish's first shutout since 1987), and played in the Sun Bowl. Chris Claiborne was an All-American and became USC's first winner of the Butkus Award as the nation's top linebacker.

The 1998 season also had a sad note to it, as 91-year-old "Super Fan" Giles Pellerin died at the UCLA game while viewing his 797th consecutive Trojan game, home and away. His streak dated to 1926; he had seen every USC-UCLA and USC-Notre Dame game ever played before his passing.

USC looked like it was going to take another step up in 1999, starting off 2-0. But quarterback Carson Palmer broke his collarbone in the third game and was sidelined for the season, and Troy dropped six of its next seven contests (the win was at home against Oregon State, USC's 1,000th game). Although they missed out on a bowl, the 6-6 Trojans rebounded by winning their last three games, including 17-7 over UCLA to snap an eight-game losing streak to the Bruins. All six of USC's losses were by 10 points or less. Tailback Chad Morton rushed for 1,141 yards.

Things didn't improve in 2000, as the new millennium unfolded. Although USC began 3-0 and climbed to No. 8 in the AP poll, it lost the next 5 games. Despite beating UCLA on a dramatic field goal with 9 seconds to play, the Trojans finished 5-7 overall and out of a bowl for the second consecutive year. Their 2-6 mark in the Pac-10 left them with their first-ever last place finish in conference play. Hackett was fired after the season and replaced by Pete Carroll, who came with 26 years of college and pro coaching experience (including head coaching stints with the NFL's New England Patriots and New York Jets).

So, as a new Trojan coaching era begins, prospects appear bright for the continued success of the USC program. After all, there's nothing like Trojan football.

USC'S "HISTORY-SHAPING" GAMES

(When USC football reached a milestone in its illustrious history on Oct. 2, 1999, by playing its 1,000th game, Trojan assistant sports information director Chris Huston wrote the following story in Troy's game program that day on USC's "most important" games...not necessarily the best games or most dramatic, but those that made USC football what it is today.)

Looking back, who would have thought that a tiny school founded by the Methodist Church would emerge to become one of the top football powers in the country?

There have been so many accomplishments in these 1,000 games: eight national titles, four Heisman Trophy winners, 28 Rose Bowls and 121 All-Americans. Trojan football history is packed with heroic moments and legendary names.

The names are etched clearly in our memories: Gloomy Gus. The Thundering Herd. John McKay. Iron Mike. And the famous games still resonate: the twin comebacks versus Notre Dame, the recurring nail-biters against UCLA, the triumphant Rose Bowls.

But what about the "most important" games out of the past 1,000 - the games that helped make USC what it is today? Which games started trends, broke streaks or changed history? Some you'll remember, some you won't. Here are a few of the contests that shaped USC's football history:

1888 - USC 16, Alliance Athletic Club 0 The first game. Who could have imagined how the future would unfold? In those days a touchdown scored four points, while the conversion was worth two points, a field goal five points and a safety scored two. Frank Suffel and Henry Goddard were the playing coaches for this first team.

1905 - Stanford 16, USC 0 This was USC's first game ever against major college competition. Prior to this, USC had played Southland colleges, high schools, academies and athletic clubs and had rivalry games with Pomona and Occidental. Stanford, however, was big-time on the gridiron long before USC was. The Stanford-Cal game annually made bigger headlines, even in Los Angeles, than any USC game. USC fans looked forward to this game all year and the Trojans managed to hold their own on a dreary day in Palo Alto, but the result was a shutout loss. Significantly, USC did not play another major opponent in college football for nine years after this Stanford loss.

1924 - California 7, USC 0 Elmer "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's undefeated Trojans met Andy Smith's undefeated Bears before 60,000 in USC's first appearance at Memorial Stadium in Berkeley. Jim Dixon scored the game's only touchdown on a 12-yard run around left end in the second quarter. USC's loss pushed its record against Cal to 1-8-1. The pressure from the alumni for Henderson's ouster grew intense, and after an upset loss to St. Mary's the next week, the decision was made to buy out Gloomy Gus' contract at the end of the year. The way was thus cleared for the arrival of Howard Jones, arguably Troy's greatest head coach.

1925 - Nebraska 17, Notre Dame 0 The greatest intersectional college football rivalry--USC versus Notre Dame--might never have commenced but for this game. USC was looking for a national rival and dispatched graduate manager Gwynn Wilson (akin to the modern day athletic director) and his wife to Lincoln, where Notre Dame was playing Nebraska on Thanksgiving Day. Knute Rockne was cool to the idea of a home-and-home series with USC because of the travel involved, but Mrs. Wilson was able to persuade Mrs. Rockne that a trip every two years to sunny Southern California was better than one to snowy, hostile Nebraska. Mrs. Rockne spoke to her husband and shortly thereafter Notre Dame became an annual fixture on USC's schedule.

1928 - USC 10, Stanford 0 Howard Jones had not beaten Glenn "Pop" Warner's Stanford Indians in three tries until his Thundering Herd did it before 80,000 at the Coliseum this year. The legendary Warner considered this Stanford team to be his best, but they lost five turnovers to USC that day. Stanford's 10-pound per-man weight advantage was offset by the Trojans' "quick-mix" defense and a speedy backfield comprised of Don Williams, Russ Saunders and Marshall Duffield. This was a landmark game as it signaled Troy's emergence as the preeminent power on the West Coast. USC went on to win its first national title that season and Jones never lost to Warner again.

1931 - USC 16, Notre Dame 14 This game captured the imagination of football fans everywhere--and the hearts of the citizens of Los Angeles. More than 300,000 fans welcomed the Trojans home from this thrilling victory in South Bend--a victory clinched by what sportswriter Maxwell Stiles called "Johnny Baker's 10 little toes and three BIG points." USC trailed 14-0 at the outset of the final stanza, but stormed back behind the running of Gus Shaver and the passing of Orv Mohler. Baker's 23-yard field goal with one minute remaining made the difference. The win snapped Notre Dame's 26-game unbeaten string and was the Trojans' first win in South Bend. Called "...the biggest upset since Mrs. O'Leary's cow knocked over that lantern" by El Rodeo, Troy's student yearbook, it clinched USC's second national title and firmly established the Trojans as a national power.

1944 - USC 38, Washington 7 This was USC's first home night game in the Coliseum. The game program reported: "This may well be the one and only Coliseum night game in Trojan varsity football history." That year, Washington was under wartime travel restrictions and was forced to schedule two California games in seven days. A schedule conflict resulted and an exception had to be made to USC's longstanding policy of playing Saturday afternoons. The game was a success. The attendance of 62,865 was USC's largest for a home game that year. As a result, home night games became a regular part of the USC schedule.

1956 - USC 44, Texas 20 In 1925, guard Brice Taylor, an African-American, was named USC's first All-American. It would be about 30 years before another black man made his mark on Trojan football. Fullback C.R. Roberts was that man. He rumbled for 251 yards versus Texas, setting the USC single-game rushing record in the process. The record stood for 20 years. It was sweet redemption for Roberts and his teammates. The game was played in Austin and the hotel the Trojans had booked was segregated. Head Coach Jess Hill moved his team to a lodging that was integrated and the Trojans seemed to take it out on the Longhorns on game day.

1959 - Notre Dame 16, USC 6 This was the last game played between the two teams in South Bend in November. The freezing cold affected the Trojans so much that Athletic Director Jess Hill proposed moving USC's games at Notre Dame Stadium to October, while continuing to play the Coliseum games in late November. Notre Dame agreed and it has been that way ever since.

1961 - Iowa 35, USC 34 The Hawkeyes came into this game ranked No. 1 in the country. The Trojans, in their first season using John McKay's I-formation, were struggling. The critics in the press box said the "I" stood for "incompetent," "intolerable" and "ineffective." But on this day, after falling behind 21-0, USC exploded for 34 points and lost only in the last minute, 35-34. The Trojans totaled 220 yards on the ground and 156 in the air. For the first time, the I-formation proved its worth. Soon, USC and John McKay became synonymous with this tailback-led rushing attack.

1967 - USC 24, Notre Dame 7 The 1967 USC-UCLA game is the game everyone remembersfrom this season, but it never would have had the same importance if the Trojans hadn't first defeated defending national champion and No. 5 Notre Dame on a sunny October day in South Bend. The previous year, the Irish handed the Trojans their worst defeat ever, 51-0, and despite USC's No.1 rank in the 1967 polls, Notre Dame was a heavy favorite. Weighing heavy on the oddsmakers' minds was the fact that USC had not won in South Bend since 1939 (it didn't matter much to them that McKay, after the '66 debacle, vowed never to lose to the Irish again). It was on this day that most of the country first heard of a tailback named O.J. Simpson. The junior from San Francisco rushed for 160 yards on 38 carries and tacked on all three USC touchdowns. A tenacious Trojan defense intercepted seven passes (four by a true Irishman, Adrian Young) and recovered two fumbles. USC trailed at the half, 7-0, but roared back in the second half to win the game. The victory solidified Troy's place at the top of the final rankings.

1970 - USC 42, Alabama 21 It's a rare feat when a football game helps to change societal attitudes. The 1970 USC win over Alabama may have done just that. The Trojans traveled to Birmingham where they faced an all-white Crimson Tide team coached by Paul "Bear" Bryant. Thanks to dominating performances for USC by a trio of African-Americans (Sam Cunningham, Clarence Davis and Jimmy Jones), Bryant was convinced that he needed to recruit black players for his program. The rest of the Southeastern Conference soon followed suit and opportunities for black athletes in the South began to improve tremendously. Bryant was so impressed by Cunningham (who had 135 yards and two touchdowns on just 12 carries) that he invited the sophomore fullback into the "Bama locker room after the game. He brought his players to Cunningham one-by-one and introduced him, saying: "This is what a football player looks like."

1996 - USC 27, Notre Dame 20 At long last, after 13 years of futility, the Trojans defeated the Irish. In what seemed the unlikeliest of streaks, USC had found every possible way to not defeat Notre Dame. And in what seemed like the unlikeliest of days for it to happen, Troy finally ended that streak. USC was struggling at 5-6 after a wild double-overtime loss to UCLA the previous week while Notre Dame was standing tall with an 8-2 record and a New Year's Day bowl bid in the works. The Trojans somehow managed to stay in the game despite playing without starting quarterback Brad Otton for large chunks of regulation, as he was bothered by an injury. When Notre Dame scored a touchdown to go ahead 20-12 (with the PAT pending) in the fourth quarter, things looked bleak for USC. But Irish kicker Jim Sanson shanked the extra point and the margin stayed at eight. The Trojans responded with an eight-play, 67-yard drive culminating in Delon Washington's 15-yard touchdown scamper. Washington also ran in the two-point conversion and the score was knotted at 20. Neither team could score before the end of regulation and overtime ensued. On USC's first drive, Otton hit Rodney Sermons with a five-yard touchdown pass and the Trojans went ahead for the first time, 27-20. Jubilation erupted in the Coliseum when Mark Cusano then batted down Ron Powlus' fourth-down pass and the streak ended.

Other "important" games in Trojan history

1939 Rose Bowl - USC 7, Duke 3 (Duke was unbeaten, unscored upon until this game)

1951 Notre Dame 19, USC 12 (USC's first appearance on national television)

1953 Rose Bowl - USC 7, Wisconsin 0 (breaks Big Ten Rose Bowl win streak)

1964 USC 20, Notre Dame 17 (Fertig to Sherman shocks the No. 1 Irish)

1974 USC 55, Notre Dame 24 (The Comeback--enough said)

1975 Rose Bowl - USC 18, Ohio State 17 (Haden to McKay and then Diggs for the national title)

1978 USC 24, Alabama 14 (key game in most recent national title season)

HONORS AND AWARD WINNERS

Trojan Football

USC'S ALL-AMERICANS

The following is a complete listing of all USC football players who have ever received first team All-American honors. Although there are several teams selected throughout the country, the NCAA now recognizes only six in determining whether a player is a unanimous or consensus choice--AP, Football Coaches Association, Football Writers Association, the Walter Camp Foundation, The Sporting News and Football News.

From 1962 to 1990, USC had at least one first team All-American every year. From 1972 to 1987, there was at least one consensus All-American Trojan every year. Also, there have been an amazing 26 first team All-American Trojan offensive linemen since 1964.

USC HEISMAN SALUTE

HEISMAN TROPHY

MIKE GARRETT — 1965

Two-time All-American Mike Garrett was the man who began the great legacy of USC's I-formation tailbacks.

He was the Trojans' first — and only the West Coast's second — Heisman winner when he whipped an outstanding field of candidates in 1965.

Mike set 14 NCAA, conference and USC records in his three-year career, including an NCAA career rushing record of 3,221 yards in the days when 1,000-yard-a-season rushers were almost non-existent. He later starred for the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers.

HEISMAN TROPHY

O.J. SIMPSON — 1968

O.J. Simpson became USC's second Heisman Trophy winner in 1968 when he captured the award by the most one-sided margin in history.

During the regular 1968 season, O.J. established an NCAA record for yards rushing — 1,709 — in a single season (since bettered). A two-time unanimous All-American, he equaled or bettered 19 NCAA, conference and USC records.

A December 1998 SPORT magazine ranking listed him among the Top 10 college football players of the 20th century.

Simpson also held the NFL single season rushing record of 2,003 yards set in 1973 and finished his 11-year pro career as the second leading NFL career rusher.

USC HEISMAN SALUTE

CHARLES WHITE — 1979

Charles White, USC's third Heisman Trophy winner, finished his four-year career as the NCAA's second leading rusher ever with 5,598 regular season yards. Including bowl games, he finished with a Pac-10 record 6,245.

A two-year unanimous All-American, White set or equaled 22 NCAA, Pac-10, USC and Rose Bowl records. He gained over 100 yards 31 times in his career, including 10 times in 1979.

In that senior season, Charlie averaged 186.4 yards a game, 6.2 yards a carry, led the nation in rushing, and, for the second straight season, led it in all-purpose running.

HEISMAN TROPHY

MARCUS ALLEN — 1981

Marcus Allen, USC's fourth Heisman Trophy winner, was college football's first 2,000-yard rusher.

When he captured the award in 1981, Marcus set 14 new NCAA records and tied two others, including most yards rushing in a single season (2,342), highest per-game average (212.9), most 200-yard games in a career (11), most 200-yard games in a season (8) and most 200-yard games in a row (5).

Allen also led the Trojans in receiving with 30 and 34 catches in each of his last two seasons.

TROJAN HONOREES

OUTLAND TROPHY

RON YARY — 1967

Ron Yary is the only USC player to win the Outland Trophy, which goes to the outstanding interior lineman in the nation and is selected by the Football Writers Association of America.

Yary was a two-time All-American offensive tackle for the Trojans and was a unanimous All-American pick in 1967 when he won the Outland. That season he led the way for O.J. Simpson. The first player picked in the 1968 draft, he was a perennial All-Pro tackle with the Minnesota Vikings and also played for the Los Angeles Rams.

LOMBARDI AWARD

BRAD BUDDE — 1979

In 1979, offensive guard Brad Budde became USC's first recipient of the coveted Lombardi Award, given to the nation's top college lineman who also "best exemplifies the discipline of Vince Lombardi."

Budde was an unanimous All-American as a senior and was also runnerup in the Outland Trophy voting. A four-year starter at Troy, he was the first freshman to start a USC season opener since World War II.

The son of ex-Kansas City Chiefs' All-Pro Ed Budde, Brad followed his father there as the Chiefs' first- round draft pick in 1980.

TROJAN HONOREES

MARK CARRIER — 1989

As just a junior in 1989, free safety Mark Carrier became USC's first-ever winner of the Jim Thorpe Award, presented to the nation's best defensive back.

A 2-time first team All-American, Carrier had 7 interceptions in 1989 (tied for 10th in the nation), plus 107 tackles, 3 fumble recoveries and 10 pass deflections.

A 3-year starter with 13 career thefts, Carrier was a Thorpe semifinalist in 1988.

ALL-CONFERENCE SELECTIONS

Here is a list of Trojans named to the All-Conference first team since 1928 (from 1928 to 1951, All-Conference and All-Coast selections are included). USC joined the Pacific Coast Conference in 1922, which was reformed into the Athletic Association of Western Universities in 1959, then renamed the Pacific-8 Conference in 1968. From 1978 on, it has been the Pacific-10 Conference.

Playboy Pre-Season All-Americans

USC has landed more players on the prestigious Playboy Magazine pre-season college All-American football team than any other university. Since Playboy first picked a team in 1957, there have been 55 Trojan players selected, as well as 1 Coach of the Year and 1 Scholar-Athlete. Not including the 2001 picks, next with 42 selections is Michigan, followed by Notre Dame with 40 (plus 1 Coach of the Year), Nebraska with 32 (plus 2 Coaches of the Year and 1 Scholar-Athlete) and Oklahoma with 31 (plus 2 Coaches of the Year). During a 16-year period (1972 through 1987), at least 1 Trojan player was selected annually to the Playboy squad. On 4 different occasions (1970-76-79-80), 3 USC players made that year's Playboy team. USC's Tony Boselli, who was selected in 1992-93-94, was the first 3-time Playboy selection from any school.

Here is a list of USC's Playboy pre-season All-Americans:

Trojan Football

ALL-TIME LETTERWINNERS

Various standards have been used to determine USC letterwinners over the years, but since 1976, squad members who have played at least 30 minutes have been listed here as lettermen. There have been many exceptions to that rule, including kickers and others who contributed significantly to the team's success without playing 30 minutes.

In addition, senior squad members who have been on the team for several years have generally been awarded letters for their senior season, as long as they appeared in at least one game. This has been a long-standing policy.

The list is confined to lettermen who actually played on USC's varsity teams of American Rules Football, and does not include individuals who lettered only in rugby.

Positions, heights, and weights are generally those listed in USC publications and other sources in the player's final letterwinning year. Positions are primarily listed in the terminology of the era in which the letterwinner played. "Hometowns" by longstanding custom are usually the places from which players came to USC, and are located in California unless noted. Parenthetical notations contain a letterwinner's high school, and junior or senior college, attended before USC, where known, and are in the state of the letterman's hometown, unless noted. This list was expanded by Michael J. Glenn (with input from Gary Wright). USC appreciates their invaluable efforts.

A Note on USC's Records

The records material on these pages has been compiled from a number of sources. Although official national individual records commenced only in 1937 (nearly 50 years after USC's first team), USC's game-by-game records generally extend back to the mid-1920s. Newspaper accounts of individual games, including some extraordinary individual performances, date back to 1889. Unfortunately, for some games in USC's first 20 years, only the final result has survived to the present.

These records have been compiled by USC's Sports Information Office (previously known as the Athletic News Service), particularly the sports information directors listed elsewhere in this guide. Special mention should be made of the efforts of Tom Lawless, Dick Nash, Harley Tinkham, Chuck Weinstock, Al Wesson, Deke Houlgate, H.D. Thoreau and Mike Glenn.

N5-Rose Bowl, Pasadena, California

*-This was the only field goal that Decius kicked for USC; yet his record stood for 64 years. Decius also held the record for most field goals in a single game against USC. Playing for Los Angeles High School, Decius, on Oct. 10, 1908, kicked three field goals (then worth four points each), two from the 35-yard line near the sidelines and one from the 27-yard line. That record, tied several times, stood for 65 years, until Nov. 10, 1973, when Rod Garcia kicked four field goals for Stanford against USC.

USC VS. HEISMAN WINNERS

John Lujack – 1947
Notre Dame 38, USC 7
Irish quarterback Lujack completed 5-of-7 passes for 59 yards and no TDs, but it was his interception and 37-yard return of a Trojan pass that led to a score. Eventual national champion Notre Dame knocked off No. 3-ranked USC, 38-7, at the Coliseum.

Leon Hart – 1949
Notre Dame 32, USC 0
Hart scored on a 36-yard pass for Notre Dame's first score as the top-ranked Irish rolled to a 32-0 win in South Bend over the No. 17 Trojans. It was USC's worst loss in the series at the time.

John Lattner – 1953
Notre Dame 48, USC 14
Lattner set then-series records by scoring 4 touchdowns and rushing for 157 yards in No. 2 Notre Dame's 48-14 victory over No. 20 USC in the Coliseum.

Paul Hornung – 1956
USC 28, Notre Dame 20
Hornung, who played quarterback during his Heisman Trophy season, switched to halfback against USC because of painful injuries to both thumbs. His 95-yard kickoff return and PAT in the third quarter drew the Irish to within a point, 21-20. Hornung accounted for 215 all-purpose yards in the Coliseum game.

John Huarte – 1964
USC 20, Notre Dame 17
Huarte completed 18-of-29 passes and threw a touchdown pass in leading top-ranked Notre Dame to a 17-0 lead. But unranked USC rallied to score 20 second-half points to upset the Irish, 20-17, in Los Angeles. It was Ara Parseghian's first loss as Irish coach.

Gary Beban – 1967
With the national championship and a trip to the Rose Bowl on the line, Beban threw for 301 yards and 2 touchdowns for the top-ranked Bruins. The effort wasn't enough as O.J. Simpson, USC's 1968 Heisman winner, scored on a 64-yard TD to give the No. 4-ranked Trojans a 21-20 win.

Jim Plunkett – 1970
Plunkett ended No. 4-ranked USC's hopes of a fifth straight Rose Bowl trip by completing 19-of-31 passes for 274 yards and a score in No. 12-ranked Stanford's 24-14 win at Palo Alto. The loss ended USC's 25-game unbeaten string in regular season play.

Archie Griffin – 1974
USC 18, Ohio State 17
In the 1975 Rose Bowl, Griffin fumbled twice and was held to 75 yards and no TDs, as USC rallied to take an 18-17 win. The victory over the No. 3-ranked Buckeyes gave USC its seventh national title.

George Rogers – 1980
USC 23, South Carolina 13
Rogers broke free for a 34-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter in Los Angeles as part of a 141-yard rushing game. But it was Marcus Allen, USC's 1981 Heisman Trophy winner, who rushed for 104 yards and 2 touchdowns to give USC a 23-13 win in its home opener.

Tim Brown – 1987
Notre Dame 26, USC 15
Brown was held to 4 catches for 46 yards, but it was his 5-yard run in the second quarter that put the Irish up 17-3 in South Bend. Notre Dame's seventh Heisman winner rushed 5 times for 41 yards in the Irish's 26-15 win.

USC ON TELEVISION

USC's football team — perhaps the true "America's Team" — has appeared on live national, regional or local telecasts 284 times over the years, including 178 times on commercial network television. USC's overall record while playing on live television is 174-81-9 (the mark is 101-73-6 for commercial network telecasts only). USC set a national record in 1987 by appearing on 6 live national regular-season network telecasts. USC had an amazing streak of 111 consecutive games on some form of live television (from the 1988 Oregon State game through the 1997 Stanford game).

Trojan games have always been among the top — if not the top — attractions among live televised college football games. In fact, over the 10-year period from 1972 to 1981, USC posted the highest average television rating of any school, according to figures released by the NCAA which were compiled by the A.C. Nielsen Co. rating service. During that span, USC averaged a 15.6 rating on its 24 live regular-season ABC national and regional telecasts. A rating indicates the percentage of all U.S. households that are tuned to a game. Currently, each rating point equals 1% of the nation's 97 million TV households. A 10.0 rating is considered above average.

In a December 1988 ranking by Sports Inc., the USC-Notre Dame game recorded 5 of the 12 all-time highest college football TV ratings. The 1968 USC-ND encounter was the highest rated college football telecast ever (22.9 rating). The other USC-ND clashes in the top 12 include 1970-74-72-64.

Of the 12 highest rated games ever, according to Sports Inc., USC was involved in more than any other school: 7 (besides those 5 Notre Dame games, the others were the UCLA encounters of 1973 and 1967). Incidentally, USC was 6-0-1 in those games.

As further proof of USC's television appeal, Sports Inc. listed Troy as the top drawing team from 1974 to 1983 (the 10 years prior to the U.S. Supreme Court ruling which deregulated the TV marketplace) with an average rating of 14.49 on 24 telecasts (more than a full rating point higher than No. 2 Notre Dame). After deregulation (from 1984 to 1989) and with the proliferation of telecasts, USC was still in the Top 10, ranking ninth with a 6.07 average rating on 25 appearances (less than 2 points behind the leader).

Below is a list of the USC football team's appearances on live television. Listed along with the year and the opponent are the score; the network, syndicator or station that televised the contest; whether the telecast was national, regional or local; and, if available, the Nielsen rating. An asterisk (*) indicates a home game. USC was not eligible to appear on live television in the 1983 and 1985 regular seasons because of an NCAA ban.

* - USC Record
- Excludes first 3 games
+ - Excludes Pomona game

Between 1888 and 1921, an estimated 500,000-plus people attended home and away USC games.

The largest single-game crowd in USC history was the estimated 120,000 at Soldier Field in Chicago for the 1927 USC-Notre Dame game. The largest USC home crowd was 104,953 for the 1947 USC-Notre Dame game in the Coliseum. The largest USC post-season bowl game crowd was 106,869 at the 1973 Rose Bowl in Pasadena (USC versus Ohio State), which is an NCAA bowl game record.

In all, USC has played before at least 47,503,645 people since it first started playing football in 1888.

In 1988, USC not only set a school record for home attendance average per game (76,063, which ranked eighth best in the nation), but Troy also registered the greatest increase in average home attendance of any school in the nation that year (up 22,416 per game over 1987). That increase was 7,996 more than the next closest school.

*Coliseum record for a football game.

The Coliseum seating capacity was reduced to 92,516 in 1964 (although temporary seats were added for the 1965 UCLA and 1988 Notre Dame games, hence the larger crowds then). In 1993, stadium renovation increased the Coliseum capacity to 94,159, but that figure was reduced in 1995 to 92,000. The largest crowd for a non-UCLA/non-Notre Dame game since 1964 was 86,124 for Oklahoma in 1988.

USC: PIPELINE TO THE PROS

With its outstanding football heritage, it's no surprise that USC usually has more players in the pros than any school.

At the start of training camp this summer, there were 38 ex-Trojans on National Football League rosters, including 9 rookies. In fact, USC players were on the rosters of 20 of the NFL's 31 teams. Most of the Trojans were either offensive linemen (7), wide receivers (6), defensive linemen (5) or linebackers (4).

In 2000, there were 31 Trojans on opening day NFL rosters; only 6 universities had more players (since records are available, USC has been No. 1 in 17 of the last 25 years).

Overall, USC has produced 399 NFL draft picks (plus 28 by the AFL before it merged with the NFL) and 367 players who since 1920 played in the NFL (or its sister leagues, the AFL or All-America Football Conference).

USC has had three of the most highly drafted classes in college football history. The 1953 class (following the 1952 season) had 15 players drafted while both the 1975 and 1977 classes had 14 players selected. USC has had more first round NFL draft picks (60) than any school (Notre Dame is next with 56). USC had the most picks of any school in the 1990 NFL draft, with 10. USC's 12 first round picks in the 1990s tied for third most in the nation with Tennessee (behind Ohio State's 15 and Florida State's 13); 8 of those Trojan first rounders were selected in the Top 10. In the decade of the 1980s, Troy had more first round picks than any school (16). USC's 5 first round picks in the 1968 draft is an NFL record. Only Notre Dame (with 5) has had more players selected as the top pick of the NFL draft than USC's 4 (Ron Yary in 1968, O.J. Simpson in 1969, Ricky Bell in 1977 and Keyshawn Johnson in 1996). USC is the only school to have the No. 1 pick for 2 consecutive years (Yary and Simpson).

At least 1 Trojan has appeared in all but 2 of the 35 Super Bowls (there have been 82 USC representatives overall). Two Trojans (Lynn Swann in 1976 and Marcus Allen in 1984) have been the Super Bowl MVP. In 1977, 9 USC alums played in the Super Bowl. And Trojans have been selected to play in the Pro Bowl 188 times.

Nine former USC players and 3 ex-assistant coaches are in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Anthony Munoz and Ronnie Lott were selected on the NFL's All-Time Team in August 2000, as chosen by the 36 Pro Football Hall of Fame voters.

A December 1999 story in The Sporting News listed 4 Trojans among the 100 Greatest Pro Football Players: Anthony Munoz (17th), Ronnie Lott (23rd), O.J. Simpson (26th) and Marcus Allen (72nd).

Anthony Munoz was picked among the NFL's Top 10 players of the 20th century by SPORT in 1999.

In December 1999, the Dick Butkus Football Network named a pair of ex-Trojans on its NFL All-Century First Team: Anthony Munoz and Ronnie Lott.

A January 1999 article in ESPN Magazine says that "one of the best ways to win a Super Bowl is to (have a USC player on the team). The alma mater most often represented on winning teams is USC (45 players). Lagging behind: Notre Dame (38) and Penn State (35)."

A Dec. 13, 1999 article in the San Diego Union-Tribune, which examined Pro Bowl selections since 1950 to determine the schools that have supplied the most pro players at various positions, found that USC had the most Pro Bowl selections (162, more than Notre Dame's 135 and Ohio State's 122) and produced more Pro Bowl running backs and safeties than anyone.

A May 1999 SPORT magazine article pointed out that USC sent more players to the Pro Bowl in the 1990s (14) than any other school. "The most measurable sign of a player's success--and thus his pedigree--comes in the form of the NFL's highest annual honor: the Pro Bowl. It's not enough to make it to the league, you've gotta make it in the league." In the article, then-New York Jets Pro Bowl wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson, the former USC All-American, said: "USC is a football factory. Every kid in L.A. grows up wanting to play there, and the coaches know how to translate that into elite athletes."

In a Dec. 1994 College Sports magazine ranking of the schools which have been the top sources over the years of football talent by position (on a combined college and NFL level), USC was listed first at running backs, offensive linemen and defensive backs, and third at linebackers.

In a 1985 Sports Illustrated poll of NFL player personnel directors, USC was ranked first overall among all schools in preparing college players for the pros. By position, USC received top marks for running backs, offensive linemen and tight ends.

TROJANS IN THE NFL DRAFT

Listing includes NFL drafts from 1936-2001 (which followed the 1935-2000 collegiate seasons). From 1960-1966, both the NFL and AFL had drafts and this listing includes both drafts because the AFL later merged with the NFL. (F) indicates "future selection," based on an old NFL rule prior to 1967 in which a player could be chosen if his class had graduated, even if he hadn't completed his eligibility (he could be drafted after his fourth year and his rights would remain with the team which selected him even if he didn't sign for a year). The AFL held a separate "redshirt" (or futures) draft in 1965-1966 and it is also included in this listing.

First round draft picks are listed in CAPITAL LETTERS. The "overall draft selection" figures were not available prior to 1967, however players are listed in correct order of selection in those years (except for the 1960 AFL draft, in which no round-by-round records were available). The positions listed are those projected by the pros at the time of selection.

List compiled with the assistance of Beau Riffenburgh, NFL Properties.

Round	Player	Pos.	Team	Overall Draft Selection
1937--1
10	Gil Kuhn	T	Brooklyn Dodgers

WOMEN'S TENNIS — The most successful women's program at USC, in terms of national titles, is the tennis team. The Women of Troy have won 7 national championships.

Those national crowns all came under Dave Borelli, who coached USC from 1974 to 1988. In duals, Borelli's record was phenomenal: his teams went 300-43 (.875).

Five times Trojans have won national singles titles, along with 1 doubles champ and 63 All-Americans. Prominent USC stars have included Barbara Hallquist, Leslie Allen, Sheila McInerney, Stacy Margolin, Trey Lewis, the Fernandez sisters, Kelly Henry, Beth Herr, Caroline Kuhlman and Trisha Laux.

Cheryl Woods, a former Trojan player, took over for Borelli in 1989. Richard Gallien, a successful player and coach at Pepperdine, became head coach in 1996. His 1999, 2000 and 2001 teams advanced to the NCAA quarterfinals.

MEN'S TRACK & FIELD — The Trojans have won an unprecedented 26 NCAA titles (including 9 straight, 1935-43) in the 80-year history of NCAA outdoor track, plus 2 indoor NCAA titles and 33 Pacific Coast or Pac-10 crowns, including a string of 15 straight (1936-55). They have had 39 unbeaten and untied seasons, including a string of 16 in a row (1946-61). Since starting track and field in 1900, USC has compiled a dual-meet record of 409-110-4 (.786).

Outstanding coaches include Dean Cromwell (1909-48), who won a record 12 NCAA titles and had a dual meet mark of 109-48-1; Jess Mortensen, who never lost a dual meet (64-0) in 11 years and won 7 NCAA titles; and Vern Wolfe, who retired after the 1984 season with 7 national titles and a dual meet record of 106-17-1 (.859). Jim Bush, who won 5 NCAA titles while at crosstown rival UCLA, became USC's head coach in 1991. His 1992 Trojans finished third at the NCAAs with only a 6-man team. Ron Allice, who won 11 state titles at Long Beach City College, took over the combined men's and women's programs in 1995 (the men were fourth at the 1995 NCAA meet, 10th in 1996, third in 1997 while winning the Pac-10 title, seventh in 1998, fifth in 1999 while winning the Pac-10 crown, tied for seventh in 2000 while winning the Pac-10 title and tied for 12th in 2001).

BOB SEAGREN

Fifty-nine USC tracksters have won 86 places on U.S. Olympic teams over the years. Trojans have won 25 individual Olympic titles and shared in 8 relay wins. Gold medal winners include long jumper Randy Williams, pole vaulter Bob Seagren, sprinter Charles Paddock and quartermiler Quincy Watts.

Since 1912, 61 USC trackmen have equalled or bettered world records, and there have been 107 NCAA individual or relay winners from Troy (including 2001 NCAA pole vault champ Dennis Kholev, the school record holder).

The Trojans also have had a long history of successful distance running, including 9 Olympians and NCAA champions Julio Marin and Ole Oleson.

WOMEN'S TRACK & FIELD, CROSS COUNTRY — The women's track program at USC has developed into one of the nation's finest. The Trojans have placed in the Top 10 of the NCAA Championships 9 times, including winning the program's first-ever NCAA team title in 2001. The Women of Troy also finished third in 1987, seventh in1996 (while winning the Pac-10 title), fifth in 1998, third in 1999 (just 4 points from first place) and second in 2000 (again just 4 points out of first place).

The women's track and field heritage begins with Sherry Calvert, the former head coach. Calvert, a 4-time All-American javelin thrower at USC who participated in the 1972 and 1976 Olympics, started the program as an undergraduate and coached through 1983. Fred LaPlante succeeded her from 1984 through 1988. Barbara Edmondson was coach in 1992 through 1994. In 1995, Ron Allice took over as the combined men's and women's coach.

Troy has had many other successful track and field athletes. Patty Van Wolvelaere won a pair of national titles in the 100-meter hurdles. Kerry Bell was an All-American heptathlete for 3 years. 1988 NCAA heptathlon champion Wendy Brown and Yvette Bates set world bests in the triple jump during their USC careers. Ashley Selman won the 1990 NCAA javelin title. Angela Williams became the first woman to win 3 consecutive NCAA 100-meter dashes when she did so in 1999, 2000 and 2001. Natasha Danvers won the 2000 NCAA 400-meter intermediate hurdles. The Women of Troy won the 1600-meter relay in 1987 and the 400-meter relay in 2000. Brigita Langerholc took the 800 meters and Inga Stasiulionyte captured the javelin, both in 2001.

The Women of Troy also compete in cross country in the fall under coach Tom Walsh.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL — Final Four appearances have become commonplace for the USC men's volleyball team, which has made 11 trips there since scholarships were first awarded by Troy in the sport in 1977. The Trojans have won 4 NCAA titles (1977, 1980, 1988 and 1990) and have finished second on 6 other occasions (1979-81-85-86-87-91).

Ernie Hix, who retired as head coach after the 1981 season, turned USC into one of the top volleyball powers in the nation. Hix's 8-year record was an impressive 146-47 (.756) with 2 national crowns.

Twenty-one Trojans have played on the U.S. National team and USC volleyballers have been named first team All-Americans 27 times. In the 1984 Olympics, Steve Timmons, Dusty Dvorak and Pat Powers all helped lead the United States to its first gold medal ever in the sport, while Timmons repeated with the 1988 U.S. squad. Timmons, Bryan Ivie, Nick Becker and Dan Greenbaum won bronze medals with the U.S. in 1992. Tim Hovland, Celso Kalache, Adam Johnson, former coach Bob Yoder (a 3-time All-American who led Troy to an NCAA title in 1988) and Donald Suxho also are key figures in USC's volleyball heritage. Jim McLaughlin took over for Yoder in 1990 and led Troy to an NCAA title in his initial year. Powers became head coach in 1997.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL — USC has won 4 national crowns in women's volleyball, all under coach Chuck Erbe. Erbe, who dominated the sport during his 12-year USC coaching tenure which began in 1976, posted a career record of 310-121-3 (.718). He coached the 1976, 1977 and 1980 AIAW champions and the 1981 NCAA titlists. His 1976 team registered the first perfect season (38-0) in women's volleyball history.

Lisa Love, who coached at Texas-Arlington for 7 years, took over for Erbe in 1989 and guided USC into the NCAAs in 9 of her 10 seasons before retiring after the 1998 season. Jerritt Elliott served as interim head coach in 1999 and 2000, guiding the 2000 club to the NCAA Final Four. Mick Haley, head coach of the 2000 U.S. women's Olympic team who won 2 national crowns in the 1980s while at Texas, took over in 2001.

In 1978, Debbie Green won the prestigious Broderick Award in volleyball. Some 30 Trojans have been named All-American and 12 have been members of the U.S. Olympic team (including Green, Sue Woodstra, Paula Weishoff, Carolyn Becker and Kim Ruddins).

MEN'S WATER POLO — Since starting water polo in 1922, the Trojans have compiled an 879-468-7 (.652) record, winning 12 conference championships along the way.

Longtime coach John Williams led the Trojans to national prominence since during his tenure from 1973 to 1998. Nineteen of his last 22 teams finished the season in the top 7 nationally, including the 1998 NCAA championship team and the 1987, 1993, 1994, 1996 and 1997 squads which placed second in the NCAA tourney. Jovan Vavic, who joined as co-head coach in 1995, took over as head coach in 1999.

Seventeen Trojan poloists have participated in the Olympics and 122 have made various All-American teams. Some of the more prominent names in USC water polo history are Ron Severa, Wally Wolf, Greg Fults, Zach Stimson, Craig Furniss, Charles Harris, Robert Lynn, Drew Netherton, Hrvoje Cizmic, Marko Zagar, Simun Cimerman, Marko Pintaric and George Csaszar.

WOMEN'S WATER POLO — USC's newest sport, the women's water polo team began play in 1995 under head coach Jovan Vavic. In 1999, in just their fifth year of existence, the Women of Troy--led by All-American and 2000 U.S. Olympic goalie Bernice Orwig--won the national championship in an exciting 5-overtime sudden death victory over Stanford. USC then was second in the national tourney in 2000. Before that, USC was third in the 1995 Division II tourney, then seventh in the 1997 national championship and fifth in 1998.

USC'S 1984 NCAA CHAMPION WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM AT THE WHITE HOUSE WITH PRESIDENT RONALD REAGAN

USC's team became established when Linda Sharp took over as coach in 1977. By 1981, Troy had reached the Final Four. In 1983, Cheryl Miller joined Cynthia Cooper and twins Pam and Paula McGee to give the Trojans a formidable front line that led the squad to its first national championship. The next year, the team won the national title again. USC advanced to the NCAA title game in 1986.

Miller finished her career in 1986 as the Trojans' all-time leading scorer and rebounder. She also won her third straight Naismith Award as the outstanding player in college basketball. She returned as coach of her alma mater in 1994 and led USC to a Pac-10 title and 2 NCAA playoff appearances. She was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1995. Chris Gobrecht, a former USC player and a 2-time Pac-10 Coach of the Year while at Washington, took over as coach prior to the 1998 season. Her team played in the 2000 NIT.

The Women of Troy made the NCAA tourney 6 of the past 11 years, including advancing to the regionals 3 of the last 10 seasons. Lisa Leslie, who became an Olympic and pro star, won the Naismith Award in 1994 (she was the MVP of the first WNBA All-Star Game). Tina Thompson was the No. 1 pick in the 1997 WNBA draft. Cooper was twice an Olympian and WNBA MVP.

MEN'S GOLF — USC has one of the most successful golf programs in the nation, having produced 3 NCAA individual champions (Scott Simpson in 1976 and 1977, and Ron Commans in 1981), 19 Pac-10 individual champs, 20 All-American first teamers and numerous players who have gone on to successful professional careers, including $1 million winners like Al "Mr. 59" Geiberger, Dave Stockton, Craig Stadler and Scott Simpson. Troy has also been dominant in the Pac-10, winning 16 of the 41 conference championships to date.

Legendary coach Stan Wood (1955-79) compiled a career record of 462-37 (.926) and won 14 conference championships. He also guided the Trojans to an NCAA record 51 consecutive dual match wins from 1956-59. His teams finished third in the NCAA tourney 6 times.

Under coach Randy Lein (1984-92), USC continued its success, winning the conference championship in 1986. The 1991 Trojans finished seventh at the NCAAs. U.S. Amateur champion Sam Randolph, who finished as low amateur at the prestigious Masters golf tournament in 1985 and 1986, was a first team All-American for the third straight year in 1986 and was named college golf's Player of the Year.

Former team captain Jim Empey took over the coaching duties in 1993. Kurt Schuette became head coach in 1995 and guided the Trojans to an impressive fifth place finish at the NCAA tourney that season, Troy's best placing in 18 years, and then ninth in 1996 and 14th in 1997. His 2001 squad won the Pac-10 title, USC's first since 1986.

WOMEN'S GOLF — The USC women's golf team is one of college's finest, as witnessed by their second, third, fourth (twice), fifth, seventh (3 times) and ninth place finishes at the NCAA Championships in the past 16 years. The Women of Troy won the Pac-10 tourney in 1989 and the 1999 NCAA West Regional. Cathy Bright led USC to 5 Top 10 NCAA finishes in her 12 years as head coach (1982-93). Former Trojan player Renee (Mack) Baumgartner returned as head coach in 1994 and led USC to second place at the NCAAs in her first year. Andrea Gaston took over in 1997 (with men's coach Kurt Schuette serving as Director of Golf).

Jennifer Rosales won the 1998 NCAA individual title as a freshman (she tied for fourth in 1999). Other top individuals have included current professionals Marta Figueras-Dotti, Denise Strebig, Kim Saiki, Tracy Nakamura, Jill McGill (the 1993 U.S. Amateur champion), Heidi Voorhees (the 1993 U.S. Amateur medalist), Jennifer Biehn (the 1994 Pac-10 champ) and Candie Kung (the 2000 Pac-10 champ).

WOMEN'S ROWING — The women's rowing team has been active since the early 1970s, but scholarships were first awarded in 1998. Under head coach George Jenkins, the varsity, junior varsity and novice eight teams train all year long for regattas from coast to coast. USC has emerged as one of the nation's top programs.

At the 1998 NCAA meet, the Women of Troy rowers captured their first-ever national championship race (the varsity fours).

WOMEN'S SOCCER — The women's soccer team began competing in 1993. Karen Stanley coached the team for the first 3 seasons. Jim Millinder took over in 1996 and guided his 1998, 1999 and 2000 squads into the second round of the NCAA tourney (the 1998 Women of Troy won the Pac-10 title).

MEN'S SWIMMING & DIVING — The type of dominance USC has had in this sport was best exemplified by Troy's performance in the 1976 Olympic Games, when Trojan swimmers won more golds and more total medals than any country in swimming except the United States.

JOHN NABER

Over the years, USC men's swimmers have made Olympic teams 110 times, winning 36 gold, 21 silver and 16 bronze medals. Gold medal winners have included Lenny Krayzelburg, John Naber, Bruce Furniss and Murray Rose.

Since beginning swimming in 1929, the Trojans have captured 9 NCAA championships, all under coach Peter Daland, who retired in 1992 after 35 years at Troy. USC swimmers and divers have won 102 NCAA meet individual and relay titles and have earned All-American honors an amazing 532 times. Under Daland, USC won 17 Pac-10 championships and amassed an impressive dual meet record of 318-31-1 (.917). Three of his last 6 squads had runner-up finishes at the NCAA meet.

Four-time U.S. Olympic coach Mark Schubert, winner of 2 NCAA titles with the Texas women, succeeded Daland. He also serves as the head coach of the Women of Troy. His men's teams have placed fourth, fifth, sixth (4 times), seventh and 10th at the NCAAs.

WOMEN'S SWIMMING & DIVING — USC has likewise built a successful swimming program on the women's side. In fact, the Women of Troy have finished in the top 10 nationally 20 of the last 25 years — including winning the NCAA title in 1997 — and have produced 198 All-Americans in that span. They have won conference championships in 1979, 1980, 1982 and 1985.

Among USC's more famous women's swimmers are Michelle Ford, Sue Habernigg, Cynthia Woodhead, Sue Hinderaker, Debbie Rudd, Kristine Quance (she won 3 events at the 1994 NCAA meet as the Women of Troy placed sixth, 3 more to be the high point scorer at the 1996 meet as USC finished fifth and 2 at the 1997 meet), and Lindsay Benko (who won 2 events in 1996, 2 more in 1997 and 1 in 1999).

MEN'S TENNIS — USC's men's tennis legacy has produced numerous national titlists, including 15 team champions (tied for second most in the country), 13 singles champions (tied for second most in the country), and 20 doubles champs (more than any other school). Cecil Mamiit won the 1996 NCAA singles crown as a freshman.

George Toley (1954-80) guided the Trojans for 26 years before resigning during the 1980 season. His career record was 430-92-4 (.821) with 10 NCAA titles. Dick Leach succeeded Toley and has posted a 510-128 (.799) mark in 22years. His 1991, 1993 and 1994 teams won the NCAA tourney and 8 of his other teams have finished fourth or better.

Overall, USC players have been named to All-American teams 132 times, with a number of those players also enjoying successful pro careers, including Stan Smith, Bob Lutz, Raul Ramirez and Dennis Ralston.

USC'S ATHLETIC HERITAGE

USC has a proud athletic heritage — and with good reason. Arguably, Troy could be regarded as the "Collegiate Athletic Program of the 20th Century." Consider:

• Trojan teams have won more national championships, 78 men's (including a national-best 70 NCAA titles) and 16 women's, than all but 2 other universities;

• The Trojans won at least 1 national team title in 26 consecutive years (1959-60 to 1984-85);

• USC has won the National College All-Sports Championship — an annual ranking by USA Today (previously the Knoxville Journal) of the country's top men's athletic programs — 6 times since its inception in 1971;

• Trojan men athletes have won more individual NCAA titles (280) than those from any other school in the nation (the Women of Troy have brought home another 32 individual NCAA crowns);

• Troy has also established a stellar reputation and a long tradition of nurturing Olympic athletes. Since 1904, 332 Trojan athletes (more than any other university) have competed in the Games, taking home 104 gold medals (with at least 1 gold in every summer Olympics since 1912), 59 silver and 54 bronze.

• Three Trojans have won the prestigious Sullivan Award as the top amateur athlete in America: diver Sammy Lee (1953), shot putter Parry O'Brien (1959) and swimmer John Naber (1977).

Along with the great accomplishments on the playing fields, USC student-athletes have received 48 NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships, sixth among all schools. In addition, USC has had 26 first team Academic All-Americans and 3 athletes who were Rhodes Scholars.

Here's a closer look at the history of each of the 19 sports which USC offers on the intercollegiate level:

FOOTBALL — Since starting football in 1888, USC has amassed an impressive all-time won-loss record of 678-288-54 (a .691 winning percentage). A December 1998 SPORT magazine ranking listed USC as the No. 4 all-time college football program of the 20th century.

USC's record against Pac-10 opponents is a stellar 348-148-29 (.690). Since 1959, the Trojans have won the conference championship 14 times and tied for the title on 5 other occasions.

USC has the nation's fourth best bowl winning percentage among the 59 schools which have made at least 10 bowl appearances (.641) and its 28 Rose Bowl appearances is an all-time best. Troy's overall bowl mark is 25-14, including 20-8 in the Pasadena New Year's Day Classic. The Trojans were a bowl participant every year they were eligible from 1972 to 1990.

Think about college football and USC's tailback in the I-formation, one of the most glamorous positions in the sport, immediately comes to mind. Four Trojan tailbacks have won the coveted Heisman Trophy as college football's outstanding player: Mike Garrett in 1965, O.J. Simpson in 1968, Charles White in 1979 and Marcus Allen in 1981. Other standout tailbacks have included Clarence Davis, Anthony Davis and Ricky Bell.

The Trojans have had other prominent award winners. Offensive tackle Ron Yary won the Outland Trophy in 1967, offensive guard Brad Budde won the Lombardi Award in 1979, safety Mark Carrier won the Thorpe Award in 1989 and linebacker Chris Claiborne won the Butkus Award in 1998. USC players have been named first team All-American 121 times, with 39 consensus selections and 22 unanimous choices.

Many of those players have led USC to 8 national championships in football. Legendary coach Howard Jones (1925-40) guided Troy to 3 of those titles (1928-31-32). John McKay (1960-75) was responsible for 4 national championship teams (1962-67-72-74). John Robinson (1976-82), who captured 1 title (1978) in his first tenure, returned to Troy in 1993 and led USC to 3 bowl wins. Pete Carroll was named head coach beginning in 2001.

Scores of Trojans have gone on to successful NFL careers (there have been 60 first round picks, with 4 No. 1 selections), including such greats as Frank Gifford, Willie Wood, Lynn Swann, Anthony Munoz, Ronnie Lott, Junior Seau, Keyshawn Johnson, Bruce Matthews, Tony Boselli, Willie McGinest and Jason Sehorn.

BASEBALL — No school in the country can match the long tradition USC has in baseball. With 12 national championships in the sport, Troy is far and away the leader in that category (no other school has more than 5).

Since starting baseball in 1924, the Trojans have compiled a record of 2,132-1,009-15 (.678) against college opponents, and have captured outright or tied for 37 conference championships.

The incomparable Rod Dedeaux coached USC from 1942-86, leading the school to 11 of its NCAA crowns, including 5 straight from 1970-74 (no other school has strung together more than two in a row).

Trojans have been named first team All-American 41 times, with Jay Roundy, Pat Harrison and Bill Bordley being 2-time selections. Mark Prior was the 2001 national Player of the Year

ROD DEDEAUX WITH RANDY JOHNSON AND MARK McGWIRE

USC boasts many successful past and present major leaguers such as Ron Fairly, Don Buford, Tom Seaver, Dave Kingman, Fred Lynn, Roy Smalley, Steve Kemp, Mark McGwire, Randy Johnson and Bret Boone. In all, 84 Trojans have gone on to play in the major leagues and scores more in the minors.

Dedeaux compiled a 45-year collegiate record of 1,332-571-11 (.699), making him the then-winningest coach in collegiate baseball history. He resigned after the 1986 season to become USC's director of baseball and was replaced by Mike Gillespie, whose 1998 squad won the College World Series while finishing as the CWS runnerup in 1995 and also advancing to Omaha in 2000 and 2001 (his 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1993, 1994, 1996, 1997 and 1999 teams were NCAA regional participants).

MEN'S BASKETBALL — Only about 4 dozen schools have more than 1,000 victories in college basketball, and USC is one of those schools. Since starting basketball in 1907, the Trojans have compiled a record of 1,309-942 (.582), winning 14 conference championships along the way.

Bill Sharman, John Rudometkin, John Block, Paul Westphal, Gus Williams and Harold Miner are a few of USC's All-American selections. Overall, Trojans have earned All-American honors 21 times. Four Trojan men, Sharman, Jack Gardner, Alex Hannum and coach Sam Barry, are in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

PAUL WESTPHAL

Barry (1930-41, 1945-50) has the winningest record among USC basketball coaches, 260-138 (.653). Following him are Forrest Twogood (1951-66) at 255-180 (.586) and Bob Boyd (1967-79) at 216-131 (.622). George Raveling, an assistant coach for the 1984 and 1988 U.S. Olympic teams, took over the coaching helm in 1986-87 and led Troy into the post-season playoffs 4 times. Henry Bibby was named head coach midway through the 1996 season and led the Trojans into the NCAA tourney twice (in 1997 and to the Elite Eight in 2001) and the NIT in 1999.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL — After improving steadily, USC first reached the pinnacle of success in women's basketball in 1983 and the Trojans have been at or near the top almost ever since, winning 2 national championships and playing in 4 Final Fours.

TROJAN MARCHING BAND

The Trojan Marching Band — known as "The Spirit of Troy" — is perhaps the most dynamic and innovative collegiate band in the nation. Named among the 8 best marching bands in the country by USA Today, the band is one of the most visible public relations tools of the University.

Established in 1880, the band has played for 10 Presidents (including Ronald Reagan, just prior to his 1984 inauguration), and has appeared in 5 movies (including "Hello Dolly"), plus numerous commercials and television shows (including the 1978 Academy Awards). The band even recorded the title track of the rock group Fleetwood Mac's popular 1979 album, "Tusk," and has produced several records of its own music (featuring the well-known "Conquest" and "Fight On").

Among the many famous musicians who have played in the band was Herb Alpert of the Tijuana Brass (he was in the cornet section). And among the various guest artists who have appeared with the band were Henry Mancini, Quincy Jones, Chuck Mangione, Leonard Bernstein, Diana Ross, Neil Diamond, John Wayne, and Bozo the Clown (Larry Harmon).

The band marches upwards of 80 miles a year while traveling across the land supporting almost every USC athletic team. A typical football halftime show by the band (with precision drills, special musical charts and dance routines) takes more than 4,000 work hours to prepare. The band also frequently appears at many professional sporting events throughout Southern California. Approximately 11 percent of its members are music majors, with almost every school and department represented among the balance.

Now 270-plus members strong, the Trojan Marching Band has tripled in size since Dr. Arthur C. Bartner became its director in 1969 (he is assisted by arranger Tony Fox). A graduate of Michigan, Bartner brought with him a creative approach and the unique, contemporary "drive-it" style of marching.

Nationally-renowned, Bartner directed the 800-member 1984 Olympic All-American College Marching Band (125 bandsmen were from USC) which played in the opening and closing ceremonies at the Games. Interestingly, it was the second time a Trojan musical group was involved with the Olympics, as the USC band formed the 10th Olympic Braid in the 1932 Los Angeles Games.

Bartner was also Director of Bands for the Japan Bowl in Tokyo and directs the All-American College Marching Band at Disneyland. In the summer of 1986, he and 40 band members were part of the ceremonies of Liberty Weekend at the refurbished Statue of Liberty. In the spring of 1988, he brought the band to Australia to perform at festivities for that country's bicentennial and at World Expo 88.

The Trojan Marching Band is complemented by the USC Silks (tall flags), plus the famous USC Song Leaders — who were ranked No. 1 in the nation by Sports Illustrated — and Yell Leaders.

School Songs

"FIGHT ON"

Fight On for ol' SC
Our men Fight On to victory.
Our Alma Mater dear, looks up to you
Fight On and win
For ol' SC
Fight On to victory
Fight On!

The music for USC's fight song, "Fight On," was composed in 1922 by USC dental student Milo Sweet (with lyrics by Sweet and Glen Grant) as an entry in a Trojan spirit contest. In addition to inspiring generations of Trojan fans and players, the song has been used in numerous recordings and movies. Legend has it that during World War II in the Pacific, an American task force attacked an island held by the Japanese. As the Americans stormed the beach, "Fight On" blared from the deck of one of the transports. The U.S. men let out a tremendous roar and eventually won the island.

"ALL HAIL"

All hail to Alma Mater,
To thy glory we sing;
All hail to Southern California,
Loud let thy praises ring;
Where Western sky meets Western sea
Our college stands in majesty,
Sing our love to Alma Mater,
Hail, all hail to thee.

The words and music to USC's alma mater, "All Hail," were composed in the early 1920s by Al Wesson, Troy's longtime sports information director (1928-1942). He wrote the song as a student member of the Trojan Marching Band for the finale of a 1923 campus show.

"CONQUEST"

USC's other famous song is the regal processional march, "Conquest," by Alfred Newman. This stirring battle cry, from Newman's score to the 1947 motion picture classic "Captain from Castile," has become synonymous with the championship tradition of USC since the Trojans adopted it in 1950. Newman, a legendary composer of film music, was the musical director of Twentieth Century-Fox Studios.

Tommy Walker

The trumpet "Charge," heard often at athletic contests, was composed by a post-World War II USC student named Tommy Walker. As a member of the Trojan Marching Band, he was known as "Tommy Trojan," and as a USC football player, he would shed his band uniform, come down from the stands, and kick extra points (he lettered in 1947). Upon graduation in 1948, he was hired as the band's director. He later was the first entertainment director at Disneyland and then went into business as one of the world's leading creators of show business spectacles (including Super Bowl halftimes and Olympic opening and closing ceremonies). He died in 1986.

RIVALRY TROPHIES

VICTORY BELL

The winner of the annual USC-UCLA football game, perhaps America's greatest cross-town rivalry, is given year-long possession of the Victory Bell.

The 295-pound bell originally clanged from atop a Southern Pacific freight locomotive. It was given to UCLA in 1939 as a gift from the UCLA Alumni Association. For 2 seasons, cheerleaders rang the bell after each Bruin point.

At the opening game of UCLA's 1941 football season, 6 members of USC's Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity infiltrated the UCLA rooting section. After the game, they helped Bruin students load the bell onto a waiting truck bound for Westwood. But then, one Trojan quietly removed the key to the truck, and while the Bruins went to get a replacement, the Trojans drove off with the bell.

The bell remained hidden for more than a year, first in the fraternity's basement, then in the Hollywood Hills, Santa Ana and other locations. At one point, it was even concealed beneath a haystack. Bruin students tried to locate the bell, but to no avail.

The controversy died down for a while, until a picture of the bell was printed in "The Wampus," a USC magazine. This reignited the rivalry, as students from UCLA retaliated by painting the Tommy Trojan statue at USC and then Trojan students burned USC initials on UCLA lawns. Police had to be called several times. The conflict got so out of hand that Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid, then USC's president, threatened to cancel the USC-UCLA game if any further disorders occurred.

On Nov. 12, 1942, the bell was wheeled in front of Tommy Trojan and the student body presidents of both schools — USC's Bill McKay and UCLA's Bill Farrer — signed an agreement stating that thereafter the annual winner of the Trojan-Bruin gridiron clash would keep the bell for the following year. In the case of a tie, the bell would be retained by the school that won the previous year's game. The USC Alumni Association later repaid the UCLA Alumni Association for half the cost of the bell.

At the time, the arrangement might have seemed like a bad deal for the Bruins, since they had yet to defeat USC. But that first year, 1942, UCLA beat USC, 14-7.

Since the bell became a trophy, its carriage has been painted cardinal 31 times while in USC's possession and blue 27 times while in UCLA's hold (there have been 4 ties).

Although the Victory Bell is one of college football's most famous trophies, it is probably the least seen. For all but 2 days of the year, the bell sits in a warehouse or a vault. The universities only display the bell during the first 3 quarters of the USC-UCLA game and on the Monday following the game, when it is delivered to the winning school's campus. Then the Victory Bell, which gained its reputation from being hidden, goes back into hiding.

Shillelagh

SHILLELAGH I

SHILLELAGH II

A jeweled shillelagh is passed between the annual winner of the USC-Notre Dame game, perhaps the finest intersectional rivalry in college football.

A shillelagh (pronounced "shuh-LAY-lee") is a Gaelic war club made of oak or blackthorn saplings from Ireland. Those are the only woods used because, it is said, they are the only ones tougher than an Irish skull.

The foot-long shillelagh has ruby-adorned Trojan heads with the year and game score representing USC victories, while emerald-studded shamrocks stand for Notre Dame wins. For tie games, a combined Trojan head/shamrock medallion is used. On the end of the club is engraved, "From the Emerald Isle." The victor of the Trojan-Irish game gains year-long possession of the trophy.

Upon its initial presentation in 1952 by the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Los Angeles, it was said that "this shillelagh will serve to symbolize in part the high tradition, the keen rivalry and above all the sincere respect which these two great universities have for each other."

The original shillelagh was flown from Ireland by Howard Hughes' pilot, according to legend. It was devised by the Notre Dame Alumni Club of Los Angeles, based on a suggestion by Vern Rickard. John Groen designed it. Although the shillelagh was introduced in 1952, the medallions go back to the start of the series in 1926.

When the original shillelagh ran out of space for the Trojan heads and shamrocks after the 1989 game, it was retired and is permanently displayed at Notre Dame.

A new shillelagh — slightly longer than the original — was commissioned by Jim Gillis, a former baseball player at both USC and Notre Dame and a one-time president of the Notre Dame Club of Los Angeles, and handcrafted in 1997 in County Leitrum, Ireland. It contains medallions beginning with the 1990 game.

There are now 41 shamrocks, 26 Trojan heads and 5 combined medallions on the shillelaghs.

Super Fan!

The 1998 season saw the end of one of the most remarkable streaks in sports history.

Giles Pellerin, a 91-year-old retired phone company executive from Pasadena, Calif., had viewed in person 797 consecutive USC football games, home and away, before passing away on Nov. 21, 1998, at the Rose Bowl during the USC-UCLA game.

As his friends and family said at the time, he died doing what he loved best: watching his beloved Trojans. And, ironically, his death came at the site of the first USC game he ever saw.

Known as USC's "Super Fan," there are devoted college sports fans and then there was Pellerin. Not only was he the Trojans' most loyal football fan, but he was the most rabid college football fan ever!

In all, he traveled by plane, train and automobile more than 650,000 miles and spent upwards of $85,000 doing so.

His streak began at the start of the 1926 season, his sophomore year at USC. Coach Howard Jones' Trojans won that opener, 74-0 over Whittier, and since then, USC compiled a 532-225-40 record with Pellerin in the stands. He saw the first 69 USC-Notre Dame games ever played and the first 67 USC-UCLA games in history. He watched Troy play in nearly 75 different stadiums and in more than 50 cities (even Tokyo). He viewed all eight of USC's national championship squads and all 121 of USC's first team All-Americans (including the four Heisman Trophy winners), plus he saw 11 Trojan coaching regimes. His streak began before USC's famous white horse mascot first appeared at Trojan games (in 1927) and before the on-campus Tommy Trojan statue was built (in 1930).

Interestingly, the first USC football game Pellerin ever saw pre-dated the start of his streak. It was the 1923 Rose Bowl when, while he was a student at Huntington Park (Calif.) High, USC beat Penn State, 14-3. That means he also saw all 28 Trojan Rose Bowls (and nine of Troy's 11 other bowl appearances, missing only the 1924 Christmas Festival and the 1998 Sun Bowl).

So dedicated was Pellerin that he pushed back his honeymoon eight months so that he could celebrate it at a 1935 USC game in Hawaii. And his love for USC was so strong that he donated $1.3 million to endow three football scholarships and a swimming scholarship.

Giles came close to missing a game or two, including in 1993. But Trojan fate stepped in. Pellerin was about to leave his hotel the day after the 1993 Penn State road game when he suffered a ruptured aortic abdominal aneurysm. He was hospitalized in a Harrisburg (Pa.) hospital for 12 days, but fortunately USC had a bye that following week and, after signing a waiver absolving hospital officials from any liability, he was released in time for USC's next game, at home against Washington State. His streak was intact, with two days to spare!

"God must be a Trojan," Pellerin once said. "I've been lucky."

Another near miss came in 1949 when he was hospitalized five days before a home contest for an emergency operation to remove his appendix. On game day, he told the nurses he was going out for a walk on the hospital grounds. Instead, he went to the Coliseum and returned to his bed several hours after USC dumped Oregon, 40-13. The nurses were none the wiser!

He also survived a blown water pump outside Oklahoma City 36 hours before kickoff while driving to South Bend for a Notre Dame game and several instances of lost tickets. He also defied doctors orders to stay bedridden for six weeks following stomach tumor surgery a couple of weeks before USC's 1969 opener.

Football wasn't Pellerin's only cardinal-and-gold passion. He attended many home games of USC's other 18 sports, including almost every home men's basketball game.

In 1996, he won the first annual Sears DieHard Fan Award as "America's NCAA Division I DieHard College Sports Fan." In 1994, Pellerin was inducted into the USC Athletic Hall of Fame. And in 1988, he was named a finalist in the Fisher Nut "America's Nuttiest Sports Nuts" Contest (he was flown to New York City for the festivities).

He was constantly interviewed by sportswriters (stories about his exploits have appeared in USA Today and Sports Illustrated) and featured on USC's nationally-televised game broadcasts. He spoke to various service groups, like Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, about his streak.

In his later years, he was asked about his obsession.

"I never played the game, but I love it," he said. "There's just a certain spirit about college football. I've always said that going to USC games is the thing that has kept me alive, young and happy. It keeps me alive looking forward to the next season.

"I don't think I'm a nut. It's all been fun. I could've spent a lot more money on other hobbies. A guy can spend as much money playing golf or poker. Some people think I'm crazy for spending as much money as I have traveling to see these games. They don't understand that I do more than just watch a game when I visit these cities. I've met a lot of nice and interesting people on these trips.

"Sure, I could sit in my rocking chair and grow old. But I don't intend to do that. You've got to have something to look forward to.

"The players all greet me as the No. 1 Trojan. We (he and his late wife, Jessie) had no children of our own, so I think of all the USC players as our family."

Giles wasn't alone in his pursuit and, in fact, his spirit lives on through one of his siblings. Brother Oliver, 92, of Palm Springs, Calif., hasn't missed a USC game since 1945. That's 626 in a row. Another brother, Max, 90, also of Palm Springs, Calif., had a 300-plus string interrupted when he was sent overseas to work.

TROJAN TRADITIONS

Tommy Trojan

In the center of the USC campus stands one of the most famous collegiate landmarks in the country: Tommy Trojan. Since being unveiled in 1930 for USC's 50th jubilee, the statue of the bronzed Trojan warrior has served not only as a popular meeting place on campus, but as a symbol of the university's fighting spirit.

Sculpted by Roger Noble Burnham (the idea for the statue was conceived by Harry Lee Martin and Dr. James D. McCoy), Tommy Trojan cost $10,000 to build. A $1 surcharge then on season football tickets helped pay for it.

The statue is a composite of many USC football players from the late 20s, most notably 1930 Rose Bowl Player of the Game Russ Saunders and All-American Erny Pinckert.

"Burnham made more than 100 oil paintings of various football players from our squad," said Saunders, "and from them he selected the paintings of Pinckert and me. We put in a lot of hours posing, and the result you see is my head, chest and shoulders. The rest is all Erny."

Inscribed on the statue's base is "THE TROJAN" and the university's seal, with the Latin motto "Palmam qui meruit ferat (Let him who deserves it bear away the palm)." Below the seal are inscribed the qualities of the ideal Trojan: "Faithful, Scholarly, Skillful, Courageous and Ambitious."

The tradition of Tommy Trojan being painted blue and gold by UCLA pranksters was first recorded in October of 1941. Since then, Tommy has been "hit" often, but now USC maintenance crews cover him with plastic and canvas for protection during the week of the annual USC-UCLA football game.

And Tommy's sword has been stolen so often that now, instead of replacing it each time with an expensive brass one, he is given a wooden one.

By the way, where did he get the name Tommy? Of that, no one is sure!

TOMMY TROJAN

Origin of USC's Nickname – Trojans

USC's nickname, "Trojans," originated in 1912. Up to that time the University of Southern California teams were called the Methodists or Wesleyans, nicknames which were not looked upon with favor by university officials.

So, Warren Bovard, director of athletics and son of university president Dr. George Bovard, asked Los Angeles Times sports editor Owen Bird to select an appropriate nickname.

"At this time, the athletes and coaches of the university were under terrific handicaps," recalled Bird. "They were facing teams that were bigger and better-equipped, yet they had splendid fighting spirit. The name 'Trojans' fitted them.

"I came out with an article prior to a showdown between USC and Stanford in which I called attention to the fighting spirit of USC athletes and named them 'Trojans.' From then on, we used the term 'Trojan' all the time, and it stuck.

"The term 'Trojan' as applied to USC means to me that no matter what the situation, what the odds or what the conditions, the competition must be carried on to the end and those who strive must give all they have and never be weary in doing so."

Colors: Cardinal & Gold

Before 1895, the official color of USC was gold. The official color of the College of Liberal Arts was cardinal. The college had its own official color because it was the largest academic unit in the University. In 1895, both colors were adopted as USC's official colors.

TRAVELER, USC'S MASCOT

Traveler, the noble white horse that appears at all USC home football games with a regal Trojan warrior astride, is one of the most famous college mascots. The 2001 season marks the 40th anniversary of Traveler.

Traveler first made an appearance at USC football games in 1961 (in the home opener versus Georgia Tech). Bob Jani, then USC's director of special events, and Eddie Tannenbaum, then a junior at USC, had spotted Richard Saukko riding his white horse, Traveler I, in the 1961 Rose Parade. They persuaded Saukko to ride his white horse around the Coliseum during USC games, serving as a mascot. Ever since, whenever USC scores, the band plays "Conquest" and Traveler gallops around the Coliseum.

Because of poor health, Saukko stopped riding after the 1988 season. His successors have been alumni: Cass Dabbs, Rick Oas, Tom Nolan, Ardeshir Radpour and, currently, Chuck O'Donnell, who is also Traveler's trainer. (Saukko passed away in March of 1992.)

The current Trojan mascot is 2-time national champion show horse Traveler V, an 11-year-old Andalusian gelding who first appeared during the 1997 season. And waiting in the wings is Traveler VI, a 4-year-old Andalusian gelding. They are owned by Patricia Saukko.

Even though the breed of horse may have changed over the years — Travelers I through IV ranged from an Arabian/Tennessee Walker to a pure-bred Tennessee Walker to a pure-bred Arabian — Traveler's color has always remained pure white.

Saukko first appeared on Traveler in the outfit that actor Charlton Heston wore in "Ben Hur." That proved to be too cumbersome, so Saukko crafted his own leather costume in 1962, modeled after the Tommy Trojan statue on the USC campus (that outfit is still being used). But he still sometimes wore Heston's helmet. Interestingly, Saukko was once employed by Jim Crowley, one of Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen."

Legend has it that Heisman Trophy tailback O.J. Simpson decided to come to USC after seeing Traveler on a televised football game. And Trojan faithful swear the horse has an effect on the outcome of games.

"(Former USC coach) John McKay didn't want to admit that the horse had anything to do with his success," said Saukko, "but he'd always give me a wink when he saw me waiting in the Coliseum tunnel."

Added former USC All-American defensive back and assistant coach Nate Shaw: "The horse is one of the greatest inspirational devices USC has. It definitely got the adrenaline going when I was playing and I think it still has an effect on the players. When I was coaching against USC (at Oregon State), we hated to see that horse come down the tunnel because it got USC a little more pumped up."

Traveler not only appears at Trojan home football games (and even at some away games, including the 1995 Cotton Bowl in Dallas, the farthest Traveler has traveled), but also at other Trojan events, as well as at grade and high schools, charity functions and parades (including the past 40 Rose Parades). Traveler has also appeared on screen (including "The Battle of the Gunfighter" and "Snowfire"), on stage (including in the Long Beach Ballet's "Nutcracker Ballet"), and in commercials.

TRAVELER & RIDER CHUCK O'DONNELL

Incidentally, Traveler I was not the first equine mascot for Troy. The first appearance of a white horse at a Trojan football game occurred as early as 1927, when Louis Shields began a four-year stint aboard a horse owned by a local banker. In 1948, band director Tommy Walker once had USC colors carried by a Trojan on a palomino. Then, before kickoff of the 1954 USC-Pittsburgh game, Arthur J. Gontier III, then a member of the Trojan Knights spirit group (subbing for another rider who backed out at the last moment), shakily rode a rented gray/white horse while donning a costume once worn by actor Jeff Chandler. A more accomplished rider, USC alum Bob Caswell, and his white horse, Rockazar, took over the following game and performed until retiring in 1959.

Besides these horses, USC once even had a canine mascot. A mutt named George Tirebiter I (famous for chasing cars through the USC campus) first appeared at football games in 1940. He survived a publicized dognapping by UCLA in 1947, but succumbed under the tires of an automobile in 1950. He was succeeded by George II for 3 years(1950-52), then George III for 1 year (1953) and finally George IV for 1 year (1957).

RICHARD SAUKKO MEMORIAL FUND

The Richard Saukko Memorial Fund was established in 1993 to provide funds for Traveler in memory of Richard Saukko, the horse's original rider.

Donations should be made out to the "RSMF" and sent to: Don Ludwig, Lyon University Center, USC, Los Angeles, Calif. 90089-2500, (213) 740-5127.

HERITAGE HALL

Heritage Hall, which sits in the middle of the University of Southern California campus, houses the University's athletic department and celebrates the glorious Trojan athletic heritage. USC has produced more Olympic athletes, is sixth in the country in national team championships and has developed the third most NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship recipients of any university.

Originally 48,000 square feet and built at a cost of $2.8 million, the 3-level brick and concrete colonnaded building opened in 1971. Heritage Hall was designed by Grillias, Savage and Alves of Santa Ana, Calif. Myers Brothers Construction Company, Inc., of Los Angeles was the general contractor. Initial construction began in Feb. 5, 1970. It has been expanded three times: in 1984 (a 6,000-square foot addition to the weight room), in 1992 (a 13,500-square foot expansion that houses the Academic Resource Center) and in 1998 (a 3,000-square foot addition to the newly-renamed Jess Hill Weight Room). Heritage Hall is located close to USC's various athletic practice and competition on-campus facilities.

Between the north and south wings on the building's ground level are some of USC's numerous athletic trophies, including various NCAA team championships, 4 Heisman Trophies and the jerseys of Troy's winners (Mike Garrett, O.J. Simpson, Charles White, Marcus Allen), swimmer John Naber's Sullivan Award, and updated displays honoring recent successful Trojan athletes. There are also busts of USC athletic directors Willis O. Hunter and Jess Hill, football coaches Howard Jones and John McKay, and track coach Dean Cromwell, as well as one of actor John Wayne (who played football at USC in the 1920s under his real name, Marion Morrison). Wall plaques acknowledge special financial contributors to the USC athletic program. The north wing houses a 200-seat auditorium and a formal lounge, while some coaches and administrators have offices in the south wing. A patio area extends outside to the west (placed in the patio floor are plaques commemorating the members of USC's Athletic Hall of Fame).

Heritage Hall's upper level is the home to many administrative and coaches' offices (located on the south "Jess Hill Wing" and north "John McKay Wing," respectively). The Honors Rail, which encircles the open-air foyer above the first floor lobby, has bronze medallions saluting every Trojan who won an Olympic gold medal, captured an NCAA individual championship, or was named a first team All-American in an NCAA sport in which there are no individual champions (i.e. football, basketball, baseball, volleyball, water polo). Also on the second floor are busts of USC football running backs Morley Drury ("The Noblest Trojan of Them All") and Ricky Bell. Like on the ground floor, tucked in alcoves on both ends of this floor are other athletic trophies and team displays.

HERITAGE HALL

The underground lower level of Heritage Hall houses various locker rooms, plus the equipment room, medical training room, the Jess Hill Weight Room, and the McAlister Academic Resource Center (which features tutoring, counseling, study and computer rooms for USC's student-athletes).

Because of space limitations, USC's golf, swimming, water polo and women's soccer coaches are located in the nearby Kennedy Aquatics Building, while the baseball staff has offices at Dedeaux Field (the baseball stadium) and the track and field staff has offices in Loker Stadium.

Outside the northwest corner of Heritage Hall, the $3-million Galen Center — a popular sports-themed dining and activity center — opened in early 1999.

The USC football team practices at nearby Howard Jones Field, which was expanded in the fall of 1998 to include Brian Kennedy Field. In early 1999, Goux's Gate--named after popular long-time former assistant coach Marv Goux--was erected at the entrance to the practice field.

USC's other on-campus athletic facilities include the McDonald's Swim Stadium (site of the 1984 Olympic swimming and diving competition), Marks Tennis Stadium, Cromwell Track and Field (which includes the 3,000-seat Katherine B. Locker Stadium), the McAlister Soccer Field, the 1,500-seat Lyon Center (a campus recreation center which hosts some Trojan events) and the Physical Education Building (housing the 1,000-seat North Gym).

Coming in near future will be a 12,000-seat, $70-million on-campus events center that will be home to the Trojan basketball and volleyball teams, as well as the site of various cultural events.

LOS ANGELES MEMORIAL COLISEUM

The Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum is one of the greatest — and largest — stadiums in America. It combines the traditional and the modern into a premier athletic environment.

USC has played football in the Coliseum ever since the grand stadium was built in 1923. In fact, the Trojans played in the first varsity football game ever held there (beating Pomona College, 23-7, on Oct. 6, 1923). That game was preceded that day by the USC freshman team's 30-0 win over Santa Ana High. The 1998 season marked the 75th anniversary of USC football in the Coliseum

Construction on the Coliseum took less than 2 years, with ground breaking ceremonies held on Dec. 21, 1921, and work completed on May 1, 1923. Initial construction costs were $800,000.

The Coliseum was the site of the 1932 Olympic Games and hosted the opening and closing ceremonies and track events of the 1984 Olympics. Over the years, the Coliseum has been home to many sports teams besides the Trojans, including UCLA football, Los Angeles Rams and Raiders football, and Los Angeles Dodgers baseball. The Coliseum has hosted various other events, from concerts and speeches to track meets and motorcycle races.

There have been only 9 seasons—1923 to 1925 and 1995 to 2000—that USC was the stadium's sole football tenant.

Prior to the 1993 football season, the Coliseum underwent a $15 million renovation. The Coliseum's floor was lowered 11 feet and the running track was removed to create a more intimate stadium. Fourteen new rows of seats (approximately 8,000 seats) were added down low, bringing fans closer to the playing field (the first rows of seats between the goalposts are a maximum of 54 feet from the sideline, instead of the previous 120 feet). During this renovation, the lockerrooms and public restrooms were also upgraded.

Southern California's damaging January, 1994 earthquake hit the Coliseum hard, requiring some $93 million of repairs. And, in the summer of 1995, a new $6 million press box was constructed.

The Coliseum has a present full-capacity of 92,000 seats (almost all are chair-back seats). However, for most USC games, a retractable fabric covers many seats, bringing the Coliseum's capacity to about 68,000. There are approximately 25,000 seats from goal line to goal line, including both the north and south sides.

The Coliseum is located on 17 acres in Exposition Park, which also houses museums, gardens and the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

The Coliseum's general offices are located at the south side of the peristyle end and are open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on game day. The USC Game Management Office on game day only is at the north side of the peristyle end. The will call booth is located outside the fence at Gate 4. Identification is required to claim tickets left under a specific name. The booth opens three hours prior to kickoff and closes at the end of the first quarter.

The first aid station is located on the concourse opposite Stairway 6. A Goodhew ambulance is available at the Coliseum to transport cases requiring further treatment. Paramedics are stationed at Tunnels 6, 14, 29 and Stairway 23. Doctors expecting an emergency call must register their seat location at the Coliseum office. A messenger will be sent to notify doctors of emergency calls; doctors will not be paged over the public address system.

The police substation is located at Tunnel 14 and is manned by LAPD officers from the Southwest Division. There are also roaming officers and T-shirted security personnel working in and around the Coliseum.

Items that are found should be taken to the Administrative Office at the peristyle end or to the police substation at Tunnel 14. People who have lost something should check back at the Administrative Office a couple of days after the event to see if it has been found.

MARK McGWIRE

CHERYL MILLER

O-LINE — There have been 26 first team All-American offensive linemen from USC since 1964 and 19 Trojan offensive linemen have been first round NFL draft picks since 1968.

OLYMPIC RECORD — USC is 159-52-10 (.742) in seasons that the Summer Olympics have been held. The Trojans won 3 national championships (1928, 1932 and 1972) and played in 9 bowls (winning 6) during those Olympic seasons.

ONE GAME TURNAROUND — USC once had an 87-point turnaround from one game to the next. In 1985, the Trojans lost to Arizona State, 24-0, then came back the following game to defeat Oregon State, 63-0.

OPENERS — USC's record in all season openers is 77-23-8 (.750), with 35 shutout victories. In season openers at home, the Trojans are 55-16-7 (.750), while their record in season openers on the road is 22-7-1 (.750).

In conference openers, USC is 60-14-5 (.791) and Troy has won 22 of its last 30 (and 35 of its last 44). In conference openers at home, the Trojans are 36-7-3 (.815). Their mark in conference openers on the road is 24-7-2 (.758), having won 19 of their last 24.

The earliest USC has opened conference play since joining a league in 1922 was Sept. 3, 1994 against Washington.

USC's record for home openers is 81-18-7 (.797). In road openers, USC is 70-26-8 (.712).

Incidentally, in games immediately following USC's 31 non-winning seasons openers, Troy is 20-7-4, including wins 13 of the past 14 times (dating to 1960).

PAC-10 WINS — In 1988, USC became the first Pac-10 team to win 8 conference games in a season.

POLYNESIANS — Among the Polynesians who have played at USC: George Achica, Pat Ah-Hing, Al Aliipule, Michael Alo, Charley Ane, Sagan Atuatasi, Paul Green, Harold Han, Arthur Hemingway, Chris Limahelu, John Kamana, Gaylord Kuamoo, Malaefou MacKenzie, Faaesea Mailo, Junior Moi, Johnny Naumu, Sol Naumu, Kennedy Pola, Troy Polamalu, Junior Seau, Mosi Tatupu, Titus Tuiasosopo, Brian Tuliau, and Junior Utu.

POPULAR DAYS — Oct. 10, Oct. 24 and Nov. 7are the most popular days in USC's regular season history, as the Trojans have played 16 games on each of those days. Jan. 1 is the all-time leader, with 27 USC games on that day.

PRESIDENTIAL PRECEDENT — Since 1929, USC has played in the Rose Bowl during the term of every U.S. President.

PRESIDENTIAL RECORD — USC is 175-59-14 (.734) during presidential election years. The Trojans are 105-26-5 (.790) in years when Republicans won the White House and 70-33-9 (.663) when Democrats won.

PRO BASEBALL/FOOTBALL — Two Trojans have played both major league baseball and professional football. Morris "Red" Badgro played baseball with the Browns (1929-30) and football with the New York Yankess (1927), New York Giants (1930-35) and Brooklyn (1936). Rex Johnston was with Pittsburgh's baseball Pirates (1964) and football Steelers (1960).

RAIN — USC has an 18-21-2 record in games in which it rained during a major portion of the contest. USC's last such rain game was at Notre Dame in 1999 (USC lost, 25-24).

RAIN OUT — The final 2:36 of USC's 1990 win (35-26) at Ohio State was suspended by game officials when a heavy rainstorm with thunder and lightning hit.

SAME STADIUM — USC's 1992 season finale and its 1993 opener, both in Anaheim Stadium, marked the first time that Troy played 2 straight games in the same stadium (besides the Coliseum) since 1935, when it played Kamehamaha High's Alumni and the University of Hawai'i in the same Honolulu location.

SEASON ENDERS — USC is 58-39-11 (.588) in all season finales.

SELLOUT — USC's last home sellout was the 1997 UCLA game.

SNOW — The last time USC played in snow was on Nov. 30, 1957 at Notre Dame (the Irish won, 40-12). The temperature was 20 degrees. The 1965 USC-Notre Dame game in South Bend was played in sleet and rain (the Irish won that one, too, 28-7).

STATE — 1998 was the first time that USC faced 4 consecutive "State" opponents (San Diego State, Oregon State, Florida State amd Arizona State) in a season. Over a 2-year span, Troy also once played 4 "State" schools in a row, closing 1990 against Michigan State in the Hancock Bowl and then opening 1991 against Memphis State, Penn State and Arizona State.

STREAK BUSTERS — USC has twice "busted" an opponent's 20-plus game winning streak: beating Tennessee in the 1940 Rose Bowl to end the Volunteers' 23-game streak and tying Notre Dame in 1948 to end the Irish's 21-game streak. Conversely, USC's school-record 25-game winning streak was stopped by Oregon State in 1933.

SUNDAY — USC has played only 4 games on a Sunday, going 2-2: the 1993 opener versus North Carolina in the Disneyland Pigskin Classic (USC lost, 31-9), the 1996 opener against Penn State in the Kickoff Classic (USC lost, 24-7), the 1998 opener versus Purdue in the Pigskin Classic (USC won, 27-17) and the 2000 opener versus Penn State in the Kickoff Classic (USC won 29-5).

SWC COMPETITION — USC won 10 of its last 11 games (and 18 of its last 20) against foes from the now-defunct Southwest Conference.

3 FOR THE ROAD — 1992 was the first time that USC started a season with 3 road games in a row (in 1918 Troy began with 2 on the road and 1 at a neutral site, while in 1900 USC opened with 2 at a neutral site and 1 road game).

10-POINT LOSSES — The 1999 season was the first time that USC lost 6 games all by 10 points or less.

1,000-YARD RUNNERS — USC is second behind North Carolina for most 1,000-yard runners in a season, 25-22. Troy's last rusher to break the 1,000-yard barrier was tailback Sultan McCullough in 2000, with 1,163 yards.

TOUGH STARTS — Before Paul Hackett won his Trojan debut in 1998, USC's previous 6 head coaches — Don Clark, John McKay, John Robinson (twice), Ted Tollner and Larry Smith — all failed to win their debut.

TRAVELOGUE — USC has played football in 31 of this country's 50 states, as well as in Japan. In order of appearance, USC has played in California, Washington, Utah, Arizona, Oregon, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Hawai'i, Ohio, Louisiana, Maryland, New York, Minnesota, Texas, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa, Colorado, Oklahoma, Florida, Nebraska, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Tennessee, Missouri, South Carolina, Japan, Massachusetts, and New Jersey.

TRICK OR TREAT — USC is 6-5 in games played on Halloween.

TURNAROUNDS — In 108 seasons of USC football, the Trojans have lost 4 or more games 33 times. But following 8 of those 4-plus loss seasons, USC "turned it around" to win the Rose Bowl the next year (1938-43-62-67-72-76-78-84).

21-14 — USC has played 1,020 football games in its history and only once--when Troy went to Berkeley in 1951 and snapped No. 1-ranked California's 38-game winning streak--has the final score been a very football-like 21-14 (win or lose).

UCLA-ND — USC is 18-18-2 (.500) against UCLA in seasons when Troy's next game is against Notre Dame. Troy is 15-19-4 against Notre Dame in games immediately following the Bruin game.

VERSUS NO. 1 — USC is 7-11 all-time versus teams ranked No. 1 in the AP poll.

VERSUS UNRANKED TEAMS — Since the AP poll began in 1936, 1956 was the only time that USC went an entire season without playing a ranked team.

TROJAN TRIVIA

AFTER TIES — USC is 36-14-4 in games immediately following a tie. The Trojans have won the last 13 contests they have played after a tie, dating to 1968.

ARTIFICIAL TURF — USC is 13-5-1 in its last 19 games on artificial turf.

BIG TEN COMPETITION — USC has won 24 of its last 32 games (and 31 of its last 40) against Big Ten opponents. USC has twice played 3 consecutive games against Big Ten teams: Northwestern in the 1996 Rose Bowl, then Penn State and Illinois in 1996, and Indiana in the 1968 Rose Bowl, then Minnesota and Northwestern in 1968. There have been 5 times (1962-68-72-76-89) when USC has faced 3 Big Ten teams during a single season, although not consecutively.

BOUNCE BACK — USC has had back-to-back non-winning seasons just 12 times in its 107-year history, most recently in 1999 and 2000.

DIAMONDS — During 1992 and 1993, USC played 4 games in a stadium with a baseball field (Troy opened 1992 in Jack Murphy Stadium in San Diego, then played in Anaheim Stadium in the 1992 Freedom Bowl, 1993 Disneyland Pigskin Classic and 1993 Freedom Bowl). Before then, the last time USC played on a baseball field was in 1961, when the Coliseum was home to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

DOMES — USC is 3-0 inside domed stadiums, beating Washington State in Seattle's Kingdome in 1976, Texas A&M in the 1977 Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston's Astrodome, and Houston in the Astrodome in 1996.

EARLY BIRDS — USC's Aug. 25 opener in 1996 marked the earliest that Troy's season has opened in the modern era. (The earliest that USC's season has ended was Nov. 13, 1909.) USC's latest season opener was Dec. 7, 1901 and its latest home opener was Dec. 14, 1918 (USC didn't play any home games in 1900 or 1901).

GOLDEN GRIDDERS — Two football lettermen have won Olympic gold medals: Fred Kelly (1914,15,16) in the high hurdles in the 1912 Games (he is USC's first gold medalist) and Ken Carpenter (1934,37) in the discus in the 1936 Games. Although 2-time gold medalist Quincy Watts (400 meters and 1600 meter relay in the 1992 Olympics) never lettered in football, he was a receiver on the 1990 Trojans (he didn't get into a game).

GOOD BYES — USC is 76-40-4 in all regular season games it has played following byes. Since 1955, the Trojans are 37-11-1 following byes (6 of those losses and the tie were to UCLA). USC had 3 regular-season byes in 1996, the first time that had happened since 1935.

GRID/HOOPS — USC is 11-7-1 against schools that won the NCAA men's basketball title the previous year.

HOLLYWOOD TROJANS — Among the USC footballers who gained fame on the silver screen are: John Wayne (he played tackle in 1925-26 under his real name, Marion Morrison), Ward Bond (a 1928-30 letterman best known for his role in "Wagon Train"), Mike Henry (a tackle from 1956-58 who played Tarzan), Tim Rossovich (a 1967 All-American defensive end who has been a supporting actor in various movies), O.J. Simpson (the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner starred in many TV and motion picture films), Anthony Davis (the 1974 All-American tailback was in various movies), Patrick Muldoon (a walk-on tight end in the mid-1980s who stars in soaps, including "Melrose Place," and films, including "Starship Trooper"), Brian Turk (a lineman in the late 1980s who has appeared in various TV sitcoms and commercials), Shane Foley (the quarterback who lettered in 1989-90 has been in various TV commericals) and Nick Pappas (the ex-USC player, assistant coach and assistant athletic director doubled for Pat O'Brien as Knute Rockne in the football scenes of "Knute Rockne — All-American"). Also, Irvine "Cotton" Warburton (an All-American back in 1933) won an Oscar for film editing on "Mary Poppins," while Aaron Rosenberg (a 2-time All-American guard in 1932-33) was a well-known TV and movie producer, Jess Hibbs (a 2-time All-American tackle in 1927-28) was a prominent film and TV director and Ken Del Conte (a halfback in the early 1960s) is a producer. Allan Graf (an offensive guard in the early 1970s) is a stunt man and second unit director. Producers Hilton Green (a team manager) and Barney Rosenzweig (a Yell Leader) also were associated with the Trojan football program .

HOMECOMING — USC has a 49-24-4 record in its Homecoming games, dating back to the first such event in 1924.

HOME JERSEYS — USC wore its home cardinal jerseys for the 2000 kickoff classic against Penn State (even though Troy was the visiting team) and for its 1999 game at Hawaii (at the request of the Rainbows). Before that, the last time USC wore cardinal in an opponent's stadium was against UCLA in the Rose Bowl in 1982.

IMPROVEMENT — USC's best one-season improvement of its record was +6, as the 1962 national champion Trojans went from 4-5-1 in 1961 to 11-0.

IN FLORIDA — USC has never won a football game in Florida, going 0-4 there.

IRISH REBOUNDS — USC is 7-10-1 versus Notre Dame when Troy was coming off a loss to UCLA. The wins were in 1950-55-70-80-82-96-98, the losses were in 1946-51-53-54-57-59-66-84-86-92, and the tie was in 1994.

ND COACHES — USC is 4-3 in games when a Notre Dame coach was coaching the final regular-season game in his Irish career, with the Trojan wins coming in the past 4 such occasions (1996 with Lou Holtz, 1980 with Dan Devine, 1974 with Ara Parseghian and 1962 with Joe Kuharich).

NICKNAMES — Some of the more famous nicknames in Trojan gridiron lore: A.D. (Anthony Davis), Aircraft (Mark Carrier), Amblin' Amby (Ambrose Schindler), Antelope Al (Al Krueger), B-Boys (Pete Beathard, Hal Bedsole, Willie Brown, Ben Wilson), Bambi (Mike Hull), Batman (Richard Wood, Gidion Murrell), Bear (Byron Darby), Betto (Norberto Garrido), BKU (Kenchi Udeze, as in Big Kenechi Udeze), Blackjack (Harry Smith), The Bookend All-Americans (Duane Bickett and Jack Del Rio, both outside linebackers), Bug (Kevin Williams, 5-9 and 165 pounds), Bullet (Roy Baker), Butch (Walt Underwood, Kendell Nungesser), Butter (Ted Gorrell), Cadillac (Cleveland Colter), Cardiac Kids (1968 and 1969 teams), Comet (Curtis Conway), Cotton (Irvine Warburton), Cotton Clubs (tackles for a loss by Marcus Cotton), Decleaters (knockdown blocks by Dave Cadigan), The Duck (Mike Garrett), End Around (Ray Sparling), Field Marshall (Marshall Duffield), Gazoo or Gnat (Ken Grace), Gloomy Gus (Coach Elmer Henderson), Gramps (Randy Tanner), Hobo (Howard Kincaid), Inky (Haskell Wotkyns), Iron Mike (Mike Garrett), Izzy (Israel Ifeanyi), Jackhammers (tackles for a loss by Jack Del Rio), Jaguar Jon (Jon Arnett), J.J. (John Jackson), Juice (O.J. Simpson), Jupiter (walk-on Jupiter Ehrlich; yes, that's his real name), Lone Ranger (David Webb, who put a bar of grease paint across his eyes when playing), Mad Dog (Tim Lavin), Mystic (Jim Powers), The Noblest Trojan of Them All (Morley Drury), Pinball Wizard (Ricky Ervins), Prince Hal (Hal Bedsole), Racehorse (Russ Saunders), Razor (Mike Battle), Red (Morris Badgro), Rolls (Mazio Royster), Sam Bam (Sam Cunningham), Scissors (Windrell Hayes), Shakes (Jonathan Mosley, who has Tourette's syndrome), Slam (Sam Anno), Slinky (Marvin Pollard), Speedy (Alcee Hart), Squeeze (John Kamana), Sugarbear (Charles Hinton), Sunny (Sunny Byrd; yes, that's his real name), Sweet (Jim Musick), Sweet Peete (Rodney Peete), Tay (Raymond Brown), Tee (Artimus Parker), Tex (Michael Williams), The Thundering Herd (Coach Howard Jones' teams), Trapper (Travis Claridge), Tree (Charles Young, who was 6-4 and 228 pounds), Turd (Pete Adams' dog, the unofficial mascot of the 1972 team), Turk (Derrell Marshall), The Wild Bunch (the 1969 defensive line of Al Cowlings, Jimmy Gunn, Willard Scott, Tody Smith and Charlie Weaver).

NIGHT TIME — USC's first night game was on Oct. 14, 1944 against St. Mary's Pre-Flight in Fresno. The first USC night game in the Coliseum was Oct. 23, 1944 versus Washington.

NO. 1 — The last time USC was ranked No. 1 in the polls (AP and UPI) was Oct. 7, 1981.

NOS. 35 AND 55 — In recent years, the No. 35 jersey was handed down to a "stereotypical" inside linebacker. The chain of succession: Riki Gray (Ellison), Rex Moore, Scott Ross, Jeff Kopp, Taso Papadakis (Taso brother, tailback Petros Papadakis, wore it from 1997 to 2000) and now Lee Webb. The No. 55 went to the prototype outside or inside linebacker (Junior Seau, Willie McGinest, Israel Ifeanyi, Chris Claiborne, Markus Steele and now Marvin Simmons).

NOVEMBER RECORD — USC has a 209-121-20 (.626) all-time record while playing in the month of November.

USC NATIONAL TITLES

USC has long dominated the world of intercollegiate athletics. In fact, it could be argued that Troy was the "Collegiate Athletic Program of the 20th Century."

Trojan men's teams are tops in the nation in NCAA championships with 70 — more than any other university. And the football team has been voted national champions 8 times.

USC has won the National Collegiate All-Sports Championship--an annual ranking by USA Today (previously The Knoxville Journal) of the country's top men's athletic programs — 6 times (1971-72-74-75-77-80) since its inception in 1971.

USC's women are also a force, with 16 national team titles, all since 1976.

From 1959-60 to 1984-85, USC put together an amazing streak. In each of those 26 years, at least one Trojan team won a national championship (including five crowns in both 1962-63 and 1976-77).

Here's a list with the coaches of the winning teams.

TROJANS STAR IN CLASSROOM

USC is as proud of its student-athletes' achievements in the classroom as on the playing field.

After all, the Trojans not only are third in the nation in the number of national team championships (78 by the men and 15 by the women), but rank sixth in the number of NCAA post-graduate scholarship recipients (48, including 20 football players).

Also, USC athletics has had 3 Rhodes Scholars (quarterback Pat Haden, swimmer Desmond Koh and trackster James O'Toole), 26 first team Academic All-Americans (including 22 footballers, tops among Pac-10 schools and sixth best in the nation), 8 winners of the prestigious NCAA Today's Top Six scholar award, 12 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes, 6 recipients of the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award, a Luce Scholar (swimmer Dennis Scannell), a NCAA Women's Enhancement Program Post-Graduate Scholar (soccer player Laura Servis), a NCAA Ethnic-Minority Enhancement Program Post-Graduate Scholar (footballer Dong Koo) and 2 USC valedictorians (water poloist Craig Furniss and volleyballer Alaina Kipps). In 1988, Haden was inducted into the charter 6-member class of the GTE Academic All-American Hall of Fame and baseball star Don Buford Jr. won the first-ever Woody Hayes Academic All-American Award presented by the Columbus Touchdown Club to the top NCAA Division I male student-athlete (footballer John Jackson won the award in 1990 and volleyballer Katie Haller won the women's award in 1994). Jackson was also named a winner of the first-ever NACDA/Disney Scholar-Athlete Award in 1990, and Jeremy Hogue, Matt Keneley and Mike Van Raaphorst were 1996, 1997 and 2000 NACDA Foundation Preseason Games Scholar-Athletes, respectively (Keneley also received a NACDA Foundation Post-Graduate Scholarship in 1997). In 1997, Keith Van Horne was named to the GTE Academic All-American All-Time Football Team.

The Nov. 1994 issue of The Sporting News examined the relative academic strength of the nation's top 25 football teams and found USC's players ranked second in high school GPA, sixth in SAT scores and third in ACT scores.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR MIKE GARRETT

Michael L. Garrett, so much a part of USC's unparalleled athletic tradition, was named the school's sixth-ever athletic director in January of 1993.

Garrett, Troy's 1965 Heisman Trophy-winning tailback who has a background in business, law, government, athletic administration, and community affairs, oversees the 19 men's and women's teams and the $33 million budget that make up the nation's most tradition-rich athletic program.

During his tenure:

• USC has won 7 national titles (in men's tennis in 1993 and 1994, women's swimming in 1997, baseball and men's water polo in 1998, women's water polo in 1999 and women's track and field in 2001), plus 18 conference crowns, and almost annually finished in the Top 10 (among the 324 Division I universities) in the Sears Directors' Cup all-sports standings.

• Fundraising (reaching a record $20-plus million in 2000-01) and corporate sponsorships, merchandising and licensing (to $2.1 million in 1998-99) have skyrocketed.

• He has undertaken the biggest building program in the history of USC athletics, including the $3 million Galen Center (a dining/activity center), a 3,000-square-foot addition to the weight room, a 3,000-seat track and field stadium, expansion of the tennis stadium and football practice field, a new women's soccer practice field, a short-game golf practice facility, an addition to baseball's Dedeaux Field, and a planned 12,000-seat events center (for basketball and volleyball).

• He has added 2 women's teams (soccer and water polo), elevated women's rowing from a club to intercollegiate sport, and awarded 42 more women's scholarships (at an annual cost of nearly $1.4 million) so that USC provides the maximum number of women's scholarships permitted by the NCAA.

• Official NCAA graduation rates for USC student-athletes reached an all-time high in 1996 (71%) and have averaged above the national rate over the past 6 years; the 2001 graduation rate for the Trojan football team is at an all-time high 82%. There have been 7 NCAA Post-Graduate Scholarship winners, 4 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes and a USC valedictorian under Garrett.

• He has hired 11 head coaches and they have been named National Coaches of the Year 3 times and Conference Coaches of the Year 13 times.

He is a member of the NCAA Division I Men's and Women's Track and Field Committee.

Garrett, 57, became the seventh African-American athletic director at a major Division I-A institution.

Garrett had served as USC's associate athletic director since December of 1990. In that role, he was responsible for the athletic department's budget, personnel, contract compliance and corporate sponsorships. He also handled day-to-day supervision of 5 men's sports — volleyball, golf, tennis, swimming and water polo.

Prior to joining the USC staff, he was director of business development for the Great Western Forum (1988-90), including its highly-successful boxing program.

Earlier in his career, he worked for the San Diego district attorney's office and as a youth counselor, held management positions in the retail, construction and real estate industries, did color commentary on USC football telecasts, and ran for Congress (1982) and San Diego City Council (1983).

Garrett has been involved in community affairs since his days at USC. While in college, he helped found the Cool-Head Program, an organization that met with youth groups to try to offset racial tensions in Los Angeles, and volunteered at the MacLaren Children's Center, a home for abused children. Later, he founded San Diego's Harambee House, a community-based institution for juvenile delinquents.

He helped establish the East Los Angeles Youth Activities Foundation in 1989, a community-based group that ran boxing/educational clubs as a gang-intervention program.

In 1996, he received the Boys and Girls Clubs of Pasadena's "Youth Partnership Award."

He is on the Board of Directors of First American Bank.

Born April 12, 1944 in East Los Angeles, Garrett was a prep All-American at that neighborhood's Roosevelt High.

As a student at USC, Garrett set the standard for the modern-era "I" formation Trojan tailbacks. He was a 2-time All-American (1964-65) who set 14 NCAA, conference and USC records in his 3-year career, including a then-NCAA career rushing mark of 3,221 yards and a then-USC season mark of 1,440 yards in 1965. He was the first Trojan since 1927 to run for 1,000 yards in a season.

A versatile athlete, he also started at cornerback for the Trojans and was an All-League outfielder for USC's baseball team (he hit .309 in 1965 and was drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates and Los Angeles Dodgers).

Garrett played 8 seasons (1966-73) in the NFL with the Kansas City Chiefs and San Diego Chargers, becoming the first player to rush for 1,000 yards for 2 teams. An All-Pro, he played in Super Bowls I and IV.

Garrett was inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame in 1985 and won the NCAA's prestigious Silver Anniversary Award in 1990. He was a charter member of USC's Athletic Hall of Fame, which he founded in 1994.

Garrett graduated from USC in 1967 with a bachelor's degree in sociology and earned a law degree from Western State University College of Law in Fullerton, Calif., in 1986.

Garrett and his wife, Suzanne, have 2 children, Sara, 19, a USC sophomore, and Daniel, 15.

Laura Moore serves as Garrett's executive assistant.

USC Athletic Directors

Willis O. Hunter*	1926-57
Jess Hill*	1957-72
John McKay	1972-75
Mike McGee	1984-93

*Member of National Associaton of Collegiate Directors of Athletics Hall of Fame

Note: Records are unclear prior to Hunter's tenure. One reference source listed William Clay as "athletic manager" in 1909 and cited him as USC's first A.D. Another source listed Elmer Henderson as football coach and athletic director from 1919 to 1924. Still another source said "graduate managers" were akin to athletic directors and listed Warren Bovard, Henry Bruce, Gwynn Wilson (1921-30) and Arnold Eddy (1930 and on) in that role (that source also claimed Eddy was athletic director in 1941-44).

The University of Southern California

The University of Southern California is a research institution of international distinction. Founded in 1880, it is the oldest and largest private research university in the western half of the United States.

The university enrolls about 29,000 students annually on 2 campuses, the 155-acre University Park Campus in Exposition Park and the 31-acre Health Sciences Campus, 3 miles to the northeast of downtown Los Angeles.

Some facts of significance about the university include the following:

• USC is a member of the Association of American Universities, a select group of 63 public and private universities in the U.S. and Canada that, together, perform about two-thirds of all federally funded academic research and development.

• Enrollment stands at 28,600, including 15,500 undergraduates and 13,100 graduate and professional students.

• In basic research, USC is nationally and internationally prominent. Currently, USC ranks among the top 10 private universities receiving federal funds for research and development support and in the top 20 among all universities.

• USC professor George A. Olah was the sole recipient of the 1994 Nobel Prize in chemistry.

• USC was TIME/Princeton Review College Guide's "College of the Year 2000," one of Newsweek/Kaplan College Guide's "Hot Schools of 2001" and an Association of American Colleges and Universities "Leadership Institution of 2001."

• Many of USC's academic programs rank in the top 10 nationally.

• USC has 53 faculty members who are members of prestigious national academies, including 7 in the National Academy of Sciences, 22 in the National Academy of Engineering, and 9 in the Institute of Medicine. Membership in these academies, created by Congress, is by election only and is based on distinguished and continuing achievements.

• The University is the home of 16 professional schools, in addition to the College of Letters, Arts and Sciences and the Graduate School. These schools train specialists in fields ranging from medicine and law to architecture, theatre, education and business.

• USC's schools of Cinema-Television, Social Work and International Relations are among the oldest such schools in the country.

• USC is home to the USC/Norris Comprehensive Cancer Center, one of only 35 designated by the National Cancer Institute to lead the nation in cancer research, prevention and care.

• Among USC's distinguished alumni are musicians Herb Alpert, Lionel Hampton and Patrice Rushen; astronauts Neil Armstrong and Charles Bolden; columnist Art Buchwald; sportscaster Frank Gifford; architects Frank Gehry, Jon Jerde and Carey K. Jenkins; opera star Marilyn Horne; directors George Lucas, John Singleton, Ron Howard and Paul Mazursky; Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf; former U.S. Secretary of State Warren Christopher; retired California Supreme Court Chief Justice Malcolm Lucas and Associate Justice Joyce L. Kennard; former U.S. Ambassador to Australia, South Africa and the United Nations Edward Perkins; actors John Ritter, Tom Selleck, and the late John Wayne and Michael Landon; actresses Marlo Thomas and Ally Sheedy; symphony conductor Michael Tilson Thomas; and producers David L. INTERESTING USC FACTS

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is one of the top 4 private universities in the western half of the United States?

- USC, Caltech, Stanford and Rice are the only private universities west of Missouri boasting membership in the Association of American Universities, the premier teaching and research institutions of North America?
- USC is the oldest and largest private research university in the western half of the United States. The university was founded in 1880 with 53 students; today, USC enrolls about 29,000 students in its College of Letters, Arts and Sciences and 18 top-ranked professional schools.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is among the nation's most highly-selective universities?

- USC's entering freshman class is among the strongest in the country, boasting an average GPA of over 3.9 and an average SAT score of 1308. The majority of entering freshmen come to USC from the top 10% of their high school graduating class.
- Also, USC is among the top 10 schools in the nation in the enrollment of National Merit Scholars.
- USC was named 1 of 9 "hot schools" in the country by the 2001 Newsweek/Kaplan How to Get into College Guide, signifying USC's popularity among the nation's best high school students.

DID YOU KNOW...the 235 students entering USC's Thematic Option Honors Program boasted an average SAT score of 1431 and an average GPA of 4.14?

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is among the top 1% of all colleges and universities in the western half of the nation in the number of Rhodes Scholars produced?

- USC has had 8 Rhodes Scholars, including 2 in the last decade.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC offers more than 100 minors, the broadest array of any university in the country?

DID YOU KNOW...that more than 10,000 USC undergraduates participate in community service each year?

DID YOU KNOW...that Nobel laureate George Olah helped pave the way for high-octane gasoline and a number of advances in our daily life?

- Professor Olah, who has been at USC for 2 decades, has transformed the field of chemistry through his pioneering work with hydrocarbons, work which has led to less polluting gasoline, more effective oil refining and many modern drugs. For his research, Professor Olah received the 1994 Nobel Prize in chemistry.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's crime rate is comparable to or lower than that of most other large research universities located in or near major cities?

- Statistics show USC's crime rate based on the federally-mandated reporting standards is comparable to that of Stanford and lower (one-third less) than that of UCLA. USC's overall crime rate is one-eighth that of the nation as a whole.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is the largest private employer in the city of Los Angeles, and one of the largest in Southern California?

- USC's employee base of 18,717 and operating budget of roughly $1.4 billion per year contributes some $3 billion each year in total impact on the Southern California economy, which in turn generates some 40,000 jobs outside the university.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC has the largest number of international alumni of any university in the United States?

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's current fundraising campaign, "Building on Excellence," with a goal of $2 billion, is the third largest of any university in history?

- During its fundraising campaign, USC received 5 naming gifts--for the Leventhal School of Accounting, the Marshall School of Business, the Rossier School of Education, the Thornton School of Music, and the Keck School of Medicine. At the time they were pledged, they were the largest gifts to schools of their kind in the history of American higher education.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is the only university in the nation to have received 3 nine-figure gifts?

- Those gifts: $120 million from Walter Annenberg (1993) to establish the USC Annenberg School for Communication; $112.5 million from biomedical industry entrepreneur Alfred Mann (1998) to establish the Alfred E. Mann Institute for Biomedical Engineering; and $110 million from the W.M. Keck Foundation (1999) to USC's medical school, the largest gift to a medical school in history.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's Ethel Percy Andrus Gerontology Center is considered to be the nation's premier program for studies of aging?

- The Leonard Davis School of Gerontology, founded in 1975, was the nation's first school in this critical, emerging field.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC physicians serve more than 1 million patients each year through the Health Sciences Campus and 14 affiliated hospitals?

- Three USC-affiliated hospitals are ranked by U.S. News & World Report as among the Top 10 in the nation in their specialty: Childrens Hospital Los Angeles, Doheny Eye Institute, and Rancho Los Amigos National Rehabilitation Center. More than 130 doctors of USC are listed in the book, "The Best Doctors in America," published by Naifeh and Smith.

DID YOU KNOW...that the Southern California Earthquake Center is based at USC?

- The SCEC was established by the federal government in 1991 to coordinate geological research relating to earthquakes.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC is home to the world's largest university-based research effort in photonics technology?

- This light-based technology is believed by many people to hold the key to the next major advance in information processing and control.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's Integrated Media Systems Center, which does research in multimedia, is the only one of its kind to be funded by the National Science Foundation?

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's Museum Studies Program is the only master's degree program of its kind in the western United States?

- 98% of the graduates from this program have been placed in professional museum careers.
- A three-year course of study leading to the Master of Arts in art history, the program is designed to meet the special training needs of students whose career goals are oriented toward professional work in art museums. A unique aspect of the program is that all students intern in a museum during their third year.

MORE INTERESTING USC FACTS

DID YOU KNOW...that the USC School of Architecture was the first architecture school in Southern California, and, until 1963, offered the only fully accredited degree program in the region?

- The USC School of Architecture has more regular faculty members who have been elected to the College of Fellows of the American Institute of Architects than any other school of architecture in the country.
- Three faculty members have been named Distinguished Professors of the Association of College Schools of Architecture.
- More than half of the top 100 architects to exhibit work at a recent national American Institute of Architects convention were alumni and/or faculty at the school. Chester Widom and Ron Altoon, past presidents of the AIA, are both USC School of Architecture graduates.
- The only architect to be named as one of the 25 most influential Americans by Time magazine is USC alum Frank O. Gehry, architect for the Guggenheim Museum in Bilbao, Spain, and Disney Hall in Los Angeles.

DID YOU KNOW...that the USC School of Cinema-Television is the top-ranked film and television program in the nation?

- The USC School of Cinema-Television is the oldest film school in the nation.
- The Filmic Writing Program is the only B.F.A. program in screenwriting in the United States.
- Films made by USC students receive approximately 150 awards annually from festivals around the world.
- Cinema-Television alumni are on the faculties of more than half the film and television departments in colleges and universities throughout the nation.
- Since 1965, alumni have been nominated for Academy Awards in every year but two.
- Nine of the 12 all-time highest grossing films had alumni in key creative and/or production positions.
- Distinguished alumni include Ron Howard, George Lucas, John Singleton and Robert Zemeckis.
- Nine of the 12 all-time highest grossing films had alumni in key creative and/or production positions.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC's School of Fine Arts has become the first fine arts school in the nation to offer a Master of Public Art Studies degree?

- Located in a major center for practicing contemporary artists, commercial galleries and outstanding permanent collections, USC's School of Fine Arts is strategically positioned to provide unparalleled training to individuals whose career goals are oriented toward professional administrative work in public art.
- Graduates of USC's School of Fine Arts go on to university teaching jobs at twice the national average.
- The school's acclaimed faculty artists are represented at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Museum of Modern Art in New York, Whitney Museum of American Art, Art Institute of Chicago, National Gallery of Art, Smithsonian Institution, Los Angeles County Museum of Art and Victoria and Albert Museum in London.
- USC has the oldest art school in the region.
- Distinguished alumni include Oscar-winning art director Henry Bumstead, artist Robert Therrien and ceramacists Ken Price and Beatrice Wood.

DID YOU KNOW...that the Fisher Gallery is one of the few university museums accredited by the Association of American Museums?

- USC's Fisher Gallery serves USC students as a resource and study center. Established in 1939 by Elizabeth Holmes Fisher, the gallery houses her collection of Dutch and Flemish Old Master works and a fine collection of 19th-century American landscape paintings. In 1964, Armand Hammer made his first donation of Dutch and Flemish masterworks to Fisher Gallery.

DID YOU KNOW...that USC Spectrum brings more than 50 high-profile events to campus each year?

- President's Distinguished Lecture Series speakers have included Margaret Thatcher, Colin Powell and Henry Kissinger.

DID YOU KNOW...that the daily nationally-distributed radio news program, "Marketplace," is produced in association with USC?

- "Marketplace" is heard by more than 3 million listeners each day. It has been described by the Columbia Journalism Review as "the best business program on radio and television."
- Classical KUSC's 24-hour broadcast day features a wide range of programs of classical music, news and information. As a partner in the arts in Southern California, the station has been responsible for bringing performances by local orchestras and chamber groups to both local and national audiences. These programs have received numerous local and national awards for their outstanding production quality.

DID YOU KNOW...that the USC Flora L. Thornton School of Music is one of the leading music schools in the nation?

- Founded in 1884, the Thornton School of Music is the oldest professional school at USC and Los Angeles' oldest cultural institution.
- The Thornton School of Music, which consistently ranks in the top 1% of the nation's music schools and conservatories, is the leading producer of live music performances in Southern California — with more than 500 concerts and recitals annually.
- It is a charter member and the only school west of the Mississippi River to belong to the Seven Springs Association, an organization consisting of the 11 finest music schools and conservatories in the United States.
- The school is the most prolific resource of prominent film composers in the world, including Jerry Goldsmith, James Horner, Thomas Newman and David Newman.
- It has a faculty nationally and internationally celebrated for its achievements, awards and prizes, who regularly serve as adjudicators of regional, national and international music competitions, festivals and clinics.
- One of the Thornton School's recent graduates, Robert Thies, was the gold medal winner at the prestigious Second International Prokofiev Piano Competition in St. Petersburg, Russia, in 1995 — the only American to win a Russian international piano competition since Van Cliburn in 1958.

DID YOU KNOW...that the USC School of Theatre is ranked among the top theatre schools in the nation?

- Alumni of the School of Theatre, including John Ritter, Swoosie Kurtz, LeVar Burton and Forrest Whitaker, have received Tony, Theatre World, Laurence Olivier, Palm D'Or, Drama Desk, Outer Critics Circle, Obie and Emmy awards.
- The School of Theatre created the first American university theatrical company to be invited to perform at the prestigious Edinburgh Fringe Festival. Students and alumni of the School have been playing in the Festival to excellent reviews and high acclaim since 1967.
- Playwriting students have recently won top national honors, including the Michael Kanin Best New Student-Written Play and the Lorraine Hansberry New Play Competition at the American College Theatre Festival.
- Together with the Thornton School of Music, the School of Theatre has established a minor in musical theatre, making USC the only major university in the western United States to offer undergraduate training in this area.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Steven B. Sample

Steven B. Sample became the 10th president of the University of Southern California in March 1991. He is the university's first holder of the Robert C. Packard President's Chair.

Sample is an electrical engineer, a musician, an outdoorsman, and an inventor.

He remains an active member of the university's faculty, co-teaching with management expert Warren Bennis a popular spring-semester course for juniors and seniors entitled "The Art and Adventure of Leadership." His book, A Contrarian's Guide to Leadership, is being published this fall by Jossey-Bass.

In February 1998, he was elected to the prestigious National Academy of Engineering for "contributions to consumer electronics and leadership in interdisciplinary research and education."

Under Sample's leadership, USC has emerged as a world leader in the fields of communication and multimedia technologies, received national acclaim for its innovative community partnerships, and solidified its status as one of the nation's leading teaching and research universities. USC milestones in the past seven years include receipt of a world-record $120 million cash gift from the Hon. Walter H. Annenberg in 1993, a $112.5 million gift from biomedical industry entrepreneur Alfred Mann in 1998 and a $110 million gift from the W.M. Keck Foundation in 1999 (establishing USC as the first university in history to receive three nine-figure gifts); the awarding of the Nobel Prize in chemistry to USC faculty member George Olah in 1994; being named College of the Year 2000 by TIME magazine; and the recruitment of the most academically-talented freshman classes in USC history.

Sample is the author of numerous journal articles and published papers, both in science and engineering and in higher education. His patents in the field of digital appliance controls have been licensed to practically every major manufacturer of appliance controls and microwave ovens in the world. More than 200 million home appliances have been built using his inventions.

Sample has chaired a number of statewide and national groups examining the state of elementary, secondary and higher education. In 1994, he convened a group of Los Angeles leaders who were awarded a historic $53 million challenge grant from the Annenberg Foundation to accelerate reforms in local public schools. Sample is currently chairman and co-founder of the Association of Pacific Rim Universities (APRU), a consortium of 34 premier Pacific Rim research universities located in 15 countries, and past chairman of the Association of American Universities, a consortium of the 62 leading North American research universities. He also chaired a special AAU committee on postdoctoral education. Currently, he is a member of the AAU's executive committee and tenure committee.

Sample came to USC from the State University of New York at Buffalo, where he had served as president since 1982. During his tenure there, SUNY-Buffalo was the first public university in New York or New England to be elected to membership in the AAU. Sample's energetic leadership was instrumental in Buffalo's emergence as the flagship of the SUNY system.

After earning his Ph.D. in 1965, Sample worked for a year as a senior scientist at Melpar Inc., a research and development firm. He then taught as an assistant professor of electrical engineering at Purdue University, where he was promoted to associate professor and granted tenure in 1970. He served as deputy director for academic affairs at the Illinois Board of Higher Education from 1971 to 1974 and as executive vice president for academic affairs and dean of the Graduate College at the University of Nebraska from 1974 to 1982.

Sample earned B.S.E.E., M.S. and Ph. D. degrees in electrical engineering at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign in 1962 , 1963 and 1965, respectively. He has received honorary degrees from the University of Nebraska (1995), Purdue University (1994), Hebrew Union College (1994) the University of Sheffield, England (1991) and Canisius College, Buffalo (1989). In 1994, Sample received the University of Illinois' Alumni Achievement Award, and in 1998 he received the USC Alumni Association's Honorary Alumni Award.

Sample is a trustee of the Los Angeles World Affairs Council and the Regenstrief Medical Foundation. He is a founding member of the California Business-Higher Education Forum and is currently a member of Project California, the Coalition of 100 and the Los Angeles Business Advisors.

In 1994, Sample received the Humanitarian Award from the National Conference of Christians and Jews (now the National Conference for Community and Justice) and the Hollzer Memorial Award from the Jewish Federation Council of Greater Los Angeles.

Sample is married to the former Kathryn Brunkow of Park Ridge, Ill. The Samples, who reside in San Marino, Calif., have two daughters, Michelle Sample Smith and Elizabeth Ann Sample.

PACIFIC-10 CONFERENCE

The Pacific-10 Conference — which combines 10 of the finest academic institutions in the nation — annually demonstrates it is the "Conference of Champions," thus continuing to live up to its billing as having the strongest overall intercollegiate athletic league in the country.

Pac-10 members have now won 238 NCAA men's team championships, far and away more than any other conference (the Big Ten is next with 178), and 73 women's crowns, also more than any league (the Southeastern Conference is next with 50).

Pac-10 men's teams have won at least 4 NCAA team titles 24 of the last 31 years, a feat unprecedented in intercollegiate athletics. The NCAA men's team championships have come at a phenomenal rate--15 basketball titles, more than any other conference; 17 of the last 35, and 24 overall, baseball titles; 19 of the last 41, and an incredible 45 titles overall, in outdoor track and field; 20 of the last 37 in swimming and diving; 36 of the last 41 (47 overall) in tennis; 27 of the last 42 in water polo; and 23 of the last 32 in volleyball. Pac-10 men have also claimed an incredible 1,041 NCAA individual crowns.

On the women's side, the story is the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 20 years ago, Pac-10 members have claimed 4 titles in a single season on 12 occasions. Included in this are 13 of 20 tennis crowns, 14 of 20 softball championships, 6 of the last 11 volleyball titles, 9 of the last 12 trophies in golf and 8 of the last 12 titles in swimming and diving. Plus, the 363 NCAA individual titles lead all leagues.

The roots of the Pacific-10 Conference go back 85 years. On Dec. 2, 1915, the Pacific Coast Conference was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Oregon. Original membership consisted of 4 schools — University of California, University of Washington, University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All are still charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916. One year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the PCC, and Stanford University joined in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to 8 teams with the admission of the University of Southern California and the University of Idaho. Montana joined the conference in 1924 and in 1928 the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-team league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-1945 when World War II somewhat curtailed intercollegiate competition. In 1950, Montana resigned from the conference to join the Mountain States Conference. The PCC continued as a 9-team conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and a new conference was formed called the Athletic Association of Western Universities. Original AAWU membership consisted of California, Stanford, USC, UCLA, and Washington. Washington State became a member in 1962, with Oregon and Oregon State joining in 1964. In 1968, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the Pacific-10 Conference took on a new look, expanding to included 10 women's teams.

Currently, the Pac-10 sponsors 11 men's and 11 women's sports, while Conference members are part of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in 4 additional men's sports and 2 other women's sports.

Edwin N. Atherton was named the Conference's first Commissioner in 1940. He was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt (1944), Thomas J. Hamilton (1959), Wiles Hallock (1971) and current Commissioner Thomas C. Hansen in 1983.

The Pac-10 offices are located 25 miles east of San Francisco in Walnut Creek, Calif.

MEDIA INFORMATION

USC SPORTS INFORMATION OFFICE —The Sports Information Office (director Tim Tessalone and assistants Paul Goldberg, Chris Huston, Vicky Hammond and Jason Pommier) is located in the southeast corner of the first floor of Heritage Hall. It houses files containing USC athletic history, player and coach biographies, statistics and photographs. The office phone number is (213) 740-8480. The fax number is (213) 740-7584. Nearby on-campus parking is available by calling the office in advance.

PLAYER/COACH INTERVIEWS — Please arrange all player and coach interviews through the Sports Information Office, at least a day in advance.

TROJAN HOTLINE — Dial (213) 743-2989 for a 90-second taped interview with USC coach Pete Carroll. The tape changes each Sunday afternoon during the football season.

PAUL HACKETT MEDIA LUNCH — Coach Carroll hosts a weekly media-only lunch in the lounge of Heritage Hall at 11:30 a.m. each Tuesday during the season. Transcribed notes from each session are available from the Sports Information Office.

USC PRACTICES — Most Trojan practices on Howard Jones Field are open to the local media. Please call in advance to confirm the schedule.

GAME CREDENTIALS — Because of space limitations, only members of the media who cover USC on a regular basis (plus media accompanying the visiting team) will be considered for credentials to Trojan home games. Freelancers cannot be accommodated. Credentials and parking passes are issued on a game-by-game basis. Requests for game credentials should be sent on company letterhead as early as possible to: Tim Tessalone, USC Sports Information Office, HER 103, Los Angeles, Calif. 90089-0601. Credentials can be mailed up to 7 days before the game; after that time, credentials can either be picked up during the week of the game at the Sports Information Office or beginning 3 hours before kickoff on game day at press will call outside Tunnel 4 on the south side of the Coliseum. Three types of credentials are issued: press box (good for press box seat during game, field access during last 5 minutes of game), TV and photo (both provide field and press box roof access, limited press box access with no seat). There are also press box season credentials issued (good for press box seat during game, field access during last 5 minutes of game). All credentials provide post-game locker room access. Television cameramen and still photographers are not allowed on the sidelines between the 25-yard lines in the area of the team benches.

PRESS BOX — Located on the south (Martin Luther King Blvd.) side of the Coliseum, the press box is for the use of the working media and guests of USC's athletic department only. Access is via the elevator near Tunnel 6. The upper level has seats for the written press, while the lower level houses radio and television broadcasting booths. The roof is available for cameramen and photographers. Members of USC's Sports Information Office are located in the upper level (seats 219-223) during games. To get from the press box to the field at the end of the game (and to enable continued viewing of the game action), most media exit through either side door on the lower level and walk through the stands.

PRESS BOX SERVICES — A complimentary meal is served in the press box (a meal ticket is required). Game programs, speed cards and game notes are distributed before kickoff (these are also available on the field to photographers). Quarterly play-by-plays, plus halftime and final statistics, are distributed, as are transcribed post-game locker room quotes from Coach Carroll and the visiting coach. Game action is shown on indoor TV monitors posted throughout the press box. A detailed play-by-play and Coach Carroll's post-game press conference are broadcast over the press box public address system. Complimentary snacks and drinks are available to the media after the game. Several charge-a-call phones are located in the visiting press section on the lower level and available on a first-come basis. To order a telephone, contact phone technicians Manny Rodriguez at (818) 894-5423 or Leo Caudillo at (213) 765-6353. The phone installer can obtain your seat location from Tim Tessalone. To call the press box on game day for score updates, dial either (213) 741-1341 or (213) 747-7111 (ask for the press box extension). USC provides complimentary fax service in the press box. Fax and computer terminal service for a fee also is available by contacting either Bassler Communications (Dick Bassler), 6706 Noble Ave., Van Nuys, CA 91405, (310) 451-5805, or Amfax (Rick Laubert), 5151 Vallecito, Westminster, CA 92683, (310) 431-6789.

MEDIA ON-FIELD GUIDELINES — Media with credentials who are permitted on the field during the game (generally TV camera operators and still photographers) must remain outside the dotted line that encircles the field. A special "photo gutter" has been drawn between the end zones and 25-yard lines on both sides of the field; photographers only are permitted inside this "gutter" as long as they kneel. Photographers who chose not to kneel must stand behind the gutter, along with all others on the field, including USC guests. Media should refrain from conducting post-game USC player/coach interviews on the field before the team enters the locker room, unless approved by a member of the USC Sports Information Office. No one under the age of 18 is allowed on the field at any time.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS — The USC and visiting team locker rooms are located inside the tunnel at the west end of the Coliseum. After a 10-minute "cooling off" period, the USC locker room will open to the media. Coach Carroll and several key Trojan players will conduct a post-game press session.

VIDEO SERVICES — The USC Sports Information Office makes video highlights of key Trojans available to the media. The Pac-10 Office has a weekly video satellite feed featuring highlights and interviews from all league schools (call 925-932-4411 for information). To contract specific video services, contact Rich Zielinski of Zielinski Productions at (714) 842-5050, Dennis Kirkpatrick of Bayview Productions at (310) 543-1835, or Fox Sports Net West at (310) 286-3800.

USC ATHLETICS ON THE WEB — The USC athletic department has an official "home page" on the World Wide Web, featuring current and historical information about Trojan sports. For access, type http://www.usctrojans.com. (The Pac-10's home page is at www.pac-10.org and the NCAA's home page is at www.ncaa.org.)
